Sakshatkara Yogasudha

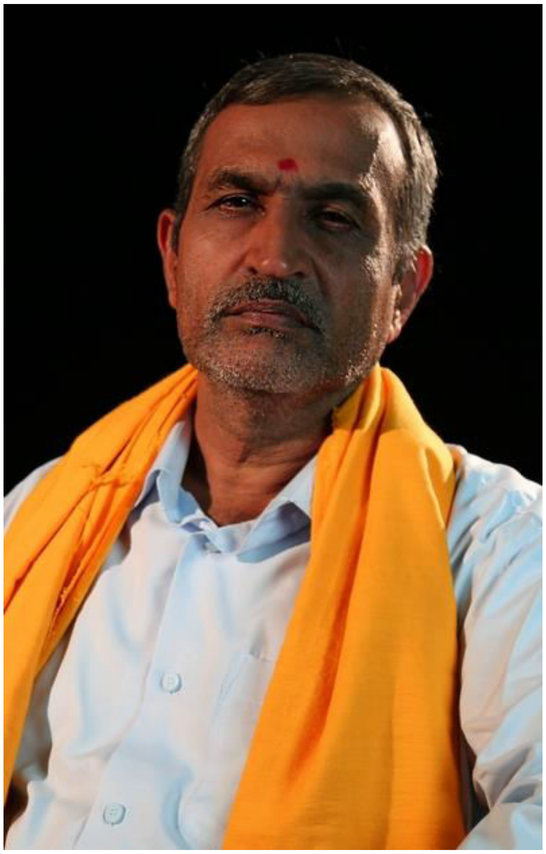

Brahmarishi Daivaratha

English translation by Shri K.T. Pandurangi

Brahmarishi Daivaratha

Foreword

In the entire Indian subcontinent, Karnataka is well known for centers of peace, religion and spirituality. Gokarna is one such place of mythological and historical importance, situated near the coast. Many Brahmin communities had permanently settled in Gokarna. They were learnt scholars in all the Vedas and ancient knowledge which are written in Sanskrit. In the same place a 'light' originated in the year 1892 and he was Brahmarshi Daivarat, who illuminated not just India, but the western countries as well.

Maharshi Daivarat had utter devotion towards his gurus Vasishtha Ganapati Muni and Ramana Maharshi. He had completely surrendered himself and had full faith that was the way to achieve perfection. Maharshi Daivarat had always emphasized that all his spiritual achievements were due to the blessings of his gurus, and that blessings empowered him to write this book Sakshatkara Yogasudha when he was 69 years old.

He threw himself with the utmost confidence into intensive sadhana and followed meditative processes, whereby he was able to be in a yogic trance for hours. While sitting in 'padmasana' yogic posture, he could reach 'samadhi' state. In that state, he would hover above the ground to perform penance for 7-8 hours. This has been witnessed by many people of his time. At a place called Pedavattu in Andhra, while performing penance with his guru Shri Vasishtha Ganapati Muni, he went to 'samadhi' state, losing all the bodily awareness. In that state he had the vision of Vedic verses equivalent to Rigveda. These emerged verses are popularly called 'Chandodarshan'.

He also had blessings of divine men such as Jayaram Bhat Sapre and Balvant Rao Bhagavat in Maharashtra; Ramadas of Ujjain; Tembe Swami Maharaj in Maharashtra and several others. Once when he was traveling along with Ramdas Swamiji, he had an opportunity to meet Shiradi Sai Baba. That divine effect remained in Daivarat forever. Thus all these blessings and power accumulated in him over time.

Many respected people had opportunities to closely associate and interact with Brahmarshi Daivarat. Dr.Babu Rajendra Prasad had accepted Daivarat as his spiritual guru. As per my knowledge, Dr.Radhakrishnan, Lal BahadurShastri, Jawaharlal Nehru, Chancellor of Kashi University - Madan Mohan Malaviyaji, the then king of Nepal, Mahesh Yogi Ji, Ravishankar Guru Ji, Ranganath Divakar, Swamiji of Hubballi Murusavira Mutt, Da. Ra. Bendre, Madan Gopal Poddar of Kolkata, Devudu Narasimha Shastri, K M Munshi of Bharatiya VidyaBhavana, K T Pandurangi, Swamiji of Pejavar Mutt, Swamiji of Gokarna Partagali Mutt and many others have closely seen him.

He had ability to speak and write scriptures in any local language of the places he used to visit. The holy work 'Pashupati Hrudayam', which is written in Nepali language stands as a testament to this. He had expertise in bhajans, classical dance, art, cooking, yoga, service, agriculture, animal husbandry etc. It seemed as if Goddess Saraswati herself is within this 'light'. Thus Daivarat led a sage like life with all the godly characters within him. A scholar of such profound and critical learning and such creative authorship as Brahmarshi Daivarat eminently deserves to be honored by the nation.

Brahmarshi Daivarat had established hermitage called 'Rishi Kula Yogashrama' at Gokarna. There he wanted everyone to lead a sage like life. This meant that all our food, thought, words and deeds should be noble. As he wanted to self-produce all the necessary items, he used join his disciples in the production of rice, pulses, vegetables, milk etc. He taught the students to lead an independent life.

Maharshi Daivarat was ardent believer in the mystic powers of the Gayatri Mantra. His life aspirations and attainments have been harmoniously blended with the sacred culture of the Vedas. He speaks with authority, of the high status of Indian women enjoyed in ancient times in domestic, social and spiritual fields. If what Shri Daivarat believes is to be put in a nutshell, he says that Krishi and Gau Seva the two fundamental vocations are directly connected with maintenance of life. He is of the firm opinion that harmonization of worldly as well as spiritual life is not only possible but also the most fruitful, integral, big way of the life propounded by the Vedas.

Sakshatkara Yogasudha: Sakshatkara Yogasudha is known to be the direct message of gods. This work was done between 1961-1965 during Shri Daivarat’s stay at the house of Nepali Maharaj – Shri Shant Samsher Ji, situated near Juhu beach, Mumbai. During these years he had no contact of the outside world.

Sakshatkara Yogasudha consists of “Sakshatkara” which is in 1024 Sanksrit verses and deals with moksha - vidya. Yoga-Sudha is its Sanskrit commentary. The specialty of this work is that the author Shri Daivarat Ji has relied and has quoted only Rigveda, Brahmana and Upanishads in support of his theme of the triple yoga – Jnana, Bhakti and Karma.

The English translation of Sakshatkara Yogasudha was done by K.T. Pandurangi Ji. We are in his debt. Luckily the original was in the safe hands of Soorya Narayana Rao who is a famous astrologer of Sadashiva Nagara, Bengaluru. When I requested a copy of the original, he happily gave it. I'm grateful to him for protecting the original copy all these years. Thanks to Shri Mahabaleshwar Bhat of Veda Vijnana gurukulam, Bengaluru for editing the typed copy. I also thank Shri Vankatesh Mallepuram for all his support.

A request to the public: Brahmarshi Daivarat's several works are still unavailable to the general public. By god's grace, if you come across any of his works, I request you to send us a copy. We are trying our best to spread the works of Daivarat.

May the Almighty bless us all.

Dedication of the book Sakshatkara Yogasudha

Bharata - our motherland

This glorious motherland of ours called BharataVarsha is the best country in the world as it is full of all beautiful things, glorious attributes, knowledge, activation and vital letters; juicy fruits and all medicines and groups of people. It is the giver of benefits to all, the essence of good learning, modesty and peace and the center of the vitality of freedom.

Bharata is the land of yoga

This is the best yoga bhumi called the land of yogas by natural material things like visible, the good deeds like sacrifices, by people who are thinking of invisible tutelary deities and who are full of the secrets of good thoughts, by vital thinking of the not invisible things pertaining to the soul with knowledge and tranquility in between. It is prosperous by the unity of philosophy.

Gokarna, the centre of vedic learning, in Karnataka, south India

In Karnataka province in south India, there is a place called Gokarn on the shores of western sea, which is peaceful and dignified which is the center for vedic studies and in which there is temple of Mahabaleshwar who is the Lord of Gokarn, visited by all people and which is full of Brahmans well versed in vedic lore.

This sacred Gokarn kshetra itself is the birth place of Maharshi Daivarata.

There the son Daivarata was born in Vishwamitra Gothra which was pure with penance with the lineage of three sages, namely Vishwamitra, Devarata and Audala, by the leader Shri Mahabaleshwara Dikshita who was a saintly priest of Rigveda and a teacher with a vitality of consciousness by yoga .

Brahmopadesha of that boy Daivarata

In the boyhood of that boy Brahmopadesha was made during the initiation from the face of the parents through the sacred letters of Gayathri hymn. At the time of commencement of vedic knowledge he acquired spiritual strength by Brahma tejas and his physical body was glowing with the vitality of the goddess of speech and was full of benefits.

Progress in the learning of veda and yoga

Meeting with the teacher Ramadas who was an expert in Bhakti yoga

By the teacher Shri Ramadasa, devotional prayer and utterance of the name of Lord were earned by good association and yoga and they were developed by good thoughts and conduct. Generally fasting, faith and observation of vows were always practiced and learnt from him and by sincere service to him, the entire Bharata was visited and seen.

The raising of Chandodarshana yoga

By an appropriate penance and devoted service for a long to time to the good teacher and by the full grace of the Lord and by the best glory and good faith, the philosophy of Chandodarshana yoga, which is full of the vitality of the seers of hymns and truth was expounded by me for the purpose of realization.

The rising of the Sakshatkara yogasudha

By the performance of a severe penance for a long time by knowledge, by yoga, by the performance of acts and sacrifices strictly according to rules and righteous rites, by the powerful self-introspection, by the treasure of letters of the hymns of Rigveda, by the churning of the self and with a truthful and proper, the sakshatkara yoga sudha was fortunately composed.

All that which were taught by the sages commencing from the manu and others and by the sage Vasishta through the hymns of Rigveda in a manner which would facilitate meditation and the concept of yoga, was obtained through experience by the sage yajnavalkya the prince among yogins, by penance, by the critical analysis of the interpretation of the hymns and by research of the philosophical sense.

The writing of the book Sakshatkara yogasudha by Shri Daivarata

That yogasudha was then composed by Maharshi Daivarata through a philosophical insight into the Upanishads and through the instruction and annotations given by ancient sages and many others and by good thoughts and manifold review of the concepts of real knowledge.

The counting of the verses here

The yogasudha is complete with one thousand and twenty four verses

May those, who are interested, listen and learn yogasudha, as written by Daivarata with spiritual knowledge, which consists of one thousand and twenty four beautifully composed verses, which is full of philosophical concepts and which is of a high order and the essence of speech.

Giving away the yoga sudha for the happiness of all

Shri Daivarata, who is bent down by the weight of good thoughts and gratitude, who is full with the glory of his pedigree and whose thought, word and deed are full of faith and devotion, of his own accord is reoffering this yoga sudha written by him which is replete with this beautiful verses, which is appropriate, which is full of relish and which was obtained purely by the favor of good people.

This yoga sudha is the garland of favors of the venerable and good teacher

This composition is called the yoga sudha of Shri Daivarata. It is like a garland in which the verses, full of the grace of the good teachers, are the flowers. It is the result of the blessing of Kavyakanta Vasishta Muni. It is flowing with the moonlight of the knowledge, letters and the vedic hymns pertaining to God Indra, Lord of Gods.

Thus ends the conclusion of Sakshatkara Yoga Sudha.

Shree Sakashatkara Yogasudha

First Prayer

The attainment of Supreme Bliss which is called the nectar of Yoga, which gives a correct perception of knowledge, activity and progress, the main factor of which in this world is the conscious mind and which is full of the sentiment of peace and the cause of happiness, reigns supreme.

साक्षात् क्रियादिमुखसंश्रितयॊगविद्या
सत्प्रक्रियादिपरताऽभ्युदिताऽनवद्या॥
बाह्यान्तरैककृति-भावन-संविदाद्या
बाधादिदॊषरहिताऽत्मनि यॊगवॆद्या॥२॥

The faultless yogic knowledge which leads on to ultimate realization of the real and is full of the High conduct of life has just arisen. It develops in the individual the idea of the unity of external and the internal and is free from the effects of pain and such other defects and is conducive for self knowledge.

मन्वादिभिर्मुनिवरैः श्रुतमन्त्रदृष्टैः
ब्रह्मात्मयोगहृदयं विदितं समुष्टैः॥
आर्षेयतात्त्विकदृशोपनिषद्विमृष्टैः
आध्यात्मिकान्तररचिताऽभ्युदितं स्वदृष्टैः॥३॥

The great sages commencing from Manu, have understood the essence of Yoga, the soul of which is Parabrahma and which has the vision of vedic hymns and which has realized that each part of one supreme being is con-substantially the same as the whole. They have also explained the philosophy of the Upanishad as revealed to their vision through experience.

तस्यानुभावनकृतेऽनुकृतोऽसुयत्नः
तत्त्वप्रकाशनकृते सुकृतः प्रयत्नः॥
सद्योगशक्त्यनुकृतेर्निहतः सपत्नः
सच्छान्तिहृत् समुदितः स बुधोऽसपत्नः॥४॥

An honest attempt has therefore been made to reveal and present the essential concepts of that real philosophy with a view to establish the superiority of yogashakti and point out the path of peace.

ब्रह्मात्मनः समुदिताः समवेदमन्त्राः
ब्रह्मेति नामपरमानपराः स्वतन्त्राः॥
साक्षात् प्रमाणपरमाः श्रुतिसत्त्वतन्त्राः
सत्साक्षिणः सकलवस्तुषु दृक्सुयन्त्राः॥५॥

All the vedic hymns are revealed to him who identifies himself with Brahman. Those who are always absorbed in the thought of Brahman are absolutely independent, and their means are supported by the inherent strength of scriptures. Their ultimate proof is through perception and in all matters they are guided by the instrument of vision.

ब्रह्माभिधाश्च परमर्षितपःप्रभार्णाः
ब्रह्मादिसर्वपरवस्तुसुसत्त्वपूर्णाः॥
छन्दस्सुसंहितसमस्वरसद्रसार्णाः
छन्दश्चिदिन्द्रचितिवाक् परमन्त्रवर्णाः॥६॥

The great Sages called Brahma-Rishis are full of lustre of penance of Seers and the strength of all superior things commencing from Brahman. They have a command over speech which is constructed harmoniously in accordance with the rules of grammar and Prosody and dealing with the consciousness or ‘ ‘

ब्रह्मात्मयज्ञपुरुषोदितवेदमन्त्राः
ब्रह्मात्मका ऋषिषु दर्शनसत्यमन्त्राः॥
तद् ब्राह्मणं सदभिधा प्रथितोपसङ्ख्या
सारण्यकाभिधपरोपनिषत् समाख्या॥७॥

The Brahmarishis among the sages recite the vedic manthras with the vision of philosophical Truth. Therefore the Brahmanas with the Aranyakas are called as Upanishads.

ब्रह्माख्यमन्त्रवचनार्थसमर्थनाप्तं
तद् ब्राह्मणं श्रुतिवचोऽर्थसमर्पणार्थम्॥
आरण्यकोपनिषदादिसमाख्ययाप्तं
तद्ब्राह्मणानुवचनं परिसङ्ख्ययाऽऽत्तम्॥८॥

The Brahmanas came into being with the main purpose of explaining the sense of vedic hymns with a view to establish the sense of the sacred hymns called Brahman. The explanatory note of Brahmanas is called Aranyakas and Upanishads.

तद्ब्राह्मणादिषु तदेतदृचाऽभ्यनूक्तं
तद्वत् तदेतदृषिणोक्तमिति प्रयुक्तम्॥
तद् वेदमन्त्ररचनं प्रथमं प्रमाणं
तत्त्वार्थवस्तुवचने परमं प्रधानम्॥९॥

Whatever has been experienced by sages and explained by them has been noted in Brahmanas, Aranyakas etc. therefore the primary authority for this is the vedic hymn and it is very essential in the comprehension of the philosophical import.

तत्पद्य - गद्यपर वाङ्मययोश्च मन्त्र-
तद्ब्राह्मणार्थपरवेदसुनामधेयम्॥
आर्षेयमित्यभिहितं श्रुतिसत्त्वमाद्यं
साङ्केतिकं मुनिमतं समतत्त्ववेद्यम्॥१०॥

Therefore the explanation of passages in prose and verse in the Brahmanas has been given mainly because they have their origin to Sages and they symbolize their opinion on the philosophical side.

ब्रह्माख्यमन्त्रपरतत्त्वविमर्शनेष्टं
तद् ब्राह्मणानुवचनं त्रिविधं विशिष्टम्॥
व्याख्यामुखात् तदुपवर्णनवाक्प्रदिष्टं
यज्ञादिकर्म- सदुपासन- संविदिष्टम्॥११॥

These explanations which have analyzed the hymn called Brahmanas can be broadly categorized into three Divisions, basing them on the commentaries- namely, Sacrifice-Meditation and Knowledge.

स्वार्थे परार्थपरकेऽपि च पारमार्थे
वेदार्थसत्त्वमखिलं प्रथितं त्रिधार्थे॥
तत्त्वत्रयात्त्रिगुणतश्च गुणाद्यतीतं
निष्काम-नित्य-सनिमित्त-सकामनाप्तम्॥१२॥

The entire explanation of Vedic hymns which threefold is for one’s own benefit, for the benefit of others and for realization of Supreme Bliss. It is beyond the conception of three Gunas and three Tattvas. It is accessible to those who think in terms of selflessness and permanence

मन्त्रेषु वेदपरकेषु च वाङ्मयेषु
मन्त्राधिदैवतपरस्तुतिसञ्चयेषु
तद्ब्राह्मणेषु परयज्ञकृतीरितेषु॥
ब्रह्मात्मतत्त्वपरता खलु नास्ति तेषु॥१३॥

The knowledge of Self and Brahman is not to be found in vedic hymns and composition and in the prayer songs to the presiding deities of the hymns and also in the Brahmanas and in the sutras dealing with the sacrificial rituals.

वेदान्तवेद्यपरसंविदुपास्तिसत्त्वं
वेद्यं च वस्तु परमं हि गुणाद्यतीतम्॥
अध्यात्ममौपनिषदं परमात्मतत्त्वं
वेदेषु नास्ति तदितीति च कैश्चिदुक्तम्॥१४॥

In the opinion of some people the philosophy of Parabrahma concerning the Soul and Upanishads, which is the strength of knowledge and meditation and which has to be known at all costs and which is beyond the purview of the three Gunas, is not to be found in Vedas.

वेदान्ततत्त्वपरमोपनिषद्युदीर्णं
साध्यात्मतात्त्विकपरात्यधिविद्यपूर्णम्॥
मोक्षप्रधानपरमार्थपरं स्वतन्त्रं
नास्तीति कैश्चिदुदितं खलु वेदमन्त्रे॥१५॥

Some others say that the vedic hymns do not deal with philosophical concepts as expounded in the Upanishads and independent ideas which ultimately lead the individual to liberation.

साक्षात्कृतेः परमयोगसुधाप्रबन्धे

In the composition which deals with the yogic nectar of realization, witnessed by the spontaneous flow of the sacred, erotic and other sentiments and embellishments do not find a place.

नास्मन्मनः सुचरितं न महद्विचित्रम्॥
नान्यस्य खण्डनमिहास्ति न चापवित्रं
नान्योऽन्यघर्षणमतो विमलं पवित्रम्॥१७॥

This does not deal with any wonderful event or story; there is no word-play here; there is no great wonder or description of a mind; there is no attack on any one nor is there anything unholy in it. There are no mutual contradictions. This is pure sacred.

व्याख्यातुमत्र सहसाऽल्पमतेरशक्यम्॥
व्याख्यादिविस्तृतिकृतिं प्रति पौनरुक्त्यं

A person of poor mental capacity will not be able to comment at once on the vedic hymn which is free from etymological derivations. An extensive commentary on it would be repetition as it is naturally and necessarily different from poetic art.

First Chapter

The material to prove Sakshatkara

The “Sakshatkara” or self-realization is the result of the union of the Lord who is invisible and us who are not invisible and existing. It is only by one’s own experience that it can be demonstrated that Brahman is real and all-pervasive.

ब्रह्मैवात्र समग्रभूतजगतो विश्वात्मकादग्रतः
ब्रह्मास्मीति तदन्ववेदहमिति स्वात्मानमेवेत्यतः॥
तस्मादेव तदत्र सर्वमभवत् सद्विश्वरूपात्मकं
तद्योगस्त्रयसामरस्यपरमः स ब्रह्मविश्वात्मनाम्॥२॥ 2

The one thing at the top of the entire Universe is Brahman only. "I am that Brahman" comes only afterwards. Everything emanated from that Brahman and exists in the form of the Universe. Yoga or meditation on that brings about harmony with all the three, Brahman, Universe and Self.

तद्वद् यो दिवि देवतात्ममहसा सिद्धोऽवनौ मानवः
सोऽहम्प्रत्ययतोऽत्र वेत्ति तपसा ब्रह्माहमस्मीति वः॥
सद्ब्रह्मानुभवेन हृत्प्रमुदितात् स्वान्तर्यधीयोगतः
स ब्रह्मैव भवेत् स्वसंविदुदितात् सत्सामरस्यात् स्वतः॥३॥ 3

He who is human on the earth becomes a Siddha in heaven with Godlike lustre and he only is capable of knowing by penance the real significance of "I am Brahman". By the internal union of the intellect and a pleasant mind the experience of the Brahman occurs and himself ultimately becomes Brahman.

“प्राणोऽस्मि प्रज्ञात्मा तं मामायुरमृतमित्युपास्व, (कौ. ब्रा. उ.)
“ शास्त्रदृष्ट्या तूपदेशो वामदेववत्॥ (ब्र. सू. १/१)

In this context the first proof is Sage Varunadeva’s hymn.

I am Manu, I am the Sun, and I am the Sage Kakshivat. I choose Kutsa the son of Arjuna, and I am Sukra who all see me.

1. I give the Earth to Arya and the Gods blessed me.
2. This is the sub-commentary to it pertaining to Upanishadic thought. This Brahman was at the top. It knew itself I am Brahman. Everything came of it. Whoever knew of Gods, of men, and of sages that sage Vamadeva saw and realized I am Manu etc. I am life and the soul of knowledge; meditate upon it considering that life is immortal. Precept is through shastras as in the case of Vamadeva.

वेदेनैव निजेन मन्त्रवचसा सन्वामदेवः स्वयं
वेद्यं तत्त्वमुपादिदेश तपसा तच्छास्त्रदृष्ट्यान्वयम्॥
प्राज्ञः सोऽयमुपास्यतां सुमनसा प्राणोऽस्मि चित्सत्त्वकः
प्रज्ञात्माऽमृतमायुरित्यनुवदन् इन्द्रः परादर्शकः॥४॥4

Vamadeva by his own hymn which is veda itself taught that real knowledge through penance and sastric vision. May that wise man be served with a good heart. Indra has naturally seen the most sacred by saying that for him whose soul is wisdom life is immortal.

यश्छन्द॑सामृष॒भो वि॒श्वरू॑पः। छन्दो॒भ्योऽध्य॒मृता॑त् सम्ब॒भूव॑। स मेन्द्रो॑ मे॒धया॑ स्पृणोतु।
अ॒मृत॑स्य देव॒धार॑णो भूयासम्॥   इति यजुः (तै. शि. उ.)

That excellent vedic hymn which has all forms was born above all others and from beyond immortality. May that Indra touch (fill) me by (with) intellect so that I may be able to hold immortality.

छन्दः पूरुष आदिमः स परमो यश्छन्दसां वर्षकः
छन्दोभ्योऽध्यमृताद् बभूव चरमश्छन्दोरसैर्हर्षकः॥
छन्दोऽधिष्ठित एव मन्त्रकृतिभाग् इन्द्रः परात्मा स्वयं
साक्षात्कारवचोऽनुभावनुतिभाक् तद्विश्वरूपान्वयम्॥५॥5

That excellent vedic hymn he who is the first Purusha, who showers vedic hymns and who pleases with the of hymns was born out of immortal Vedas. Indra, with a great (holy) heart is the composer of that hymn and shares the glory of words which leads to sakshatkara.

आत्मा सोऽप्ययमिन्द्र एव हि महान्ज्येष्ठः परो धीन्द्रियैः
सर्वान्तः सकलेन्द्रियेभ्य उदगाच्छ्रेष्ठः परैरग्रियै॥
सोऽध्यक्षोऽध्यवगम्यतां निजचितेर्योगादहंस्फूर्तितः
सोऽहम्प्रत्यययोगचित्तिकलया वाचाधियाऽसूर्जितः॥६॥6

Even that soul is none other than the great Indra the oldest who moves in the interior and who came out of the sense as the most excellent. Let it be understood that he is the presiding deity of one’s own consciousness. So I am united with that intellect and word which is full of the lustre of Yoga and mental alertness.

Sight of invisible thing with the Presiding Deity

The thing called Brahman, which can be seen only by its qualities, is very ancient, holy, full, the origin of life, invisible and can be attained only by propositions as it has no form to be seen and has no equal to measure its scope.

॥ अध्यात्मकं अपरोक्षात्मवस्तुदर्शनम् ॥

सोऽहम्प्रत्ययसत्त्ववृत्तिविषयादस्यापरोक्षात्मता॥९॥9

Sight of a not invisible thing relating to the supreme spirit

The not invisible thing pertaining to the Soul or Supreme Spirit has internally both good and bad dispositions and only external body is life-less and the internal Soul is one indivisible entity full of life.

॥तुरीयं परमतत्त्वकं पदम्। तुरीयपदात्मसन्दर्शनम्॥
एतेषु त्रिषु सन्ततं सममनुस्यूतं समस्तात्मना

तद्वत्स्याद् व्यतिरेकतः परतमं सिद्धं समस्तास्पदं
तद्वै वस्तु परात्परं प्रकृतितः पूर्णं तुरीयं पदम्॥१०॥10

The fourth is the highest state and its vision

In all these three there is always the fourth which is common to all and connects them. It is the most excellent state which unites the things which are different, though it is different from all the three, it has itself divided.

॥तत्त्वत्रयान्वितः वेदार्थः त्रिविधः॥
॥तुरीयोऽर्थः परमार्थकः॥
वेदार्थेषु समस्तवस्तुविषये तत्त्वत्रयेणान्वयात्
त्रेधाऽर्थः प्रतिपादितः कविवरैः सर्वार्थसंविन्मयात्॥
त्रिष्वप्यन्तरितस्त्रयात् परतमः सत्त्वात् समस्तात्मना
तुर्यः सन् परमार्थतः प्रतिचितः स्याद्दैवरातात्मना॥११॥11

The meaning of three Vedas containing three tattvas is three fold.

The fourth is the most valuable and is important

In trying to interpret the Vedas with reference to the three tattvas, poets have given a threefold meaning because it is full of every kind of knowledge. Though it is latent in all the three, it is beyond the trinity; it is the embodiment of all by its inherent vitality. Being the fourth in its importance it has been propounded by Daivarata.

॥वस्तुतः पञ्चविधो वेदार्थः॥
शब्दार्थः प्रथमस्तटस्थ उदितो धात्वर्थसम्प्रत्ययैः
तत्त्वार्थस्त्रिविधस्त्रितत्त्वगुणतस्त्रेधाविभेदान्वयैः॥
प्रत्नोऽर्थः परमार्थसंविदुचितः पूर्णः समः पञ्चमः
प्रायः स्यादिह दैवरातकविता गीतोऽर्थितः पञ्चधा॥१२॥12

Really speaking the interpretation is fivefold. The first is the sense conveyed by the words along with the verbs and participles etc. the second, third and fourth are the three fold tattvas based on the three Gunas. The fifth is the ancient meaning which is full of the most important knowledge. These are the five senses as revealed and sung by Daivarata.

साक्षादप्यपरोक्षतोऽवगतये संवित्क्रिया भावदा
साक्षात् स्वानुभवप्रधानफलदा स्याद्योगविद्याऽऽत्मदा॥१३॥13

The Yoga vidya in as far as it relates to Realisation of Self will certainly furnish the main result of one's own experiences and the ideas of such knowledge which would enable a proper understanding of the sense of Vedas for the benefit of all and for the attainment of the real fruit and to perceive in the not invisible state the real Supreme Being.

The philosophical traits of Yoga

Only a fortunate few who are full of merits and who have been able to grasp the exact relationship of the life, the senses and the intellect of individuals, will be capable of practicing the Yoga with all its accessories for the realization of Self.

बाह्यान्तर्यधृति - प्रवृत्तिपरया द्वेधाऽऽत्मवृत्त्याऽन्विता

The practice of yoga followed by the two-fold path of self-discipline with its external and internal activities of fortitude and attachment and intellect fixed on the object of medication will have to be united with a course which is bent on realizing the Supreme and witnessing that which is in an invisible state.

That yoga vidya is full of the symbols of the supreme object, vedic hymns which are couched in significant words with a view to expound the sense to be comprehended and prayers in such words as would help us to realize true knowledge.

Yoga vidya of the intellect which is famous in Rigveda hymn

Without which the sacrifice does not bear fruit, that is called the yoga of the intellect of the wise.

In this world, without which even the sacrifice of the good and the wise will not ultimately bear good fruit. The man with a philosophical bent of mind, becoming the Lord of the speech which is Brahman and attaining that yoga of the intellect through rasa, reaches a state of tranquility.

Taking shelter under Indra for a successful attainment of such yogic power.

In every yoga and every sacrifice let us worship our friend Indra for our prosperity.

Sages meditate fully and call upon that Indra who is unborn wise and capable in the act of absolute communion with the supreme and in one's own yoga, at the commencement of sacrifice, in penances, in the act of bringing back life and protection with a view to succeed in their efforts to reach the final goal in life.

In every yoga dealing with the knowledge of the Self, in renunciation full of right knowledge and in every sacrifice with a noble act which enlivens, I call upon unto to God Indra who is my own friend, who is capable of revealing true knowledge and who is the giver of wealth, prosperity and vitality.

The worshippers meditate on the Sun-god who is moving in heavens and whose rays shine forth.

The sages pray and meditate on Indra first and then the Sun-God, and then the fire god who is dear to sacrifices and eats the offerings and the Wind who moves in mid-air and gives life, with hymns to enable them to perform their sacrifices.

The internal yoga of speech, mind and intellect

The Brahmins who are great scholars unite their minds and their intellects. The priest who possesses knowledge does it. The earth is the place where the Sun-God showers his blessings.

Those yogins unite their mind in inner heart which is full of the thoughts of Brahman; there are other wise Brahmins who unite their intellect in an object which is fit to be meditated upon. Philosophical knowledge drawn upon the mind of that great good scholarly Brahmin by the virtue of the union cite above.

होत्रास्ताः स च वेदवित् सुतपसा सन् एकएवात्मवान्
वाचः स्वात्मनि सन्दधे सुमनसा संवित्सुसत्त्वार्थदाः॥
दिव्या सा सवितुः स्तुतिः सुमहती स्यात् सम्प्रसादात्मना
वाग्यज्ञेन समस्तयोगकरणे योगेन वागात्मनोः॥२३॥23

Those are the priests; he is the vedic scholar who is the philosopher by his good penance. They unite fruitful and significant words in their inner self with a good mind. The heavenly prayer of the Sun-God is great and wonderful. It will help in performance of all yoga by the sacrifice of speech by uniting it within the self.

The secret union of Jeevatma and Paramatma and Sun-God

We will be in the good books of Fire-God who is like the glorious king of all worlds. He with Sun-God, being worn, protects the entire universe.

Let us be in the truth and good thoughts of the Fire-God; for he is the emperor of three worlds who is the embodiment of happiness; he is the protector of entire universe. That Fire-God tries to unite with the Sun God whole heartedly.

The prompting of the people for such union

Sun-God makes the people work; he is the support for the earth and the sky. He is alert in protecting the people. Let us offer ghee and other things to him.

The Sun-god with the vision of truth rules through the Vedas the people of the world telling them what is good for them; knowing world he makes the people worked and work; he is heavenly and always protects all people without resting even for a while. So let us offer to him who is true all offerings through the fire.

Precept indicating that all are equal with the prelude of the unity of thought, word and deed.

Unite in thought, word and deed just as Gods did before knowing it well.

Unite with the vision of equality in the yoga of the body; by the yoga of speech you speak properly with regard to the real absolute truth; let your minds unite emotionally in a friendly manner just as Gods do in heaven full of that true knowledge.

The yoga of equality in the chanting of hymns.

The hymn is equal, the assembly is equal (common). The thought (mind) is common to all and with that common hymn I call you all and offer the same offering.

May the hymn be common to all of you by constant introspective meditation; may the assembly of scholars be always good, common and proper to all of us, may the thoughts be common and equal by the yoga of the heart. Thus the minds will meditate on the Self and the outcome will be beneficial to us.

I know recite the common prayer to you all.

The hymn is definitely common to you and to all us; I will recite only that which is beneficial with good feeling and intentions. I will propitiate both by the equal offering for the maintenance of life. May that knowledge and life be sufficient and common to both.

The common Yoga-sattva of good knowledge

The feelings among you are common and your hearts are equal. Let your minds also be common so that you may be cheerful.

May the feeling of firm knowledge be equal, firm and final. May your relative hearts be equal by well-disciplined yoga and your intellects be equal. May your good thoughts center round in truth in equality in such a manner that everything vital will be the outcome to the benefit of all on a cooperative basis.

The yoga of jeevatma and Indra, the Paramatma.

Oh! Indra, we say this unto you. You are ours and we belong to you.

Oh! Lord most venerable Indra! We are accompanied by you, who are difficult of comprehension. We are capable of conquering the wicked, those who speak evil words, and those who always compete with one another and think of evil things and to answer them by soul-force by your Yoga (meditating on you). For you are our beloved Lord and we are your own.

Jeevatma and Paramatma – the yoga of their oneness

Oh! Fire-God, because I am you and you are I, your blessings will be true here.

Oh! Fire-God, you are most excellent God whose soul is Omkara, the Omniscient and the soul itself and by meditating upon you by surrendering myself to you and if I am you, in the same manner by virtue of yoga and penance if you are I, then with the word that we are going to get light while we live, then the blessing of Lord will be true.

By yoga of Gods and men-secret prayer of its glory

Let the praises be showered on both of us and immortality on men.

(Sunasepa, the son of Ajigarta, who is Devarata the artificial descendent of Vishvamitra)

Let these glorious benedictions be upon both the immortal Gods and mortal men in secret who have common thoughts between them and who feel that one is the served and the other is the server, through the yoga of meditation by constant thinking, so that they may both get Liberation and all benefits.

The second Kala

The analysis of basic truth underlying the Sakshatkara or realization

The Sakshatkara will be analyzed through the Vedas and will be established by actual experiment. The nectar of Sakshatkara yoga will be offered to people. The witness here is Supreme Lord and the people will be satisfied.

॥साक्षात्कार योगविद्या

सत्सु प्रवृत्याऽप्यसतो निवृत्त्या सन्निष्ठयाऽन्तर्निरतात्मवृत्त्या॥२॥34

The technique of Sakshatkara

The real technique of this Sakshatkara yoga can be understood through the Vedas and Upanishads, by Pravrithi, in the existing (good) things and Nivruthi from non-existing (evil) things, by a good discipline and a mind always turned inwards.

॥तत्त्वत्रयान्वयेन तद्विमर्शनम्॥
साक्षात् परोक्षादपरोक्षतोऽर्जनं तत्त्वत्रयार्थान्वयतो विमर्शनम्॥
सत्सामरस्यात्मनि योगदर्शनं सत्यानुभावेन चिदात्मदर्शनम्॥३॥35

Its analysis according to the three fold tattvas

Attainment of knowledge actually, from the invisible and not indivisible states and a critical analysis through the three fold tattva, the sight of yoga in a soul which is good and well balanced and the sight of conscious spirit through the radiance of Truth-all these will concur.

॥प्रवृत्ति-निवृत्ति-निष्ठानां स्वरूपम्॥

सत्ये तु निष्ठाऽऽत्मनि पारमार्थे वेदे त्रिधा सा हितशासनोक्तिः॥४॥36

The characteristics of attachment, detachment and disciplined life

Attachment or indulgence is association with good things; detachment is disassociation from wicked, evil and prohibited things. Discipline is deep attachment to truth and the spiritual or self-knowledge. This is the three fold commandment that is in Vedas.

॥प्रवृत्ति निवृत्तिरुभयरूपा निष्ठा धर्ममीमांसेष्टा॥
निष्ठा तु शास्त्रादुभयस्वरूपा मीमांसया धर्मविदामभीष्टा॥
यज्ञादिधर्मे विधितः प्रवृत्तिरधर्मतोऽसद्विषयान्निवृत्तिः॥५॥37

Discipline as could be seen from the sastras is of two kinds, and is desired by the righteous through philosophical discussion. Attachment in accordance with the prescribed procedure, in sacrifices and such other righteous acts and detachment from the wicked and unrighteous objects (subjects).

॥प्रवृत्तिनिवृत्त्यनुभयरूपा स्वस्वरूपस्थितिरूपा निष्ठा॥
सा वस्तुतोऽत्रानुभयस्वरूपा निष्ठा स्वरूपस्थितिरप्रवृत्तिः॥
ताटस्थ्ययोगादचलप्रतिष्ठा सास्यादुदासीनतयाऽऽत्मवृत्तिः॥६॥38

Discipline not seen in either attachment or detachment – but seen in its own form

That discipline neither in attachment nor in detachment, is really non-attachment in its own state. The state of firm establishment through the yoga of non-interference policy is in itself indulgence in self-knowledge through non-challenge.

॥वस्तुतो निष्ठायां न काचिदपि क्रिया सम्भवति॥
निष्ठा तु सा नैव भवेत् क्रियाप्ता श्रद्धात्मिकाऽन्तर्दृढचित्तिसत्ता॥
आकूतिसत्त्वाऽऽत्मनि सद्रतीष्टा स्वानन्दसन्दोहसुधारसाप्ता॥७॥39

Really speaking in discipline (devotion) – non avtivity occurs

That is discipline or devotion in which no activity takes place. Its soul is interest and a firm internal concentration of the mind. Its capacity is emotional feeling and desire to do good things. It is full of the nectar of one’s own ecstasies.

॥यॊगॆ तत्तत्प्रक्रियानुगुण्याऽनुवृत्तिः॥

तत्प्रक्रियासाधनयाऽनुनॆया गुरूपदॆशानुकृतॆर्विधॆया॥८॥40

In yoga – the inclination of the mind is to think in accordance with the acts.

Even in yoga the inclination of intellects is in accordance with the respective activities – which have to be accomplished according to the instruction of preceptor.

॥यॊगॊ नाम द्वयॊर्बहूनां वा सङ्गमैकसाध्यः॥
द्वयॊस्त्रयाणां विहितॊ बहूनां यॊगः स एकत्र सुसङ्गमाप्यः॥
प्रायः सजातीयतया सुयॊज्यः क्वचिद्विजातीयतयाऽपि शक्यः॥९॥41

Yoga is possible by the union of two or more.

It is laid down that yoga is possible by the harmonious blending of two or three or many. Probably it is well – done by those belonging to the same category or it is possible even if they belong to different categories.

॥एकस्मिन्नपि आत्मवस्तुनियॊगः समाधिरूपः॥
एकस्य चैकत्र चिदात्मनि स्वॆ यॊगः समत्वॆन समाधिरूपः॥
सैकात्मकॊ निर्विषयावशिष्टः स्यान्निर्विशॆषात् सकलाद् विशिष्टः॥१०॥42

Yoga is in the single supreme spirit in the form of deep meditation.

Yoga in a single supreme spirit at a single place, by identity in the form of deep meditation. Its specialty is that it is directed towards that supreme spirit bereft of all sensual pleasures.

॥जीवात्म-परमात्मनोर्योगः परमः प्रधानः॥
जीवात्मना तत्परमात्मनैनयोर्योगः प्रधानः सकलात् प्रधानयोः॥
सन्नामरूपादिगुणैकसत्त्वयोश्चिदात्मतत्त्वैः सकलैः समानयोः॥११॥43

The union between Jeevatma and Paramatma is of extreme importance.

The union between Jeevatma and Paramatma, which are distinguished from everything, which are identical in as far name, form and merits are concerned and in all matters metaphysical, is of extreme importance.

॥सजातीय वस्तुयोगे सर्वमान्यः समानो दृष्टान्तः॥
व्योम्ना परं व्योम रसो रसेन दीपश्च दीपेन जलं जलेन॥
सच्चेतनं चातति चेतनेन यथाऽग्निनाऽग्निर्ह्यनिलोऽनिलेन॥१२॥44

A common example of yoga of similar things.

The space with space, rasa with rasa, light with light, water with water and mind with mind unite just as fire unites with fire air with air.

॥सदसतोर्विजातीययोरपि योगः सम्मतः॥

साक्षात् परोक्षात् सदसत्समृद्धयोर्योगः ससत्यानृतयोर्मिथस्तयोः॥१३॥45

Yoga is possible between good and bad or two dissimilar things.

In the same manner yoga, between two entities which are different from each other in quality and result, which are full of life and not full of life, which are full of good and evil actually or otherwise, is possible as between truth and falsehood (untruth).

Sakshatkara of existing things by the external physical union.

The Sakshatkara or realization of existing things is possible through external vision, by light, form and such other qualities of the Sun-God and other heavenly bodies and by the various qualities of the Panchabhutas like space etc.

॥परोक्षदृशा परवस्तुनः साक्षित्वरूपेण साक्षात्कारः॥

Sakshatkara of the Supreme Being in the form of a witness by an invisible vision.

The knowledge of the existence of the supreme being, which is even superior to the Sun-God and others, which is good, which is formless but powerful, is possible by depending on the external form and characteristics which are its own witness.

॥प्रकारान्तरेणापि तदनुभावः॥

Its experience by a different method altogether.

Even the experience of a yogi by the knowledge of “Soham” of the invisible supreme being which can be known only by “tat” and which is only in the form of life or chetana, its Sakshatkara of the invisible things.

॥स्वान्तर्यया अपरोक्षदृष्ट्या अन्तरात्मसाक्षात्कारः॥

Its experience by a different method altogether.

This self-realization is possible for a yogi, who has complete faith in “ “ and always concentrates and is in communion with God and whose strength is not-invisible.

॥अहङ्ग्रहोपासना तत्साधना॥

The means for that is the catching of the meditation of “Aham”.

That yoga which results out of the catching of meditation of “Aham” us practiced by the sages and self-willed persons is the sacrifice which is very much liked by scholars.

॥अत्रापि अन्तर्हितं परमात्मसाक्षात्कारतत्त्वम्॥

Even here the tattvam of the realization of the supreme spirit

That realization of supreme spirit is the result of a harmonious union of the full spirit which is invisible and the real truth which is not invisible.

॥अस्मिन् अर्थे प्राचामृषीणां मन्त्रदर्शनम्॥

In this context, the hymns seen by the ancient sages (I saw the protector who with a ripe mind and at the end I saw here the Lord of the people who had seven sons. I saw him who knowing everything (   ) by a concentrated mind.

प्राज्ञः पतङ्गोऽपिच सध्रितापसौ प्रज्ञाक्षिको दीर्घतमास्तथापरे॥
अपश्यमित्यार्षवचोभिरूचिरे तं दर्शनीयं ह्यपरोक्षदर्शनात्॥२०॥52

The wise Patanga, Sadhu Tapasa Prajnakshika, (born blind whose eye is) and others said “I saw him who is beautiful through a not invisible vision”.

॥अपश्यमित्येकेनैवक्रियापदेन त्रैविध्येन सद्दर्शनम्॥

साक्षात्-परोक्षात् -अपरोक्षतः सतां बाह्ये परे वस्तुनि चान्तरात्मनि॥२१॥53

By a single verb, ‘I saw’ threefold vision has occurred.

Thus, in a single activity three fold analysis has taken place of the Supreme entity i.e., actual-invisible and not invisible (external – supreme – internal).

॥अस्मिन् दर्शने परमं वस्तुतत्त्वम्॥
अपश्यमित्यत्र पतङ्गमुख्यैर्यत् तत्त्वदृष्ट्या ऋषिभिः प्रदृष्टम्॥

In this vision the best vastu tattva

Whatever has been seen by the sages Patanga and others by saying ‘I saw’, that has been described by vedic hymns as the all-pervading Brahman through Brahmanas by Yaksha in his nirukta.

साक्षाद् बहिर्विश्वविभूतिदर्शनं स्याच्चक्षुषा बाह्यदृशाऽनुदर्शनम्॥
परस्य तु द्रष्टृगुणाद् विमर्शनं स्वान्तश्चिताऽऽत्मन्यहमाप्रतीक्षणम्॥२३॥55

As far as the external vision is concerned, the entire nature of the universe as it appears will be seen by the physical eye. By the quality or the merit of the seer the Paramatma that is inside will be seen by the mental consciousness.

प्रत्यक्षमेवेदमदश्चदूरगं पूर्णं परोक्षं तदिति प्रमानुगम्॥
प्रत्यङ्ङ्यहश्चित्तिपरानुभावगं तत्सामरस्यात् परवस्तुतत्त्वगम्॥२४॥56

This is real as it is before us and that which is far off is full and invisible and can be understood only by certain norms – such as mental experience and harmonious feeling of the supreme spirit.

तेषां त्रयाणां च समन्वयेन योगः सुपूर्णः स गुणैः समेन॥
सोऽन्यूनसत्त्वेन भवेत् समानो न्यूनो न मान्योऽप्यवमोऽसमानः॥२५॥57

By a proper blending of the three tattvas, the yoga will be full of merits. That will be common by its unmitigated strength of vitality. It will be extraordinary and unequalled though it is wanting in something.

एकैकमेवात्र तु योऽध्युपास्ते भवेदकृत्स्नो न स वेदसत्त्वम्॥
एकत्वमेवास्ति समेषु पूर्णमन्यूनमेवाखिलवेदतत्त्वम्॥२६॥58

He one who follows only one of the three tattvas will not be full and he will not have known the inherent strength. There is unity in all because the philosophy of all the Vedas is full.

एकत्त्वसत्त्वे तदनेकसत्त्वं लीनं समस्तेषु तदेकसत्त्वम्॥
स्यादेकतोऽनेकमिहस्वबीजात् एकं सदासिद्धमनेकसत्त्वे॥२७॥59

There is one power which is hidden in all and which has many forms all in one. Many spring from a single seed and one is always to be found in many.

॥प्रत्यक्षस्य विश्वस्य पुरुषैकात्मतानुदर्शनम्॥

भूतं भवच्चेदमितो भविष्यं प्रत्यक्षसिद्धं पुरुषैकसत्त्वम्॥
भूतात्मनस्तस्य विभूतितत्त्वं सन्दृश्यतां ब्रह्मगुणेन सत्यम्॥२८॥60

The vision of the unity of the real universe with Purusha or the Supreme Being.

All this, whether past or the future is Supreme Being.

Past, present and future is proved by its real existence, the force behind which is the Supreme Being. The truth about the supreme Lord, who is the soul of all living beings, namely the secret of his serenity may be seen by the quality of Brahman.

॥परोक्षस्य ब्रह्मात्मनः तस्य इन्द्रस्य तदिदं वैश्वरूप्यम्॥

(This is the all-pervading nature of the invisible supreme spirit who is the Lord Indra.)

Every form became its counterpart and it is its own form Indra by is maya obtains many forms and it is but proper that there hundreds and tens of such Indras. Even the Upanishad confirms it by saying that this Brahman manifests in many endless forms and it is unprecedented and endless and internal.

रूपं च रूपं प्रतिरूपसत्त्वकं प्राप्तो बभूवात्र स विश्वरूपकः॥२९॥61

Indra by his multifaceted maya and measuring words is described as existing in many forms. That all-pervading Lord obtains many forms and counter forms. His all-pervading nature is though the not invisible potentiality – I am born like the Sun-God. I have taken all the qualities of the father.

The form of Sakshatkara is full of the three fold tattvas.

I see you the beautiful supreme spirit, Indra, who is beyond all the senses by this mortal eye, by the not invisible vision.

The fulfillment of the yoga of realization.

The fulfillment of this Sakshatkara yoga is in everything as much as there is, in it, the quality of vitality, the true wisdom of knowledge, activity and feeling and the richness of superior consciousness owing to faultiness.

The second Kala ends.

Look at Indra, the beautiful and the excellent, full of the Lordship of the entire Universe through truth and not invisible vision; who is the sight of all and who is nearby as described by the nectar like words of Daivarata.

The third Kala

The prayer of self-dedication.

I pray for self-realization, the nectar of for self-realization and to enable me to indulge in good things and to go away from evil things and to remain in meditation for attaining endless peace.

" गोषा इन्दो नृषा असि-अश्वसा वाजसा उत॥

The experience of the existence of the soul-internal inspiration of the self.

The soul always experiences an internal inspiration – the knower sees it by the faith – the experience then cannot be without inspiration and it can only be there after the entry of the Lord into the body.

In the manner the senses by themselves cannot indulge in such matters without the soul consciousness. Therefore the only union of yoga of the soul and the senses, all transactions reach their finality.

For, in this world, here and at all places, the attachment of people is always towards fruitful endeavors. By the knowledge of things, they ordered that truth is for the best benefit of happiness – even though it is against fate.

In the same manner, in this world, man like a monkey should not waste his life is the beneficial commandment. Sastra is so called it commands us to do right things; and the entire vedic literature commencing from the Riksamhita is given to us by the sages.

Sometimes the deed bears fruit less or more after the passage of time according as it is associated with good or evil.

स्यात् स्थूलसूक्ष्मादिगुणादपूर्वं

When, due to various causes, the deed, though fit to bear fruit, does not yield the expected result, the causes will have to be investigated either in the efforts or the quality (external or internal).

The highest dharma will have to be followed as prescribed in the sastras by performing duty for duty's sake. The fruit may be seen or not. It may be here or in the other. This should not bother the doer at any time.

Let the individual knowing himself at first by ages, stage, physical and intellectual capacity and inclination always indulge in deeds which will help him to meditate upon real knowledge.

यथेह लोकेऽपि निजाधिकारं
ज्ञात्वैव सर्वत्र हि वर्तमानः॥
महोदधेः सन्तरणादिकार्ये
पारं परं पश्यति सन् समर्थः॥२२॥86

Just as he, in the world, tries to venture upon things only after knowing his capacity, whether it would be possible for him to reach the other end of the mighty ocean after crossing it.

तथा हितेऽर्थे परमार्थसाधके
योगेऽनुभोगे सुमतेऽप्यबाधके॥
प्रवर्तमानो निजशक्तितो मुदा

In the same manner, even to realize the ultimate goal, for his own benefit, through the experience of an easy yoga, he will not be thrown out of the happiness of knowledge, if he does things in accordance with his inherent capacity.

अथाविदित्वैव हि शक्तिमात्मनः
श्रुत्वा फलं यत्र महत्तरं पुनः॥
तत्रासमर्थोऽपि तमर्थमाचरन्

If, on the other hand, an incapable man, without knowing his inherent capacity, trying to achieve only after listening to the great fruit (result) will be deprived of his real happiness.

.देहेऽयमात्मैव परं सुखास्पदं

बिभेति नैको विषयाद् विविक्तगो
भयं भवेदन्यत एव निश्चयात्॥२५॥89

In this physical body, it is only the soul which is the object of happiness and this materialistic body is full of misery. He who is in a secluded place does not fear from sensual pleasures. Fear is only if the decision is taken otherwise.

नित्यं सुखं सिद्धमिहात्मनि स्वतः
सर्वानुभाव्यं विषयान्निवृत्तितः॥
दुःखं तु तस्मात् सुविरुद्धमन्यथा
प्राप्यं हि बाह्यैर्विषयैः प्रवृत्तितः॥२६॥90

It is the experience of all that real permanent happiness could be attained automatically by renouncing all the materialistic objects of pleasures. Otherwise, by indulging in external objects of pleasures, misery only could be attained.

स्वतन्त्रमेवेह सुखं स्वतोऽचलं
दुःखं तु नित्यं परतन्त्रकं चलम्॥
निवृत्तये तत्परतन्त्रतोऽनिशं
नेयं स्वतन्त्रात्मसुखाप्तये भृशम्॥२७॥91

Happiness is free and firm here if it is automatic. Whereas misery is always dependent, and unsteady. Therefore, one should always try to renounce this dependent misery to attain independent self-happiness.

When the proposition is thus expounded, there is a certain objection.

By the sight of a beautiful and sacred thing which is the object of good thoughts; by smearing the body and the senses all around with fragrance and cool oil and sandal paste; by listening to the sweet music of the flute, women and cuckoos and by singing; by tasting the juice of honey or by association with women, money, gold, wealth all people enjoy day and night real happiness in external things. Such being the case how life be called as miserable and why are the good people prohibited from enjoyment of such things?

सोष्णप्रकाशादिगुणानलादिकम्॥
तथाऽपि तद्योगसुखे यदिष्टता

The answer to the objection

If a single form is accepted in fire and other things with heat, light and other merits (qualities), in the joy of that yoga whatever is one’s liking it will be according to its nature.

तद्यत्र कुत्रापि च बाह्यवस्तुतो
नैवैकरूप्येण हि सर्वथाऽखिलैः॥
न येन केनापि च लेशतोऽपि वा
सुखं कदाऽपीष्टतयाऽनुभूयते॥३२॥96

But a single form is not taken from the external things in any place, then no happiness is experienced in slightest degree by any person whatsoever.

"Thus ends the third Kala"

Every good happiness is free and fresh. Misery is dependent. This is what has been elucidated by Maharshi Daivarata on the basis of the nectar of the juice of vedic hymns and yoga sudha is offered for attaining self-knowledge.

॥अथ चतुर्थी कला॥

देशे च काले विषयाद्विविक्तके॥
बाह्ये पदार्थेऽपि च तस्य लेशतो
बहिस्तु तद्भावनायाऽनुभूयते ॥१॥97

The fourth Kala

That happiness which flashes in the self in a place and at a time remote from the objects of the world, even in an external thing, then that is experienced externally by thinking about it.

मूर्ध्नो मुखेऽन्तः स्रवता रसेन वै
रुचिः पदार्थे रसनाश्रितेन वा॥
तत्रान्यथा बाह्यपदार्थसंस्थितः
स्थूलो गुणोऽपीतरथाऽनुभूयते॥२॥98

The taste in an object is by the juice that oozes inside the face or read or by the association with the tongue. The rough quality, which also exists otherwise in external things also otherwise experienced

यथा रुचिः स्वां रसनामधिष्ठिता
बाह्ये पदार्थेऽपि सदा प्रवर्तते॥
तत्तत्प्रकृत्याऽनुगुणं ह्यनेकधा
तत्रेष्टसद्भावधियाऽधिगम्यते॥३॥99

Just as the taste which is on the tongue exists always in the external thing and is obtained by desire and good feelings according to the nature and quality of the person.

तथैव सर्वं सुखमात्मनिष्ठं
नैवांशतोऽप्यत्र पदार्थनिष्ठम्॥
तथाऽपि तद्बाह्यपदार्थयोगात्
सदा जनान्तः समुदेति हृद्यम्॥४॥100

In the same manner, all happiness is established in one's own self and even a fraction of it is not in the object. Still it is always by the yoga of that external object that people attain supreme bliss at heart.

"तद्यथा हिरण्यनिधिं ह्युपर्युपरि सञ्चरन्तो न विन्देयुः, एवमेवेमाः सर्वाः प्रजाः अहरहर्ब्रह्म गच्छन्त्यः एतं ब्रह्मलोकं न विन्दन्ति।" इति॥ (छां.उ.)

Just as those who are moving higher and higher do not obtain the gold treasure, in the same manner, all these people going to Brahma every day, will not reach Brahma Loka.

भूमौ यथा गुप्तनिधिः स्वभावाद्
अज्ञानमात्राद् यदसन्निव स्यात्॥
तथाऽत्मचिद्वस्तुसुखं स्वभावे
प्रज्ञानमात्रेण सदा सदेव॥५॥101

Just as a treasure hidden in the earth, appears as though non-existing by nature due to ignorance only so also, by nature that supreme bliss of the knowledge of Brahman, is always existing by knowledge only.

निजान्तरे निर्विषयात्मचित्सुखं
नित्यं सुषुप्तावनुभूयतेऽखिलैः॥
ज्ञानाद्यभावादनुभूतमप्यदो
नैव स्मृति-ज्ञप्ति-सवृत्तिसत्पदम्॥६॥102

All people always experience during sleep the supreme bliss free from all sensual pleasures within them. Even though experienced without the necessary knowledge it is not the good place for remembrance and indulgence.

क्वचित् सुषुप्तावपि भोजितेन
ज्ञानाद्यभावेऽपि सदौषधेन॥
तद्व्याधिदोषादि निवृत्तिसौख्यं
प्रत्यक्षदृष्टं सुहितं प्रमुख्यम्॥७॥103

In some places, even though there is the absence of knowledge and others even in sleep by a good medicine which has been taken, the happiness of the disappearance of the faults of disease is seen as the chief benefit.

असन्निधानादनुमानसाधितं
वह्न्यादिवत् तत्तु परोक्षमूहितम्॥
पाकादिकार्येष्वसमर्थमास्थितं
प्रत्यक्षवन्नैव गुणप्रदं हितम्॥८॥104

Because of the absence of a thing, it is established by inference and that which is invisible is guessed like fire which is incapable of cooking and though visible is not beneficial and does not yield good.

तथा सुषुप्तावपि जागृतौ सतां
अज्ञानभुक्तं ह्यमृतं विषादिकम्॥
ज्ञातुं न शक्यं न पुनस्तदूहितुं
वक्तुं तदास्वादरसं रुचेः सुखम्॥९॥105

In the same manner whatever is eaten by the good people in sleep or the wakeful state becomes nectar even if it is poison. It is neither possible to understand nor even to guess nor describe the happiness of the taste of the sweet juice.

तस्मात् समस्तं स्वधिया सुसाधितं
तथ्यात् फलार्हं निजसंविदा धृतम्॥
तत् संविदा सत्क्रिययेच्छयाऽर्थिनां
तत्त्वेन साध्यं सकलं मनीषिणाम्॥१०॥106

Therefore everything will have to be established by one’s own intellect and maintained really by one’s own knowledge, to deserve the result. So everything is truly possible for the wise by knowledge, good deed or desire.

बाह्यैः पदार्थैर्विषयैः सहोदितं
सुखं स्वयं तत्क्षणिकं ह्यशाश्वतम्॥
लोकेऽत्र यावद्विषयादिभाविकं
विक्षेपकं दुष्टमसत्स्वभावकम्॥११॥107

The happiness that arises out of external objects and sensual pleasure is momentary and temporary. In this world, all that is associated with the senses is wicked and full of evil by nature.

यत् कृत्रिमं तत्तु विकारशील-
मागन्तुकं निर्गमनादिशीलम्॥
जातं समस्तं मरणादिशीलं
तत् कल्पितं स्वल्पगुणादिशीलम्॥१२॥108

That which is artificial, is subject to change, and that which comes has the nature of going out and that which is born is certain to die, that which is made or created has very little merits.

अकृत्रिमं सर्वगुणादिसिद्धं
नैसर्गिकं वस्तु सदा सुसिद्धम्॥
अकल्पितं तत् स्वयमेव शुद्धं
सत्यं निजं वस्तु परं प्रबुद्धम्॥१३॥109

The inartificial thing is full of all merits and the natural object is always ready. That which is not made is automatically pure and the true object is always excellent and alert.

तज्जागृतौ सत्यसुखं सदेच्छतां
प्रापञ्चिके वा परमार्थके सताम्॥
सर्वात्मनाऽऽत्मेन्द्रियबुद्धियोगिनां
सर्वं सुसाध्यं यति-योगि-भोगिनाम्॥१४॥110

Therefore for those good who always desire real happiness in the wakeful state either in worldly affairs of spiritual deeds, then everything is possible in every way for the ascetic, or the yogin or the worldly man provided there is concerned in them among their self, senses and wisdom.

निजाप्रमादेन हृदि प्रबोधतो
धीसंयमान्निर्विषयप्रयोगतः॥
सर्वेन्द्रियावृत्ति-निवृत्तिभावतः
सिध्येत्परानन्दरसोऽनुभावतः॥१५॥111

The juice of the supreme bliss will be the result which will be felt by experience, by an alert heart which does not falter, by the control of intellect in an experiment where there is no play of senses and by a feeling of detachment from all senses.

स्वात्मन्यहंस्फूर्तिचितेर्विमर्शनं
स्वान्तः प्रशान्तात्मसुधीप्रकर्शनम्॥
सर्वात्मभावानुगुणानुदर्शनं

The realization of the nectar of yoga will be felt by all those who discuss within themselves the spontaneous inspiration of knowledge, who indulge in peaceful diversion of the good intellect within them and who visualize all feelings of self-knowledge.

Establishing the real vision of the Lord who is invisible.

The sages say ‘ I have seen the most supreme Lord who can be seen by the radiant lustre in a realized self even though he is said to be invisible, full, supreme and visible internally and externally.

The illustration of Rigvedic hymn in this connection.

The word of the sages ‘I have seen ‘is said by the great sages who have actually seen through the vision of vedic hymns. He is said to be living in everything and this has been established by the vision of the sastras.

The presentation of the actual sastras.

The actual vision of the Lord, who is existing and supreme and whose strength lies in the fact that he is in all forms and invisible, will occur to those who are experts in self-knowledge and who feel his presence internally and externally.

॥तत्र पतङ्गदीर्घतमसोरृषयोरेकरूपानुदर्शनम्॥

The vision of a single form by the two sages Patanga and Dirghatama.

I saw him who is the protector, who is not attainable and who travels in all paths up and above. He lives in all the worlds wearing all the different quarters.

१.विश्वस्य गोपा अनिपद्यमानः
२.सान्तर्बहिर्वृत्तिनिवृत्तिमानः॥
३.दिशः समास्ता विषमा वसानः
४.सृष्टि स्थिति प्रत्युपसंहृतीनः ॥२२॥118

Thus the Lord is the protector of the worlds who is attainable, who is all-pervading externally and internally, who wears all the different quarters and who is responsible for the creation, preservation and destruction.

After the (another) vision of Dirghatama.

The brother of the priest of Rigveda who protects in Asna (all-pervading wind) and his third brother is Grithaprishta (Agni). Here I saw the Lord with seven sons. The sun is conceived as the Lord who has seven rays or spreading rays.

In all the three worlds, the Lord in the form of three lights viz., the Sun, the Wind and Fire, has spread inwards and outwards. This was shown to Dirghatamas actually as full of knowledge and glory.

At another place the same vision of the sages Sathri and Tapasa.

Only the God entered the ocean and he pervades this entire Universe. I saw him close by a ripe mind. He and the vedic words which are like a mother are mutually intermingles with each other.

एकः परात्मा प्रततः सुपर्णः

The vision of self inwardly in the not invisible state. The not invisible vision by Vamadeva of the Lord who is supreme.

I was a Manu, I am, the Sun, and the sage Kaushika, Look at me I am Sukra. I adore (Arjuneya). I gave to a venerable Arya. I began to sing slowly with pleasure in front as I was prompted.

The vision of the self-knowledge by vamadeva and others.

Those great sages Vamadeva and others saw the supreme Lord who is invisible, themselves by yogic vision and actually expressed it through hymns.

Here the vision of the self with self-confidence.

There the analysis of knowledge with self-confidence consists of the vision of that which is in all forms, the worship of that supreme spirit and the description of the experience of the true and not invisible.

॥तत्रेदमौपनिषदं प्रधानं प्रमाणवचनम्॥

This is the main word of the Upanishad.

This Brahman was at the top. It knew its own self as “I am Brahman”, everything then came out of it, and whatever God it knew it became that, similarly in respect of sages and men. Seeing this the sage Vamadeva said “I became a Manu, the Sun etc.”

ब्रह्मैव सत् केवलमास निर्भयं
ब्रह्माहमस्मीति तदन्ववेत् स्वयम्॥
तस्माद्धि तत् सर्वमिदं स्वतोऽभवत्
तत्संविदाऽपीह नरस्तथा भवेत्॥ ३०॥126

Only that Brahman is there which is fearless and it itself knew that “I am Brahman”. Then from that automatically all emerged. Even a man will be like that by a good knowledge of that.

तत्र वैदिकमार्षेयं दृष्टान्तान्तरम्॥
“ अहं भुवं वसुनः पूर्व्यस्पतिः

अभी३ दमेको अस्मिनिः षाट्॥७॥

Another instance of this vedic and sage origin.

I am the first Lord of wealth and conqueror permanent riches. The living do not call me father and I divide the food to be given.

I am Indra, and did not lose my wealth nor did I at any time stand for death, I am alone and all pervading.

Thus ends the fourth Kala.

Let the nectar oozing out of the knowledge of the yoga of realization composed by Shree Daivarata be drunk; let the spiritual capacity of Indra be properly understood; let the knowledge of the Lord be acquired and let this composition based on vedic hymns be measured out in good words.

The fifth chapter

The hymns of the goddess of speech.

The vedic hymn of the form of all powerful shakti and self.

I move with Rudras and Vasus; and with Suns and all Gods. I bear the Sun and the sea; Indra and Agni and Twins.

सर्वात्मना देवगणादिना वृता

In the vision of actual, invisible and non-invisible states proof special and ordinary philosophy of things.

The vision of that one Supreme Being alone in the invisible state is full in as much as it is identified with the Bindu or the dot. The all pervasiveness is a fact in the actual state which is full expressed by the glory of yoga.

The vision in the not invisible state is through the philosophy of yoga and it is also conscious of the supreme Brahman. It can be easily understood by implicitly faith in one’s own self. Let it be grasped by one’s own knowledge of existing things.

तुरीयपदात्मसन्दर्शनम्॥ औपनिषदम्॥
नमस्ते तुरीयाय दर्शताय पदाय परोरजसे,

The vision of self in fourth state pertaining to the Upanishads.

A bow to you which is the fourth state, which is supreme and capable of showing visions. He did obtain it, whereas I reached it.

तत् तें सवितुस्तुरीयं पदं पश्यामि दर्शतम्॥

Gayathri is the word which is full of the idea of the fourth state.

Oh! Sun God! I see the fourth state in you, which is capable of showing and it reveals itself by showing light to the world.

स्वयं प्रपश्यत् परिदर्शयत् परं

ज्योतिः प्रतीकं प्रति दर्शनीयतां

Seeing itself and showing the Supreme Brahman which is established in the invisible state with appropriate witness, it can be attained by yoga as a representative of light which was seen externally.

Showing its light to the world in the sky and also in the inner self, that fourth state of the Sun God can be experienced as the most excellent vision through yoga of the intellect.

द्रष्टाऽयमन्तः स्वयमात्मदृष्ट्या

The seer sees it internally by self-vision and shows it to others whose souls are heavenly through excellent sacrifice. He leads within himself, by the vision of yoga which is capable of vital creation, the supreme knowledge.

In this connection another proof is given by sages.

He is known as not born or immortal; he shines supreme in and out of the universe; he is the supreme monarch of himself and all and he is real, immortal and omniscient.

॥आत्मदर्शनोपदेशः॥

The precept of self-vision.

He who is unborn and immortal, who is omniscient, real and eternal, can be seen, by the vision of yoga of internal intellect in the not invisible state by the faith of self-knowledge.

॥उपनिषत्सु आत्मदर्शनोपदेशः॥

The precept of self-vision in Upanishads.

Yajnavalkya said that, that is the best source of joy in which there is the vision of the dear self which is beneficial and giver of every useful thing. The vision of the path is “the self-showed to be seen” and it is a means for the attainment of best benefit.

॥आत्मदर्शने श्रवणादीनि साधनानि॥

श्रोतव्य इत्यादिममाह साधनम्॥
तदात्मनोऽपि श्रवणं प्रतीयतां
श्रुत्या तथाऽचार्यमुखात् प्रगृह्यताम्॥११॥139

In the vision of self-hearing etc. are the means.

Having shown that kind of vision of the self he said that the first means for the realization of that is “hearing”. Therefore let the ear be alert and grasp the hymn through the preceptor.

श्रुतस्य तत्त्वेन परोक्षतः श्रुतेः
तस्यापरोक्षादनुभावतः स्थितेः॥
सत्प्रत्ययावृत्तिगुणक्रियात्मकं
तत्रोपदिष्टं मननं हृदात्मकम्॥१२॥140

After having heard the fundamental tenet of the vedic hymn in the invisible state and experienced it actually in the not invisible state, constant contemplation full of self. Knowledge, good faith, repetition, quality and action is instructed.

तथा मतस्यापि च सत्स्वरूपात्
सद्भावसम्पत्तिकृते प्रयोगात्॥
तदेकनिष्ठात्मकमन्तिमं स्यात्
साध्यं निदिध्यासनमात्मयोगात्॥१३॥141

In the same manner, because of the good form of the religion and experiment for the purpose of gaining the weather of good thoughts, it is possible, by constant contemplation, to attain the last stage of Nidhidhyasana by the yoga of self.

Therefore by the word of hymns, the heart of sages whose desires have disappeared by full experience, always aims at the supreme Brahman by the vision of yoga for the attainment of real happiness.

Critical analysis of objections in this context.

The supreme Brahman who is in the innermost self and who has no physical form, cannot be visible to the human eyes here. It is well known that he has to be understood by the intellect or the heart and it has to be proclaimed that, that vision is knowledge.

॥अस्मिन् अर्थे औपनिषदं प्रमाणवचनम्॥
एष सर्वेषु भूतेषु गूढोऽत्मा न प्रकाशते॥

मनसैवेदमाप्तव्यं नेहनानाऽस्ति किञ्चन॥ (कठो. २/१/११)

In this connection, - the anthology of Upanishads.

This Brahman concealed in all living beings does not shine. But is visible to keen observers through their sharp intellect.

This can be attained by only the mind and not by various other means

स दृश्यतेऽत्यग्रिमसूक्ष्मबुद्ध्या
द्रष्टव्य आत्मा मनसाऽयमृध्या॥
ज्ञाता तथा ज्ञापयिताऽन्तरिष्ट्या
ज्ञातव्य एवात्मनि शास्त्रदृष्ट्या॥१७॥145

He can be seen by a sharp intellect as the soul is visible by a prosperous mind. The knower and he who makes known can be known in the soul by the vision of sastras by internal meditation or sacrifice.

॥अस्मिन् अर्थेऽपि पुनरवान्तराशङ्काक्षेपः॥
ज्ञेयं परं वस्त्विति सम्मतेऽपि तत्
जडं परिच्छिन्नमसन्मतं भवेत्॥
यदिन्द्रियैर्व्याप्यमिहास्ति वृत्तितः
तदिन्द्रियान्न्यूनमिति प्रतीतितः॥१८॥146

Even in this case, there is again the objection of confusion.

That the supreme Brahman has to be known is the opinion of all, but as it is an inert mass and cut as under, it is not acceptable to the good. By profession, that which is pervaded by the senses, is different from the senses is well known.

यद् व्यापकं चेतनमिन्द्रियाणां
यत् प्रेरकं प्रत्यगचेतनानाम्॥
वृत्त्या तदव्याप्यमथाप्यसाध्यं
ज्ञानेन बुद्ध्यादिभिरप्यवेद्यम्॥१९॥147

That which is pervading and is giving life to the senses and that which prompts life less things, that which is unattainable and imperishable to realize by profession and not knowable even by intellect and wisdom.

ज्ञातारमात्मानमिमं प्रकाशकं
ज्ञातुं प्रवर्तेत यदीन्द्रियं स्वकम्॥
तस्यासमर्थस्य हृदः सवृत्तिकं
तद्धीन्द्रियत्वं स्वयमेव नश्यति॥२०॥148

If the sense indulge in knowing the knower who enlightens this soul, then the intellect of that incapable heart will perish of its own accord.

तस्मादमेयस्य चिदात्मवस्तुनो
ज्ञानं कथं कीदृगिति प्रतीयताम्॥
उपक्रमन्तेऽत्र यदर्थमर्थिनः
शास्त्राणि तान्यन्वखिलास्तथा जनाः॥२१॥149

Therefore let us try to understand how exactly the knowledge of immeasurable supreme Brahman is, what sense the exponent begins, that is based on the sastras.

॥तत्र समाधानम्॥
यः सर्वविज्ञानपरश्चिदात्मा
सर्वेश्वरः सन् परशक्तिसत्त्वा॥
सृष्ट्वा जगत् सर्वमनुप्रविष्टः

The satisfactory proof there.

He who is all full of philosophical knowledge, who is the supreme self, who is the Lord of everything and who is full of the vitality of extraordinary power, created the entire universe and entered it. He himself sees it as a witness affectionately.

स प्रत्यगात्मा स्वचिताप्रभूतः

He is an elevated soul full of his own effulgence, stands a witness being inside everything. Therefore there is none other than him who known him, or who sees him, or who desires him or who acts.

तदक्षरं वेदयते यस्तु सोम्य
स सर्वज्ञः सर्वमेवाविवेश॥इति॥ (प्रश्नो. ४/११)

The authority of the Upanishads in this context.

He is the Supreme Being who sees, touch, hears, smells, tastes, thinks and does and has an enlightened soul.

The Supreme Being with an enlightened soul, along with all gods in heaven – where all life and living being live. He who understand that Imperishable God, he is omniscient and enters all.

तस्माच्चिदात्मैव सदाऽखिलान्तरो
द्रष्टेति तत्त्वेन च शास्त्रदृष्टितः॥
द्रष्टत्वधर्मान्निजदृक्सुगोचरः
सद्दर्शनं तत् परमात्मदर्शनम्॥२४॥152

Therefore the supreme self is always inside everything as the seer by philosophical reasoning and sastraic outlook and that good vision is the vision of the Supreme Being.

सत्स्वात्मभावस्य सतॊ विमर्शनं
सत्यं तदॆवॆदमिहात्मदर्शनम्॥
स्वान्तः स्वभावॆन सदा समासनं

The analysis of the existing God by one’s own feeling and that itself is truly the vision of the self. Always the existence of the almighty has to be felt internally and at the same time one’s own experience concludes it.

स्वभावतॊ यः स्वयमन्तरात्मा

तथाऽपि सर्वत्र स एव शक्तः
संवित्क्रियॆच्छाविषयॆ स्वतन्त्रः॥२६॥154

He who, by nature, is himself the internal conscience though, invisible, is true here. Even then he is truly omnipotent and absolutely independent in the disposal of jnana, kriya and iccha. (Knowledge, action and desire).

वक्ताऽऽन्तरः प्राणयिता च मन्ता
द्रष्टा तथाऽऽकर्णयिता चिदात्मा॥
सिद्धः स्ववाक्प्राणमनॊऽक्षिकर्णैः

He is the internal speaker, the animator, the thinker seer, the listener and the conscious self.

स वाङ्मयः प्राणमयो मनोमयः
चक्षुर्मयः श्रोत्रमयः स चिन्मयः॥
वागादिपञ्चेन्द्रिययोगतो बहिः
प्रवर्तते चेतयिता स्वरादिभिः॥२८॥156

He is full of speech, life, mind, eyes, ears and conscience. By the external yoga of five senses of speech and others the life giver exists and prompts by swara and such other things.

नैते मता आत्मन एव धर्माः
नैवोदितास्तस्य त एव धर्माः॥
स एक एवात्र सदैकरूपः
सर्वत्र सत्तैव चिदात्मधर्मः॥२९॥157

These are not the opinions but the characteristics of the self. They are not told but they alone are the features. He alone is the one there, who has always only a single form. The nature of the conscious self is only its existence in all places.

वागादिकानां वचनादिधर्माः
नैवेन्द्रियाणामपि ते स्वतन्त्राः॥
यतोऽन्तरेणात्र चिदात्मसत्तां
नैवेह तेषां विषये प्रवृत्तिः॥३०॥158

The nature of speech etc., is speaking etc. and they are not independent even of the senses; because without the existence of the conscious self, they are unable to indulge in material pleasures.

यदीन्द्रियाणामिह ते स्वधर्माः
वागादिकानामपि वाचनाद्याः॥
वक्तुं स्वमात्मानमथात्र बोद्धुं
द्रष्टुं तथो श्रोतुमदोऽभविष्यत्॥३१॥159

If they are the real qualities of the senses and speaking etc. of speech etc. it has been possible to speak, to know one's own self to see and then to bear of it.

यदिन्द्रियेभ्योऽपि परश्चिदात्मा
तदिन्द्रियैः सोऽयममेय इष्टः॥
तदिन्द्रियाणामवलम्बसत्त्वा
तत्साक्षिभूतोऽखिलवृत्तिधर्मा॥३२॥160

The fact is that the conscious self is beyond the reach of the senses. Therefore the support of the self is the strength of the self and its universal nature is a witness thereof.

॥इति पञ्चमी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

Thus ends the fifth Kala.

दृश्यतां कथं प्रचेतनः परो दृशा तथा
दृश्य एव नो भवेत् स सन्दृगैव सर्वथा॥
दैवतेन्द्र आन्तरः समेन्द्रियात् सदाऽतते
दैवरातवेदवाक्समीरणेन चेतते॥५॥

How the Supreme Being can be seen by the eye and how he is in the same manner invisible and certainly he is the vision and how he, the God of God always moves internally in the senses, has been explicitly clarified by the wind like vedic speech of Sri Daivarata.

The sixth chapter.

The spreading of the speech of Gayathri

The sacred hymn called Gayathri, known by the meter of the same name with feet and letters reveals the form of the supreme Brahman and in reality is the speech full of excellent sense.

गायत्रिमन्त्राक्षरशब्दसत्त्वा
सद्वस्तुयोगेन परात्मसत्त्वा॥
गायत्युदीर्णं परमात्मतत्त्वं
वाग् वस्तुसद्वाचकविन्महत्त्वम्॥२॥162

The word, full of vitality of the sound of the letters of the Gayathri hymn, and full of the vitality of the Supreme Being by the yoga of good objects sings the philosophy of the supreme Brahman and his glory through the knowledge of good words.

गायत्यजस्रं परमं स्वमर्थम्॥
ब्रह्मैव सम्बोधयति स्वशक्त्या

The word of Gayathri is capable of expressing the self-knowledge and sings forever the most valuable meaning in it. By its own power it awakens the Brahman and by its own consciousness feels the soul of Brahman.

गायत्रसच्छन्दसि संहिता परा
गायत्यलं ब्रह्म परं पराऽपरा॥
गायन्तमन्वेति निजार्थतत्परा

The most excellent hymn is in the prosody called Gayathri and sings well the supreme Brahman. It follows him, who sings, with its own meaning and protects him with its letters and sentiments.

॥अस्मिन् अर्थे औपनिषदो यजुर्मन्त्रः॥

The upanishadic hymn of the Yajurveda in this context.

May the Goddess Gayathri who is the giver of boons and who is the mother of Vedas come here and fulfill my desire in enlightening me of the knowledge of the supreme Brahman which is imperishable and which can be measured well by itself. (taitt. Mahanarayana Upanishad 15 3).

The Gayathri word is the mother of Vedas.

May this mother of Vedas and giver of boons and the purifier of the dvijas, prompt us after being worshipped (atharva sam 19/71/1).

Having been worshipped by me the mother of Vedas, the giver of boons, twice born in the wind prompts us. (taitt)

आयातु देवी वरदेति संस्तुता
वागक्षरं ब्रह्मसुसम्मितं मता॥
सा छन्दसां संहितसुस्वरान्विता
मातेति गायत्रि-गुणाभिधाञ्चिता॥५॥165

Gayathri who is worshipped as the Goddess and the giver of boons invoked is full of the imperishable speech which could be measured well by Brahman and which is composed in the vedic hymns and is also called the mother full of shining merits.

अस्मिन् अर्थे ऋङ् मन्त्रपादः॥
यावद् ब्रह्म विष्ठितं तावती वाक्॥ (ऋ. मं. १०/११४/८)

In this connection – a quarter of Rigvedic hymn.

So as long as the Brahman exists, the speech of the word also exists.

शक्त्याऽन्वयेन व्यतिरेकतः स्वतः
सन्निर्गुणं वा सगुणं स्वभावतः॥
यावत् परं ब्रह्म समं प्रतिष्ठितं
वाक् तावती सा तदनु प्रतिष्ठिता॥६॥166

As long as the supreme Brahman is well established, so long the speech or the word is also established along with it, by power, order, regular or reverse, nature with quality or without it.

The speech and Brahman have both the forms.

(निर्गुण सगुणोभयरूपता तयोः वाग् ब्रह्मणोः॥)
तद्ब्राह्मणो नित्यमपात्परत्वे
वाग् ब्रह्मसत्त्वा तदपात्स्वतत्त्वा॥
सा निर्गुणे ब्रह्मणि मौनसत्त्वा
गुणात्मके वाचकशक्तितत्त्वा॥७॥167

Saguna (with quality) or nirguna (without quality).

That of the supreme Brahman always protects and the speech full of the vitality of the Brahman protects with its philosophy. It is full of silent vitality in Nirguna Brahman and in Saguna Brahman it is full of the force of speech.

वाग्ब्रह्मणोः पूर्णबिन्दुनादाक्षरात्मता॥
पूर्णे सुपूर्णाक्षरबिन्दुरूपा
सा वागनुज्ञाक्षरनादरूपा॥
शून्यात्मिका विश्वविशेषशून्या
ध्वन्यादिसङ्केतसुमात्रमान्या॥८॥168

The nature of the full dot, sound and perishability of the word (speech) and Brahman.

That speech when full is in the form of a complete letter and dot and in the form of a sound of a letter in the nature of a command. It is in the form of zero, free from the specialty of everything or the universe and can be regarded as a symbol of the sound etc.

तयोः अमात्रतया पूर्णविरामसत्त्वम्॥
ब्रह्मण्यमात्रे सति वागमात्रा
सा ब्रह्मचोदन्युदिताऽत्रिमात्रा॥
निरात्मकेऽनिर्वचनाऽऽत्मतन्त्रा
निवृत्तिचित्पूर्णविराममन्त्रा॥९॥169

By the boundless nature of both, the force of the full stop.

When the Brahman is boundless the speech or word is also boundless. It prompts the Brahman and is said to be beyond the three limits. It is absolutely independent and beyond description in the Brahman which is soulless and has a hymn which is full of the consciousness of the self.

सपादसद्रूपगुणादिमत्वे
सर्वात्मना साऽप्यनुरूपसत्त्वा॥
सचेतनाऽचेतनचेतनात्मा
सा वाक्चिता ब्रह्मसुसामरस्यात्॥१०॥170

The force or the vitality of the speech is in every respect proportional to that of Brahman in form and content. That speech is supreme and both animate and inanimate by its being identical with the Brahman.

वाचकवाच्यवस्तुनोः वाग्ब्रह्मणोः सर्वथा समानात्मता॥
सत्याक्षरब्रह्मसुचेतनात्मता
सनामरूपाञ्चितचिद्गुणात्मता॥
सर्वात्मना सर्वगुणैः समानता
वाग्ब्रह्मणोर्वास्तवतत्त्वसामता॥११॥171

The identity in every respect of the speech and Brahman the objects which are expressing and the expressed.

In reality there is identity in every respect between the speech and the Brahman, as there are truth, letters, life name and form in both along with the merits of self-knowledge in both.

साऽऽत्मध्वनिज्योतिरूपात्तमूर्तिः
सा नामशेषात्मकदिव्यकीर्तिः॥
वाग्ब्रह्मणोरादिमभावनाप्तिः
वाच्या तयोर्नामसरूपदीप्तिः॥१२॥172

The first feeling that arises in the matter of identity of the speech and the Brahman is expressed as the lustre in their name and the similarity in the form- the form which is derived from the lustre of their own sound and the heavenly fame that exists in their name.

तद् वस्तुतस्तत्त्वदृशां विधानं
ब्रह्मेति वृद्ध्यादिगुणाभिधानम्॥
तद् वाच एव प्रथितं प्रधानं
सद्ब्रह्मणो गौणमतोऽप्रधानम्॥१३॥173

That, in reality, is the manner of philosophers and is called as the Brahman full of qualities such as prosperity and development. Therefore the words are considered to be the main thing and the Brahman is secondary or subordinate.

तद् ब्रह्म सत्ताद्यविशेषनीतं
तन्नामरूपादिगुणैरतीतम्॥
ब्रह्मेति नाम्नोऽप्यधिकारशून्यं
पूर्णं गुणैर्बिन्दुवदेव शून्यम्॥१४॥174

That Brahman is brought by such ordinary qualities as existence or excellence and is beyond the conception of form and such other qualities. There is no power or authority even for the name Brahman, while it is full of qualities and is vacant like a dot.

वाचः परात्मा परमः स पूरुषो
वाग्ब्रह्मणः सोऽधिपतिः परार्चिषः॥
यन्नामरूपात्मकसत्त्वसम्भवं
तद् वाच एवात्र समस्तवैभवम्॥१५॥175

That supreme Brahman is beyond words and is the Lord of Vagbrahma with radiant lustre, which is born out of name, form and vitality and is the entire glory of the words only.

तन्निर्गुणं वस्तु पदं सदक्षरं
नित्यं स्वरूपात् स्वपदः सदच्युतम्॥
वाचः सशक्तेः सगुणं सदक्षरद्
वाच्यार्थरूपेण सता तदच्यवत्॥१६॥176

That Brahman is Nirguna (free from all attributes) and has an existing place which is imperishable; it is permanent in its own form and is indestructible from its post. By the force of words it came out as a thing with attributes and by the form of the expresses sense it was exposed.

वाचः समस्तात्मतयाऽन्वयेन
निर्नामरूपात्मसमन्वयेन॥
पूर्णेन शून्यात्मकचिन्मयेन
पूर्णं परं ब्रह्म समोन्नयेन॥१७॥177

The supreme Brahman is full by the logical order of words by their omnipresence, by the applicability of nameless and formless norms and by the full Chinmaya, the soul of which is Surya and by the argument of equality or identity.

बोद्धुं स्वयं बोधयितुं परस्मै
श्रोतुं श्रुतं श्रावयितुं समस्मै॥
ब्रह्मेति वागेव जगाद तस्मै
प्रत्यर्पणे स्वं परमर्थमस्मै॥१८॥178

Speech itself called it Brahman in order to explain its supreme significance to him who wanted to know it himself and make it known to others and who wanted to hear it and make all others listen to what he heard.

ब्रह्मादिशब्देषु समार्थसत्त्वात्
सत्यं हि लक्ष्यं परवस्तु तत्त्वात्॥
साक्षात् परोक्षादपरोक्षतत्त्वात्
सा वाक् स्ववाच्यार्थसमा स्वसत्त्वात्॥१९॥179

That word, by its own vitality, is equal its own sense by the force of identical sense in words like Brahma by the philosophy of the supreme which is the real aim and by the philosophy of the real, invisible and not invisible states.

सद्ब्रह्मणो वाक् प्रतिमा समास्थिता
सा सर्वतोऽस्मात् प्रथमा प्रतिष्ठिता॥
साक्षात् प्रमाणात्मतया समाश्रुता
साक्षित्वसिद्धात्मविदे समाश्रिता॥२०॥180

The word Brahman gives a picture which was first established everywhere. It was explained by actual proof to him who was in the pursuit of self-knowledge on the basis of real things.

वागात्मनोः संहितमानमेययोः
तन्नामरूपात्मकयोः समानयोः॥
स्यात् सामरस्योर्जितयोः सहेष्टयोः
योगः स्वसाक्षात्कृतये विशिष्टयोः॥२१॥181

The yoga of the word and the soul, which are the measurer and measurable, the name and the form, which are equal to each other, which prosper on harmonious identity which are special and linked by each other, will result for the self-realization.

वाग् ब्रह्मणश्चित् स्फुरणा प्रमात्मिका

The word or the speech is the flash of the Brahma which has the measuring norm in it; which could be expressed as the breath of the soul with quality and action; which the sole cause of the creation of the universe etc. of which the veda is the soul and which is the mother of entire universe Sri Uma Devi.

प्रज्ञानरूपस्य सती चिदात्मनः

She is the spouse of supreme Brahman who is in the form of spotless excellent knowledge – in the exposition of qualities of satva and other types of superior knowledge. The speech superior is practical proof and she is the sacred mother who is the measuring norm and who is visible only to the Vedas.

अस्मिन् अर्थे यजुर्मन्त्रवर्णः॥
यश्छन्दसामृषभो विश्वरूपः। छन्दोभ्योऽध्यमृतात् सम्बभूव। स मेन्द्रो मेधया स्पृणोतु॥
(तै. शिक्षोप. ४/१)

A Yajurvedic hymn in this context.

He who is the most excellent of the vedic hymns, who exists in all forms and who was born out of those hymns beyond the immortal – let him (Indra) favor me the wisdom. (taitt. Sikshop 4/1).

यश्छन्दसां वर्षयिता परो भवान्

छन्दोभ्य एवाभ्युदितामृताद् रसात्

He the excellent who most graciously showers the Vedic hymns, he who is greater than the greatest and flashes supreme knowledge – was born out of nectar – like juice which came out of these hymns and famed as the Indra.

The philosophy of the yoga of mutual birth of the expresser and the expressed is proved by actual forces.

The special and desirable philosophy of the mutual birth of word and Brahman is well-known. The word and the sense are full of the vitality of the expressed and expressing and in reality is in accordance with the vedic hymns.

आदित्यादित्ययोः परस्परप्रादुभावयोगः॥
ऋङ्मन्त्रवर्णप्रसिद्धः॥
अदि॑ते॒र्दक्षो॑ अजायत॒ दक्षा॒द्वदि॑ति॒ः परि॑॥ (ऋ. मं. १०/७२/४)

The mutual birth yoga of Aditi and Aditya – which is famous in the human of the Rigveda.

Daksha was born out of Aditi and from Daksha, Aditi was again born (Rg. 10/72/4).

आद्यादितेरभ्युदितः समिद्धो
दक्षः स आदित्य इति प्रसिद्धः॥
आदित्यतः प्रत्युदिताऽदितिः सा
दक्षाद् वियत्तैजसयोगतोऽसौ॥२६॥186

Daksha was born effulgent from the first Aditi and he was well known as Aditya from whom again that Aditi was born out of the union of the sky and Fire

तस्याः अदितेः दाक्षायण्याः ऋङ् मन्त्रदर्शनम्॥
आदिसृष्टौ निजाविर्भावतत्त्वोपवर्णनम्॥
ब्रह्म॒ण॒स्पति॒रे॒ता सङ्क॒र्मार॑ इवाधमत्॥
दे॒वानां॑ पू॒र्व्ये यु॒गेऽस॑त॒ः सद॑जायत॥ (ऋ. मं. १०/७२/२)

(The Rigvedic hymn of that Aditi, daughter of Daksha, the description of his birth at the time of first creation.)

The Lord of the hymns blew these like a goldsmith. In the first yuga of the gods, the existing was born out of non-existing. (Rg. 10/72/2).

प्रागेव सृष्टेरपि नामशेषतः
स्वान्तर्हितं विश्वमिदं बृहस्पतिः॥
कर्मारवत् फूत्कृतितोऽधमत् पुरा
निःश्वासतः साऽभ्युदियाय वाक् परा॥२७॥187

Even before creation, Brihaspati long before like a goldsmith blew the entire universe which was submerged in him and remained only in name and the most excellent speech came out of his breath.

सा ब्रह्मणस्पत्युदिता स्वरात्मा
स्फूर्त्यात्मिका फूत्कृतिशब्दशक्तिः॥
प्रश्वासरूपाऽऽत्मचितां प्रमात्री
प्रज्ञानदा वाग् जगतां सवित्री॥२८॥188

That speech born out of Brihaspati was, full of inspiration, accent and the force of words or sound of blowing. She is, therefore in the form of his breath, the measurer of self-knowledge and the generator of the worlds.

विश्वसृष्टेरपि पूर्वं चैतन्यज्योतिरात्मना दिव्येन अग्निना छन्दः स्वरूपकाव्यमयवाक्सन्धारणम्॥
स प्रत्नथा सहसा जायमानः
सद्यः काव्यानि बळधत्त विश्वा॥
आपश्च मित्रं धिषणा च साधन्
देवा अग्निं धारयन् द्रविणोदाम्॥ (ऋ. मं. १/९६/१)

Even before the creation of universe, the light of life with its celestial fire existed in the form of speech as an inspired vedic inspiration.

He, having been suddenly born in ancient times composed spontaneously many poetic compositions of various types, and also created water, sun, wisdom, fire, gods, wealth. (Rig. 1-91-1)

प्रजापतिर्विश्वमिदं जगत् सृजन्
प्रादुर्भवंश्चित्सहसेच्छया स्वरन्॥
विश्वानि काव्यानि ऋगादिरूपतः
सोऽग्निः समाधत्त चिताऽऽत्मनि स्वतः॥२९॥189

Brahma, creating this entire universe, self-knowledge or consciousness arose suddenly by his own desire; then he composed all compositions in the form of the Vedas and that fire of its own accord held them in himself by that self-knowledge.

तया पूर्वया निजया वाचा विश्वजननम्॥
स पूर्वया निवदा कव्यताऽऽयोः
इमाः प्रजा अजनयन्मनूनाम्॥
विवस्वता चक्षसा घामपश्च
देवा अग्निं धारयन् द्रविणोदाम्॥ (ऋ. मं. १/९६/२)

By his own speech born before the universe was born.

He by his very ancient composition, created these men. By the Sun-God who is the eye, he created the sky, water and holding fire the gods and wealth. (Rg. 1-96-2)

विद्या त्रयी ब्रह्ममयी विनिःसृता
विज्ञानशक्तिः परचित्स्वराऽमृता॥
वाचा तयैवाजनयत् स पूर्वया
विश्वाः प्रजास्ताः स इमाः स्वपूर्वया॥३०॥190

The three Vedas, full of philosophical knowledge poured out with the power of vedantic knowledge and the nectar of accent of supreme knowledge. By that very ancient speech he created all the people of the universe.

सा परा वागेव इन्द्रात्मनस्तस्य परमा तनूः
प्रथमा प्रतीकात्मिका॥
वाचमष्टापदीमहं नवस्रक्तिमृतस्पृशम्॥
इन्द्रात् परि तन्वं ममे॥ (ऋ. मं. ८/७६/१२)

That very speech itself the most sacred body of that Brahman who is the soul of Indra and is the first representation. From that Indra I got the speech with eight words (feet) and fresh (nine garlands) nectar like. (Rg. 6-76-12).

सत्यं स्वमात्मानमुपस्पृशन्ती
साऽष्टापदीष्टा नवधा स्वरन्ती॥
स्वेन्द्रात् परस्मात् परिनिर्मितात्मा
सैन्द्री तनूवाक् प्रतिमा परात्मा॥३१॥191

That speech, touching truth which is its soul, with eight words (feet) and pouring in nine different ways, was constructed by that supreme Brahman and is the representative of that Brahman itself.

सा अष्टमी वागेव ब्रह्मात्मना सम्पृक्ता
सप्तभिः प्राणैः सह अष्टापदी संवृत्ता॥

That speech with eight words and touched by the supreme Brahman became eight footed with seven lives.

॥केवलं संवित्स्वरूपा चेतनात्मा॥
॥तत्रेदमौपनिषदं दर्शनम्॥
अर्वाग् बिलश्चमस ऊर्ध्वबुध्नः
तस्मिन् यशो निहितं विश्वरूपम्॥
तस्यासत ऋषयः सप्ततीरे
वागष्टमी ब्रह्मणा संविदाना॥ (बृ. उ. २/२)

It is only in the form of knowledge and consciousness as its soul.

The authority of the Upanishads for this.

There is an aperture below the upward fire and in it the farm in all its forms is placed; on its bank sit the seven sages and the eight footed speech is being propounded by Brahman. (B.V. 2-2)

तस्यैदमौपनिषदं ब्राह्मणानुवचनम्॥
तस्यासत ऋषयः सप्ततीर इति प्राणा वा ऋषयः, प्राणानेवैतदाह, वागष्टमी ब्रह्मणा संविदाना इति वाग् हि अष्टमी ब्रह्मणा संवित्ते॥

The upanishadic authority as in the Brahmanas.

"The seven sages sat on its banks". Thus are the lives of sages. He said thus to the lives. "The eight footed speech was propounded by Brahman", thus the eight footed speech is known.

सप्तर्षयो दर्शनचित्कलेष्टाः
प्राणाः परे धीन्द्रियवित्प्रकृष्टाः॥
वागष्टमी स्वात्मचिता समाना
ब्रह्मात्मना सोर्जति संविदाना॥३२॥192

The seven sages are dear to the art of the philosophical knowledge. The supreme lives are vested in the sense of intellects. The eight footed speech is identical with self-knowledge and it flourishes with the knowledge of Brahman.

॥इति षष्ठी कला सम्पूर्णा॥
त्राणदा प्रगायतां परात्मवाक् प्रगीयतां
प्राणदा प्रणीयतां हृदा विदा प्रमीयताम्॥
दैवतेन्द्रसत्त्वपूर्णवेदवाक् प्रतीयतां
दैवरातगीतयोगसत्सुधा प्रपीयताम्॥ ६॥

Thus the sixth Kala ends.

May the nectar of good yoga sung by Sri Daivarata which is the giver of protection for those who sing, which is the speech of supreme Brahman and the giver of life be sung and be brought and be measured with wisdom from the bottom of the heart and be understood as the speech full of vitality of the Lord of gods.

॥अथ सप्तमी कला॥

॥परात्मने वाचा स्वात्मसमर्पणम्॥

उ॒त त्व॒: प॒श्य॒न् न द॑दर्श॒ वाच॑

उ॒तो॑ त्व॑स्मै त॒न्वं १॑ विस॑स्रे
जा॒ये॑व॒ पत्य॑ उश॒ती सु॒वासा॑: (ऋ. मं. १०/७१/४)

The seventh chapter.

The self-offering by speech to the supreme Brahman.

Seeing around he did not see the speech, hearing around, he does not hear the speech and to him she offered her body like the well-dressed wife does to her husband. (R.V. 10-71-4)

छन्दस्वती चित्तिमती स्वराकृतेः
वाक् स्वात्मने सत्पुरुषाय सत्कृतेः॥
स्वात्मानमर्धात्मकमात्मसात्कृतेः
जायेव पत्येऽर्पयति स्वसंस्कृतेः॥१॥193

The speech is material form and is full of self-knowledge and in the form of accents offered herself to the supreme Brahman for the performance of good deeds just like a wife offering herself to her husband with a view to complete surrender as she is his own half.

तयोः वागात्मनोः वाचकवाच्यसत्त्वनोः तदात्म्यतत्वानुदर्शनम्॥
सत्यात्मनः शक्तिरियं तु वाक् परा
संवित्क्रियेच्छाचितियुक् परापरा॥
तयोः सुसिद्धं हि ददर्श वाक्पतिः
तदात्म्ययोगं मनसा बृहस्पतिः॥२॥194

Showing the identity of the speech and self which are vitally the expression and the expressed.

The supreme speech is the strength of a person whose soul is truth and it is full of knowledge, action, desire and conscience or self. Brihaspati, the Lord of speech saw the unity of the speech and self and their identity through his mind.

सा वाक् स्वतोऽर्धाङ्ग-समात्मिका सती
स्वज्ञान-दानादिषु सङ्गता सखी॥
स्वात्मानमेवोपकरोतितत्तयोः
सख्यं स्वयं सिद्धमिहान्वयाद् द्वयोः॥३॥195

That speech being half of itself, absorbed like a companion in the giving of knowledge and other things benefits itself as the friendship is clearly established of its own accord.

वाग्-आत्मनोर्वाचक-वाच्यभावयोः
निसर्गतः सन्मिथुनस्वभावयोः॥
सान्यायसिद्धाऽयुतसिद्धवृत्तिता
तादात्म्य-दाम्पत्यगुणक्रियात्मता॥४॥196

The speech and Brahman, are by nature like a couple as one expresses and the other expressed. The identity of both like a husband and wife is manifested and proved in ten thousand ways. This is but proper as it should be.

एतस्मिन् अर्थे कवीन्द्रस्य कालिदासस्य काव्यानुवचनम्॥
वागर्थाविव सम्पृक्तौ वागर्थ प्रतिपत्तये॥
जगतः पितरौ वन्दे पार्वती-परमेश्वरौ॥ (रघुवंशे आद्यं मङ्गलंपद्यम्)
(In this connection, the poetic expression of Kalidasa, the greatest poet).

I bow to Parvati and Parameshwara, the parents of the universe who are united together like a word and its sense for a clear understanding of the sense of the word.

दिव्येन वागर्थगतेन तत्परो
दाम्पत्ययोगेन परः कवीश्वरः॥
दाम्पत्यसत्त्वं ह्युपमीय पार्वती-
परेशयोर्वन्दनतः कवीयति॥५॥197

The great poet Kalidasa, by a celestial union of the couple in word and sense has bowed to Parvati and Parameshwara in a poetic composition by using a beautiful simile revealing the vital force in a couple.

॥अस्मिन् अर्थे अध्यात्मतत्त्वयोगः॥
अध्यात्ममात्मप्रतिमाऽत्र मूलाद्
आधारचक्रादुदिताऽऽत्ममूलात्॥
पूर्णा चतुष्पात् प्रणवस्वरूपा
वाग्वाचकात्मा चितिशक्तिरूपा॥६॥198

In this connection the yoga of philosophical concept.

The philosophical concept or esoteric ideal arose out of its origin, the Adharachakra which is the root of self. The complete and comprehensive word in the form of omkara with four feet and the Vacaka for its soul is in the form of the power of conscience.

वाचस्तु तस्याः पतिरन्तरात्मा
वाच्यार्थरूपः परतः परात्मा॥
वागात्मनोः प्रत्नतमः परस्मात्
दाम्पत्ययोगः परमः समस्मात्॥७॥199

The husband of that word is the inner conscience which is the supreme Brahman in the form of expressive sense. The union of its word and soul is the most ancient type and is the most excellent of all these.

ऋषीणां तत्साक्षात्कारोदितं ऋङ् मन्त्रवचनम्॥
बीभत्सूनां सयुजं हंसमाहुः
अपां दिव्यानां सख्ये चरन्तम्॥
अनुष्टुभमनु चर्चूर्यमाणं
इन्द्रं निचिक्युः कवयो मनीषा॥ (ऋ. मं. १०/१२४/९)

The Rigvedic hymn of the sages who realized this Brahman.

The poets call him who is moving in the friendship of celestial water, as Hamsa and by their intellect the saw Indra who is following quickly. (Rg. 10/124/9)

अपां च सख्ये विचरन्तमान्तरं
यं हंसमाहुः सयुजं चिदात्मकम्॥
अनुस्वरन्तं हृदि वाचमीरितां
इन्द्रं मुनीन्द्रा ददृशुर्मनीषया॥८॥200

The great sages by their wisdom saw Indra, who is moving internally in the friendship of the waters in heaven who is called Hamsa with the conscience for his soul and who repeating the word with proper accent.

वेदेषु दाम्पत्यसरूपतत्त्वं
वाग्ब्रह्मणोर्यन्मिथुनत्वसत्त्वम्॥
अन्योऽन्यतो नेम-समात्मकत्वं
तादात्म्यसिद्धं परवस्तुतत्त्वम्॥९॥201

What has been expounded in the Vedas as the fundamental conjugal concept for the vital union of speech and Brahman, is in reality the concept of the supreme Brahman and the mutual of the two is also automatically proved.

केचित् पुनर्मानवदेहिवत् तयोः
तद् वामदक्षार्धसरूपमूचिरे॥
सद् गौण-मुख्यत्वमभीष्टमेनयोः
स्त्री-पुंस्वरूपत्वमपीह मेनिरे॥१०॥202

Some people said that the union was exactly similar to that among human beings and attributed to speech the left half and to Brahman the right half, and thought that the female portion was secondary and the male half was primary.

वाच्य-वाचकयोस्तादात्म्यतत्त्वम्॥
तदात्म्यतो वाचक-वाच्यवस्तुनोः
तत्त्वैक्यमिष्टं गुणि-तद्गुणात्मनोः॥
वागेव सद्वाचकशक्तिरूपिणी
वाच्योऽर्थरूपः परमः स पूरुषः॥११॥203

The identity of the expressed and the expression.

By the identity of the expresser and the expressed, the unity in fundamental principles is desired as in the merit and the person who possesses it. The word or the speech is itself the form of the expresser and the sense is the form of the expressed and the latter is the supreme Brahman.

वागेव तद्ब्रह्मणि वाचिका स्यात्
प्रत्यक्षगं ब्रह्म हि सामरस्यात्॥
तद्वाच्यरूपात्मकमर्थतत्त्वं
साक्षाच्छ्रुतं ब्रह्म परोक्षसत्त्वम्॥१२॥204

The word itself will be expresser in that supreme Brahman and by virtue of the harmonious identity that exists, it is in fact Brahman itself. The inherent fundamental in the sense form of the expressed is really heard – even though the Brahman is considered to be invisible.

यन्निर्गुणं स्यादिह नामरूप-
गुणक्रियाशून्यमतः परोक्षम्॥
ब्रह्मेति तत् किञ्चिदिवैवमात्मा
मायेति वाचैव दिशन्ति सन्तः॥१३॥205

That which has no attributes here, and is free from name, form, quality and action is therefore invisible good people indicate it by word as Maya that Brahman which is itself the soul.

यथा प्रसिद्धं दिवि पर्वतान्तरे
जिह्वाग्रतो मूर्धनि वा निजान्तरे॥
निरन्तरं स्वादुरसो यदृच्छया
स्वयं स्रवत्यन्तरजस्रधारया॥१४॥206

The sweet juice will always pour down automatically by accident as it were, just as the famous one in heaven falls in between mountain and from the trio of the tongue to the head in one’s own self.

तथा चिदात्माऽप्यहमा स्फुरत्यलं
सत्ताचितिज्ञप्तिगुणात्महृत्कलम्॥
स्फूर्तिः समा सूक्ष्मतमा स्वराप्लुता
वागेव साऽहञ्चितिवित्क्रियापृता॥१५॥207

In the same manner even the conscience of the self-will sufficiently flash with all the qualities of existence knowledge, remembrance etc. The flash is uniform, minute full of accents and is speech itself with the self-knowledge action.

यथा भुवि प्रज्वलतोऽग्नितः सतो
रवेर्दिवि स्वस्तपतः स्वभावतः॥
स्वरः सुसूक्ष्मः समुदेति सन्ततः
तथाऽखिलान्तस्तु चिदात्मनः स्वतः॥१६॥208

Just as the thin delicate voice is always born out of the existing burning fire on the earth and of the burning sun in heaven by nature, in the same manner is the voice of inner self-conscience.

ज्ञेयो हृदा चित्स्फुरणात्मभावः
श्राव्यो विदा वाक्स्फुरणस्वभावः॥
द्रष्टेति वेदेन स दर्शनीयः
दृष्टः श्रुतः सोऽयमुपासनीयः॥१७॥209

The idea of self-inspired by conscience has to be known by heart and the nature of inspiration by speech has to be heard by the knower; he is perceivable by the Vedas as the seer and he having been seen and heard has to be served.

वाचोपदेशाच्छ्रवणाच्छ्रुतेर्दृशा
प्राप्यं परोक्षं परवस्तु सन्दृशा॥
तत्रानिवार्यं वचनानुशासनं
ज्ञानेऽपरोक्षे श्रवणादिसाधनम्॥१८॥210

By the precept of words, by having the Vedas and seeing, the invisible ParaBrahma can be attained by a superior proper vision. The command through words is inevitable. Hearing and others are the means to acquire this not invisible knowledge.

तस्मात् परो ज्ञानमयोऽत्र यज्ञः
योगोऽपि तद्वागवलम्बनेष्टः॥
गायत्रिमन्त्रादिमुखेन शिष्टः
ब्रह्मोपदेशो विहितो विशिष्टः॥१९॥211

Therefore, this sacrifice full of knowledge is supreme here; even yoga supported by that speech is desirable. The initiation into the knowledge of the Brahman has been specially prescribed based on the sacred hymns like Gayathri and others.

" निषुसीद गणपते गणेषु
त्वामाहुर्विप्रतमं कवीनाम्॥
न ऋते त्वत्क्रियते किञ्चनारे
महामर्कं मघवञ्चित्रमर्च॥ "(ऋ. मं. १०/११२/९)

Oh! Ganapathi, sit well among the groups, they call you the best among the poets. Nothing will be done without you; even Indra has worshipped you, the most wonderful shining like the great Sun-God. (Rg. 10/112/9).

“यस्मान्न ऋते किञ्चन कर्म क्रियते
तन्मे मनः शिवसङ्कल्पमस्तु॥ (यजुः)

Let that without which nothing can be done bless me with all good and auspicious thoughts (yajur).

यस्मादृते न क्रियतेऽत्र किञ्चिद्
यज्ञादिकं कर्म परात्मनस्तत्॥
यज्ञे स इन्द्रः प्रभवेद् विपश्चिद्
योगोऽनुयोगे प्रथमो मनश्चित्॥२०॥212

Those deeds like sacrifice and others are performed at the instance of the supreme Brahman, without which nothing can be performed here. In the sacrifice that learned Indra is the supreme Lord and in yoga and interrogation he is the first to enlighten the mind.

योऽन्तर्धियामत्र सवृत्तिकानां
संवित्क्रियेच्छाकरणात्मिकानाम्॥
योगोऽन्तरात्मोपरतिः सुधीनां
सत्याऽनुभूति-प्रकृतिप्रधाना॥२१॥213

That yoga of wise people who have turned their minds inwards, who are full of knowledge, action, desire and sense exists in the perfect tranquility of the inner conscience the principal nature of which is truthful experience.

योगे धियो यः स्वचिता प्रसूते
ज्योतिर्मयश्चेतयिता समास्ते॥
योगाद् धियां यो वरणीय इष्टः
सोऽन्तश्चिदात्मा स्वविदा प्रदिष्टः॥२२॥214

He, who gives rise to intellect in yoga by his own conscience and who prompts full of lustre and who through yoga is chosen as dear to intellect, is the inner self knowledge shown by his own understanding.

मेधापतिर्यः सदसस्पतिः सन्
गाथापतिर्यो महसस्पतिः सन्॥
वाचस्पतिर्यो मनसस्पति सन्
धीनां पतिः सोऽतति चित्पतिः सन्॥२३॥215

He, who is the Lord of assembly and therefore the Lord of wisdom, who is the Lord of lustre and therefore the Lord of speech who is the Lord of the mind and therefore the Lord of speech, moves as the Lord of wisdom being the Lord of conscience.

धीयोगविद्याभ्यसनं मनीषिणां
ध्यानादिसन्धारणसाधनं नृणाम्॥
धीनां प्रतिष्ठाकरणं मनस्विनां
ध्येयात्मनिष्ठासदनं तपस्विनाम्॥२४॥216

The wise people indulge in the practice of the yogavidya of the intellect; all men make an effort to meditate and concentrate; self-willed people establish their intellects firmly, and the sages concentrate on the object to be thought of.

प्रापञ्चिकेऽर्थेऽखिलसौख्यसम्पदे
प्रत्यक्षकर्माद्यनुवृत्तिसत्पदे॥
प्राणादिसर्वेन्द्रियशक्तिसिद्धये
प्रत्यञ्चि धीयोग इहात्मभूतये॥२५॥217

The yoga of the intellect in the supreme Brahman results in the attainment of all kinds of happiness in the materialistic world, and in the success of the power of all senses commencing from Prana and in the fulfillment of all good actions for self-edification and prosperity.

प्रज्ञात्मनः स्वात्मबलाद्युपाप्तये
प्रज्ञान-विज्ञान-कलासमुप्तये॥
प्रत्यञ्चि धीयोगविदात्मशक्तये
प्रत्यक्षतः स्यात् परमार्थवित्तये॥२६॥218

In order to obtain the soul-ford and other things for a person whose soul is his wisdom, to sow the seeds of wisdom and philosophical knowledge and to actually know and understand the supreme knowledge, he who knows the yoga of intellect will practice meditation.

योगो द्वयोर्वाऽपि भवेद् बहूनां
साजात्यतः स्वान्तरधीन्द्रियाणाम्॥
एकस्य चात्मस्थितिचित्समिष्ट्याऽऽ
नन्दानुभूत्यै प्रभवेत् समष्ट्या॥२७॥219

The yoga or the union will be between two or many on the basis of similarity of nature of the internal intellect and senses. The existence of the soul consciousness will be the result for the realization of that supreme bliss either singly or collectively.

जीवेशयोर्व्यापकचेतनात्मनोः
भावाप्तयोः पुत्र-पितृप्रमात्मनोः॥
स्त्रीपुंस्त्ववृत्त्योरपि देवमर्त्ययोः
योगो भवेत् सम्प्रिययोः समार्थयोः॥२८॥220

The yoga or union may take place between jeeva and Brahma which are all-pervading and en-livening respectively, or between thought and realization, or between the son and the father, or between men and women or God and man or between two lovers who are mutually capable.

स्वान्तश्चिदात्मेन्द्रिययोः समानयोः
सञ्चेतनाचेतनयोः सदाप्तयोः॥
स्यात् प्रेरक-प्रेर्यगुणात्मसत्त्वयोः
योगः समस्तात्मचिदेकसत्तयोः॥२९॥221

The yoga or union may take place internally between the conscious self and the senses which are identical, or between the animate and inanimate, or between two objects whose qualities are that which prompts and that which is prompted or between the soul and conscience.

योऽन्तर्धिया स्वात्मनि चेतमानः
सोऽहश्चिताऽऽस्ते हृदि संविदानः॥
वाचस्पतिर्मूर्ध्नि धियो दधानः
वाचाऽऽत्मसंवित्प्रतिसम्प्रदानः॥३०॥222

He, who is animated within himself by his internal intellect, will know within his heart the knowledge of the self. The Lord of speech will hold on the heads of intellects by the speech which will enable him to grasp the knowledge of the self.

प्राणेन वाचा मनसा च धीभिः
यः स्वाहया च स्वधया हविर्भिः॥
यज्ञः स योगो विहितः सुधीभिः
स्यात् संविदा भावनया क्रियाभिः॥३१॥223

He who performed a sacrifice by his life breath, speech, mind, intellect, swaha, swadha and offering of the fire, that is in fact the yoga, prescribed by the wise, through knowledge, feeling and action.

धीयोगसिध्याऽऽत्मचितेः समृद्धिः
धीधारण-ध्यान-समाधिवृद्धिः॥
ध्यात्रात्मधीसंयमचिद्विवृद्धिः
ध्येयात्मसाक्षात्कृतियोगसिद्धिः॥३२॥224

By the fulfillment of the yoga of the intellect, there is development self-knowledge, and prosperity of meditation and concentration of a sustained intellect; prosperity of the intellect, control and mind and ultimately the success of the yoga of self-realization which is the main object of meditation.

Thus ends the seventh Kala.

The speech and Parabrahma which are always full of the vitality of a harmonious couple, which have attained the philosophy of the resemblance of the thing that expresses and that which is expressed, which could be measured by the good yoga of the vitality of the Lord Indra, which are both identical and which express the yoga of the supreme Brahman and speech are expounded by Sri Daivarata maharshi.

॥अथ अष्टमी कला॥

वेदानां वरमन्त्रवर्णवचसां छन्दोमयानां सतां।
देवानां परचेतनात्ममहसां ज्योतीरसात्मन्वताम्॥
अध्यात्मं परतत्त्वमस्ति बहुधा भावात् तदन्तर्हितं
यज्ञानां परकर्मणां कृतिविदां सद्भावनाभ्यर्हितम्॥१॥225

The eighth chapter.

There are many facets of the metaphysics of the supreme Brahman of the existing Vedas which are composed in a variety of meters and which are full of excellent hymns, letters and words, of the Gods who are full of glory of real knowledge and luster and juice are latent in the feelings and are worshipped by the thoughts of those who know the rules of the performance of sacrifice and worthy deeds.

वेदे तत्परमन्त्रवर्णमुखतः प्रायः स्तुतिः श्रूयते
वेदज्ञैः परभावनेन सुखतः सा श्रद्धयाऽऽश्रीयते॥
ब्रह्मेन्द्रात्मपरात्मचित्समदृशा साक्षात्कृतेः स्तूयते
सैवात्मस्तुतिरार्षमन्त्रवचसा पूर्वर्षिभिर्गीयते॥२॥226

In the veda, probably, the prayer is heard through the face of the letters of holy hymns; shelter is taken by those who know the Vedas happily under that prayer with sacred thoughts; that prayer is recited for realization with a look of equality between Brahma, Indra, supreme Brahman and conscience or known. Lastly that is sung by ancient sages in their words for the realization of self-knowledge.

॥स्तुतावपि सिद्धं वस्तुतत्त्वम्॥
स्तोत्रेऽपि प्रतिसंहितं रसतमं तत्त्वार्थसत्त्वं परं
सङ्केतार्थपरं समार्थपरमं तद्वाचकैकाक्षरम्॥
शब्दैस्तत्त्वमुखैः सुवाचकपदैर्वाच्यार्थ-लक्ष्यार्थकं
श्लेष-ध्वन्यपरार्थशास्त्रमुखतो वाच्यं सुवेद्यार्थकम्॥३॥227

In every hymn of the prayer, there abounds the best rasa, the best vital force of a philosophical interpretation, the best symbolic meaning, the best sense of equality, and the expressive letters. By words which indicate the esoteric and philosophical import the expressed and suggested sense are revealed. The expressed is easy of comprehension through paronomasia, suggestion and such other sastraic principles.

पूर्णेनैव हि बिन्दुना सुलिखिता रेखा च सङ्ख्यार्थका
वाक् सा नामसरूपकाऽक्षरमयी रूपात्मिका वर्णका॥
मुद्रा चेति हि सप्तसत्त्वसहिता सङ्केतहृत्सत्त्वनः
सर्वार्थस्य च संविदे प्रमितये ब्रह्मादिसद्वस्तुनः॥४॥228

In order to measure and comprehend the entire meaning of such good things as supreme Brahman, the line is well drawn with a full dot and a sense of numbers, the word full of letters described the form and colour and the symbols with seven vital forces are indicated with powerful symbols.

ब्रह्मोन्द्रात्ममुखोदिता स्वरमयी सङ्केतनैकान्वयं
ब्राह्मी वाक् स्वरसानुभूतिनिचयं संस्तौति सर्वं स्वयम्॥
साक्षात्काररसानुभावहृदयं सर्वात्मना श्रूयतां
सर्वेभ्योऽपि समानहृत्समुदये वाचौप्रतिश्राव्यताम्॥५॥229

The vedic speech with usual accent, expressed by Brahma, Indra through their own mouths besides expressing the sole relationship of self-knowledge deals with its own heap of experience, listen whole heartedly the glory of self-realization and make it heard by all who have identical thoughts in this behalf.

इन्द्रादयो ब्रह्मर्षयोवेदमन्त्रद्रष्टारः साक्षात्कारादिसत्त्वस्तोतारः॥
इन्द्रौ ब्रह्मोन्द्र ऋषिरिन्द्रः पुरु पुरुहूतः॥
महान् महीभिः शचीभिः॥ (इरिम्बिठिः काण्वः - ऋ. मं. ८/१६/७)

(Indra and others the Brahmarshis, are the seers of vedic hymns and compose prayers in praise of the vitality of self-realization.)

Indra is Brahma, Indra is Rishi, Indra is the seer of hymns, Indra is great with many Sachis. (Rg. Ved. 8/16/7)

इन्द्रो ब्रह्म स इन्द्र एव हि ऋषिः सन् मन्त्रदृक् सत्त्ववान्
स्वान्तः शक्तिभिरात्मसत्त्वचितिभिर्वाग्भिः शचीभिर्महान्॥
वैकुण्ठः स्वयमिन्द्र एव तपसा साक्षात्कृतेरात्मनः
तत्सूक्तत्रयवाग्रसस्वरमुखात् संस्तौति सर्वात्मना॥६॥230

Indra is Brahma and he alone is a sage who is the seer of hymns and full of vitality and is great by his words called sachis which are his own potentialities and which enhances his vitalities. Even Vishnu himself is Indra, and whole heartedly praises by penance through three suktas of speech, sentiment and accent for his own self-realization.

वैकुण्ठस्य इन्द्रस्य ऋषेः आत्मस्तुतिः॥
अहं भुवं वसुनः पूर्व्यस्पतिः (ऋ. मं. १०/४८/१-११)
अहं दां गृणते पूर्व्यं वसु (ऋ. मं. १०/४९/१-११)
प्रवो महे मन्दमानायान्धसः (ऋ. मं. १०/५०/१-११)

The self-praise of Vishnu, the sage Indra. (The three sukta)

1. I am the first Lord of wealth.
2. I give wealth first to those who sing.

इन्द्रस्यात्मन एव संस्तुतिरियं सर्वात्मभावान्वयात्
साक्षात्कारसुसत्त्वकं रसतमं तत्संविदैवान्वियात्॥
पूर्णात्मेन्द्र मुखोदितं परतमं तत् पारमैश्वर्यकं
पूर्णत्वेन समानसत्त्वकहृदा संवर्धतां सार्थकम्॥७॥231

This is Indra's self-prayer in every respect and context, which helps realization and is full of vitality, sentiment and knowledge. This has been uttered by the fact of the full souled Indra, is most excellent and supreme and by its fullness and evenness let it grow to a purpose.

अहं भुवं वसुनः पूर्व्यस्पतिरहं धनानि सञ्जयामि शश्वतः॥
मां हवन्ते पितरं न जन्तवः अहं दाशुषे विभजामि भोजनम्॥
(ऋ. मं. १०/४८/१)

I am the first Lord of wealth. I conquer permanent riches. They call me the father and I divide the food to him who gives.

इन्द्रः प्रत्नतमोऽहमेव वसुनो विश्वस्य पूर्व्यःपतिः
सोऽहं सर्वधनानि चात्मबलतस्तत् सञ्जयामि स्वतः॥
स्वेष्टार्थं पितरं यथा भुविस्तुतास्ते मां ह्यवन्ति प्रभुं
तेभ्योऽहं विभजामि भोजनमयं ज्ञानं च सञ्जीवनम्॥८॥232

I am Indra, the earliest Lord of wealth in the universe. I conquer all riches by my own intrinsic strength. Just as sons in this world look to their father for the realization of their desires, so they call me Lord. To those people I divide food and rejuvenating knowledge.

अहमिन्द्रो न पराजिग्य इद्धनं न मृत्यवेऽवतस्थे कदाचन॥
सोममिन्मा सुन्वन्तो याचता वसु न मे पूरवः सख्ये रिषाथन॥
(ऋ. मं. १०/४८/५)

I am Indra who is invincible. I do not also die at any time. Squeezing the soma juice, they beg of me my friendship which is imperishable. (Rig Ved)

इन्द्रोऽहं ह्यपराजितः स्वसहसाजेताऽखिलस्य स्वयं
सत्यात्माऽजनि मृत्यवे पुनरहं नैवावतस्थे क्षयम्॥
सुन्वन्तो हृदि सोममात्मनि मनो मां याचतात्मान्वयं
सम्यञ्चोऽनुभवन्ति सत्त्वमनसा सख्यं ममात्राक्षयम्॥९॥233

I am Indra, the invincible and I am myself the conqueror of all; I was again born to the God of death with truth for my soul and so I do not perish. Squeezing the soma juice, the good people with a vital heart beg of my friendship, which is eternal.

अहं दां गृणते पूर्व्यं वसु अहं ब्रह्म कृणवं मह्यं वर्धनम्॥
अहं भुवं यजमानस्य चोदिताऽयज्वनः साक्षि विश्वस्मिन् भरे॥
(ऋ. मं. १०/४९/१)

I first created Brahma and gave wealth to him who was capable of singing the Vedas. I gave land to one who was performing sacrifice; I bear witness to him who does not perform sacrifice.

सोऽहं ब्रह्मपराणि वेदवचनान्यादौ ससर्ज स्वयं
मह्यं चिद्बलवर्धनानि करणान्याद्यानि मन्त्रान्वयम्॥
वेदं सङ्गृणते स्ववैभवमिदं शश्वद् दधाराक्षयं
वेदेभ्यः सकलं निजं जगदिदं सम्भावयन् स्वान्वयम्॥१०॥234

I myself created the first vedic hymns in favor of Brahman. These, in turn, enhanced the strength of my knowledge I always gave endless wealth to him who was singing the vedic hymns. For this entire world is born out of the Vedas.

मधुविद्यायां इन्द्रात्मनस्तस्य विश्वरूपविभूतियोगानुदर्शनम्॥
“एतद्वै तन्मधु दध्यङ् आथर्वणः अश्विभ्यामुवाच”॥ (बृ. उ)
“ रूपं रूपं प्रतिरूपो बभूव तदस्य रूपं प्रतिचक्षणाय॥
इन्द्रो मायाभिः पुरुरूप ईयते युक्ता ह्यस्य हरयः शता दश॥
(गर्गः - ऋ. मं. ६/४७/१८)

In the Madhu vidya, the manifestation of yoga of Vishwaroopa of him whose soul is Indra, this is that Madhu, Atharvana said to the two Ashwins. Every form became another form; that is his form for Indra takes many forms by his maya and a thousand horses are yoked to his vehicle.

रूपं रूपमिदं प्रचेतनपदं व्याप्त्या प्रपद्योदितः
रूपैस्तैत्प्रतिरूप एव परमः पूर्णो बभूवादितः॥
सेन्द्रः सन् निजशक्तिभिः स्वचितिभिर्मायाभिरेवान्वितः
सैन्द्रीभिर्बहुरूप ईयत इति श्रुत्या स विश्वाश्चितः॥११॥235

The most excellent and full form, which is the exact replica of every form which it pervaded with a view to give life was born and it was Indra who followed by his own, powers manifests himself in many forms. This university of Indra has been established by the Vedas.

इन्द्रस्यैव तस्य परब्रह्मात्मवस्तुतत्त्वे औपनिषदं दर्शनम्॥
"युक्ता ह्यस्य हरयः शता दशेति अयं वै हरयः अयं वै दश च शतानि च बहूनि च अनन्तानि च, तदेतद् ब्रह्मापूर्वमनपरमनन्तरमबाह्यम्, अयमात्मा ब्रह्म सर्वानुभूरित्यनुशासनम्॥ (बृ.उ)

In the philosophy of supreme Brahman, of that Indra, the authority of the Upanishad, ten of hundreds of horses are yoked. He is the horse, he is the ten, hundred and many and endless (forms).

Therefore this Brahman is unprecedented, unexcelled and endless and internal and omnipresent. This is command. (Br.Up.)

तत्त्वं तन्मधुविद्ययोपनिषदि प्रत्यञ्चि दृग्योगतः
तत्साक्षादपरोक्षतोऽनुभवतो ब्रह्मात्मभावोदितः॥
तद् ब्रह्मैतदपूर्वमप्यनपरं पूर्णं ह्यबाह्यान्तरं
सद् ब्रह्मेत्यनुशासनं सुविहितं योगेन सर्वानुभूः॥१२॥236

That philosophy is born out of yoga of vision in the Upanishad by Madhu Vidya and is actually experienced in the not invisible state with a feeling of the supreme Brahman, which is unprecedented, not another, full, is neither external nor internal. It has been established by yoga that that is the existing Brahman, according to the experience of all.

तस्यैव ब्रह्मात्मनः इन्ध इति नामानुरूपस्य अक्षिपुरुषस्य इन्द्रसञ्ज्ञयाऽनुश्रवणम्॥
"इन्धो हवै नाम योऽयं दक्षिणेऽक्षिणि पुरुषो दृश्यते तं वा एतमिन्धं सन्तम् इन्द्र इत्याचक्षते परोक्षेण परोक्षप्रिया इवहि देवाः प्रत्यक्षद्विषः॥ (बृ. उ)

(The name Indra is given to Indra who is similar in name who is born in the eye of that Supreme Being and whose soul is Brahman.)

That Purusha who is seen in the right eye and who is called Indra is called Indra in the invisible state by the Devas, who are fond of things invisible and who hate the visible things.

इन्धो नाम हि दक्षिणेऽक्षिणि चितो यः पूरुषो दृश्यते
स्वेन्धं सन्तमिहेन्द्र इत्यभिधया तत्संविदाऽऽचक्षते॥
प्रत्यञ्चप्यपरोक्षयाऽनुविदितं साक्षात्कृतं सद्धिया
प्रत्यायन्ति परोक्षतोऽनुवचनाद् देवाः परोक्षप्रियाः॥१३॥237

That Purusha who is called as Indra and who is seen in the right eye him they call as Indra through knowledge. Gods who are fond of invisible things by the word though actually it is revealed by the not invisible intellect every day.

उपनिषदुपदिष्टस्य प्रज्ञानात्मनः परब्रह्मणः साक्षात्कृतेन सद्दर्शनेन इन्द्रसंज्ञया परोक्षेण तदनुवचनम्॥
कोऽयमात्मेति वयमुपास्महे - येन वा शब्दं श्रुणोति, येन वा रूपं पश्यति, येन वा स्वादुचास्वादु च विजानाति, येन वा गन्धानाजिघ्रति, यदेतद् हृदयं मनश्चैतत् (ऐ. उ)

The description of the invisible by the name Indra through vision and realization of that supreme Brahman whose soul is true knowledge and who is described in the Upanishads. "Who is this whom we worship as soul? By which words are heard. Form is seen, taste is known, odor is smelt which is the heart and the mind."

कोऽयं प्रत्यगुपाहितः स्फुरति सन् आत्मेत्युपास्योऽन्तरे
येनायं हि शृणोति शब्दनिचयं रूपं परं पश्यति॥
ज्ञानाति प्रति सद्रसं रसनया गन्धांश्च सञ्जिघ्रति
प्रत्यञ्चि प्रति चेततेऽन्तरहमा प्रत्येति नो मीयते॥१४॥238

Who is this that flashes out and who is worshipped as soul or atma – by which he hears the words, sees the forms and knows the tastes by the tongue, smells the odors and which flashes in the inner recesses of the heart and cannot be measured.

"यदेतद् हृदयं मनश्चैतत्। संज्ञानं विज्ञानमाज्ञानं प्रज्ञानं मेधा दृष्टिर्धृतिर्मतिर्मनीषा जूतिः स्मृतिः सङ्कल्पः क्रतुरसुः कामो वशः इति सर्वाण्येवैतानि प्रज्ञानस्य नामधेयानि भवन्ति, प्रज्ञानेत्रो लोकः प्रज्ञा प्रतिष्ठा प्रज्ञानं ब्रह्म"(इति ऐ. उ)

Because this is the heart, this is the mind. That supreme knowledge which is the good, the special and the all comprehensive knowledge – intellect, vision, courage, wisdom, intelligence, memory, discrimination, sacrifice, life desire and control. These are all the names of that supreme knowledge. The eyes of the people are his intelligence. The intellect is the prestige and the supreme knowledge is Brahman.

स्वात्मन्यन्तरितं स्वमेव हृदयं गुप्तं मनश्चेति तत्
सञ्ज्ञानादिकषोडशात्मककलापूर्णं स्वचित्त्याऽन्वनत्॥
प्रज्ञानेत्रकलं तदेतदखिलं ब्रह्मैव सिद्धं महत्
प्रज्ञानं तदिति स्वयं निजहृदा प्रत्येयमेवास्ति सत्॥१५॥239

One’s own heart is merged in one’s soul. The mind is protected. All this is supreme Brahman which is full of sixteen rays of light commencing from the good knowledge and which is led by the eye of wisdom through one’s own consciousness. He believes with confidence in his heart of hearts that this is all comprehensive knowledge.

तदेतद् ब्रह्मततममपश्यदिदमदर्शमिती३ञ्। तस्माद् इदं द्रोहवैनाम तमिदन्द्रं सन्तम्इन्द्र इत्याचक्षते परोक्षेण परोक्षप्रिया इव हि देवाः॥ (ऐ. उ)

This is that supreme Brahman which was widely spread, this was thought to be invisible. Therefore they called it first by the name Indra who is existing in the invisible state. For the Gods are fond of invisible things.

ब्रह्मैवात्र तदेतदातततमं योगादपश्यच्छ्रुतेः
ब्रह्मैवेदमदर्शमित्यनुभवाद् ब्रह्मात्मसाक्षात्कृतेः॥
तस्माद् गुप्ततरं सुगोपितमिदन्द्रोनाम सद्दर्शनाद्
योगाद् “इन्द्र” इति प्रचेतनमिदन्द्रं सन्तमाचक्षते॥१६॥240

This is the most all-pervading Brahman, which was seen through the yoga of Vedas. By the experience that I saw Brahman, there is the realization of self. Therefore, the things which have to be well protected have been preserved from vision. They call that as Indra, the giver of life to all.

अत्र ब्रह्म ततममपश्यत् इति समाधेयम्॥
इन्द्रस्य तस्य सर्वस्मादुत्तमत्वम्। ज्येष्ठत्वम्। अनुपमेयत्वम् असमानता च
नकिंरिन्द्र त्वदुत्तरो न ज्यायाँ अस्ति वृत्रहन्॥
न किंरेवा यथा त्वम्॥ (वामदेवः - ऋ. मं. ४/३०/१)

The excellence of Indra of all things – his unequalled incomparable and supreme state.

Oh! Indra! The slayer of Vritrasura. There is none who is superior to you, or higher than you. None who is exactly equal to you.

इन्द्र त्वत् पर उत्तरोऽधिकतरो ज्यायान् न कश्चिच्छ्रुतः
सर्वैश्वर्यगुणैर्न कश्चिदपरः पूर्णो यथा त्वं स्वयम्॥
विश्वस्मात् पर इन्द्र एव परमः सन् इन्द्र एवोत्तमः
सर्वं तेऽत्र वशेऽस्ति शासनकृतेरिन्द्रः स्वतन्त्रो वशी॥१७॥241

Oh! Indra, there is none who is heard to be superior to, or higher than or older to you. There is no other person equal to you in all wealth and merit or full like you. Indra is the most excellent of all things and is the best. Everything pure is under your control. Indra alone is independent and self-controlled.

सत्य एव इन्द्रः। इन्द्र एव सत्यः।
"सत्यमिद् वा उ तं वयमिन्द्रं स्तवाम नानृतम्"॥ (ऋ. ८/६२/१२)
"प्रसुस्तोमं भरत वाजयन्त इन्द्राय सत्यं यदि सत्यमस्ति"॥
(ऋ. मं. ८/१००/३)

Truth is Indra, Indra is truth.

Let us worship Indra and not falsehood. To Indra let there be prayers and truth, if there is truth.

सत्यं तं परमं समस्तजगतामिन्द्रं स्तवामामृतं
नासत्यान्वितवाङ् मनोऽसुकरणैर्नान्यद् वदामोऽनृतम् ॥
इन्द्रायैव हि संस्तुतिं प्रभरत प्राणात्मने चित्पदं
जीवन्तो यदि सत्यमस्ति जगति प्रज्ञानसत्त्वास्पदम्॥१८॥242

Truth is the most important thing in all the worlds. Let us pray to that immortal Indra. Let us not utter falsehood in thought, which is full of vitality and wisdom let us offer our prayers to Indra only, who is the soul of all life.

" इन्द्र इतिं ब्रवीतन" ॥ (ऋ. मं. ८/९२/२)
तस्मादिन्द्र इति ब्रवीतन सदा योगेन साक्षात्कृतेः
इन्द्रेणात्मनि सामरस्यसुहृदा सत्सामगानोत्कृतेः॥
दृश्यादृश्यमिदं प्रपञ्चमखिलं सद्विश्वरूपात्मनः
दिव्यं सद्गुण निर्गुणादिकलितं सर्वस्वमिन्द्रात्मनः॥१९॥243

Let us all say Indra.

Therefore always say the word Indra, by yoga for realization. By Indra, who is the friend of equality, the entire world full of good and bad both visible and invisible exists as a form of Indra, who can take all forms.

एवं तत्तदुपासनादिमुखतः सज्ञानकामक्रिया-

सत्त्वाद् योगसुधाप्रसादपरमं सत्सामरस्यास्पदं

In this manner a striving individual attains the full state of bliss by following the respective courses of worship, through philosophical and yogic thoughts, by the glory of wisdom and peace ultimately leading him to realization of yoga.

वेदोषनिषदादिषु प्राचामृषीणां बहुधा भावेन साक्षात्कारसंस्तवनम्॥

The praise of the realization by ancient seers in the Vedas and Upanishads, in variety of ways.

पूर्वस्मिन् हि युगान्तरेऽत्र बहवो ब्रह्मर्षयः संस्कृतेः

सा साक्षात्कृतिरप्यनेकविधया भावेन योगोदिता

In ancient yoga many Brahmarshis attained the most excellent state of immortality and absence of old age by realizing the supreme Brahman. That realization was described in many ways and was comprehend actually by good thoughts and yogic concentration.

The most excellent of all, and the most ancient Purusha Shreemannarayana, the Lord of Lakshmi, who has an impartial view in all places was the first who shown with realization. He within himself pleased the supreme Brahman through vedic hymns. That became famous in the world as ‘Purusha Sukta’ with philosophical import.

पुरुषसूक्ते ऋषेर्नारायणस्य परमपुरुषसाक्षात्कारोपवर्णनम्॥
“ सहस्रशीर्षा पुरुषः सहस्राक्षः सहस्रपात्॥
स भूमिं विश्वतो वृत्वाऽत्यतिष्ठद्दशाङ्गुलम्॥ (नारायणः ऋ. मं. १०/९०/१)
स भूमिं सर्वतस्पृत्वाऽत्यतिष्ठद्दशाङ्गुलम्॥ (शुक्ल यजुः सं. ३०/१)
सहस्रबाहुः पुरुषः सहस्राक्षः सहस्रपात्॥ (अथर्व सं. १९/६/१)

The description of realization by sage Narayan in Purusha Sukta.

The Adipurusha has thousand heads, a thousand eyes and a thousand feet. He enveloped the earth on all sides and went ten inches beyond. (Narayana 10/90/1).

He pervaded the earth and went beyond the ten inches (Sukla Yaj Sam. 30/1/)

The Purusha has thousand arms, thousand eyes and thousand feet.

पूर्णात्मा पुरुषः प्रचेतनतमः सन् सर्ववित् सर्वकृत्
पूर्णत्वेन सहस्रशस्ततमः सन् विश्वतः सर्वभृत्॥
शीर्षात्मैकपराच्छरीरमुखतः सन्दृग् विदासाक्षिकः
स्यात् पादप्रगति प्रचेतनकृतेर्बाहुक्रियाशक्तिकः॥२३॥247

The full souled Purusha who is best of life givers, who is omniscient, omnipotent and who pervades the world entirely a thousand fold, will manifest himself in many forms through the head, the face, the arms and the feet to enable him to carry on the transaction of the world.

अत्र सहस्रशब्दः विश्वपर्यायः अनन्ततत्वबोधकः
“ विश्वतश्चक्षुरुत विश्वतों मुखो विश्वतो बाहुरुत विश्वतस्पात्॥

“ विश्वतश्चक्षुरुत विश्वतों मुखो विश्वतों हस्त उत विश्वतस्पात्॥
संबाहुभ्यां नमति सम्पतत्रैर्द्यावापृथिवी जनयन् देव एकः॥ (तै. यजुः. सं. ४/६/२/४)

Here the thousand has to be taken to mean many, indicating endlessness.

The one God generates the sky and the earth through his two arms as he has the eyes on all sides, faces on all sides, arms on all sides and feet on all sides. (Rg. Mandala 10 – taitt.)

विश्वात्मा प्रभवेत् स पूर्णपुरुषः सिद्धः सहस्रात्मकः

चिच्छक्त्याऽपि तु विश्वबाहुरुचितो विश्वक्रियाशक्तिभूः
चिद्योगात् सकलान्वयेन विततः सन् विश्वरूपो बभौ॥२४॥248

That full Purusha who is the soul of the universe manifests himself in many ways. By the power of his vision only the sun was born; by the movement of his mind he is many footed; by the power of his consciousness he is thousand armed; in him originates the power of creative activity; and by the yoga that consciousness he exists in all forms.

“ स भूमिं विश्वतो वृत्वा,सर्वतस्पृष्ट्वा अत्यदिष्ठद्दशाङ्गुलम्”॥

He enveloped the earth and exceeded it by ten angulas.

भूमात्मा भगवान् स एव पुरुषः सन् पारमैश्वर्यतः

The most venerable Purusha whose soul is very vast, envelops his own earth, on all sides, which is extensive with its vitality of its nine limbs, stood in the full central dot more than ten inches by his own vital internal lustre.

तस्य परमपुरुषस्य सार्वभौमविभूतिविलासोपवर्णनम्
“ पुरुष एवेदं सर्वं यद्भूतं यच्च भव्यम्।
उतामृतत्वस्येशानो यदन्नेनाति रोहति॥ (ऋ. मं. १०/२०/२)
पुरुषः० यद्भूतं यच्चभव्यम्॥ (इति शु. यजुः सं)
उतामृतत्वस्येश्वरः॥ (अथर्व सं)

The description of the glory of the sovereignty of that Paramapurusha.

That Purusha, who is the Lord of immortality excels all that is past and future.

प्रज्ञानात् पुरुषः स एव परमः सन् निर्गुणः सद्गुणः
प्राज्ञः पूर्णगुणः प्रचेतनतमो विश्वैकसत्कारणः॥
प्राक् प्रत्यक्समचित्तमः स चरमस्त्रेधाऽऽत्मभावोत्तमः
प्रत्यक्षादपरोक्षतश्च परतः पूर्णः सदा सत्तमः॥२६॥250

He himself is the supreme Purusha who is at the same time visible and invisible (full of good qualities and without qualities) through special knowledge, who is full of merits, wisdom and life and who is the sole cause for the entire universe and who is even in front, at the back, at first and last and the best of the three fold thought and full on all sides both visible and not invisible.

पूर्णः सन् पुरुषोऽखिलं जगदिदं सद् वर्तमानं स्वयं
भूतं पूर्वमितश्च भाव्यमपरं तद् विश्वरूपान्वयम्॥
सेशानः परमामृतत्वपदभृत् सिद्धः परस्मात् परः
सोऽन्नेनाभ्यतिरोहितोऽत्रतनुभृज्जीवोऽन्तरात्माऽपरः॥२७॥251

That Purusha, being full, envelops this existing world that which exists in the past and which is going to be in future and mounts with food (the lowest form of the manifestation of the supreme soul) the highest pedestal of immortality.

सैषा तत्पुरुषस्य योगवितता विश्वा विभूतिः समा
त्रेधाऽभ्यूहितवस्तुतत्त्वनियता सत्सामरस्योत्तमा॥
त्रिष्वेतेषु समाऽन्विता परतमा पूर्णा तुरीयाऽन्तिमा
त्रिभ्योऽतीतचिताऽऽस्थिताऽपरिमिता साऽनन्तसत्ताऽऽदिमा॥२८॥252

This is that extensive glory of that Purusha which has been elucidated by yoga, which is harmonious, best and which is three fold in its philosophical import. The fourth is the last which is full, most excellent, which is equal and even in all the three and which excels all three and goes beyond. It is unlimited and full of endless vitality and the first.

“ एतावानस्य महिताऽतोज्यायांश्च पूरुषः॥
पादोऽस्य विश्वा भूतानि त्रिपादस्यामृतं दिवि॥ (ऋ. मं. १०/९०/३)
तावानस्य महिमा ततोज्यायांश्च पूरुषः॥
पादोऽस्य सर्वा भूतानि त्रिपादस्यामृतं दिवि॥ (साम सं.)
तावन्तो अस्य महिमानस्ततो ज्यायांश्च पूरुषः॥
पादोऽस्य विश्वाभूतानि त्रिपाद् अंसि+अमृतं दिवि॥ (अथर्व सं. १९/६/३)

This is his glory; therefore he is the best Purusha, all the living beings are at his feet. He is three footed and immortal in heaven. (Rg. Man. 10/90/3)

His glory is that; from that the eldest Purusha all beings at his feet. He is three footed and immortal in heaven. (sam.samhita) (atharvana sam.)

एतावानिह तस्य भूतिमहिमा ज्यायान् अतः पूरुषः
पादोऽस्यैव चिदात्मनो भगवतो विश्वानि भूतानि वै॥
अक्षय्यं प्रथितं त्रिपात् सदमृतं ज्योतिर्मयं दैवतं
वेद्यं तत्त्रितये पदे दिवि हितं सद्व्यापितत्त्वान्वितम्॥२९॥253

His glory is here this much and therefore the Purusha is elderly. All the living beings are the foot of the most venerable God. The immortal three feet of the Lord are without decay, famous, godly and lustre. They are known in heaven all pervasive and vital and beneficial.

अत्र गायत्र्या वाचा चतुष्पद्या सह चतुष्पात्पुरुषस्य साक्षात्कारेण दृष्टः सामरस्ययोगः उपनिषदुपदिष्टः॥
गायत्री वा इदं सर्वं भूतं यदिदं किञ्च, वागैव गायत्री, गायति त्रायते च, इत्यादि सैषा चतुष्पदा षड्विधा गायत्री, तदेतदृचाभ्यन्क्तम्। तावानस्य महिमा। त्रिपादस्यामृतं दिवि॥ इति॥ (छां. उ)

In this connection the yoga of harmony which is taught in the Upanishads and which is actually seen of the four footed Purusha by the word of Gayathri in four feet.

All this and the past is Gayathri. The word is Gayathri which sings and protects.

That Gayathri is four footed and is of six kinds. This is also corroborated by Rigvedic hymn “his glory is this and his three feet are in heaven, immortal”.

गायत्री त्रिपदाऽत्र वाग्रसवती सा षड्विधा गीयते
गायत्यात्मनि पूरुषं स्वरवती सत्त्वेन तं त्रायते॥
स्वेनात्मेन चतुष्पदी प्रतिचिता पूर्णा तुरीयात्मना
सत्त्वं पादचतुष्ट्वतत्त्वनिचितं वाक्पूरुषैकात्मना॥३०॥254

Here, the Gayathri of three feet with words full of wisdom is sung in six different ways; within herself, she sings the glory of the Purusha in proper accents and protects him by her strength. Being of four feet by her own consciousness and full by the fourth soul, her strength is supported by the four feet with the unity of speech and Purusha.

॥तत्र औपनिषदं वस्तुतत्त्वम्॥

अथ यदतः परोदिवो ज्योतिर्दीप्यते विश्वतः पृष्ठेषु अनुत्तमेषूत्तमेषु, तद्यदिदमन्तः पुरुषे ज्योतिः, तद्यथा कर्णौ पिधाय निनदमिव नदथुरिव अग्नेज्वलत इव उपशृणोति, तदेतद् दृष्टं च श्रुतं चेत्युपासीत चक्षुष्यः श्रुतो भवति॥ (छां उ)

The philosophical import of the upanishadic thought.

That celestial light which is beyond this and shines on the surface of all the worlds, on the best and in worst, which is the light inside the Purusha like the sound which is heard with ears shut and like the burning fire exists – has to be worshipped as if it is seen and heard. Then only he is a man with eyes and ears.

यद् वै तत्र दिवः परं समुदितं ज्योतिः परं दीप्यते
यच्चान्तः पुरुषेऽपि तत् प्रतिहितं सर्वान्तरे चेततो॥
तत्त्वात् तत् परमं परानुवचनाद् ब्रह्मेति सम्पद्यते
तद् दृष्टं श्रुतमित्युपास्यमुदितं योगात् तदावेद्यते॥३१॥255

That light which is born beyond heaven and shines excellently and which is placed in the Purusha and activates all things in the world, is in fact the Supreme Brahman and has to be worshipped by saying "it is seen ", "it is heard". Then only it will be comprehended by yoga.

तत्र ब्रह्ममीमांसायां विमर्शितं निर्णीतं च वस्तुतत्त्वम्॥
ज्योतिश्चरणाभिदानात्। छन्दोऽभिदानात् नेति चेत् न तथा
चेतोऽर्पणनिगदात् तथाहि दर्शनम्॥
भूतादिपादव्यपदेशोपपत्तेश्चैवम्। उपदेशभेदात् नेतिचेत् नोभयस्मिन्नप्यविरोधात्॥
(ब्र. सू. १/१)

The philosophical import which is discussed and decided in Brahma mimamsa.

The light can be called a pada or a metre. If not, no. not so by saying that the mind has been offered as it shows. This so by proving with the pada of all animate things. Because of the different types of precept if it is said 'no' then it does not exist as there is no difference between the two.

ज्योतिस्तद् दिवि वै दिवः परमिति प्रत्येकशः संश्रितं
भिन्नं स्यादुपदेशभेदपरतः साक्षात् परोक्षात् स्थितम्॥
मैवं तत् प्रतिपद्यते समदृशा तत्रोभयस्मिन्त्समं
ब्रह्मेत्येव हि युज्यतेऽनुभवतो वस्त्वेकसत्त्वोत्तमम्॥३२॥256

That light is resorted to individually as in heaven or beyond heaven; it is different because of the differences in the methods of teaching; it exists both in the visible and invisible states; it cannot be obtained by an equal outlook, as both are the same. It is proper to call it as the one supreme Brahman as the best of vital things.

॥इति अष्टमी कला सम्पूर्णा॥
Thus ends the eighth Kala.

The prayer of Indra, Purusha and Brahman composed by Maharshi Daivarata deals with the praise of vedic hymns and their deities and point out the differences between the object to be known and the full philosophy and is the nectar of yoga of realization.

“ अग्ने विश्वतः प्रत्यङ् असि त्वम्॥ (ऋ. मं)

The ninth chapter.

The vedic hymns of other great sages by the realization of supreme being in different ways.

You have entered the god’s inwards; you rose inwardly in men and you have entered the entire universe inwardly.

Oh! Agni, you are inwards on all sides

प्रस्कण्वस्तपसा ददर्श परमं प्रत्यग्दृशा सत्त्ववान्

The sage Praskanva who is full of spiritual strength saw, by interior vision, through penance, the Supreme Being who is in the interior of everything by a well-balanced vision, for realization, as if he was praising in his presence by hisownwords composed in accordance with the spirit of the hymn of the Rigveda. In every act he loudly invokes the immortal sun god who has arisen.

प्रत्यङ्ज्यौतिषदेहिनां दिविषदां सिद्धः परश्चेतनः

The Supreme Being who is the life giver is in the interior of gods who have lustrous bodies; he also exists in the men inwardly full of activity; he stands in the sky pervading internally this entire universe which is inanimate and then he ultimately harmoniously approaches in all things.

" एकः सुपर्णः स समुद्रमाविवेश
स इदं विश्वं भुवनं विचष्टे॥
तं पाकेन मनसाऽपश्यमन्तितः
तं माता रेळ्हि स उ रेळिह मातरम्॥
(एक एव सुपर्णः प्रचेतनः आत्मा) (ऋक्. मं. १०/११४/४)

"One bird entered the ocean. That moves throughout the universe. I saw it very near with a ripe or mature mind. The mother loves him and it loves mother" only the other bird activates.

एकः सन् स सुपर्ण आत्मवचनः सञ्चेतनः केवलः
सोऽनेकैकरसात् समुद्रवदिदं चित्त्याऽऽविवेशाखिलम्॥
सैवेदं भुवनं समग्रमुदितं दृष्ट्या विचष्टे स्वयं
तं पक्वेन हृदाऽन्वपश्यममृतं स्वं चान्तरात्मान्वयम्॥३॥259

Being one, that bird with his own speech giving life, entered the entire universe like the ocean from many rasas. Therefore this universe was born and says it himself by vision. I saw him who is immortal with a mature mind within himself.

तं माता हृदि वाक् पराऽऽत्मनिरतं प्राणं सुतं लेढि वै

तावन्योऽन्यमिहान्तरे स्वरसतो लीढः स्वयं योगतः
तत्साक्षात्करणात् सदा समरसात् तृप्येत् सुहृद्योगतः॥४॥260

The sacred speech who is the mother loves him who is her life breath and who is devoted to her; he too on his part shows devotional affection to her who the mother is. Both of them regard each other with mutual association and that will end in satisfaction by a harmonious union of the hearts, by realization.

द्वौ सुपर्णौ सचेतन प्रचेतनसत्त्वानौ

“ द्वा सुपर्णा सयुजा सखाया

 तयोरन्यः पिप्पलं स्वाद्वत्ति
 अनश्नन् अन्यो अभिचाकशीति॥ (दीर्घतमाः ऋक्. मं. १/१६४/२०)

Two birds with vitality full of animation and the super animation are the jeevatma and paramatma. Their qualities are one in indulging in eating and the other fasting.

Two birds which are together and are friends, embrace a common tree. One of them eats the sweet Pippala fruits and the other merely cries without eating.

चित्त्याऽऽत्मैकगुणौ प्रचेतनतमौ द्वौ तौ सुपर्णौ समौ
चित्सत्त्वात् सयुजौ समानसदनौ सक्तौ सखायाविमौ॥
एकं वृक्षमिदं शरीरमखिलं विश्वं समाप्तौ पदं
तत्त्वानां त्रितयं समान्वितमिदं सत्यैकसत्तास्पदम्॥५॥261

Similar in their powers of knowledge and full of intelligence those two birds which are equal friends and together in their intellectual vitality have occupied this tree called the body and entered place which is the entire universe with the trinity of philosophical tenets and the place of truth only.

भोक्ताऽन्यः स शरीरभाक् समुदितः सोऽन्यस्त्वभोक्ता स्वयं
द्रष्टा केवलमेव नित्यमखिलं चित्त्याऽभिचष्टेऽचलम्॥
भोग्यं विश्वमिदं तटस्थमुभयोः प्रत्यक्षवृक्षोपमं
साक्षाद् दीर्घतमाः प्रपश्यति महान् प्रज्ञानचक्षुः समम्॥६॥262

One of them was enjoying with a body while the other was fasting. The seer says by the power of his knowledge that everything is permanent and steady. The enjoyable universe is like a tree on the bank for both. The great sage Dirghatama who has a keen intellectual eye sees everything equal actually.

यः साक्षादपरोक्षतश्च परतः सिद्धः परोक्षात् सतः
तेष्वेतेष्वपि संहितः सममनुस्यूतः स पूर्णः स्वतः॥
त्रिभ्यो भिन्न इहाप्यभिन्न इव सन् आस्ते तुरीयः समः
तत्त्वैस्तैस्त्रिभिरन्वितः स्वयमयं सन् पूर्णबिन्दूत्तमः॥७॥263

He who is actually realized in the most excellent not invisible state and the existing invisible who is placed in all these and interspersed harmoniously and is by nature full, who, even though different from the three, is as though not different from them and is the well balanced fourth and who is followed by the three tattvas is the best of full bindus.

एवमेव तादृशेन योगयुक्तेन अन्तस्तपसा सत्यवस्तुतत्त्वसन्दर्शनेन
इदानीमापि साधकः तादृशीमेवानुभावपदवीं प्रतिप्रभवति॥

In this manner the sadhaka (the person who wants to attain realization) by the sight of philosophy of real things through the internal penance coupled with that kind of yoga, even now he is capable of reaching that state of glory of effulgence.

एवं दीर्घतमा इवैव तपसा सन् योगयुक्तः सदा
भावं भावमनुप्रसन्न मनसा सर्वात्महृत्संविदा॥
सेदानीमपि तादृशेन महसा भूयान् महान् स्यान्मुदा
सेन्द्राशीर्भुवि सत्यमन्त्रवचसा सत्या बभौ सर्वदा॥८॥264

In this manner a person who is always with yoga will see, through penance, like the sage Dirghatamas with a clear mind n every stage of mental excitement (the supreme being whole heartedly, even now shining with a similar glory and will be with pleasure in this world with the words of true hymns, along with the blessing of Indra.

॥त्रयः सुपूर्णाः सुचेतनात्मनः॥
॥चैतन्य ज्योतिः किरणास्ते त्रयः केशिनः॥
“ त्रयः केशिनः ऋतुथा विचक्षते

विश्वमेको अभिचष्टे शचीभिः
घ्राजिरेकस्य ददृशे न रूपम्॥ (दीर्घतमाः ऋक्. मं. १/१६४/४४)

Three birds which are full of inspiration and life. The people with the heir see the universe according to season. During the year one of them sows the seed; another sees the entire universe with his rays and the third moves without its form being seen.

व्योमान्तर्हितचेतनात्मपुरुषाः प्रत्नास्त्रयः केशिनः

दृष्ट्या प्रत्यगुदीर्णयाऽऽत्ममहसा प्रज्ञानचक्षुर्धिया
दृष्टा दीर्घतमः सुदीव्यतपसा प्राञ्चः सुपर्णास्त्रयः॥९॥265

Three hoary, hairy persons whose power is hidden in the sky who are full of resplendent, whose bodies are manifested by the rays of light of knowledge, who are like three ancient birds are seen by a vision through the shining penance of Dirghatamas which is self-luminous and by the eye of knowledge and wisdom.

दिव्यास्ते ऋतुयोगतः प्रगतितः पश्यन्ति विश्वं परे

एकोव्योम्नि शचीभिरात्मचितिभिर्विश्वं विचष्टेऽर्यमाः
एकस्यात्रगतिः प्रवाति मरुतो रूपं तु नो दृश्यते॥१०॥266

Those three celestial beings see the universe by the association with the seasons and by virtue of their extraordinary movement. One of them, namely, fire, sows the seed in the earth in the course of the year; another viz. the Sun-God shines in the sky with his powerful rays and sees the universe and the third viz. the wind blows, but its form is not seen.

॥केशिनस्ते ज्योतिरात्मनः॥
“ केश्याऽग्निं केशी विषं केशी बिभर्ति रोदसी॥
केशी विश्वं स्वर्दृशे केशीदं ज्योतिरुच्यते॥ (वातरशनाः ऋ. मं. १०/१३६/१)

Those three hairy persons are luminous.

One of them bears the fire god, another bears the earth and the sky, the third pervades the universe and that is why this kesi is called light.

केशी केवलचेतनः परतमः शेतेऽत्र के व्योमनि
स्वः स्थोऽग्निं च बिभर्ति सोऽवनिपदे सोऽपोऽन्तरिक्षात्मनि॥
स द्यावापृथिवी बिभर्ति भुवने द्रष्टुं परं युज्यते
केशीदं भुवनत्रयादपि परं चिज्ज्योतिरेवोच्यते॥११॥267

One kesi, (the hairy person) who is the best and who is the only inspirer lies down in the sky. Being in the heaven, he bears the fire god, being on the surface of the earth with the sky pervading it he bears the earth and the sky in this universe. It is but proper that I should see him. This kesi is beyond the three world and is called the “light of knowledge”.

॥अथर्ववेदेतु ते त्रयः सुपर्णाः संस्तुताः श्रूयन्ते॥
“ त्रयः पोषास्त्रिवृति श्रयन्तां
अनवत्तुपूषापयसाघृतेन॥
अन्नस्यभूमा पुरुषस्य भूमा
भूमापशूनां त इहश्रयन्ताम् (अथर्व सं. ५/२८/३)

It is found that these three birds are praised in the atharva veda.

May the three guardians take shelter under the three coverings may the sun god anoint with ghee and milk. Let them take shelter under the wealth of food, man and wealth of cattle.

पूषाणास्त्रिवृतिश्रितास्त्रिभुवनॆ पॊषाः श्रयन्तां त्रयः

भूमाऽन्नस्य च पॊषणाय जगतां भूमा पशूनां श्रिया

May the three guardians taking shelter under the three coverings protect the universe. This sun, by his penance or light anoint with water, food and fire, so that all the worlds may be nourished by food and the animals may be full of glory. Those living beings will then be able to take shelter under the glory of this Purusha.

“ त्रयः सुपर्णास्त्रिवृता यदायन् एकाक्षरमभिसंभूय शक्राः
प्रत्यौहन् मृत्युममृतॆन साकमन्तर्दधाना दुरितानि विश्वा॥ (अथर्व. सं. ५/२८/८)

The three birds with good wings and three surroundings and called Indras have enveloped that single imperishable thing and have removed the fear of death with nectar after destroying all the sins. (atharva sam. 5/28/8).

चिद्यॊगात् त्रिवृताः सुदिव्यपुरुषाः सिद्धाः सुपर्णास्त्रयः

The three celestial beings, with three coverings, who have achieved their desires by the yoga of consciousness have enveloped one imperishable truth, have removed the fear of death by nectar and have themselves destroyed all the sins.

“ त्रयः सुपर्णा उपरस्य मायू नाकस्य पृष्ठे अधिविष्टोऽपि श्रिताः ।
सर्गालोका अमृतेन विष्टा इषमूर्जं यजमानाय दुह्राम् ॥ (अथर्व.सं.१ ९/४/४)

The three birds occupy the space on the surface of heaven above the universe. The heavens full of nectar give to the performer of the sacrifice all prosperity and desires. (Atharva Sam. 18/4/4)

ऊर्ध्वास्ते परविष्टपिस्वसदने नाकस्य पृष्ठे श्रिताः

स्वर्गास्तेऽप्यमृतेन दिव्यमहसा विष्टाश्च लोकाः समाः

Those three gods, who are known in the three worlds as birds occupy the space on the surface of heaven above the universe. All those heavenly worlds full of nectar always give happiness and prosperity to all.

“ त्रयः सुपर्णाः परियन्तिकेशिनः त्रीणिरजांस्यधितिष्ठन्ति नित्यम्॥
तिसृभिः प्रचेतयन्ति विश्वं वाग्भिः त्रिभिस्ते वरेण्याः करणैश्छन्दोभिः॥

These three birds with hair come and always occupy three worlds; they animate the universe with the three metres which are the instruments.

The three celestial birds with lustrous hairs and self-illuminant rays come to these three worlds by the yoga of their conscience. By three words full of intelligence, they animate the universe and by vedic hymns they enlighten the people.

The word with three sounds which is capable of many interpretations, is prescribed in the sastras is praised in the endless vocabulary of things and is capable of presenting in the glorious meaning or purpose. They could all be comprehended as endless and equal in the philosophical by the art of self-revelation.

Really there is only one Supreme Being. By name and form it exists countless shapes and thoughts.

The sages imagine the one existing supreme Brahman in many words and imagine various names and forms. They recite the vedic hymns in sacrifices in order to understand the yoga of the heart and by their heart they measure the twelve houses of the moon.

एकं सन्तममुं सुपर्णममृतं विप्राः परे वेदिनः

The upanishadic philosophy of three suparnas.

The three suparnas should be given to a Brahmin without his asking for them; they will remove the sin of Brahmahatya. Those Brahmins who read the hymns of the three suparnas they will purify more than a thousand lines and they will get soma or moon.

वेदे तत् त्रिसुपर्णतत्त्वमुदितं पूर्णं परस्यात्मनः

सद्योगात् तदुपासनाच्च पठनाद् ब्रह्मादि हत्यादितः
सद्यः स प्रति मुच्यतेऽत्र दुरिताद् अज्ञानमोहादितः॥१८॥274

The philosophy of the suparnas has been completely described in the Vedas; this should be taught or given away to Brahmin without asking for it. By meditating on it, or by reading a person will at once be freed from the sin arising out of a Brahmin's murder or by ignorance or illusion.

भूत पूर्वस्य राजर्षेः गायत्रीमन्त्रयोगेन तपसा आविर्भूतस्वरूपस्य
ब्रह्मर्षेः विश्वामित्रस्य आत्मसाक्षात्कारेण सिद्धं ऋङ्मन्त्रदर्शनम्॥

By the penance or yoga of the Gayathri hymn, the philosophy of the Rig vedic hymn as revealed by self-realization to the great Brahmarshi Vishwamitra.

राजर्षिः परतेजसेन्द्रसहसा जातः सुतो गाथिनः
राजन्यः स्वसुवीर्यसत्त्वमहसा सम्राट् समर्थोऽर्थिनः॥
ब्रह्मर्षिः स बभूव दिव्यतपसा ब्रह्मात्मसाक्षात्कृतेः
विश्वामित्रमुनिर्ददर्श परमं मन्त्रं स्वभूत्त्योत्कृतेः॥१९॥275

The great royal sage Vishwamitra, the son of Gadhi, who was a kind and capable Kshatriya, became a Brahmarshi by his wonderful penance and saw the vision of excellent Gayathri mantra by his own experience for the purpose of Brahmasakshatkara.

तन्मन्त्रदर्शनम्।आत्मसाक्षात्कारानुदर्शनम्॥
" अग्निरस्मि जन्मना जातवेदाः घृतं मे चक्षुरमृतं म आसन्॥

(विश्वामित्रः ऋक्. मं. ३/२७/७-९)
अग्निरस्मि० आसन्॥
त्रिधातुरर्कोरजसोविमानः अजस्रं ज्योतिर्हविरस्मि सर्वम्॥ (साम. स्वं)

The vision of that mantra and the analysis of self-realization.

I am fire known by birth as Jataveda and ghee and nectar are my eyes. I am the sun god who manifests himself in three forms – I am always that heat of summer and I am all offerings – the Havis. (Vishwamitra Rg. Mantra 3/27/7)

प्राज्ञः सन् अहमग्निरस्मि तपसा सञ्ज्ञातवेदाः स्वयं

तेजो मे घृतमेव तद्घृणिमहश्चक्षुर्जगच्चाक्षुषं
सोजस्वीन्द्र स सोमसत्त्वममृतं दिव्यं ममास्येऽर्चिषम्॥२०॥276

I am fire the wise and by penance born out of myself I am born out of glory which is in the form of Parabrahman. My genealogy is by that birth. My lustre is ghee only and the pencils of the rays are my eyes. The lustre of the sun, the glory of Indra and the moon and the flame in my mouth is the celestial nectar.

I am internally the sun god with three feet and the vitality of the three worlds and I despite the dense darkness always by the heat and by the inherent light I am lustrous. I am everything and the offering of the havis is this entire universe which is fit for enjoyment. The light that emanates is the nectar.

“ त्रिभिः पवित्रैरपुपोध्यर्कं
हृदा मतिं ज्योतिरनु प्रजानन्॥
वर्षिष्ठं तत्नमकृत स्वधाभिः

After having seen the sun god by the then sacred lights through the heart and having known that light by the heart, he realized the everlasting being by vedic hymns and saw the oneness of the earth and heaven.

ज्योतिर्भिस्त्रिभिराससाद हृदयादर्कं पवित्रैः सदा

I reached the sun god through my heart by the three sacred lights; I understood that excellent light within myself with pleasure. I then realized that beautiful and eternal being by vedic hymns and the heaven and the earth as one.

“ शतधारमुत्समक्षीयमाणं
विप्रश्चितं पितरं वक्त्वानाम्॥
मेळिं मदन्तं पित्रोरुपस्थे

The father of words who is an expert, who never decays and who manifests hundred fold is realized by yoga. This word which is called ‘Meli’ will please the parents and fills the heaven and earth with truth.

सानन्तं शतधारमान्तरचिते रक्षीयमाणं सदा

“मेळि” वाचमिमां मदन्तमखिलां पित्रोरुपस्थे हृदा

The father of words, intellects and knowledge who is an expert, is eternal, endless and never decays and manifests in hundreds of ways is realized by yoga. This word which is called ‘Meli’ please the parents and fills the heaven and earth by vital powers.

स्वात्मानं ह्यपरोक्षमान्तरतमं साक्षात्कृतं संविदा

This prayer adores him, who is one’s own self in the not invisible state, who is in the innermost recess of heat and who is realized by knowledge, as if he is invisible. All people with the priests said with confidence that it is an equal prayer; whereas the wise thought that it is a vedic hymn to measure the intellect.

The hymn of the samaveda which arose as a result of the experience of joy of those realized souls.

This is the hymn which is sung as follows: - Ha; Vu; Ha; Vu; Ha; Vu.

I am food; I am the eater of the food, I am the composer of shlokas. I am the first born of Rita. I am the marvel of nectar before the gods were born. He who gives protects me. I am food and eat him who eats food I envelop the entire universe and the celestial lights.

From the blessed heart and good mind of those who have realized, the real experience of equality and harmony actually flowed in the form of words. To those who listen by yoga the beauty of the samavedic hymns is an example on hand. Let those who make other listen to those hymns always rest with pleasure in the witness itself.

I am truth, the first born of Rita (cosmic order) in heaven even before the gods were born. The sun the source of light is the son of Aditi. I am the marvel of nectar and fearless and the central place of all feelings and thoughts. He who gives this aspect of truth protects me.

I am food; I eat him who eats food.

I am the enjoyer here of food which is fit to be eaten and which gives the juice of self-knowledge. I have achieved success and always live to eat him who eats food. I am the enjoyer among those who are good enjoyers and who make the jeeva and the self as one and have attained the state of identity between the enjoyer and non-enjoyer.

“ सुसुन्दृशं त्वा वयं प्रतिं पश्येम सूर्य।
विपंश्येम नृचक्षसः॥ (चक्षुः सौर्यः - ऋक्. मं. १०/१५८/५)

By the three fold form of the vision, the object to be seen and the seer of self-realization can be attained by treating them all equally.

Oh! Sun god, we look upon you who possesses a bright vision as we cannot see them with human eyes.

The Sun God is the eye of the world.

सूर्यात्मा स सुसन्दृगेव परगः सञ्चेतनः केवलः
सूर्ये सोऽन्तरितः परोक्षचरमो द्रष्टा स्वयं निष्कलः॥
सूर्योऽसौ दिवि दृश्यते बहिरिह प्राचीतु दृक्चान्तरा

The sun is the soul and most excellent vision who animates the life on the earth. In the sun god, that invisible Sun, he without luster emerges. This sun is seen in the heaven in the east. Being illuminated by that vision the inner eye of the seer opens out.

दृग्-दृश्य-द्रष्टृपरं त्रिपुटी तत्त्वम्॥

The philosophy of the trinity namely vision-object (to be seen) and the seer.

The inner vision is known, the seer is that Supreme Being and the objective to be seen is that resplendence. From the face of this entire trinity the sight of that great thing which is par excellence takes place. In the sky the sun born out of life is seen by a vision which is replaced inside and trained in seeing.

यः पृथिव्या तिष्ठन् पृथिवीमन्तरो यमयति, यं पृथिवी न वेद यस्य पृथिवी शरीरम्, एष ते आत्मा अन्तर्याम्यमृतः, इत्यधिभूतम्, यः आदित्ये तिष्ठन् आदित्यमन्तरो यमयति इत्यादि इत्यधिदैवतम्, यः वाचि तिष्ठन् वाचमन्तरो यमयति इत्यादि इत्यध्यात्मम्॥ (बृ. उ)

One who moves inside.

He who is in the earth and different from it controls it. But who the earth does not comprehend; the earth is the body. This is the soul which is immortal and moves inside. This is the philosophy of material beings. He who is in the sun god and different from it controls it etc. is the philosophy relating to the deities. He who is in the word and different from it controls it etc. is the philosophy relating to the self.

He who is in all material things starting from the earth; he who is in all gods commencing with Sun god born out of Aditi; he who is in all speech and senses like the mind and intellect; he is the supreme being who is true and immortal and moves in the interior of all things.

He, who, existing in all things controls them by his internal animating power; whose body is all this, and whom all do not know, who is the life giver of all and who is himself the controller of all; he is the supreme omnipotent and omniscient Lord of all.

The philosophy of the spiritual.

The full supreme Brahman in all spiritual things controls and rules all things in all the worlds of gods, men and animals independently as he is certainly the moving interior force.

Thus ends the ninth chapter.

प्रत्यगात्मसत्त्वतः समस्तवस्तुषूर्जितॊ

The nectar of yoga of realization sung by Brahmarshi Daivarata, is full of the vitality of the supreme being which exists in gods, men and animals and animates them by moving internally.

The tenth chapter.

The yoga vidya of the vitality of the awakened forces.

The spotless yogavidya of self-awakening can be understood by symbols and characteristics by those who are stupid of self-knowledge, and has to be described for awakening.

सञ्जागृयात् सन्ततमात्मबॊधतः
संज्ञायतां वस्तु परं प्रबॊधतः॥
संसाद्यतां स्वॆ हृदयॆ प्रसादतः
सम्पद्यतामात्मपदं प्रमाणतः॥२॥290

One should awake always by self-knowledge; the Supreme Being can be recognized only by superior knowledge. In one’s own heart let it be obtained by clarity of thought; let the self-realization be earned by proof.

॥अस्मिन् अर्थे ऋङ्मन्त्रवर्णोपदेशः॥
“ यो॑ जा॒गा॒र॒तमृच॑: कामयन्ते॒

यो जागा॒र॒तम॒यं सोम॑ आह॒
तवा॒हम॑स्मि स॒ख्ये न्यो॑काः॥ (काश्यपः अवत्सारः ऋक्. मं. ५/४४/१४)

In this context the instruction of Rig vedic hymn

The rigvedic hymns desire him who is awake; the samavedic hymns approach him who is awake; to him who is awake soma says. I am yours and remain in your friends. (kashyapa avatsara man. 5/44/14)

जागर्ति यो॑ नित्यमतन्द्रितो मुदा
जानन् वरीवर्ति नियन्त्रितो हृदा॥
ज्ञप्तेर्धियां जागरणात् स्वसंविदा
ज्ञाताऽऽत्मसाक्षात्कृतिमेति सर्वदा॥३॥291

He, who is always alert with pleasure and exists controlled by his heart, obtains at all times self-realization by his own knowledge.

वाञ्छन्त्यृचस्तं हृदि जागृवांसं
सामानि यान्त्यात्मनि तास्थिवांसम्॥
वेदाः स्फुरन्त्यन्तरनुस्फुरन्तं
देवाः स्मरन्ति प्रति सस्मरन्तम्॥४॥292

Rigvedic hymns describe him who is awake in his heart and similarly the samvedic hymns go to him who is self-controlled. The Vedas flash to him who experiences inner flashes and gods remember him who remembers them.

सौम्यौ मनस्वान् हृदि सौमनस्यः
सञ्जागृवांसं प्रति सोम आह॥
नित्यं तवाहं स्वयमस्मि सख्ये
निजे हृदय्ये परधाम्नि मुख्ये॥५॥293

Soma, the peaceful and self-controlled told the awakened person: 'I am always yours voluntarily in a heart to heart friendship, in as far as the Supreme Being is concerned.'

देवतात्मा अग्निः सदा जागरणशीलः॥
" अ॒ग्निर्जा॑गर॒तमृच॑: कामयन्ते

अ॒ग्निर्जा॑गार॒तम॒यं सोम॑ आह
तवा॒हम॑स्मि स॒ख्ये न्यो॑काः॥ (ऋक्. मं. ५/४४/१५)

The godly fire is always awake.

The Rigvedic hymns desire agni who is awake and the samvedic hymns also go to him who is awake. This soma told agni who is awake as follows: - "I am yours in friendship". (Rig mantra 5/44/35)

सोऽग्निर्जगारान्तरितश्चिदात्मा
तं कामयन्तेऽत्र ऋचश्च वाचः॥
सौम्यानि सामान्यनुयन्ति मुख्ये
सोमः समास्ते हृदि तस्य सख्ये॥६॥294

That agni whose soul is knowledge, who is awake. The vedic words desire him. The peaceful songs of samaveda approach him and soma is in his friendship in the heart.

सोऽग्निः सर्वज्ञः जातवेदाः॥
“ जागर्षि त्वं भुवने जातवेदो
जागर्षि यत्र यजते हविष्मान्॥
इदं हविः श्रद्दधानो जुहोमि

That agni is omniscient and knows all things born.

Oh! Fire god you are awake in this world and you are there where sacrifices are performed. I offer this offering full of devotion and faith. By that you protect all the secrets of the word.

जागर्षि स त्वं भुवि जातवेदाः।
वैश्वानरोऽग्निः स च विश्ववेदाः॥
यत्र प्रजानन् यजते हविष्मान्

Oh! Fire god you, who know everything that is born are alert in this world. You are everything and know everything, where sacrifices are performed and offerings are made through the priests of Rigveda.

तं श्रद्दधानो हविराजुहोमि
यज्ञात्मने तन्मनसाऽर्पयामि॥
तेनेहसोऽस्मान् प्रति बोधय त्वं

Full of faith, I make the offering to him who is the soul of sacrifice, with all my heart. By this you awaken us and protect the secret of the speech.

॥जागृति योगादेव सर्वयज्ञसिद्धिः॥
" सञ्जागृवद्भिर्जरमाण इध्यसे

विश्वस्य होता हविषो वरेण्यो
विभुर्विभावा सुषखा सखीयते॥ (अरुणो वैत हव्यः। ऋक्. मं. १०/९१/१)

By the yoga of this awakening – all sacrifices succeed.

You are worshipped by those who are awake until they become old – granting all the desires in this world. You are the priest of the universe and the best of offering. You are the Lord and a good friend whose friendship is desired by all.

सञ्जागृवद्भिर्हृदिसोऽग्निरिज्यते
संज्ञानवाग्भिः स्तुतिभिः समिध्यते॥
गेहेऽन्तरङ्गे रहसि प्रबुध्यते

That fire god is worshipped in the heart by those who are all awake with prayers full of words with sense. He is awakened in the house and in the heart in secret. By one's own knowledge he prospers in awakening.

भूमौ स्वगेहेऽधिपतिर्निजास्पदे
भूमेः परे वेदिपदे " त्विळस्पदे"॥
समिध्यतेऽग्निः स्विषयन्त्समास्पदे
समिज्यतेऽन्तर्बहिरात्मचित्पदे॥१०॥298

The fire God is kindled on earth, in one's own house and in the sacrificial ground above the earth – he grants all desires and is adored both in and out of one's own knowledge.

“इळा”ऽधराभूरुदिताऽऽत्मवाक् परा
तस्याः पदे स्वाऽऽत्मनि सा चितिस्वरा॥
वाचः पदे सोऽग्निरयं महःस्वरः

The earth is called ‘Illa’ and is the most excellent self-speech. In that place in one’s own self is the voice of knowledge. In the place of this word this fire god with a great voice exists. By the word he comes with great glory and prosperity.

स नो वसूनि स्वयमाभर त्वं
सत्यानि वस्तूनि समास्वर स्वम्॥
वैश्वानरश्चित्स्वरणे समिष्टः

Therefore may that fire god be worshipped from the heart for the purpose of awakening be united with self-knowledge. By this union of these two awakened souls, equality is obtained.

सत्यात्मचित्सामरसैकसन्मयम्॥
स्वान्तः स्वयं जागृति तं सहोभयं

The harmonious friendship between the worshipper and the worshipped and the harmony of the union of truth and self-knowledge – both attain realization by virtue of their own internal awakening.

प्रभुः प्रभावान्त्स सखा सखीयतां
विभुर्विभावान्त्ससुखः सखीयते॥
सखित्वसत्त्वात् समताऽसमीप्स्यते

May that friend full of lustre who is the Lord be desire for friendship. The Lord full of glory is desired for friendship with happiness. Equality is desired by the vitality of friendship and by the yoga of equality, immortality is desired.

In the same manner the sages of antiquity spread good education among people to wake them up.

Formerly in ancient times the wise sages spread the spotless vedic knowledge among people who were ignorant and intoxicate with a view to benefit humanity.

A similar upanishadic reference.

Arise, awake and understand after meeting the best of me. The blade is sharp and difficult to cross, the path is hard. So says the sages. (Kathopanishad)

The yogavidya, in this world, is sharp like a blade and hard of comprehension; it is inaccessible to the wicked.

The eleventh chapter.

The faultless yoga vidya.

The illustration of the Upanishads.

When five types of knowledge along with the mind are firm and intellect or buddhi does not move, that state is called the highest.

That they consider as yoga when the control of the senses is firm. The individual is then alert and yoga is for both its furthermost and hindrance. (Kathopanishad)

यदाऽत्र पञ्चापि च धीन्द्रियाणि
ज्ञानानि चान्तः करणान्तराणि॥
तिष्ठन्ति चान्तर्मनसाऽन्वितानि
स्वात्मन्युपाप्तानि समानि तानि॥१॥321

When the five intellectual sense and the types of knowledge remain under control with the mind, then all of them will be equal in one’s own self.

बुद्धिः परा बोधचिताऽऽत्मनाऽन्विता
न चेष्टते नाऽपि पराग्दृशाऽऽतता॥
तामाहुरग्र्यां परमां निजां गतिं
स्वात्मन्युपाप्तां चरमां स्वसंस्थितिम्॥२॥322

The excellent intellect is accompanied by self-knowledge. It neither moves nor spreads by extra ordinary vision. They call that as the highest and the foremost state which is got within one’s own self.

तां योगमित्येव हि योगतत्त्वतो
मन्यन्त आत्मन्युपशुद्धसत्त्वतः॥
स्वात्मान्वितामिन्द्रियधारणां स्थिरां
संज्ञानसञ्चेतनसत्त्वचित्पराम्॥३॥323

They think that, that state is that yoga by principles of yoga and by virtue of its inherent purity. That is the state in which all the senses are firm and well controlled and in which there is good knowledge and vitality which enlivens also exists in excellent manner.

तद्ब्रह्मसंस्पर्शचितोऽप्रमादाद्

Because of its faultless nature, it touches the knowledge of supreme Brahman by the favour of Brahma who is inside. By the yoga which has arisen by a good measure of harmony, realization with result by experience.

योगोऽत्र सोऽपि प्रभवाप्ययाप्तः
यः स्वात्मवृत्तेरुदयास्तयुक्तः॥
यः स्वप्नसञ्जागृतिचित्सुवृत्तः
स्यान्मध्यसन्ध्याऽन्तरिताऽऽत्मनाप्तः॥५॥325

Here yoga is obtained both by its furtherance and hindrance which consists of rising and setting of one’s own inclination, which is full of the knowledge of sleep and wakefulness, which is in between two min-sandhyas.

अत्र प्रभवाप्यययोः सृष्टिसंहृतिरूपयोः अन्तरात्मनि धीन्द्रियाणां प्रवृत्तिनिवृत्तिरूपा उदयास्तमयसंज्ञा साङ्केतिकी॥
इन्द्रियाणां पृथग्भावमुदयास्तमयौ च यत्
पृथगुत्पद्यमानानां मत्वा धीरो न शोचति॥ (कठो.)

Here the indication of rise and fall of furtherance and hindrance in the form of creation and destruction and in the form of attachment and detachment of the buddhindriyas in one’s own inner self is symbolic.

Taking into consideration the condition of the senses which are produced one after the other separately and there rising and setting separately the wise man does not feel sorry. (Kathopanishad)

तद्धीन्द्रियाणामुदयास्तभावं
उत्पद्यमानार्थपृथक्ततानाम्॥
स्वान्तः प्रवृत्तीष्टनिवृत्तियुक्तं

Therefore the rising and setting of the senses of the intellect which are produced separately and which is full of attachment and detachment can be only known by yoga or concentration.

तत्र अन्तिमं प्रधानं साधनम्॥

By which, he who sees in the interior of his heart the soul which has reached the end of sleep and wakefulness by the yoga or concentration of his intellect and thinking that the soul is great he does not feel sorry.

योगः स सृष्टिप्रलयस्थितीनां
यज्ञो भवेत् सर्वहुदाहुतीनाम्॥
तत्त्वत्रयाणां परसामरस्यात्

That yoga is the sacrifice of creation, destruction and preservation and of all offerings. By the harmony of three tattvas it will be known as only superior to one's own self-knowledge.

The scholar will be able to perform that self-sacrifice free from all faults. In the sacrifice that will be philosophical with the Lord as the symbol, even in yoga the philosophy will be sacrificial.

Even then, there should not be any fault or error from what is beneficial necessarily. Therefore one should always be alert or awake to be accessible to success for by one's own alertness there will be clarity of thought.

॥अप्रमाद एव देवताधर्मः॥
इच्छन्ति देवाः सुन्वन्तं न स्वप्नाय स्पृहयन्ति॥
यन्ति प्रमादमतन्द्राः॥ (ऋक्. मं. ८/२/१८)

Alertness or wakefulness is the characteristics of gods.

Gods desire him who offer the soma juice. They never desire for sleep. Only those who are alert overcome errors. (Rg. Man)

इच्छन्ति देवाः परसद्व्रतस्थं

The gods like him who is under a vow of observance and soma juice here, who is engrossed in the performance of sacrifice based on truth and virtue and whose mind is full of thoughts or self-knowledge.

अस्वप्नजास्ते परदिव्यसत्त्वाः॥
नेच्छन्त्यसत्यं स्वयमेव सत्याः

The gods do not take sleep for they are born out of sleeplessness and are full of excellent celestial power. They are themselves true and therefore do not like untruth. They do not at all approach either a sleeping person or an untruth.

सत्येन ते जाग्रति सन्त्यतन्द्राः
सन्तः प्रमादं न तु यन्ति तन्द्राम्॥
सत्यव्रतान् ये त्वनुयन्ति सक्ताः

Error is the outcome of ignorance or tamoguna. That is the result of being not alert and not good. Faultlessness result out of the great vitality of wisdom. From wakefulness there is self-satisfaction.

Error is death which causes fear.

Faultlessness only is the cause of fearlessness and immortality.

Error only is death here. It rises in man every second. From that and from the fear of death a man here falls in the misery of faults.

The twelfth chapter.

Real remembrance.

Condition of forgetfulness.

There is nothing like certainty and not even tomorrow. Who knows that which is wonderful. The mind of another is unsteady; whatever well studied perishes. (Rg. Man. 1.)

न नूनमस्तीह, सदित्यनिश्चितं
नानाततं विश्वमिदं दुरूहितम्॥
कःश्वस्तनं विश्वसितीह शाश्वतं

There is nothing which is certain. It is uncertain whether a thing exists. This universe has spread in various ways beyond our guess work. Who will believe what is going to happen tomorrow as permanent? Who knows the truth about all these wonderful things?

नान्यस्य चित्तं प्रतिगम्यते क्षणं

The mind is extremely unsteady and falls every second full of errors. It is not possible to go to another's mind. Even that which has been well studied is lost in seconds.

अन्यस्य चित्तं दुरितं दुराहितं
नैवोहितुः शक्यमिहास्ति नो हितम्॥
स्वान्तः सदा निश्चितमप्यशाश्वतं

It is not possible to guess what is in another's mind; whether there is any benefit. The heart, though decided is always temporary. By independence the minutest has been explained.

संसादितं स्तेनमिवैव नश्यति
स्वायत्तमप्यन्तरितं न तिष्ठति॥
सम्भावितं वायुमिवैव धावति

That which is got perishes like a stolen property. That which is within oneself does not stand because it is covered. That which is respected runs like the wind. That which is earned is not for one's own benefit.

The mind commits sins every second. It rises from the interior of the heart in the very presence. It opposes, does not wake up and does not attain peace, nor will it approach.

By vital and good food the soul and the mind are purified vitally.

“If the food is pure, the strength will be pure. If that is pure the remembrance will be sure. With that all knots will be broken. (Chand. Upan.)

आहारशुद्धौ हृदि सत्त्वशुद्धिः

The authority of the Upanishads in this context.

There is a vessel with a hole at the bottom and with the foot turned upwards in which fame with many forms is placed. The seven sages sat on its bank and the eighth was speech placed by Brahmin of knowledge.

The explanation given in the Brahmana of the Upanishad is as follows.

The seven sages sat on its bank. The sages may be the vital airs. The eighth was speech placed by Brahman for knowledge means the speech was created by the creator for the purpose of understanding. (Brihadaranyaka)

सप्तर्षयस्ते निहिताः शरीरे

इति द्वादशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

That speech which is famous here as of a swan bearing the name Gayathri, the best of hymns. Let her be seen by the yoga of vitality of wakefulness. Then it will be true and everlasting recollection.

Thus ends the twelfth chapter.

अन्नशुद्धितोऽखिलस्यधीन्द्रियस्य शोधनात्

The thirteenth chapter.

The sajathya yoga for success in making a person eligible for sakshatkara.

In a sacrifice, in the practice of yoga and at the commence of a worship, the homogeneousness of the worshipper and the worshipped is absolutely necessary.

In this context, the authority of the Rigvedic hymn as sung by Manu.

Oh! Destroyer of the foes, there is homogeneousness among you; oh! Gods there is something which has to be obtained. You told our ancestors that every time a fresh effort should be made.

साक्षात्कृतेर्योगकृतेः सुसाधने
स्वात्मन्यभिध्यानधृतेरबाधने॥
साजात्यमेव प्रथमं हि कारणं
वैजात्य-वैमत्यपदं त्वकारणम्॥१॥385

The first reason for the practice of yoga for realization and for a peaceful meditation within, without any disturbance is the homogeneousness. Heterogeneity or thinking in wrong lines is not at all the reason.

उपास्यकोपासकयोः समस्तयोः
सम्प्राप्ययोर्देवमनुष्ययोस्तयोः॥
संसेव्य तत्सेवकयोरुपात्तयोः

It is proper that the homogeneity exists between all types of worshipped and the worshipper, of gods and men, of the master and servant who have associated themselves with each other.

परापराद्यं च परं प्रसादकम्॥
भक्तिः सखित्वं प्रियभावनादिकं

In the various means of yoga, mutual devotion, friendship, regard and affection are essential for a proper and successful realization of the highest goal namely supreme bliss.

It is possible to see the sun god who is full of lustre and light only by one's own eye which has a similar form. This is the yoga of the object to be seen and the vision.

शब्दं परं व्योमगुणं प्रशासितम्॥
श्रोतुं हि शक्यं सह भावनाहितं

It is a well-known fact that the ear, which has the characteristics of the quarters and the sky, is responsible for the sound which emanates there. It is the experience of all that hearing is possible only if there is a mutual understanding and cooperation.

॥वेदवेदितं तात्त्विकं दृष्टान्तान्तरम्॥

भूमिं पर्जन्या जिन्वन्ति दिवं जिन्वन्त्यग्नयः॥ (दीर्घतमाः ऋक्. मं. १/१६४/५१)

Another illustration based on vedic philosophy.

It is a common phenomenon that water goes up and comes down by light. Waters sprinkle on the earth fires sprinkle on heaven. (Dirghatama. Rg. Man. 1/164/51)

यथाऽम्बरस्थं जलमात्मतेजसा
सूर्योऽवनौ वर्षयति स्वमोजसा॥
तथाऽवनिस्थं जलमूर्ध्वतेजसा
सोऽग्निः प्रति प्रेषयति स्वरौकसम्॥६॥390

Just as the sun god showers the heavenly water on the earth by his resplendence, so also heavenly abode by his upward radiance.

सूर्यो दिविस्थो भुवि संस्थितं जलं
सोर्ध्वं समाकर्षयति स्वमुज्ज्वलम्॥
सोऽग्निर्दिविस्थं जलमूर्ध्वरश्मिभिः

Sun stationed in heaven attracts water on the earth upwards; similarly fire draws the water in heaven by upward pencils of rays.

स्वतेजसाऽसौ दिवि सम्प्रकाशते
तस्मादिहाग्निर्भुवि सम्प्रजायते॥
भूयोऽपि सोऽस्मिन्ननले प्रलीयते
सोऽग्निश्च सूर्ये पुनरन्तरीयते॥८॥392

This sun god shines in heaven by his inherent radiance; from him fire is born here on the earth. Again he emerges in the fire and that fire goes in the sun again.

तद्वत् परेशात् पुरुषात् प्रजाताः
जीवाः समस्ता भुवि चेतनाप्ताः॥
परस्परं ते पुनरायतन्ते
योक्तुं तथा योजयितुं निजान्ते॥९॥393

In the same manner all living beings are born in this earth by the Supreme Being and are animated. They again try to unite mutually and also cause to unite.

क्षुधा पिपासोपशमादिकामौ
स्वात्मीयवात्सल्यगुणानुकामौ॥
तौ मातृपुत्रौ करणत्रयेण

The mother and son, for instance, full of desire, hunger and thirst, mutual affection, are one at heart in thought, word and deed.

तौ कामुकौ स्त्रीपुरुषौ यतेते
सङ्गन्तुमन्योऽन्यमिहान्तरस्थौ॥
योक्तुं हृदा सङ्गमनेन योगाद्
भोक्तुं सुखं योजयितुं चिता स्वम्॥११॥395

In the same manner a man and woman in love will try to unite with each other by heart through yoga so that they derive pleasure and attain unity in thought.

जीवाः समस्ताः परमात्मनोंऽशाः
जीवन्ति सत्त्वेन परेशवंशाः॥
सङ्गन्तुमन्योऽन्यकृतेरुभौ तौ
साजात्ययोगेन सदा यतेते॥१२॥396

All living beings here are the part of supreme Lord and they live by his power. Both of them always try to unite with each other by the yoga of homogeneousness.

सा प्रक्रियाऽत्र स्वयमेव सान्वयं
निसर्गतः सम्प्रचलत्यनत्ययम्॥
संयुज्यतेऽन्ते तु मिथस्तथोभयं

Such a reaction goes here voluntarily by nature continuously without obstacles. In the end both of them unite by the yogic power for the attainment of immortality.

नैसर्गिकः स्यात् प्रलये स योगः
यदा कदाचित् सरसोपयोगः॥
धीयोगतस्तत्परसंविदाद्यैः

That yoga is natural in destruction; used on rare occasions it is full of pleasant utility. By the yoga of intellect and knowledge pertaining to that, everything is possible of attainment and termination.

तत्रापि यत्नात् पुरुषार्थयोगतः
संवित्क्रियाभावनहृत्प्रयोगतः॥
मर्त्योऽप्यमार्त्यो भविताऽत्र शाश्वतः

Even there by an effort of yoga of the four aims in life and by the experiment of knowledge, action and thought, a mortal will become permanently immortal and automatically attains the truth and immortality.

Desiring from his soul, god realization, he will become exactly similar to it in homogeneity. He should first try by the yoga of homogeneousness and he is bound to be unprecedented by fit and vital.

The yoga of effort.

Let us be in the good books of fire god as he is the glory of all worlds and also the king. He, being born from here pervades the entire universe along with the sun god.

वैश्वानरस्यानुगतिं भजामो

He is born from the earth through the sky and sees this entire universe by his lustre. This fire god is the witness in the interior of the heart. He is the soul of the conscience, he is immortal and eye of the men.

This fire god makes an effort with the sun god by his heart to attain heaven. He tries to unite his soul independently with his father the sun god who is full of the power of consciousness.

The sky itself is the sun the father, this earth is the mother.

The sky is my father, the progenitor the navel here and this mother earth is my mother, the relative. (Dirghatama Rg. Man. 1/164/33)

The sky is your father and earth is your mother. (Agastya Rg. Man. 191/6)

The sky is my father, the sun who is the supreme spirit and who is the conscience of the sky. This earth who gives birth to various worlds is the mother who is beneficial sustainer of all living beings.

तस्मिन् ध्येये परमात्मनोऽपि समानः प्रयत्नः जीवात्मनां संयोगे

मित्रो जनान् यातयति प्रजानन्।
सत्याय हव्यं घृतवद्विधेम॥ (तै. कृ. यजुः. सं. ३/४/११/५)

In that object of meditation the effort of even the Supreme Being in the unity of living being is quite common.

The sun activates all men saying, the sun is the main support of the earth and the sky. The sun sees all people with an alert eye. To the sun offer the offering full of ghee. (Vishwamitra Rg. Man. 3/49/1)

The sun knowing well activates the people. To him who is the truth we offer offerings. (taitt. Krana Yaj. Sam. 3/4/11/5)

मित्रो जनानां जगतां निजानां
मित्रस्वरूपः स्वयमात्मजानाम्॥
मन्त्रात्मवाचा सुहितं ब्रुवाणः

The sun is the friend of all people and of all worlds born out of him. Pronouncing good by a word which is hymn and knowing well activates them.

मित्रो जगच्चक्षुरसौ महस्वान्
दृष्ट्याऽभिचष्टेऽनिमिषः समस्तान्॥
मित्राय हृद्यं वचनं समर्प्यं

Let that sun god be beneficial to people because he teaches by a vow. By that he is neither killed nor conquered and no sin touches him either from far or near. (Vishwamitra Rg. Man. 3/59/2)

मित्रस्य सत्यस्य महाव्रतेन
यः शिक्षति स्वात्मनि सन्धृतेन॥
न हन्यते सोऽत्र न जीयतेऽन्यैः

तन्मन्त्रसन्दर्शनवाक्प्रदिष्टं
साक्षात्कृतेर्योगकृते विशिष्टम्॥२६॥410

The great Brahmarshi Vishwamitra proposed well by the vitality of the power of the sun god.

By the yoga of the sun god the great Vishwamitra became Brahmarshi. By the word of that hymn seen by him, the yoga realization was especially possible.

मित्रावरुणयोः ज्योतीरसकिरणयोर्योगाद् वरिष्ठः॥
ब्रह्मर्षिः वसिष्ठः॥
ब्रह्मा स मैत्रावरुणो वसिष्ठः
ब्रह्मात्मसंवित्कृतिचित्प्रतिष्ठः॥
मैत्रं हि चक्षुश्च विदा वरिष्ठं
क्षात्रं मनो वारुणहृद्गरिष्ठम्॥२७॥411

The great and best Brahmarshi Vishwamitra was born by the union of light and fluid rays of the sun and Varuna.

That sage Vasista who is Maitravaruna by virtue of his birth has established himself as an authority in Brahmajnana or philosophical know. The eye being derived from the sun is the best and the mind is weighty with the heart of varuna.

मित्रावरुणौ ब्रह्मक्षत्रतेजः शक्तिरूपौ ज्ञानक्रियास्वरूपौ॥
सत्यात्ममित्रात्मकदिव्यसत्त्वं
प्रज्ञाननेत्रोर्जितचित्प्रभाप्तम्॥
ब्रह्मैव मित्रः परतत्त्ववेत्ता
स मित्र एव क्रतुरात्मसत्त्वा॥२८॥412

Mitra and varuna represent the form of Brahmin and Kshatriya powers and are knowledge and action respectively.

The divine vitality of the sun god the soul of which is truth is obtained by the lustre of the thought produced by the eye of wisdom. The sun is the Brahma who knows the spiritual knowledge, he himself is the sacrifice of the soul force.

क्रतुः परो ज्ञानमयः स यज्ञः
दक्षो बलं प्राणकृतीष्टसंज्ञः॥
वाचाऽऽत्मनस्तौ परयाऽन्तरिज्यौ

The best sacrifice is that of the knowledge and Daksha is strength which causes life with a desirable symbol. Both of them have to be worshipped internally by the best word as both the sacrifice and Daksha are full of yoga.

द्यात् तदध्यात्मकतत्त्वयोगात्
तद्धीन्द्रिणां सह सम्प्रयोगात्॥
क्रतुः स यत् कामयते विदाऽन्तः
समृध्यतेऽस्मै हृदि यः स दक्षः॥३०॥414

That has to be known only by the yoga of the philosophy of the soul along with the experiment of senses of the knowledge. That which desires knowledge internally is sacrifice and that which adds to prosperity in the heart of Daksha.

चक्षुर्मनोयोगहृदाऽध्युपास्यम्॥
दीक्षाव्रतं तत् क्रतुदक्षभाव्यं

The divine observance called Maitravaruna will have to be worshipped by the yoga of the eye, the mind and the heart. That has to be performed under the strict discipline by sacrifice and Daksha and has to be served by truth and Rita by the vitality of the yoga of intellect.

ज्ञानक्रियाशक्ति समैकसत्त्वं

The philosophy of supreme knowledge which is capable of accomplishing everything and which is full of vitality of the power of knowledge and action equally is helpful in the realization of the Supreme Being by the yoga specially called Maitravaruna

Thus ends the thirteenth chapter.

May the word of the truth of yoga of the homogeneousness of gods be worshipped; may be desirable vitality of gods and men be obtained. May the vedic hymn of Indra, the Lord of gods be properly comprehended and may be the good nectar of yoga pronounced by Brahmarshai Daivarata be prayed for.

The fourteenth chapter.

For the success in the homogeneity of gods and the soul the first step is the main observance of the vow of truth.

In order to obtain the homogeneous qualities between god and soul, the means is the vow of truth for self-satisfaction and for propitiation through sacrifice of Agni Indra and the sun god and for the attainment of mastery in the knowledge of the supreme Brahman.

ऋतं वाव दीक्षा सत्यं दीक्षा ऋतमित्येष वै सत्यम्,
सत्यसंहिता वै देवाः, अनृत संहिता मनुष्याः,
तस्माद्दीक्षितेन सत्यमेव वदितव्यम्॥ (ऐ. ब्रा.)

Dedication to Rita (cosmic order- divine law) or to truth for Rita to truth. Gods speak the truth. Men speak falsehood. Therefore who has dedicated something to sacred must always speak the truth. (Aitreya Brahman)

देवाः परे ते दिवि सत्यसंहिताः
मर्त्यास्त एतेऽनृत संहिता मताः॥
ते प्राप्नुवन्त्यात्मनि संविदाऽर्हतां
सत्यव्रतेनैव हि देवतात्मताम्॥२॥418

Those holy gods in the heaven always speak the truth. These men are considered as speaking falsehood. They obtain eligibility within themselves by knowledge within themselves by knowledge and become like gods by the observance of the vow of truth.

॥तस्मिन् दीक्षा व्रते ग्रहणे यजुर्मन्त्रः॥
अग्ने व्रतपते व्रतं चरिष्यामि

At the time of dedication the hymn of Yajurveda.

Oh! Fire god, who is the Lord of all vows I am observing a vow, help me to perform in such a way that I go from untruth to truth. (Sukla Yajur Sam.)

सत्यव्रतस्था अवनौ मनुष्याः
तद्देवसाजात्यमुपाप्य सत्याः॥
यज्ञाय तेऽर्हन्ति च देवयज्ञे
तद्देवतासात्म्यहृदा यजन्ते॥३॥419

Those men on this earth who are under the vow of truth are true, after having obtained the homogeneous qualities of gods. They are fit to perform a sacrifice in the sacrifice of gods and therefore they do it with a godly heart.

अनृतात् सत्यमुपैमि। मानुषाद्दैव्यमुपैमि॥
दैवीं वाचं यच्छामि॥ (तै. कृ. यजुः)

I go to truth from untruth; I go to the divine from the human and speak a divine word. (taittiriya Krishna yajur.)

सत्येन योगादमृतत्वमाप्ताः॥
वाचं नियच्छन्ति च ते सुसत्यां
ज्ञाने च योगेऽखिलदेवयज्ञे॥४॥420

Being released from the falsehood which is the form of mortals, the men attain their immortality by their association with truth. In all godly sacrifices they speak the truth as also in knowledge and yoga.

उपास्योपासकयोर्देवमानवयोरुभयोरपि समानं तत् सत्यव्रतम्

This observance of the vow of truth is common to both gods and men who are the worshipped and the worshipper respectively.

Oh! Fire god you are the protector of vows whether in gods or in men. You are worship worthy in all sacrifices. (Rg. Mantra.)

Oh! Fire god, the Lord of vows, you are Lord of all vows. That which is your body is in me. That which is my body in you. You protect, Lord of vows! All the vows of those who observe them. (taittiriya Krishna yajur samhita)

सत्यव्रतं स्यादिह देवमर्त्ययोः

A real instance of immortality among men is that of Rbhus.

The three men called Rbhu, Vibhva and Vaja are all the Rbhus. They are the sons of Sudhanva and severe penance and the yoga of truth obtained immortality.

The fame of the Rbhus in the vedic hymns of the Rigveda.

The Rbhus obtained the friendship of Indra. They bring the grandson of Manu held water. They, the fortunate sons of Sudhanva obtained immortality by their good acts which pervaded the entire space. (Vishwamitra Rg. Man. 3/60/3)

They went to all sacrifices of gods in heaven along with Indra; eating the havis, they shown like worship worthy gods. By virtue of drinking soma juice they obtained the friendship of Indra and the experience of enjoying the supreme bliss.

Good men attain immortality by performance of good and pervasive acts or by their association with the sun god. The Rbhus who are the sons of Sudhanva with their eyes like the sun were blessed with wisdom in a year. (Kutsa Rg. Man. 1/110/4)

ते ज्ञानविज्ञानसुपूर्णचक्षुषः

They, with their eyes full of knowledge and philosophy with the lustre of supreme Brahman and having attained success by truth, obtained the capacity to bless the human beings by the friendship of Indra and by virtue of their association with immortality.

इन्द्रः ऋभुमान् - इन्द्रवन्तः ऋभवः॥

That high souled Indra, being enlightened by the offerings in a sacrifice of the gods became known as Rbhuman; even the good Rbhus being fed by the offerings of soma juice began to shine with Indra.

साक्षात्कृतात्मान इह त्रयस्तॆ

Those three Rbhus are those who have attained realization here along with all those gods in fact. By the yoga of their own self they attained the supreme friendship and have become exemplary and famous as Rbhudevatas.

सत्यॆन यज्ञैस्तपसा च यॊगात्

In order to remove the mortal contacts, the method of reciting two hymns at the commencement of worship of god.

Therefore in a worship of god accompanied by the vedic methods and in trying to obtained the similar homogeneous qualities of gods, two hymns have been quoted to enable the removal of mortal fragrance by their philosophical nature.

एवापित्रे विश्वदेवाय वृष्णे यज्ञैर्विधेम नमसा हविर्भिः॥
बृहस्पते सुप्रजा वीरवन्तो वयं स्याम पतयो रयीणाम्॥ (वामदेवः- ऋ. मं. ४/५०/६)

येभ्यो माता मधुमत्पिन्वते पयः पीयूषं द्यौरदितिरद्रिबर्हाः॥
उक्थशुष्मान् वृषभरान् त्स्वप्नसस्तां आदित्यां अनुमदा स्वस्तये॥ (गयःप्लातः - ऋक्. मं. १०/६३/३)

The two hymns to the father only and from whom the mother in order to remove mortal contacts.

मनुष्यगन्धनिवारणार्थे एवापित्रे, येभ्यो माता इतिमत्रद्वययोगात्
एवा हि पित्रेऽपि च तत्र येभ्यो
मातेति मन्त्रद्वयसम्प्रयोगात्॥
मन्त्रार्थसद्भावनयैव तेभ्यः
स्वेष्टं फलं सिध्यति मानवेभ्यः॥१८॥434

By the use of the two hymns; to the father only and then from whom the mother, men get the desired fruits by the very good thought of the meaning of these hymns.

एतादृशे केवलभावनात्मके
साक्षात्प्रभावोच्चफलोदयादिके॥
सत्यं तपो योगसुसंविदादिकं
तन्मन्त्रयोगादिह सानुभावदम्॥१९॥435

In this kind of act which is purely idealistic and which consists of really excellent results, truth, penance, yoga and good knowledge etc. will give special lustre by yoga of that particular hymn.

वेदादिमन्त्रोऽपि तदर्थभावनाद्
यज्ञेषु योगादिषु तन्त्रयोजनात्॥
सर्वार्थसिध्यै प्रभवेत् प्रयोजने

Even vedic hymns by the thought of their senses, and by the application of relevant procedure in sacrifices and yoga, will be useful in granting all that is desired and will have to be accepted both for external and internal yogic exercises.

The manner of homogeneous yogic practices.

The homogeneous yogic practice has a specialty about it and is in reality exists in the manner of its procedure. The good souled man who is the witness shines by his own consciousness. The experience of realization is manifested.

Burning by mutual union in secret of self-identity.

Burning fire, by itself, is capable of making a lump of iron which has entered it, completely merged in itself by burning, thinking that it is pervaded by the fire consciousness.

तथा चिदात्माऽपि निजं हि धीन्द्रियं

Similarly, the paramatma make jeevatma who is absorbed in the act of good worship who has entered by yoga into him, a part and parcel of himself by self-knowledge and expert.

In this connection, the real and not invisible philosophic and vedic interpretation.

This Agni is an activator with sound knowledge. He activated the universe the egg of Brahma like fire which heats an iron ball. That Agni is the knower and pervades the whole universe and he is one existing in all and knowing all. (daivarata Chandodarshana 1-1-5-6)

This is his own experience – described in the form real object.

This Agni is my atma. He pervades all the atoms of the physical world and even this body also. He made me like Agni, that is like himself. I am certain that Agni person full of light and all pervasive.

He, who is the Lord of hymns, made me who is like in himself. He sings that excellent om which is purified by hymns and which was experience by a person who knows the yoga of realization.

The seer is the paramatma, who is immortal and bodiless. This is that, which is the object of vision and which is mortal and has a body. Indra, the very wise man shines after having entered, in the form of all senses.

The fifteenth chapter.

The yogic way of practicing spiritual knowledge.

This soul, always lies concealed in the interior of heart of all beings by the thinking principle. It has to be meditated upon by the wise by all their senses in the same manner as is employed for controlling a stream which is flowing downwards in the opposite direction.

अत्रान्तरात्मा स्वयमेव नित्यो
निसर्गसानन्दरसैकसत्यः॥
अस्यैव चिज्ज्योतिरनुग्रहाप्या
स्वान्तः पराशान्तिरुदेति सद्यः॥२॥450

The inner soul, here, is, by himself immortal and the real only thing which is by nature full of the rasa of bliss. By its favor only the light consciousness could be obtained and at once the supreme tranquility arises internally.

Therefore the inner soul alone is the supreme deity which enables the attainment of rasa, for truth, desire and benefit. It is decided that it is the best to be worshipped by self-introspection of the intellect.

Just as in the external search for a thing which was forgotten for a long time, the internal search begins in the end, so also a person in the pursuit of spiritual knowledge, searches his own soul which he had forgotten and which is beneficial and grants his desires.

अथ यदस्मिन् ब्रह्मपुरे दहरं पुण्डरीकं दहरोऽस्मिन् अन्तराकाशः, तस्मिन्यदन्तः तदन्वेष्टव्यं तद्वाव विजिज्ञासितव्यम्॥ (छा. उ.)

अहङ्गहो नाम भवेदुपासनम्॥७॥455

The worship of the acceptance of ‘I’

For a truthful soul, there is only the flash of consciousness; the strong and good support being the absence of sensuality and the art. By placing will in it the faith of I the worship is called Ahamgraha (acceptance of I)

The worship of the subtle cavity of the heart.

Because the residing place of the supreme spirit is the lotus in the cavity of heart representing the space that itself is the place of support and endeavor in the yoga of freedom or revolution.

Because the cavity of the heart is of the primary importance for the enlightened soul engaged in the subtle form of entrance to the worship is exactly similar to that of lions entering their own den.

यथा मृगेन्द्रो वनराज्यकेसरी

Just as the king of beasts, the lion moves here in its own kingdom of the forest independently, in the same manner, a person with strong intellect enters the cavity of his heart for rest and mental tranquility.

By the experience of supreme and free bliss, a man who is awake will be able to meditate firmly like the lion by natural fearlessness or like the great emperor Indra himself.

By the search for the supreme Real being, a man entering the heart of supreme spirit, shines well here by the knowledge of the supreme bliss and by the power of Indra.

Even as entrance a different endeavor in the form of merger.

By immersing oneself in the rasa of self like entrance, inwardly in the real thing, let the interior heart be allowed to melt in the supreme knowledge after a complete merger in the powerful place of the highest wisdom.

॥तत्र दृष्टान्तप्रदर्शनम्॥

An example for this.

Just as the force is turned downwards at the time of diving with the precious stones submerged in the water as target, so also, the face will have to be turned inwards in the cavity of the heart, while searching for the powerful light of knowledge supreme.

सहेन्द्रियैर्यद् विषयादिहात्मनि
प्रत्यक् प्रवाहेण निमज्जनं हृदि॥
स्वान्वेषणादात्मपदं प्रपद्यतां

Let the merger in the heart along with all the senses in the flood flowing in the opposite direction away from attachment to worldly pleasures, find by earth the place of self-knowledge and shine at the source with the soul of Indra.

Of all the yogas, this only shines well in the heart along with the association of the yoga of the soul. Let it be practiced or worshipped with practical experience. This will automatically bear fruit like a raja yoga.

॥प्राणसंयमयोगः॥

The yoga of the control of vital affairs

The control of the vital air is prescribed for the acquisition of self-knowledge. The effort in that behalf is through the yoga of intellect. There are two kinds of that control of prana namely – perception and resistance.

या प्राणवृत्तिर्हृदयान्निजाश्रयात्
निर्यात्यजस्रं हि बहिश्चिदात्मनः॥
अन्वेति तां तन्मिथुनैकवृत्तिकं
मनोऽपि साकं सकलेन्द्रियैरिह॥१८॥466

That vital air prana goes out of the heart, which is its own shelter, of the supreme spirit and the mind follows it along with the senses as if in conjugal union.

यस्मान्मनस्यात्मचितौ प्रतिष्ठिते
निर्हेतुकं स्वान्तरुदेति सत्सुखम्॥
तस्मादिह प्राणसुसंयमान्मनः
सहेन्द्रियैरात्मनिसंस्थितौ नयेत्॥१९॥467

Because real happiness arises inwardly without any cause whatever in a mind which is firmly fixed in one's own consciousness, the mind with the senses leads on to self-knowledge by the control of vital airs.

प्राणो बहिश्चान्तरपि प्रतिक्षणं
चरत्यजस्त्रं नियमाच्चिदीरणात्॥
तत्प्राणनापानचिदात्मवृत्तितः
स्वात्मानमावर्तयितुं पुनः पुनः॥२०॥468

The vital air prana always moves externally and internally every second by pronouncing chit under certain conditions; therefore the two vital airs prana and apana will have to be controlled again and again.

यः प्राङ्मुखो बाह्यगतेः प्रवर्तते
प्राणोऽयमुच्छ्वासमयोऽनुवर्तते॥
प्रत्यङ्मुखो योऽयमपान ईरितः
सोऽन्तर्गतेः श्वासमयो निवर्तते॥२१॥469

That which comes out externally forwards, is the vital air prana which is exhaled. That which is turned backwards internally is called apana which is inhaled.

प्राणात्मवृत्तॆरुदयस्य चॆतनात्
प्रश्वासतः श्वासत आत्मनःस्वनात्॥
निरीक्षणं सन्ततमप्रमादतः
तत्साधनं संयमनं प्रसादतः॥२२॥470

By the breathing of the vital air prana which give rise to activity, the control called perception always occurs without any fault and with great favor.

उत्पातिनॊऽप्यत्र यथॆष्टचॆष्टया
बाला नरास्तस्कर वानराः स्त्रियः॥
निरीक्षणॆनैव विशिष्टसंयमात्
तूष्णीं यथाशिक्षणमासतॆ शनैः॥२३॥471

Even boys, men, thieves, monkeys and women who go along here by whatever movements they want will slowly be silent by a special control, called perception only according to the training they receive.

प्राणॊऽपि तद्वृत्तिगतॆर्निरीक्षणात्
तूष्णीं स्वरूपॆण च सम्प्रतिष्ठतॆ॥
प्राणॆ समास्तॆ मिथुनात्मकं मनः
तथा मनॊऽन्वक् सकलॆन्द्रियाणि च॥२४॥472

Even prana by perception of its movements, will remain firm and silent in its own form. The mind united in prana and all the senses follow the mind in the same manner.

॥प्राणनिरीक्षणलक्षणम्॥
यथाऽऽत्मनः प्राणचितिः स्वभावात्
साऽन्तर्बहिश्चापि भवेत् सुशान्ता॥
यथैव साऽन्तः सुनिरीक्षणीया
न योजनीया न निरोधनीया॥२५॥473

The quality of the perception of prana.

Just as by nature the consciousness of prana is full of tranquility externally and internally and just as it can be perceived well inwardly, it should be neither yoked nor resisted.

॥तस्यै वेदं पुनर्निर्वचनम्॥
यत् सादरं प्रश्वसनं प्रबोधतः
यदप्रमादाच्छ्वसनन्त्वयत्नतः॥
चेतोऽन्वयात् प्राणगतेर्निरीक्षणं
चिदात्मनोऽन्तः स्थिरशान्तिकारणम्॥२६॥474

Its further explanation.

Because the breathing with order goes on from wakefulness and goes on spontaneously from faultlessness; the perception of the movement of the vital air prana by the mind is the cause of the internal tranquility of the supreme spirit.

प्राणोऽयमेवं सुनिरीक्षणे स्वयं
शनैः शनैः सूक्ष्मगतिर्भविष्यति॥
प्राणं तमन्वक्च मनः समीयते
सवृत्तिकं तत् स्वयमेव लीयते॥२७॥475

In this manner the prana, by itself, in percept on becomes gradually subtle in movement. The mind follows that prana and ultimately merges in it automatically.

तथैनयोरात्मनिलीनभावयोः
स्वयं समन्तात् सकलेन्द्रियाण्यपि॥
स्वस्वप्रवृत्तेर्विषयान्निवृत्तितः
प्रत्यक्प्रवाहेण लयं प्रयान्ति हि॥२८॥476

In the same manner all the senses around retreating themselves from their respective normal functions merge in the inward flow, of their own accord.

निरोधतः प्राणसंयमस्य संक्षेपतः समर्थनम्॥
प्रायेण तत्प्राणगतेर्निरोधो
युक्तो निजान्तर्हृदये समन्तात्॥
हठाद् बलाच्छक्तिगुणेग युक्तेः
अभ्यासतः स क्रमशः सुसाध्यः॥२९॥477

The proof in brief of the control of the vital air – prana by resistance.

Probably the resistance of the movement of the vital air prana is appropriate in one’s own heart. It is possible to do it by practice gradually by determination strength and the quality of one’s capacity.

प्राणं शनैर्वामनसा प्रपूरयेत्
कुम्भान्तरे तज्जलवन्निजोदरे॥
सन्धारयेत् पूर्णमिवैव कुम्भकं
तथाऽन्यया नासिकयाऽनुरेचयेत्॥३०॥478

The vital air has to be slowly filled by the mind in the same manner as the water is filled in a pot one has to hold it when kumbhaka is full and release it similarly by the other nose.

॥पूरककुम्भकरेचकानां मात्राः॥
यावन्तिमात्रात्मलवानि पूरके
चतुर्गुणात् तस्य भवेत् च कुम्भके॥
तत्कुम्भकादर्धमितेन रेचके
मात्राश्चतस्त्रोऽपि च षोडशाष्टकाः॥३१॥479

The measure of puraka, kumbhaka, and rechaka

Four times in the number of measures in puraka, will be in kumbhaka; in rechaka it is half that in kumbhaka and four matras sixteen or eight.

मन्त्रेण युक्तः सभवेत् सगर्भः
तथैव मन्त्राद् रहितो निगर्भः॥
गायत्रिमन्त्राद् विनियोग उक्तः
सर्वत्र सन्ध्यादिषु तत्प्रयोगः॥३२॥480

It yield fruit if it is with mantra, and fruitless without it. It has been stated that the Gayathri mantra fits in well for this purpose and it has to be practiced in all places during the sandhyavandana and other such religious exercises.

Thus ends the fifteenth chapter.

In this chapter Brahmarshi daivarata has explained the good search for the real object, the entry into the interior of the heart, the merger of one's self into the vast ocean of rasa and the perception of control of the vital air by vision.

Sixteenth chapter.

Because the darshana is of primary importance in the yoga of realization first, the yoga of vision is elucidated.

The sages always see that highest place of Vishnu like the eye extended in heaven. (Medhatithi Rg. Man. 1/ /)

The yoga of ear.

The practice of self-hearing.

In the vision of Supreme Being, the practice of hearing has been mentioned in the Vedas as worthy of being known and expressed. It is not merely connected with the external organ and it does not yield success by hearing words externally.

श्रुत्यादि शब्दाच्छ्रवणेन तत्त्वतः
श्रुतः परात्मा प्रथमं परोक्षतः॥
सोऽयं हृदन्तः स्वचिता स्वसाक्षितः

The Supreme Being is first heard in the invisible state by listening to the vedic words. He has then to be realized in one’s own heart by experience and heard as he is concealed invisibly.

आत्मा परश्चेतनया विदा स्फुरन्
सोऽहश्चिताऽन्तर्हृदये सदा स्वरन्॥
संश्रूयतां स्वान्तरितः श्रुतीरणात्

The supreme spirit flashing by life and knowledge and always sounding in the interior of the heart by the consciousness of I – let it be heard well hidden as it is – by chanting of the vedic hymns and let it be taken shelter under by listening well and fully.

In the endeavor of hearing the external sounds the agents is ear, which is the external sensory organ. In the hearing of the internal words the subtle sensory organ, namely the ear is the best norm to measure.

(तूष्णीं स्थितेः मौनयोगः)
तूष्णीं स्थितः स्वात्मनि मौनयोगात्
स्वान्तः स्वरं स्वं शृणुयात् स्वभावात्॥
तत्संविदाऽऽत्मावगतेः प्रधानो

The yoga of silence in the state of keeping quiet.

Sitting quiet in the yoga of silence within himself, the individual, will by nature hear his own voice within himself. That is the primary cause for a proper understanding of the soul through knowledge.

स्वान्तश्चिदात्मश्रवणं सुनित्यं
स्वभावतोऽन्तर्विहितं सुसत्यम्॥
सत्योऽयमात्मा श्रवणादिसाक्षी
सद्यः श्रुतः स्यात् स्वरसेन साक्षात्॥२६॥506

This internal hearing of the supreme spirit always happens and the truth is that it is placed internally by nature. This soul is real and the witness there of is hearing which at once be heard actually by one's own rasa.

मनोयोगः, मन्त्रणयोगान्वितं मननम्॥

The yoga of mid-meditation by thought.

Silent inward meditation independently and by rotating all the senses is called the mantra or the hymn. It has to be thought of automatically within oneself and the soul has to be thought of by one's own knowledge.

सर्वेन्द्रियाणां मनसोऽन्तरत्वात्
सर्वेष्वनुस्यूततया परत्वात्॥
स्यान्मानसं तन्मननं सुसूक्ष्मं
सत्साधनं स्वात्मनि चापरोक्षम्॥२८॥508

Because all the senses are internally connected with the mind and the Supreme Being is following in all, the mental meditation upon that will be very subtle. It will result in a good success within one's self in the not invisible state.

निश्चिन्तनं तत्तु भवेदमानसं

Profound and repeated meditation.

It is prescribed in the Vedas that the soul has to be deeply meditated upon. It is superior to all intellects and specially known by one’s own deep meditation and is merged in one’s own bliss.

सद्दर्शनात् संश्रवणादुपासनात्

Thus ends the sixteenth chapter.

In this treasure of the nectar of yoga written by Brahmarshi daivarata, the sight of Supreme Being by the yoga of vision the analysis of the form by hearing the name and the hymns and the deep meditation by silence and persistence thinking are dealt with.

The seventeenth chapter.

The yoga of self-dedication (self-surrender)

In the flood of wisdom everything is beyond control whereas in knowledge everything is under one's own control. By surrendering oneself to the Supreme Being, realization full of one's own rasa, will be the result.

तत्र लौकिको दृष्टान्तः॥
सरित्सरन्ती जलधिं विशन्ती
सत्सामरस्येन समा वसन्ती॥
सरित्स्वरूपं न पुनः स्मरन्ती
सत्त्वात् समास्ते परमा भवन्ती॥२॥514

A practical example in this behalf.

The following river entering the ocean and living in harmony will become supreme by her inherent power without remembering her form as a river.

प्राप्तुं समुद्रं प्रविशन्त्सरिन्मुखे
प्राणोन्मुखात् स्वात्मसमर्पणोन्मुखम्॥
तरन् परं स्वेष्टपदं समाप्नुयात्
तत्रानुकूलस्थितियत्नमन्वियात्॥३॥515

Just as an individual wants to enter the state of surrender through the vital airs, in the same manner as he enters the mouth of the river to reach the ocean, and gets the desired place of exaltation by crossing it, he will follow an effort will land him in a helpful state.

तथैव पूर्णात्मकभूतिमिच्छन्
ज्योतिर्मयीं चित्तिमनुप्रविष्टः॥
निष्ठात्मकान्निर्विषयत्वयोगात्
स्वेष्टं परात्मानमनुप्रपश्येत्॥४॥516

In the same manner, he who is desirous of attaining the glory of Supreme Being, will have to enter ‘chit’ full of light. By a rigid discipline free from all associations with sensual pleasures, he will be able to see the Supreme Being, as desired.

तत्र वैदिकं तत्त्वं सदृष्टान्तम्॥
उत त्वः पश्यन् न ददर्श वाचं
मुत त्वः शृण्वन् न शृणोत्येनाम्॥
उतो त्वस्मै तन्वं विसस्रे
जायेव पत्य उशती सुवासाः॥ (बृहस्पतिः - ऋक्. मं. १०/७१/४)

The vedic philosophy here with an example.

One seeing does see the word, hearing does not hear it. It reveals itself to him who stretches like a well-dressed wife reveals himself to the husband.

प्रचेतनाऽऽत्मान्तरिताऽपि वाक्परा
सचेतनं प्राप्य परं निजान्तरम्॥
जायेव पत्येऽर्पयति स्वसत्त्वने
स्वात्मानमानन्दकृते चिदात्मने॥५॥517

The most excellent word though life giving and concealed in the soul, will reveal itself to him, like the wife surrendering herself to her own husband, whose soul is full of chit for his own happiness, after reaching the activating supreme being.

परस्परं सन्मिथुनं समन्वितं
तादात्म्ययोगेन समं समञ्चितम्॥
वागात्मसत्त्वं समभावसम्पृतं
साक्षात्कृतेर्योगसुधारसाप्लुतम्॥६॥518

Just as a good couple is united in equality and harmony for mutual benefit by the yoga of identity, so also the word and the supreme spirit are united equally and full of the nectar of yoga for realization.

एकस्तु कश्चित् परवाचमान्तरां
पश्यन्नपि स्वां न च पश्यति स्वराम्॥
शृण्वन्नपि स्वां न श्रुणॊति संविदां
शक्तिं सतीं तां न तु वॆत्ति सर्वदाम्॥७॥519

A certain individual though seeing does not see his own inward superior speech and though hearing does not hear it and does recognize it as capable of giving everything.

छन्दस्वती चित्तिमयी ह् वाक्परा
जिज्ञासवॆऽस्मै विदुषॆ चिदात्मनॆ॥
स्वात्मानमर्थात्मिकमात्मसात्कृतॆः
जायॆव पत्यॆ विवृणॊति सत्कृतॆः॥८॥520

The most excellent word is in accordance with metre and is full of the power of consciousness reveals itself to the scholar who is desirous of knowing or acquiring knowledge and who is full of thoughts of the supreme spirit, just as the wife reveals herself to the husband for his own good.

तदेतदुभयोरपि तयोः वागात्मनोः समानं सत्त्वम्॥
तत्रेदमौपनिषदं परमं तत्त्वम्॥
तद्यथा प्रियया स्त्रिया सम्परिष्वक्तो न बाह्यं किञ्चन वेदनान्त एवमेव प्राज्ञेनात्मना सम्परिष्वक्तो न बाह्यं किञ्चन वेदनान्तरम्॥ (बृ. उ.)

The capacity of power of both the word and the spirit is equal – the best example for this is the upanishadic thought in this behalf.

Just as an individual embraced by his beloved wife does not see the difference between the external and internal, so also when is embraced by the supreme spirit, he does not see any difference between the external and internal. (Brihadaranyaka Upanishad)

यथा स्त्रिया स्वप्रिययाऽनुषक्तः
तादात्म्यसम्प्रेमरसानुरक्तः॥
निर्विद्य च स्वं च परं च सर्वं
न वेत्ति चान्तर्यमपीह बाह्यम्॥९॥521

Just as a person does not see the difference between the external and internal when is embraced by a woman who is his beloved and when he is absorbed in the juice of sacred love of identity with complete indifference to all that is his own or others.

दार्ष्टान्तिके ज्ञानयोगे तदर्थतत्त्वसमन्वयानुदर्शनम्॥
तद्वत् परब्रह्मरसानुभावं
प्राप्तुं स्वयं पूर्णगुणप्रभावम्॥
प्राज्ञात्मना योगचिताऽनुषक्तः
निर्वेदमायाद् विषयाद् विमुक्तः॥१०॥522

A similar example in jnana yoga.

In the same manner, he will attain the state of indifference after being released from sensual pleasures, when he tries to experience the presence of supreme Brahman which has a wonderful influence by his wisdom and yoga in which he is absorbed.

पूर्णे परे ब्रह्मणि सम्प्रलीनः
प्रत्यक्षगं नैव सवेत्ति विश्वम्॥
प्रत्यञ्चमप्यन्तरितं स्वभावं
प्राज्ञो न वेत्ति स्वरसानुभावम्॥११॥523

Being completely absorbed in the full supreme Brahman, the individual does not even the universe though it is before his very eyes. The wise man does not know his own experience though it is inwards and concealed.

ज्ञानयोगे तदभ्यासप्रक्रियोपयुक्तः सर्वानुभवसिद्धो दृष्टान्तः॥
सुषुप्तिकामो विषयान्निवृत्तेः
स्वान्तः प्रवाहार्पितसर्ववृत्तेः॥
निर्वृत्तितः स्वात्मनि सोऽप्रमत्तः
स संविशत्यात्मविलीनचित्तः॥१२॥524

An example in jnana yoga which useful for practicing it and which is the true experience of all.

An individual who is desirous of going to deep sleep in order to retire from sensual pleasures and who has offered all his movements to the inward flow, will always be alert and will be absorbed in the supreme Brahman by detachment.

स्वात्मप्रबोधेन तथैव जागृतौ
स्वीप्सन् निजान्तः सुखमप्रमादतः॥
स्वसंविदा निर्विषयत्वयोगतः
स्वान्तर्विशेत् स्वात्मसमर्पणात् स्वतः॥१३॥525

In the same manner, even in the state of wakefulness, desiring by self-knowledge, internal bliss without error, the individual will be voluntarily absorbed in the thought of supreme Brahman, through the yoga of senselessness by his own knowledge.

जायापत्योः परस्परं स्वस्वात्मसमर्पणयोगः॥
जाया परं तं वृणुते पतिं निजं
तं स्वात्मकामाय विभाव्य सम्प्रियम्॥
हृद्योगतः स्यादुभयोर्मनः समं
तादात्म्यमन्वेति समानसक्रियम्॥१४॥526

The yoga of mutual surrender in the wife and husband.

The wife chooses him as the best husband, who is beloved to her, for the fulfillment of desire. By the yoga of the union of their hearts, the minds of both will be equal. The mental act afterwards will follow in identity.

पतिश्च जायां वृणुते निजां प्रियां
सम्भाव्यतां शक्तिमयीं परां स्त्रियम्॥
तस्याश्च पाणिग्रहणेन सत्क्रियां
स्वस्यात्मनः कामसमृद्धये श्रियम्॥१५॥527

Even the husband will choose his beloved wife thinking her as the best woman full of energy. By taking her hand he will be able to fulfill all his desires for his benefit

॥तयोस्तत्र कामना भावना ज्ञानादिसमन्वयः॥
भोक्तुं सुखं स्वं च परं परात्मना
तथा पुनर्भोजयितुं निजं पतिम्॥

पतिश्चजायात्मवशो स्वयं स्थितः
तस्यां प्रसादात् समुदेति सत्त्वतः॥१७॥529

The mutual connection of the desires ideas, knowledge etc. of the husband and wife.

Just as the wife surrenders herself completely to her husband and dedicates her life in his service in order to her enjoy supreme bliss and to make happy and attract him inwardly with all the cordiality and love and make him really a purusha; the husband being completely under control of his wife and comes out by her favor full of vitality.

Full of supreme power, full of enlightenment and results proportionate to the interest he manifests, he prospers well by inherent spiritual strength.

पतिः स्ववीर्याद् बहुभावसिद्धये
परात्मसन्तानकलासमृद्धये॥
स्त्रियां स्ववीर्यं प्रतिसिञ्चति श्रिये
धर्मप्रजासिद्धिफलाद्युपाश्रये॥१९॥531

The husband drops his vitality in his wife for the success of his many ideas, for the prosperity of the wealth of excellent progeny and to fulfill the aims in life based on dharma or righteousness.

पत्युः सुवीर्यात् स्वधृतं सुगर्भं
पत्नी स्वभावान्मनुतेऽसुभर्गम्॥
स्वात्मानमेवानुभवत्युदर्कं
सुखास्पदं भावयति स्वमर्कम्॥२०॥532

The wife on her part conceiving well the womb vitality of her husband, considers herself extremely fortunate and experiences by herself the future result which is the source of happiness.

स्वां भावयित्रीं प्रति भावनीयां
पतिः स्वयं भावयति स्ववीर्याम्॥
परस्परं तौ प्रतिभावयन्तौ
पूर्णं सुवीर्यं कुरुतोऽनुयन्तौ॥२१॥533

The husband himself thinks that his wife full of his own vitality, is his own well-wisher fit to be considered. Both of them thinking well of each other mutually make the vitality full and complementary.

पत्युश्चिदात्माऽन्तरितः प्रसिद्धः
तस्यानुभूतेरपरोक्षसिद्धः॥
पत्न्याः सदात्माऽत्रपरोऽनुलक्ष्यः
पत्युस्तु नित्यं स भवेत् परोक्षः॥२२॥534

The supreme spirit who is concealed and famous accomplished in the not invisible state by the experience of the husband. The good soul of the wife here is seen to be supreme and that will always be for the husband in the invisible state.

तत्त्वं तदेतत्तु तयोःसमानं

पित्रोः सुयोगानुगतः स पुत्रः
सत्त्वत्रयेणाभ्युदगात् समक्षः॥२३॥535

This is the common truth between them, which can be measured by knowledge, feeling action. The son who is born out of the good union of such parents will be full of triple vitality.

आत्मैवसोऽयं भुवि पुत्रनामा

That son, who is born out of mental make-up of the mother and father, is in this world, none other than self itself. The identity or harmony of all the three will be in one place in the son; actually invisible and not visible.

त्वेक्रतुमपिंवृञ्जन्तिविश्वेद्विर्यदेतेत्रिर्भवन्त्यूमाः॥

तऽजाया जाया भवति यदस्यां (तदस्यां) जायते पुनः॥
अभूतिरेषा भूतिर्बीजमेनन्निधीयते॥ (ऐ. ब्रा. पं. ७)

She who is not a wife becomes a wife – that which is again born in her. This is the birth from the birth and this seed is placed.

जाया निजा सा भवति प्रजापतेः
तस्यां स्वयं येन पतिः प्रजायते॥
नान्यः सुदृष्टान्त इहोपदिश्यते

She becomes the true wife of the Lord of children and in her the husband is born. There is no other better example than this which can be instructed in connection with the three forces of vitality in order.

तौ दम्पती प्रेमहृदा समञ्चितौ
तादात्म्ययोगात् सममानसाचितौ॥
परस्परात्मार्पणतः समन्वितौ
परापरत्वाल्लसतः स्वसन्मतौ॥२६॥538

The husband and wife are united well at heart in bonds of love, by the yoga of identity with equal minds. They are accompanied by mutual dedication and they shine with their good thoughts because one is para and the other is apara.

जायापती स्वार्थपरार्थभावात्
जायस्त्वमाप्तौ समभावयोगात्॥
स्वार्थं परार्थं परमार्थसत्त्वं

The husband and wife with the feelings of selfishness and selflessness have become spouse by the yoga of equality. By the nectar of their own experience they attain their own desires, superior wishes and the vitality of the supreme Brahman.

पत्युः सुयोगेन सुतप्रसूतेः
पत्न्यास्तु मातृत्वपदानुभूतिः॥
पत्न्याश्च योगात् पुरुषत्वभूतिः
साक्षात्कृतेः स्यादुभयोर्विभूतिः॥२८॥540

By the good union with her husband the wife experiences motherhood after the birth of son; the husband experiences the glory of manhood by his union with his wife. The glory of the realization will be the result of their mutual union for both.

तत्रान्यथा स्यात् पुरुषेष्वनिष्टं
नपुंसकत्वं भुवि लोकशिष्टम्॥
स्त्रियोऽपि वन्ध्यात्वमिहावशिष्टं

If in this connection, it should happen otherwise, it will be undesirable absence of manliness among men in this world and the most miserable barrenness among women.

योगेन च स्त्रीपुरुषात्मनोर्हितम्॥
सद्धर्मयज्ञोदितसंविदूर्जितं
स्वेन्द्रात्मसाक्षात्कृतितः समर्जितम्॥३०॥542

In order to wipe off the misery arising out of these, the union of man and woman is prescribed for mutual benefit as its prosperity is based on dharma and yajna and it is well earned by self-realization.

ब्रह्मिष्ठसत्पूरुषसम्प्रसूतये
ब्रह्मर्षिजन्माभ्युदयानुभूतये॥
तौ दम्पती योगतपोविभूतये

May the husband and wife be the cause of the birth of good men who are absorbed in the thought of Brahman, and experience the prosperity of a Brahmarshi. The glory of yoga and penance and fulfill the yoga of realization.

ब्रह्मात्मसंवित्समभाववृध्या

॥इति सप्तदशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

The yoga of realizing the supreme Brahman will be the well balanced and foremost among all branches of learning will be able to spread the Brahma vidya by a gradual process in the feeling of the equality born out of knowledge of Brahman and by making the life of a person in the pursuit of spiritual knowledge purposeful.

Thus ends the seventeenth chapter

May the good nectar of yoga revealed in the words of Brahmarshi Daivarata help the intelligent individual to dedicate whole heartedly with firm faith to spiritual knowledge through his vital airs, speech and mind; let his self be surrendered to Supreme Brahman. May the goddess of vedic hymns and Indra help him to cross over the ocean of Samsara.

The eighteenth chapter

The accessories for achieving success in the practice of yoga vidya of intellect.

The principal sacrifice prescribed for the yoga of the intellect is of three kinds. It is in accordance with vedic injunction and is surrounded by the three things namely thought, word and deed absorbed in spiritual knowledge. With the five senses its duration is five periods in the supreme spirit and spread well in the hearts with seven senses it is seven stringed.

Oh! Fire god! Come to this sacrifice of ours extending over a day, surrounded by thought, word and deed and with seven strings. You carry the offerings and go in front to dispel the long darkness. (Rg. Man. 10/124/1)

The actual form with lip and indication of these seven senses of intellect.

The vital airs and the seven sages are desirable to be seen at heart and they are special in the knowledge of all things of a wise man. They are inwardly very beneficial to the consciousness and are very excellent. They are very dear to the soul in the act of collection of wisdom.

The eighth excellent speech which is the main power of knowledge and which gives the vitality of knowledge.

The authority of an upanishadic verse in this context.

There is a vessel with bottom upwards and the hole downwards. In it the glory of all forms is placed on its bank sat seven sages and the eighth speech revealing the knowledge of Brahman was there.

The explanation of the Brahmanas on this is as follows.

Either the vital airs or the sages said to be pranas as follows 'the eighth speech reveals the knowledge of Brahman'. (Brihadaranyakopanishad)

वागष्टमी चितिपराऽन्तरिता प्रधाना
वेदात्मिका सकलसंविदितोपधाना॥

The eighth speech which is excellent and concealed is the main thing full of the spirit of the Vedas and the knowledge of the Brahman; she rises out of Indra and Agni and gives all knowledge.

In the yoga of thought, word and deed the speech which is full of luster.

The supreme yogic speech is full of lustre and being in a different space she is directed outwards the heart; it is eastern when it is opposite and good for the benefit of vital airs and being limited in the soul it is the measuring yard of all that is eastern. She is unexcelled in the northern direction.

Prana is full of water

Being full of water it spreads out, arising out of the spirit of lightning. The vital air prana is spread in the supreme spirit by the performance of karma. It is the primary thing in the interior of the heart even though it is moving in all the senses. Being very important for all it is the occupant of the president’s post.

The mind is full of food

In all people the internal limb, called the mind is obtained in the soul and is peaceful and full of food and therefore the best. It is associated with all the senses and is the prompter thereof and is responsible for good thoughts and desires free from the contact with all.

॥ऋङ्मन्त्रोदितानि चिदात्मनः तानि त्रीणि करणानि॥

(पतङ्गः ऋक्. मं. १०/१७७/२)

Those three karanas of the supreme spirit mentioned in the Rigvedic hymns.

The sun carried the speech by his mind, the gandharva said it internally in the womb. The wise seers protect it well in the immemorial pedestal as it shines with ascents.

The sun who is in all is called patanga and bears his own immortal speech by the mind internally. The vital air here in the womb will begin to sing it, being pleased by the name of gandharva in the cave like hearts of all.

(आं. मूर्धन्वान् ऋक्.मं. १०/८८/५)

A different philosophical vision dealing with the three karanas.

Oh! Fire god! You, who know all that is born, stand on the head of the universe with your resplendence. We call you by our thoughts and good words. You therefore have become worship worthy in a sacrifice enveloping heaven and earth.

He who knows everything that is born and knows all things and is full of lustre stands at the top of universe. Those who know the Vedas call him who is fit to be worshipped in a sacrifice by their, intellects, words and vital airs which participate in the yoga of the three karanas, 'thought, word and deed'.

The example of the universe which is three fold and which has a name and a form.

This universe here which is three fold by the three tattvas is visible in name, form, quality and vitality, it is followed by sattva or vitality and is comprehensible by hearing, seeing, and choice and that is done by the ear, the eye and is controlled in private.

॥श्रोत्रं शब्दश्रवणसत्त्वकम्, नेत्रं तेजोरूपदर्शननियतम्॥

The ear is full of the force of sound and hearing and the eye of form and seeing.

The ear is the instrument for hearing the voice and represents the akasa tattva and is sacred with the opening for spiritual knowledge. The eye is the agent for good light and helps vision and is controlled by the solar energy which is the eye of the universe.

प्राज्ञः परे हृदि धियां परयोगमाहुः॥१४॥558

The yoga of the five senses with the three karanas along with the eye and the ear.

The learned seers say that the yoga of the intellects in the heart is full of the spiritual knowledge of the three karanas and the function of the two ears and the two eyes and is fit to hold united course of all the five senses.

The manifestation of the supreme Brahman in the form of five gods through the powers of the five senses.

The full and entire universe arose out of the supreme Brahman who is also full. Inwardly everything with body and limbs and worthy of wisdom came out from that.

In this connection, the Rigvedic hymn of sage Narayana.

The moon was born out of mind, the sun from the eye, Indra and Agni born out of the face and wind from the life. (Narayana Rigvedic hymn 10/ /13). The quarters were born out of the ear (narayana Rigvedic hymn 10/ /14)

The description of the birth of those five senses

1) The mind – the moon was born out of the mind. The mind with a philosophical inclination is concentrated in the supreme Brahman and is full of the strength of the acts and feelings of wisdom. The moon was born out of the mind full of the effects of rasa. He is hence called the Lord of the mind full of peace.

२) चक्षुः - चक्षोः सूर्यो अजायत॥
प्रज्ञानचक्षुरपि तत् पुरुषात्मसिद्धं
तस्माच्च सूर्य उदियाय चिता समिद्धः॥
द्रष्टाऽखिलस्य जगतोऽञ्चति विश्वचक्षुः
साक्षाद् दिवीह रुचितः समदृक् समेच्छुः॥१७॥561

2) The eye- the sun was born out of the eye. The eye of deep wisdom is the soul of the supreme Brahman. From that was born the sun kindled by the thought. He is the seer of the entire world and shines as the eye of the universe. He is in fact shining in the heaven with an impartial eye.

३)वाक्- मुखादिन्द्रश्चाग्निश्च मुखादग्निरजायत॥ शुक्लयजुः॥
मुखाद् वाग् वाचोऽग्निः॥ (ऐ.उ.)

प्राणः स इन्द्रपर आत्मनि वाक्प्रमुख्यः
वागग्निरेव हि मुखे प्रविशन् स मुख्यः॥१८॥562

3) The speech – Indra and Agni were born out of the face, speech from the face and fire from the speech (Aitareya Upanishad)

The speech full of the rasa of vedic hymns was born out of the face; in the same manner, fire with Indra and both are great full of rasa. That Indra with speech leading is the life breath in the supreme Brahman. The fire of speech entering in the face is prominent.

४) प्राणः - प्राणाद् वायुरजायत॥
प्राणः स आप्य इह वैद्युतचित्तिसान्द्रः
सेन्द्रः स्वराप्तरसचित्तिकलासुमन्द्रः॥
प्राणात् स वायुरुदगात् तनुभृत् सुचन्द्रः
प्राणित्ययं परचितेन्द्रसखा स ऐन्द्रः॥१९॥563

4) Prana (vital air) – the wind was born out of life breath.

The vital air, dense with the lightning power of consciousness and with Indra deep in the art of the consciousness of rasa obtained by the accent could be easily obtained here. That wind which is the moon among men was born out of the vital air. He, the friend of Indra lives by the supreme thought.

५)   श्रोत्रम् - दिशः श्रोत्रात् अजायत॥

श्रोत्राद् दिशः समुदिताश्च दिवः समग्राः
तेऽनावृताः सुवितताः सदनेऽत्युदग्राः॥२०॥564

5) The ear “the quarters from the ear were born”

The ear is the soul of celestial universe and the cause for the quarters, following the sound and full of the quality and act of hearing. From the ear all the quarters of heaven are born. They very vast, open and very lofty in the house.

(सौचीकोऽग्निः - ऋक्. मं. ६/९/६)

The coordination of those and these five senses with their deities.

My two ears will hear and my eye will see. The celestial light is placed in the heart. My mind goes very far. Whatever my mind thinks I will say. (Rg. Mantra 6/9/6)

॥सविषयाणां तेषां पञ्चेन्द्रियाणां सवृत्तिकं सहतन्त्रम्॥

The coordinating activities of those senses with their purposes.

My two ears will fall externally in hearing and the eye falls to the act of hearing. The eternal light is well placed within the heart and that is attained able only in the soul by a living act.

The celestial mind moves far in a delicate manner as it is full of the rasa of the celestial moon and firm with the thinking of faculty. I will utter my own speech which is expressed in accordance with the thoughts of the mind.

॥सर्वेषां धीन्द्रियाणां योगेन सङ्गृहीतं समानं एकं सक्रियं ज्ञानम्॥

(सौचीकोग्निः - ऋक्. मं. ६/९/५)

By the yoga of all senses a common knowledge with good deeds is acquired.

A firm light which is visible is placed in the heart and mind runs fastest when all the senses are functioning. All the gods with one mind approach that one good knowledge. (Rg. Man. 6/9/5)

देवाः समे समनसोऽखिलधीविशिष्टं

The firm light which is capable of being seen is placed in the heart. When all the senses are falling the mind is the fastest. All the gods go towards that one goal called knowledge which is the special feature of all intellects and which is the result of sacrifice.

॥तत्रापि विशिष्टं आध्यात्मकं तत्त्वम्॥

The special metaphysical principle underlying this yoga.

In this metaphysical field called the supreme yoga of scholars and in the sacrifice of the highest knowledge, namely meditation etc. the five priests are absorbed in the performance of the five superior philosophical sacrifice to achieve their ends.

प्रत्यञ्च्यहञ्चितिकवस्तुपरं प्रतीक्ष्यं

From the one target of all excellent knowledge namely the supreme Brahman which could be seen by the proper functioning of the ear and other senses, the inner vision of Parabrahma could be expected and it can actually be seen by the yoga of intellect.

आत्माऽऽन्तरश्चितिपरः सकलेन्द्रियाप्तः

तैः पञ्चभिः सहयुतैः करणैरुपास्यः

The soul is inwardly absorbed in spiritual knowledge and is attained by all senses. It is reached by the objects of the knowledge of ‘aham’ or ‘I’. It has to be worshipped by those five senses joined together. The vital secret which gives the rasa of good yoga, deserves mention here.

॥सप्तधीन्द्रियसाध्यः सप्ततन्तुयज्ञयोगः॥

स्वान्तर्हितं करणमत्रमनश्च बुद्धिः
सप्तेन्द्रियैर्निजपराध्वरयोगसिद्धिः॥२७॥571

The yoga of sacrifice called Saptatant is possible by the seven senses of intellect.

The success of the yoga of sacrifice by seven senses depends on the five senses of intellect namely the ear and the others and their respective functions like hearing the round etc. including the interior senses namely the mind and the intellect.

एकैकमेव करणं प्रतिगृह्य शिष्टं
वागादिकं तदनुसृत्य हृदा प्रदिष्टम्॥
स्तोत्रादिकं परमुपासनमन्तरिष्टं

Each sense taking the rest namely speech and others according to the direction given by the heart, performs the desired form of worship like prayers and others and this is the specialty of all intellects.

॥प्रथमः समन्वययोगः प्रवृत्तिरूपः॥
शब्दादिकेषु विषयेषु समन्वयेन

The yoga of harmony (regular succession of order)

In all the function like sound and others, the ear and other senses should be respectively placed by a peaceful mind. By controlling the intellect in the heart, a man experiences in the inner recess of his heart an association with the supreme Brahman.

॥द्वितीयः व्यतिरेकयोगः निवृत्तिरूपः॥

The yoga of reverses (contrast or distinction)

The retirement or detachment from these external objects and the senses and association internally with the excellence of supreme knowledge and non-attachment to sensual pleasures will enable an individual towards liberation and stability of the soul.

॥तृतीयः ताटस्थ्ययोगः स्वात्मनिष्ठारूपः॥
॥प्रवृत्ति निवृत्ति क्रियाभावनादिवृत्तिरहितः॥

सन्निष्ठयाऽऽत्मनि परे सकलेषु शक्तः
स्वानन्दपूर्णरसभाक्स्वनुभावरक्तः॥३१॥575

The yoga of neutrality and form of one’s own firmness in the knowledge of the self.

An individual who is vigilant, without in the same manner, allowing the intellects to indulge in attachments externally, and absorbed in the yoga of neutrality, will be capable in all things and will experience the highest bliss by his properly guided meditation the Supreme Being.

सत्येऽन्तरात्मनि धियां स्थितिसिद्धियोगात्

॥इति अष्टादशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

By the yoga of the intellects which concentrates on the true inner conscience, that Supreme Being in return immediately respond by favoring him. When the self is under the influence of these flavors, the individual attains tranquillity by which he automatically acquires supernatural powers.

Thus ends the eighteenth chapter.

वेददेवताविभूतिपूर्णमेन्द्रचित्तमं

An individual should adore the supreme being, who in the best yogic knowledge and who is complete, who is full of the glory of the best vedic deities who is the best of the spirit of Indra and who can be easily attained by the yogic means described in the words of Daivarata.

The nineteenth chapter

For a successful realization of the yoga of intellect the Brahmopadesha by Gayathri hymn.

By the order of the preceptor through the Gayathri hymn the entire Brahmopadesha is prescribed. This has the sanction of the Vedas for the realization of the supreme Brahman which is actually seen by sages.

गायत्रिनामा परमन्त्रसंज्ञितः
तच्छन्दसा सुस्वरसत्त्वसंहितः॥
ब्रह्मात्मनः पूर्णगुणात् समार्थतः
ब्रह्मेति वेदात्ममुखात् समर्थितः॥२॥578

The excellent hymn called Gayathri constructed in a proper metre with a good accent, explains in a proper manner the full qualities of the supreme Brahman and establishes it from the face of the Vedas.

मातुः सकाशाज्जननं तदादिमं
गायत्रिवाचा व्रतबन्धयोगजम्॥
जन्म द्वितीयं द्विजसत्त्वसिद्धिदं
ज्ञानप्रकाशात् स्वमहः समृद्धिदम्॥३॥579

The first birth of an individual is from the mother. The second birth is that which gives the success to the power of a Brahmin which is the result of a yoga of an observance by the words of the Gayathri hymn and which gives prosperity for his own glory.

ब्राह्मीशरीरादिकसम्पदाप्तये
तद्ब्रह्मकर्मादिकयज्ञक्लृप्तये॥
वेदादिविद्याभ्यसने प्रवृत्तये
दिव्यं व्रतं दुर्व्यसनान्निवृत्तये॥४॥580

In order to obtain the wealth such as the physical body tuned to a Brahmi state; to enable the performance of sacrifices like Brahma karma; to engage oneself in the practice of the vedic recitation and to divert his attention from the evil thoughts and deeds this is an excellent vow of observance.

बाल्ये बटूनामुपनायनार्थं
ब्रह्मोपदेशार्थमुपासनार्थम्॥
गायत्रि सद्ब्रह्म परं शरण्यं
वेदे श्रुतं "तत्सवितुर्वरेण्यम्"॥५॥581

For young boys in their boyhood this function called the thread marriage or upanayana is celebrated to initiate them to the study of the Brahma vidya and to enable them to a form of prayer or worship. The Gayathri hymn is the shelter to them and it is called in the Vedas as 'tat saviturvarenyam' or the excellent hymn of the sun god.

वेदे बहूनां गायत्रीमन्त्राणां सत्त्वेऽपि ब्रह्मोपदेशे अस्यैव मन्त्रस्य ग्रहणे को हेतुः इति आशङ्का॥
गायत्रिसच्छान्दसदिव्यमन्त्राः
वेदे प्रसिद्धा बहवः स्वतन्त्राः॥
अस्यैव मन्त्रस्य किमर्थमिष्टं
ब्रह्मोपदेशे ग्रहणं विशिष्टम्॥६॥582

When there are many hymns in the Gayathri in the Vedas, the reason for accepting this only in Brahmopadesha is discussed.

There are many famous independent hymns in the beautiful Gayathri metre, what is the special purpose in this only at the time of Brahmopadesha.

तद्ब्राह्मणादिश्रुतिभिः स्मृतीष्टः
तस्यास्य मन्त्रस्य विधिर्न दृष्टः॥
तस्मादिदं केन विधेन कस्मात्
प्रकल्पितं किङ्करणादकस्मात्॥७॥583

The procedure for this hymn is not seen anywhere in the vedas like Brahmanas and others and the sastras. It has therefore to be found as to why this has been prescribed, by what procedure and from whom. (the explanation for this doubt)

एतदाशङ्कायाः समाधानम्॥
सर्वस्वधीयौगिकचित्समृध्यै
सर्वाधियज्ञादिकसत्त्वसिध्यै॥
सोऽयं हि गायत्रिसुमन्त्रवर्णः
स्वालम्बनार्हः सकलार्थपूर्णः॥८॥584

This Gayathri mantra which is full of all meanings and which deserves self-support is for the abundant progress of every kind of intellectual yoga and for the success of power of all sacrifices with a metaphysical import.

धीयोगविद्यादिकृतेः समर्थकः
श्रेयः सनिःश्रेयससम्पदर्थकः॥
साक्षात्कृतेर्योगकृतेर्यथाक्रमं
गायत्रिमन्त्रैकमुखादुपक्रमः॥९॥585

The commencement in the proper order of the yoga of realization through the Gayathri hymn will help the practice of yoga vidya of intellects and enable him to attain fame along with salvation.

अध्यात्मविद्याभ्युदयेन शर्मणा
तत्संविदोपासनया च कर्मणा॥
प्रापञ्चिकेऽर्थे परमार्थवित्तये
शान्त्यै च शक्त्यै प्रभवेद् विमुक्तये॥१०॥586

By a happiness which is the result of the prosperity of the philosophical learning and by an act and worship of that knowledge an individual attains peace and ability and liberation not only in worldly matters but also in spiritual affairs.

धीयोगयज्ञोऽत्र तपः प्रधानः
संवित्क्रिया भावनचिन्नधानः॥
ब्रह्मान्तरीयेन्द्रियहृत्प्रदानः
ब्रह्मात्मभावान्वयचिन्निदानः॥११॥587

The prominent thing here is penance and sacrifice of the yoga of intellect consisting of knowledge, action, feeling and thought. It exists in giving away the external and internal senses to the thought and study of supreme Brahman.

यस्मादृते तत्परचेतनात्मतो
यज्ञो न सिध्येत् परमो विपश्चितः॥
यज्ञाद्यधीशः सदसस्पतिः स्वतो
योगे धियां सोऽन्तरुदेति तत्त्वतः॥१२॥588

He, who is the Lord of all sacrifices and Lord of assemblies, without whom even the best sacrifices performed by a scholar will not bear fruit, will actually come out inwardly by himself in the yoga of intellects.

साक्षात् परोक्षादपरोक्षतश्च
तैर्भूतदेवात्मपरैस्त्रितत्त्वैः॥
अज्ञानदोषात् सकलादबाधे
मन्त्रोऽयमिष्टः परवस्तुबोधे॥१३॥589

This hymn is desirable in the knowledge of the supreme Brahman, actually invisibly or not invisibly by the three principles of living beings, gods and self without any trouble on account of ignorance.

तत् सर्ववेदप्रमुखैरमात्रं
गायत्रि मन्त्रप्रमुखैकमात्रम्॥
प्रत्यक्षपूर्णामृतदिव्यमात्रा
प्रत्यञ्चि वाचाऽत्मनि वेदमात्रा॥१४॥590

Therefore the Gayathri hymn is the important one among all the chief vedic hymns which helps an individual to concentrate inwardly by uttering the speech which is the vedic mother actually full of the celestial nectar.

छन्दस्वती ब्रह्मपरैकमन्त्रा
संवित्क्रियाभावसमैकतन्त्रा॥
गायत्रिनाम्नी सवितुः स्वतन्त्रा
धीयोगविद्याभ्युदयैकमन्त्रा॥१५॥591

The independent solar hymn called Gayathri composed in a proper meter and dealing with only supreme Brahman and with knowledge, action and thought in a harmonious manner is the only one which ensures the prosperity of the yoga vidya of the intellect.

तत् सर्ववेदाद्यधिविद्यसाध्यं
तत् सर्वथाऽन्यैरखिलैरसाध्यम्॥
गायत्रिमन्त्रैकमुखादुपास्यं
पूर्णं परं ब्रह्मधियाऽध्युपास्यम्॥१६॥592

That full supreme Brahman is possible to be only attained by all vedic lore and certainly not amenable by all other means is fit to be worshipped only through the Gayathri hymn and the yoga of intellects.

तद् वै वरेण्यं सवितुः सकाशात्
ज्योतिर्वरिष्ठं परमं प्रकाशात्॥
प्रज्ञाद्यधिष्ठानमनादिसिद्धं

That is the best, coming as it does from the sun and is the finest light from his lustre. It is the residing place of wisdom and is firmly established from time immemorial without a beginning and is full of Brahma jnana with wisdom at its centre.

धीभ्यः परं स्वान्तरधीप्रचोदकं
यत् केवलं चेतनमात्मबोधकम्॥
तद्ब्रह्म सत्यं परवस्तुरूपकं
गायत्रिमन्त्रेऽन्तरितं परात्मकम्॥१८॥594

It is superior to all intellects and prompts the intellect inwardly. That is the real supreme Brahman in the form of the most sacred object and is concealed in the Gayathri hymn as the best.

तन्निर्गुणं सर्वगुणैः प्रपूर्णं
तद्विश्वभूत्या सगुणं प्रगीर्णम्॥
सर्वान्तरेऽध्यात्मचिताऽभ्युदीर्णं
गायत्रिमन्त्रैकमुखाद् विकीर्णम्॥१९॥595

Though it is full of all qualities, it is without attributes and by its universal glory it is in things inwardly spiritually and that is emanated only through the Gayathri hymn.

प्रत्यक्षमेतत् खलु विश्वरूपं
परोक्षगं तत् परवस्त्वरूपम्॥
प्रत्यग् यदन्तः स्वचितोऽपरोक्षं
गायत्रिमन्त्रे त्रयसामरस्यम्॥२०॥596

This universal form is a fact and that the supreme Brahman is formless is realized in the invisible state. That which is experienced by one’s own knowledge inwardly in the not invisible state. All these three are uniformly seen in the Gayathri hymn.

ज्योतिर्वरेण्यं तमसः परस्ताद्
धीभ्यः परं तज्जगतः समस्तात्॥
विश्वाद्यधिष्ठानमनाद्यनन्तं
गायत्रिमन्त्रार्थपरं गुहान्तम्॥२१॥597

The supreme Brahman is the best light beyond all darkness and superior to all intellects beyond all worlds. It is the residing place of the entire universe, without a beginning and an end and the best purpose of the Gayathri hymn and the end of all concealments.

सन्ध्याद्युपास्तैरिह नित्यकर्मणा
निष्कामकर्मादिकयोगसाधना॥
नित्यं तदभ्यासकृतेऽवलम्बनं
गायत्रिमन्त्रः सकलार्थसाधनम्॥२२॥598

The yoga of performing acts without any desire or attachment, can be achieved by doing daily duties like sandhyavandana. The Gayathri hymn will help the acquisition all things and is the main stay in the practice of that yoga.

स्यात् प्रत्यवायोऽकरणेन कर्मणः
यस्य प्रमादादकृतादकर्मणः॥
फलाद्यभावः करणेऽनुकारिणां
तन्नित्यकर्मादिकयोगलक्षणम्॥२३॥599

The characteristics of the yoga of daily duties are: - it is sin if the duty enjoyed is not performed. There is no fruit to him who does not do a deed by mistake and who imitates others in doing.

सन्ध्यादिकानां सदुपासनानां
संवित्क्रियाभावसमन्वितानाम्॥
सद्ब्रह्मकर्मादिकयौगिकानां
सम्पत्तये सोऽर्हति यज्ञियानाम्॥२४॥600

An individual, who performs righteous acts like sandhyavandana, full of knowledge, act and thoughts and who is merged in the performance of sacrifices full of the yoga of supreme Brahman.

प्रापञ्चिकेऽर्थेऽपि च पारमार्थे
प्रत्यक्षतः स्वे सकले पुमर्थे॥
मन्त्रः समर्थोऽखिलसंविदर्थे
प्रज्ञानयोगाद्यनुभावसार्थे॥२५॥601

The sacred Gayathri hymn is capable of being helpful in material as well as spiritual acquisitions, in one's own ambition in life, in the knowledge of all things and in the fruitful experience of the yoga of wisdom.

सद्ब्रह्मचर्यादिमहाव्रतानां
ब्रह्मात्मसाक्षात्करणोचितानाम्॥
अध्यात्मविद्यापरसाधनानां
गायत्रिमन्त्रोऽर्हति साधकानाम्॥२६॥602

The Gayathri hymn deserves to be practiced by those sadhakas engaged in the observance of great vows like good celibacy which help in the realization of supreme Brahman and which are the best means for the acquisition of spiritual or philosophical knowledge.

ब्रह्मात्मविज्ञानपरानुभावदं
सद्ब्रह्मवर्चस्त्वगुणप्रभावदम्॥
ब्रह्मण्यसत्त्वादिगुणैरधिष्ठितं
गायत्रिमन्त्रे सकलं प्रतिष्ठितम्॥२७॥603

Everything is established in the Gayathri hymn, which gives the best experience of brahmajnana, and the qualitative influence of a well ordered celibacy and in which are deposited all the merits of the power of Brahman.

यावत् परं ब्रह्म ततं हि नित्यं
यद् वाच्य-लक्ष्याक्षरवस्तु सत्यम्॥
वाक् तावती वाचकशक्तितत्त्वा
गायत्रिमन्त्राक्षरसत्त्वनित्या॥२८॥604

As long as the supreme Brahman is spread permanently and the thing aimed at the expressed is true, so long the speech with the principle of the capacity of the expression is permanently installed in the force of the letters of the Gayathri hymn.

मन्त्रः श्रुतीष्टः प्रथमो विशिष्टः
ब्रह्मोपदेशेऽखिलवेदशिष्टः॥
ब्रह्मात्मसाक्षात्कृतये च नित्यः
सन्ध्यासु धीयोगमुखादुपास्यः॥२९॥605

The hymn which is backed by the vedic sanctions is specially first and is prescribed by the Vedas in Brahmopadesha. It has to be worshipped through the yoga of intellect in the sandhyavandana for a permanent realization of the supreme Brahman.

पूर्णे परे ब्रह्मणि चर्यमग्रियं
प्रज्ञानदं ब्रह्मविदे महाव्रतम्॥
अध्यात्मविद्यासदुपासनार्थितं
गायत्रिमन्त्रैकमुखात् समर्थितम्॥३०॥606

The meditation on the full and the supreme Brahman is the first thing to do as it gives great wisdom and is great observance for understanding Brahmajnana. This is supported only through the Gayathri hymn by observance based on the philosophical learning.

ब्रह्मात्मवेदाध्ययनं समग्रं
ब्रह्मात्मतत्त्वैकसुसंविदग्रम्॥
ब्रह्मात्मगायत्रिसुमन्त्रसाध्यं
धीयोगतो ब्रह्मविदां सुमेध्यम्॥३१॥607

The complete study of philosophy and veda and the important spiritual knowledge of self is possible by the Gayathri hymn and by the yoga of intellect which is very sacred for philosophers.

यतीनां गायत्रीमन्त्रे तदर्थरूपे ब्रह्मणि प्रवेशः॥
अन्ते तु सन्यासकृते यतीनां
गायत्रिमन्त्रे विहितः प्रवेशः॥
युक्तोऽन्तरात्मन्यपि सोऽपरोक्षे
पूर्णात्मनि ब्रह्मपरे परोक्षे॥३२॥608

The entry of ascetics to the Gayathri mantra and Brahman in the form of its meaning.

The entry into Gayathri hymn is prescribed for ascetics in the end to enable them to renounce. That is also proper inwardly in the not invisible state in the full invisible supreme Brahman.

॥इति एकोनविंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

Thus ends the nineteenth chapter.

The good nectar of the yoga of the intellect, explained by Brahmarshi daivarata supported by the vedic hymns in the form of excellent speech is true in the case of those living beings who are in the quest of supreme and gives protection to those who are in the quest of happiness and affords success through meditation.

The twentieth chapter

Gayathri manthra or hymn

The seer for this hymn is Vishwamithra, sun god is the deity. The metre is Gayathri.

(Rg. Man. 3/62/10 Sama 1462 Vaj. Suk. Yaj. 3,35,22,91 taittiriya aranyaka 1, 11, 2)

We meditate upon that shining form of the sun god which is the best of worship and which prompts our intellect.

यो नो धियां प्रेरयिता चिदात्मा
देवः परोऽसौ सविताऽखिलात्मा॥
तस्यैव तत् सत्त्वपरं शरण्यं
ध्यायेमहिज्योतिरदोवरेण्यम्॥१॥609

He who prompts our intellect to our function is the sun god who is the soul of all living beings. Therefore we meditate upon his light which is the best and which give protection.

यः नः धियः प्रचोदयात्। (तस्य) देवस्य सवितुः तद् वरेण्यं भर्गः धीमहि।
यः सविता नो अस्माकं धियो धर्मादिविषयबुद्धीः प्रचोदयात् प्रेरयेत्। तद् वरेण्यं वरणीयं देवस्य सवितुर्भर्गः प्राजापत्यं तेजोमयं रूपं वयं धीमहि ध्यायामः॥ (इति अश्वलायनगृह्यपरिष्टम्)

अन्वयानुसारेण प्रत्येकशः पदस्य तत्त्वार्थसमर्थनम्॥
योऽसौ समक्षो दिवि विप्रकृष्टः
ज्योतिर्मयो भौतिकतत्त्वदृष्टः॥
यो वै परोक्षः परचेतनात्मा
यश्चापरोक्षोऽत्र सचेतनोऽन्तः॥२॥610

The philosophical interpretation of each word in the hymn separately one by one in order.

Yah

He is actually seen at a distance in heaven, is full of light and understood by the principle of physical phenomenon, is invisible and the chief activator and is also not invisible and full of life inwardly.

त्रेधाऽत्मरूपान्निजचेतनात्मा
व्यस्तः समस्तः समताचिताऽऽत्तः॥
तत्त्वेषु तेषु त्रिषु सन्प्रमेयः
स एव पूर्णः परमस्तुरीयः॥३॥611

He is three fold from his own form and full of animation. He is nothing, everything and equal in all respects. Being measurable in all the three principles, he alone is full in the fourth.

१) नः - अस्माकम् - धियःप्रचॊदयात्
यॊऽस्माकमन्तः स्वधियः प्रचॊदयॆत्
श्रद्धामयीर्धर्मकृतौ प्रचॆतयॆत्॥
शब्दादिकॆ सद्विषयॆ सुयॊगतः
शास्त्रात् प्रवृत्त्यै श्रवणादिवृत्तितः॥४॥612

Nah-Gur (Genetive)

He prompts our intellects inwardly which are full of faith for the performance of righteous acts by the yoga of sound etc. to indulge in the study of the sastras by the act of hearing etc.

२) नः - अस्मान् - धियः प्रति प्रॆरयॆत्। अस्मान् प्रति धियः प्रॆरयॆत्
यॊऽस्मान् प्रति प्रॆरयति स्वचॆतनाद्
धियः प्रतीष्टान् परसंविदाऽन्तरॆ॥
धीयॊगतस्तान् विदुषः समीरयन्
जीवान् निजाज्जीवयतीह चॆतयन्॥५॥613

Nah-Us (accurate)

He prompts us from his own life or activity towards intellect with spiritual knowledge. Prompting those learned men by the yoga of intellect he infuses life into those living beings.

२) नः - अस्मभ्यम् - कृते धियः प्रेरयेत्
योऽस्मभ्यमन्तः परिचेतने हृदे
वेदात्मविद्यापरतत्त्वसंविदे॥
ब्रह्मात्मसत्त्वाभ्युदयाद्यनुग्रहाद्
दिव्या धियः स्वात्मचिता प्रबोधयेत्॥६॥614

Nah- to us (dative)

He awakens heavenly or wonderful intellects by his own faculty for our sake inwardly to enable us to understand the super power, and the philosophical knowledge of the Vedas by favoring us with the prosperity of the power of Brahman.

१) धियः-
य◌ा धीयतेऽन्तः करणात्मिकाऽऽत्मना
धत्ते स्वमात्मानमिमं प्रचेतनम्॥
याऽऽन्तर्यसर्वेन्द्रियचित्सुसत्त्वका
सा धीर्धियस्ताः सफलेन्द्रियात्मिकाः॥७॥615

Intellects – Dhiyah

That which, is the soul of inner conscience, is held by the soul and holds its own soul, the activator and which is the giver of spiritual power to all the internal senses, is the intellect, and those which are the souls of all senses are the intellects.

४)	प्रचोदयात् - प्रेरयेत्
प्रचोदयेद् यः स्वधियोऽन्तरे समाः
धीनां स्वयं प्रेरणया चिताऽऽत्मनः॥
धीभ्यः परोऽन्तर्हितसत्त्वचेतनः
तत्प्रेरणं चात्मनि तन्निवर्तनम्॥८॥616

Prachodayat – prerayet – prompts

He who prompts his own intellect inwardly equally, by voluntary prompting of all intellects by the supreme spirit and he who as beyond the intellects with hidden power of life, is itself the prompting and turning inwards in the soul.

५)	देवस्य - तस्य देवः
देवोऽभ्युदेता दिवि तेजसा स्वं
यो द्योतये द्योतयतीह विश्वम्॥
दिव्यः स बाह्यान्तरचित्प्रदीप्तः
सशान्ति-शक्त्यात्मचितिप्रभाप्तः॥९॥617

Devasya – (thasya) Devah – of the god

He, who is the god who rises in heaven and illuminates the entire universe of his by light for the sake of enlightenment is the celestial god who is glowing by the external or internal spirit and is enveloped by the lustre of tranquility is the spirit of self.

स्वयम्प्रकाशः परदेवतात्मा
स्वायत्तसर्वस्वविभूतिसत्त्वा॥
तस्यैव देवस्य चिता समास्ते
जीवात्मवर्गश्च जगत् समस्तम्॥१०॥618

He is self-illuminant and the soul of supreme Brahman and has under his control the power of the glory of all things. By the spiritual force of that god only, the entire universe exists full of life in itself.

६) सवितुः - सविता
यो विश्वमेतत् सुषुवेऽखिलाग्रे
ज्योतिश्चिता प्राणभृतः प्रसूते॥
योऽन्तर्धियां चेतयितेह तेषां
सन्दृश्यतेऽसौ सविता समेषाम्॥११॥619

Savituh – savita – of the sun

He, who gave birth to this universe before all and gives birth to living beings by the spirit of light and activates all intellects inwardly, is seen all of them as sun, the creator.

त्रेधा प्रसिद्धं तत् सवितृत्वम्।
१ जननम् -२ प्रेरणम् -३ सञ्चेतनम्।
सूर्ये त्रिधा स्यात् सवितृत्त्वकारणं
सञ्चेतनं तज्जननं समीरणम्॥
प्रत्यक्षतोज्यौतिषसत्स्वरूपकं
परोक्षतश्चेतनवस्त्वरूपकम्॥१२॥620

That creativity is famous in three ways – birth, prompting and activation

The cause of creativity in the sun is threefold namely, activating birth and prompting. It is actually in the form of lustre and invisibly it is the formless life giving substance.

सर्वान्तरे चेतनतोऽपरोक्षकं
सर्वात्महृद्धीन्द्रियचित्प्ररोचकम्॥
यच्चाक्षुषं ज्यौतिषमान्तरं स्वकं
त्रेधा हितं तत् सवितुः स्वरूपकम्॥१३॥621

The actual form of the sun god exists in three forms namely – through activation in all in not invisible state, through prompting the intellect and the senses of all beings and one’s own inward light of the eyes

७)   तत् - परोक्षार्थकम्
तद् वै परोक्षं परमप्रतीतं
सत्त्वेन पूर्णं सकलादतीतम्॥
तत् किञ्चिदेवेति विदां प्रतीतं
सत्यं ह्यनिर्वाच्यमितोऽनुनीतम्॥१४॥622

Tat – (invisible sense)

That is indeed invisible which is very famous, full of vitality and beyond all things. The wise people know it as very little, true, inexpressible and accessible.

८)   वरेण्यम् - श्रेष्ठं वरिष्ठं वरणीयम्
स्त्रीणां यथाऽयं पुरुषो वरेण्यः
सर्वेष्टसत्त्वेन वरोऽनुगुण्यः॥
श्रेष्ठः स दिव्यो वरणीय इष्टः
श्रेयः सनिःश्रेयसकृद् वरिष्ठः॥१५॥623

Varenyam – (best, excellent, fit to be chosen)

Just as a man is fit to be chosen for women, as the best and proper by the power desired by all and also that supreme being is preferably chosen as the best, as he is the cause of all the things good and also liberation.

तद्वद् वरं श्रेष्ठतमं वरेण्यं
पूर्णं परञ्ज्योतिरदः शरण्यम्॥
प्रत्यक्षतः सद्वरणीयमाप्यं
स्वान्तर्बहिस्तत् परतः समाप्यम्॥१६॥624

In the same manner, the most excellent, full and choicest supreme Brahman full of resplendence has to be chosen and obtained as it actually pervades all things both internally and externally.

९)   भर्गः - पाकभर्जनादिकरणं ज्योतिः तेजः
भर्गोऽत्र पाकार्थकमेव तेजः
कालाग्निरुद्रात्मकवैद्युतौजः॥
चिद्रूपमज्ञानतमोविनाशात्
सन्तापपापादिहरं प्रकाशात्॥१७॥625

Bhargah – (ripe – resplendent light – glory)

Bharga is only ripe glory full of the light of lightning with the power of rudra who is the fire of time; it is the form of spiritual knowledge which destroys the darkness of ignorance and which by its lustre removes all skin like misery and others.

दिव्यं सुतेजोऽभ्युदितं सरूपं
बाह्यं तदेकाग्रदृशाऽनुदृश्यम्॥
धीभिः परं ध्येयमिहात्मनीष्टं
ध्यायेत् निजान्तः प्रतिसन्निधेयम्॥१८॥626

The heavenly glory has arisen with a form and it can be seen externally by a firm vision fixed on it. That can be well meditated upon by intellects internally. One should hold it inwardly by constant worship.

१०) धीमहि, ध्यायामः,ध्यायेमहि
ध्यायेत् निजान्तर्हृदि धीमहीति
ध्यायेमहीत्याशुनिधीमहीति॥
सम्भावयेत् तत् प्रति भावयेति
जीवाः परञ्ज्योतिरशीमहीति॥१९॥627

Dhimahi – let us meditate

All living beings should meditate in their inner hearts that supreme Brahman with effulgent light by saying "let us quickly concentrate, worship and obtain it".

ध्यायन्त्स्वलक्ष्यं परवस्तुरूपं
ध्याने विलीयेत परेस्वरूपे॥
ध्येयात्मनि स्वे परमेऽप्यरूपे
ध्यातृप्रमाप्ते परबिन्दुरूपे॥२०॥628

Meditating upon that supreme Brahman which is not visible the individual should merge himself in the worship worthy Parabrahma which is formless yet exists in the form of a dot.

धीभिर्वरेण्यं निजचेतनापरं
ध्येयं हृदय्यं पररूपमान्तरम्॥
ध्यायेत् सुनिण्यं परवस्तुचित्परं
ध्यानं परं स्वात्मनि संविदुत्तरम्॥२१॥629

The individual should meditate upon the Supreme Being inwardly as it is the choice of the intellect and fit to b worshipped. Because excellent inward meditation is the best type of knowledge.

(निण्यम् इति गुप्तार्थकं पदं वैदिकम्, निण्यः सन्नद्धो मनसा चरामि)

सन्धीयतां तत् परवस्तु चेतनं
ध्यातृस्वरूपात्मबृहन्निकेतनम्॥
निधीयतां सन्निधिवत् सनातनं
सन्ध्यायतां नान्दनविद्रसायनम्॥२२॥630

May that Supreme Being which is the huge residing place of the form of the one who meditates, be meditated upon. Let it be placed like an everlasting treasure. Let it be worshipped like the rasa of all types of bliss.

इमे हि जीवाः सकलाद्यधीशं
प्रचेतनं प्राणभृतां चिदीशम्॥
तत्प्रेरिताभिः सह सर्वधीभिः
उपासते जीव-जगत्-परेशम्॥२३॥631

These living beings worship the supreme Lord of all, who activates the animate, who is the Lord of inner conscience and who is the over Lord of the life and the universe by all intellects prompted by him.

जीवाः समस्ताः परमं तमीशं
चिज्ज्योतिरात्मानमिमं स्वधीशम्॥
धीयोगयज्ञैः समुपासमानाः
तं प्राप्य सत्यामुपयान्ति शान्तिम्॥२४॥632

All living beings worshipping the supreme Lord who is the beacon light by self-knowledge by sacrifices of yoga of intellect and reaching him attain real tranquility.

बहुधा विधिना ध्यानयोगसाधना
तत्र मन्त्रयन्त्रतन्त्राणां सहयोगः
दिव्यं सुचित्रं सुगुणं सरूपकं

ज्योतिर्मयं तद्विदुराधिदैवतं
सूर्याग्निविद्युत्परकं त्रिमूर्तिकम्॥२५॥633

The achievement of the yoga of meditation and the manifold procedure.

The cooperative yoga of mantra, yantra and tantra

The three fold form of the supreme Brahman, which is immortal, wonderful, full of attributes and form, visible, consisting of the light and the sun, fire and lightning.

छन्दस्वती वाङ्मयी वेदमन्त्रमयी परमात्ममूर्तिः॥
छन्दोमयं सस्वरमन्त्रमूर्तिकं
वाच्यं परं वस्तुमयं सुकीर्तिकम्॥
ज्योतीरसात्मैकगुणादिसत्त्वकं
प्रत्यक्षगं सत् परमार्थसत्त्वकम्॥२६॥634

The form of the supreme Lord consisting of metre, speech and vedic symbols

The visible existing form of the supreme Brahman is the vedic hymn with proper accent composed in an appropriate metre which is so excellently expressed as to be famous and full of power of attributes of light and rasa.

वाचोऽपि तस्या लिपिरूपमूर्तिः
साक्षात् प्रतीकाक्षरचिद्विभूतिः॥
वाग्यज्ञरूपे प्रजपे च पाठे
स्वालम्बनार्हं सगुणं सरूपम्॥२७॥635

The script is the form of the words of that supreme Brahman, and is the spiritual glory of the limb like letters. This is full of attributes and form fit for self-support in the sacrifice of speech in the form of counting the beads and reading.

सद्रूपरेखाक्षरवर्णरूपिता
वाङ्मन्त्रमूर्तिर्लिपितः सुसंस्कृता॥
ध्यानादियोगे सदुपासनादिके
सैकाग्रतायामवलम्बनोचिता॥२८॥636

The speech in the form of Vedic hymns is well constructed through speech by lines and letters. In the yoga of meditation and worship it adequately supports concentration.

प्रकल्पितानामपि देवतात्मनां
मूर्तिः सुचित्रा रचिताऽवलम्बने॥
तन्मन्त्ररेखाऽऽकृति यन्त्रभावना
स्यान्मन्त्र-यन्त्राश्रिततन्त्रसाधना॥२९॥637

The wonderful form of godly things thought of is drawn in this support. The hymn is in the form of lines, the mystical formula is the feeling and the achievement of the success in the system depends on the hymns and diagrams.

मन्त्रं विदुर्वाचकवाक्स्वराक्षरं
संवित्परं सन्मननार्थकं परम्॥
यन्त्रं हि रेखाऽऽकृतिसत्स्वरूपकं
सद्वस्तुसद्भावनसत्प्रतीककम्॥३०॥638

That which is full of expressive words with letters and accents and excellent spiritual knowledge is the vedic hymn which is fit to be meditated upon. The instrument is in the form of a diagram drawn by lines with good things and thoughts all over.

तन्त्रं तयोर्योगपरं स्वतन्त्रं
वाक्प्राणहृत्कर्मकृते सुचित्रम्॥
ध्यानादियोगे त्रितयं समस्तं
ध्येयं समालम्बनमन्तराप्तम्॥३१॥639

The mystic formula is independent and excellent union of the mantra and the yantra which is wonderful in enabling the performance of duties, speech and life. All the three are very useful in yoga of meditation and the supporting supreme Brahman is attained inwardly.

तत्रापि बाह्यान्तरदृक्सुतन्त्रात्
तत्त्वादियोगात् स्वचितात् स्वतन्त्रात्॥
गायत्रिमन्त्रप्रजपाद्युपास्तौ
ग्राह्यं प्रतीकं श्रुतिदृक्प्रशस्तौ॥३२॥640
इति विंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

Even there by means of external and internal visions, by the yoga of philosophy, by one’s own spiritual knowledge and independent means, the image has to be taken in the acts of worship like the japa or Gayathri hymn, and the famous acts of Vedic vision.

Thus ends the twentieth chapter.

यः परः प्रचेतनः प्रचोदयेद् धियः सतां
ज्योतिरस्य तद्वरेण्यमन्तरेऽध्युपास्यताम्॥
दैवतात्मसंविदे धियाऽखिलं समस्यतां
दैवरातधीसुयोगसंविदा समास्यताम्॥२०॥

Let the beacon light of him who activates and prompts the intellects of the good people be worshipped inwardly. Let everything that is narrated in the yoga of intellect by Brahmarshi Daivarata, be properly understood by the intellect.

The twenty first chapter

The yoga of meditation y the meaning of the Gayathri hymn is in accordance with the three fold philosophy.

The act of meditation by the materialistic vision

He who is seen as the eye of the universe, who is full of light and who is the creator, clear to all, enters this our inward eye by his own light and gives birth to intellects.

सर्वान्तरास्ताः स्वधियः समाप्ताः
स्वतॆजसा प्रॆरयति प्रसुप्ताः॥
रूपादिकॆ तद्विषयॆ प्रसक्ताः
स्वान्तः समाकर्षयति स्वसक्ताः॥२॥642

He prompts, by his own lustre, all the internal inert intellects, which are absorbed in material form etc. and attracts them towards himself.

देवस्य तस्यैव रवेर्वरिष्ठं
स्वप्रेरकं ज्योतिरदः प्रपश्यन्॥
तत्प्रेरिताभिर्निजधीभिरन्तः
ध्यायन् निजाधारतयाऽऽश्रयीत॥३॥643

Seeing that excellent prompting light of that sun god himself, an individual should take shelter under his own support meditating inwardly by his own intellect prompted by him.

तत्तेजसो दर्शनतश्च साक्षाद्
गायत्रिमन्त्रस्य जपेन वाचा॥
प्राणेन चानुस्वरणात् स्वतन्त्रं
श्रुत्या निजान्तः श्रृणुयात् स्वमन्त्रम्॥४॥644

By actually seeing his lustre and by counting beads with the Gayathri hymn or by reading it and reciting it independently with the vital air, an individual should inwardly bear his own hymn by his ear.

मन्त्रार्थसंविद्द्युतया धियाऽन्तः
मनोऽनुभावान्मननात् तदर्थे॥
दिव्ये धियो ज्योतिषि सन्निधाय
ज्योतिः स्वयोगादनुसन्दधीत॥५॥645

With an intellect which is full of knowledge of the meaning of the hymns and with the mind which is constantly thinking on it, the individual should commune with the light by his own yoga after placing properly all his intellects in the immortal light.

अधिदैवतदृष्ट्या ध्यानप्रक्रिया
प्रत्यक्षसिद्धे सवितर्यमुष्मिन्
प्रत्यङ्परोऽन्तर्हित आन्तरः सन्॥
प्रचेतनो यः परदेवतात्मा
परोक्षसिद्धः पुरुषः स पूर्णः॥६॥646

The acts of meditation by the divine vision

He who conceals himself inwardly in this real sun god and who is godly and active, is full and successful in the invisible state.

तस्येशितुः केवलचेतनात्मनः
तत्त्वाधिदैवादुदितात् परात्मनः॥
ज्योतिर्मयोऽसौ सविता परा तनुः
प्रद्योतमानोऽत्र दृशा प्रदृश्यताम्॥७॥647

The lustrous sun god is the sacred body of that Lord who has only the life as his soul and who is born out of the divine principle of the supreme Brahman. Let him be seen by a vision which he is shining.

यो वै परात्मा स परोक्ष एव सन्
अचेतनांश्चेतयति स्वचेतनात्॥
सर्वान्तरीया अपि ताः समा धियः
सचेतनास्ताः प्रति भावयत्यलम्॥८॥648

He who is the high souled being invisible infuses the life into the inanimate into his own life. All those well balanced inward intellects will be full of life and will sufficiently think.

तद्दिव्यरूपं सवितुर्वरिष्ठं
साक्षात्प्रपश्यन्निहबाह्यदृष्ट्या॥
ध्यायन्निजान्तःप्रजपन्स्वमन्त्रं
ज्योतिःप्रपद्येतपरंपरोक्षम्॥९॥649

The vision of the best seer is very sacred. The sun god who is beyond all visions is heavenly and visible. By seeing by his own intellect with self for witness, the individual will reach the best of the seers.

द्रष्टुः परस्यात्मन एव दृक्परः
दिव्योऽनुदृश्यः सविता दृशोत्तरः॥
अमुं प्रपश्यन् स्वधियाऽऽत्मसाक्षिकं
द्रष्टारमेवायमियात् तमुत्तमम्॥१०॥650

Seeing that excellent heavenly form of the sun god here actually be external vision, meditating inward and repeating the sacred hymn, the individual shall attain that Supreme Being invisibly.

मन्त्रार्थतत्त्वानुगुणानुयोगात्
साक्षात्कृतिः प्रक्रियया प्रयोगात्॥
ध्यानेन सन्धारणया समाधेः
ध्यातुर्भवेत् संयमयोगसिद्धेः॥११॥651

By the yoga of the principle of the sense of the hymn and by the experiment of the meditative action, realization will be within reach of the person who meditates with perfect control.

धीयोगतः संयमयोगसत्त्वने
ध्यातृस्वरूपाय सतेऽखिलात्मने॥
तादात्म्ययोगात् त्रिपुटीपरात्मने
स्वीयोऽन्तरात्मा स्वधिया समर्प्यताम्॥१२॥652

In the vital yoga of self-control through the yoga of intellect let the individual dedicate himself by the yoga of the identity to the Supreme Being who is three fold.

अध्यात्मतत्त्वदृष्ट्या ध्यानप्रक्रिया॥
सर्वान्तरो योऽत्र सचेतनोऽयं
प्रत्यश्चि सिद्धोऽप्यहमाऽधिकायम्॥
अध्यात्ममन्तः स्फुरतीह नित्यं
धियश्च नः प्रेरयति स्वसत्यम्॥१३॥653

The act of meditation by the metaphysical vision

This sun god here is full of life is present inwardly in all beings and is well accomplished in philosophical knowledge and beyond the physical body. He always inspires the philosophy inwardly and prompts our intellect with his own truth.

योऽसौ धियां प्रेरयिता चिदात्मा
सोऽन्तर्हितोऽयं सविताऽन्तरात्मा॥
तस्यास्य चिज्ज्योतिरिहात्मसत्त्वं
ध्यायेमहि प्रत्यगुपाहितं स्वम्॥१४॥654

He, who is the spiritual prompter of intellects is the concealed inner conscience, the sun god his spiritual light here is the soul vitality which we meditate.

योगेन धीभिः स्वसमाहिताभिः
चिदात्मसत्त्वप्रतिचोदिताभिः॥
सर्वाद्यधिष्ठानपरं शरण्यं
सन्धीयतां ज्योतिरुपाश्रयार्हम्॥१५॥655

May that light which is worthy of admitting shelter, the resort and the residing place for all, be meditated upon, by the yoga and intellects mustering within one’s self, which are prompted by the force of spiritual knowledge.

अन्तरात्मने धीसर्वस्वसमर्पणम्॥

स्वान्तर्हितायैव चितेऽन्तरात्मने॥
स्वध्यानलीनाय परात्मधीसमं
समर्प्यतामन्तरहञ्चितेः समम्॥१६॥656

Dedication of the entire intellects to the inner conscience

Let the entire intellect be dedicated to the supreme spirit which is in the form of meditator, which is concealed within one’s own self and which is merged in one’s own meditation for the realization.

तत्त्वत्रयार्थान्वयेन गायत्रीमन्त्रेण जप-ध्यान-योगाद्युपासना॥

प्रेया पराचीवचसोच्चरन्ती॥१७॥657

Worship in the form of japa and yoga by the Gayathri hymn in accordance with the interpretation of the three principles

That yogic speech flashing to the individual by the principle of philosophy, being remembered by the mind and being pronounced with the accent at once inwardly by the vital air is uttered externally by word and is very dear.

वाचं निजां तामवलम्ब्य वैखरीं
जपन् सुश्रृण्वन् परमन्त्रसञ्चरीम्॥
वाच्यं सदर्थं स्वनुचिन्तयन् धिया
जानन् निजान्तर्विरमेत मेधया॥१८॥658

Depending on that vaikhari speech of his own, repeating and hearing the beautiful intonations of the excellent hymn, thinking by his intellect the good expressive meaning and understanding by his thoughts inwardly, the individual should attain peace.

स्वामेव वाचं प्रतिलोमसंस्थां
स्वान्तर्मुखां तामनुसृत्यमुख्याम्॥
गायत्रिमन्त्रस्वरितां सुसूक्ष्मां
आवर्तयेत् प्राणगुणक्रियाप्ताम्॥१९॥659

Following his own primary speech which is turned inwards and which exists in every fibre, which is minutely accented with the Gayathri hymn, the individual should repeat it through the vital airs.

प्रज्ञात्मिकां सूक्ष्मतरां हृदाऽऽन्तरां
मनोमयीं तां मनसैकसंस्वराम्॥
आवर्तयन्त्स्वेरितमन्त्रकाक्षरां
प्रत्यङ्मुखां स्वां प्रतिभावयेत् पराम्॥२०॥660

Repeating that subtle, inward, intelligent speech consisting of letters of the hymn prompted by himself which is full of good thoughts by heart, he should meditate on the supreme inwardly.

स्वान्तर्हिता सूक्ष्मतमा निजा परा
स्वात्मान्विता केवलचेतनास्वरा॥
संवित्परा ब्रह्मचितिप्रसाधिनी
सन्धीयतां सर्वधियां प्रबोधिनी॥२१॥661

May that supreme power which is hidden within, which is extremely subtle, which is accompanied by self, whose accents are full of life, which is the best knowledge and helps to acquire the knowledge of Brahman and which is the awakener of all intellects, be meditated upon.

आत्मन्यहम्प्रत्ययबीजरूपां
पूर्णात्मचिद्बिन्दुकलास्वरूपाम्॥
धीर्योगतोऽन्तः स्वनुसन्दधीत
वाचा प्रतीच्या परमाश्रयीत॥२२॥662

By the yoga of intellect one should commune inwardly within himself with that power which is the origin of self-confidence and whose form the full dot of self-consciousness and seek shelter under the supreme by the yogic speech.

तां मौनसत्त्वां परमां स्ववाचं
ब्रह्मात्मतत्त्वां प्रति सन्दधानः॥
अन्यास्त्यजेत् प्राङ्मुखगास्तु वाचः
ब्रह्मात्मनो नान्यदपीह चिन्त्यम्॥२३॥663

Communing with that supreme speech whose power is silence and whose philosophy is the supreme Brahman, the individual should abandon all other speeches before him, as for a man absorbed in the thought of Brahman, nothing else should be thought of here.

प्राणेन योऽन्तर्हृदि जीव आत्मा
समुच्छ्वसंश्चेतनया स्वरेण॥
गायत्रिनाम्नीमृचमीशवाचं
गायत्युपास्त्या परयाऽऽत्मवाचा॥२४॥664

That individual who, in his inner heart, sings the Gayathri hymn by worship in his own best speech, with an accent breathing life (will always be protected).

गायन्तमेनं निजदिव्यवाचं
गायत्रिवाचेन्द्रमुपासमानम्॥
सैव स्वयं स्वीयमनन्यभावात्

That speech alone will well protect him who sings his own immortal speech and worships the Indra by Gayathri hymn, as her own with a feeling of close intimacy and by the yoga of the self with the powerful intellect.

दिव्यः परोऽसौ सविता दिनेशः
छन्दोमुखात्मा पुरुषः परेशः॥
दिव्यामिमां वाचमृचं स्वशक्त्या

The Lord of the day, is the sun god with a creative power, who is supreme and immortal, who has the metre face as his own soul, who, breathing by his own power, this beautiful heavenly hymn, sings it with the proper accent.

साक्षादियं ब्रह्मपरा समर्था
वाग् ब्रह्मणः स्वस्य पतिं बृहन्तम्॥
गायत्रिवाचा पुरुषं महान्तं

This speech is actually capable of giving the knowledge of Brahman and protects that great man who recites it by the hymn of Gayathri and who worships the Lord of speech and also the meaning hidden in the accents.

छन्दस्वता स्वेन च वाङ्मुखेन
निजार्थरूपं परमात्मतत्त्वम्॥
जिज्ञासवे नित्यमुपादिशन्ती

This speech which always teaches the real sense of her form and the philosophy of the supreme Brahman by her own words constructed in meters, to the person who is always desirous of pursuing knowledge protects him who is well self-disciplined.

This hymn, is at once fit to be such by constant inward meditation, and quite independent and charming, full of meaning and committing it to heart, it will be possible to understand it for one's own benefit and for the spiritual benefit.

The letters in the gayathri hymn are creative in effect and root cause of all the Vedas and other texts. The hymn is useful in all rituals connected with the sacrifices of knowledge and holds the characteristics of the vitality of all that is in the Vedas or scriptures.

By the initiation of the young into the study of the Brahma vidya and by the blessings and favors of a good teacher the worship is through the gayathri hymn and it is the end of all vedic studies.

॥इति एकविंशीकला सम्पूर्णा॥

The Gayathri hymn which is full of power of the expression of the soul of Brahman, which is recited through the speech of supreme Brahman, the spiritual speech is given out.

Thus ends the twenty first chapter.

भूतदैवतात्मतत्त्वकैस्त्रिभिः सहास्यतां

Let the worship be undertaken with the three principles namely materialistic, divine and the metaphysical; let the inner light be meditated upon by one's own intellects; let the three forces namely divine, soul and spiritual be arisen; let the yogic intellects be properly understood by the rasa of the speech of Brahmarshi Daivarata.

The twenty second chapter

The forces of the meaning of great statements like "I am Brahman" and "you are that" in the gayathri hymn.

It has been shown only through the Gayathri hymn; the secret Upanishad has been analyzed through the Vedas. The philosophical principle has been brought to light through the great statements. Everything has been clearly explained, truly from the spiritual knowledge of the Vedas.

ब्रह्माहमस्मीत्यपरोक्षसत्त्वं
यत् तत्त्वमस्यादिवचः प्रमाप्तम्॥
प्रज्ञानचिद्ब्रह्म परोऽयमात्मा

That which has been obtained by the estimate of words like "you are that" etc. is the power in the not invisible state of "I am Brahman". This soul which has no beginning glory is always merged in the good thoughts of Brahman, resulting in pure happiness.

यद् वेदतस्तत्त्वमसीति वेदितं

May that which knows from the Vedas as "you are that" be comprehended as "I am that" by the intellect. That, indeed is the internal prompter of all intellects and is above them all as the root force of all.

That which is one inner conscience and prompts our intellects inwardly and which is full of vitality of bliss and philosophy is the supreme Brahman. He who practices the Gayathri knows it well.

He who, being inside is the soul of the sun god and being in all is the soul of the movable is the supreme Brahman. Who is merely in the form activity and who the chief target of the Gayathri hymn is.

योज्योतिरात्मा पुरुषः पुराणः

Others worship through meditation by the yoga of intellect that spiritual light within themselves by self-discipline or analysis through the immortal speech embodied in the Gayathri hymn and through the immortal speech embodied in the Gayathri hymn and through the vision of the philosophical interpretation of that speech.

ध्यानं मनोभावगुणप्रधानं
ज्ञानप्रधानाऽऽत्मनि भावना स्यात्॥
नित्यं तदभ्यासकृतिप्रधाना

The main characteristics of meditation are the aptitude of the mind and the good attributes and the chief quality of the inward thought is knowledge. The perpetual worship exists mainly in practicing that quality of vital air.

By the practice of the yoga of intellect in a proper manner and by engrossing the thought in the supreme Brahman which is full of light, that is visualized by saying 'dheemahi' (we think of it), and meditation is upon the good object in which it is vitally absorbed.

ध्येयं परं ध्यातृगुणोपलक्ष्यकं
पूर्णात्मकं ब्रह्म हि विश्वसाक्षिकम्॥
ध्यानार्थकं तत्प्रति धारणार्थका-

The supreme Brahman which is full and fit to be meditated upon and in universally witnessed is visible through the qualities of the meditator. That is the purpose of the meditation and is the main support at the base of the purposeful dharana.

विश्वाद्यधिष्ठानकबिन्दुतत्त्वकं
पूर्णात्मकं ब्रह्मतदिन्द्रसत्त्वकम्॥
ध्येयं सुगेयं च विदा प्रमातृकं
गायत्रिमन्त्राक्षरशस्तदापकम्॥१२॥684

That supreme Brahman is full and has the philosophy of the 'bindu' or the point which is the residing place for the universe etc. and possesses the power of Indra. It can be meditated upon and be sung, be measured by knowledge and gives the glory to the letter contained in the Gayathri hymn.

ध्यानं तदेकाग्रधियाऽनुचिन्तनं
तद्ब्रह्म तेजः पररूपदर्शनात्॥
रूपं हि तद् बाह्यदृशा च संविदा

Meditation is that constant thinking of the supreme Brahman with concentration, the glory of the Brahman is that which comes out of the vision of the supreme form. That is the form which by its own merits is realized inwardly both by external vision and knowledge.

पूर्णे परोक्षे सवितुः परात्मनि
प्रचेतनेऽन्तः पुरुषे परात्परे॥
चिज्ज्योतिषे वस्तुपदे प्रवेशनाद्

When the full and invisible Lord is in the sun god and when the supreme Lord who is the life giver is in the interior, by entering into the spiritual light in the materials around, the state of the intellects is to see them by one's own vision.

Philosophy consists in visualizing that which is hidden and in seeing the target by non-winking eyes. By yogic detachment in the soul, the greatest favour will be in the inward form of the intellects of the yoginis.

In this manner, that vitality of the supreme sense is hidden in various ways in this Gayathri hymn. Therefore this hymn alone has been accepted by the sages at the time of Brahmopadesha by the sastras.

॥पुरा कल्पे स्त्रीणां गायत्रीमन्त्रोपदेशसत्त्वम्॥

The vitality of teaching the Gayathri hymn to women in the ancient kalpa

In ancient kalpas the vedic culture allowed even women to observe the rules and rites prescribed in the Vedas, on equal footing with men in regard to the yoga of the Vedas, upanayana and the Gayathri mantropadesha.

केचित् पुराकल्प इति प्रकाशनाद्

Some are of the opinion that it is a different yuga as it is stated in ancient kalpa and therefore very old. That old vedic ritual is prescribed and in reality is ordained by vedic rules.

तदिष्यते सम्प्रति वर्तमानया
क्रियापदार्थान्वितया समानया॥
यज्ञादिधर्मार्हतयाऽनुकामया
सा यज्ञपत्नी यजमानमानया॥१९॥691

That is now desired by the existing women who want to perform sacrifice son equal footing with action and things because they are all fit to perform such righteous as the sacrifice.

Women who are philosophical minded

Women who are experts in Vedas, sacrifices, righteous knowledge, real knowledge, yoga, self-knowledge and penance for realization are called philosophers.

वाग्- आम्भृणी स्त्री प्रमुखा पुरातनी

The women at once

The woman at once is initiated by the proper rites, married and trained for the study of Vedas. Thus purified she is called a woman philosopher and is fit to understand the knowledge of the Brahman and the Vedas.

॥गायत्र्यादिवेदमन्त्राणां अर्थज्ञानस्यावश्यकता॥

The necessity for properly understanding the vedic hymns like the Gayathri

There are three senses for every vedic hymn based on the three principles namely – literal sense, the figurative sense and the philosophical sense. Therefore they will be of use if they are understood with the knowledge of their real sense. They will prove useless without that knowledge.

॥अर्थज्ञानाभावेऽपि स्वतन्त्रफलप्रदा मन्त्रशक्तिः॥
॥अर्मन्यमानां अभिमन्यमानैर्निर्ब्रह्मभिंरधमो दस्युमिन्द्र (ऋ. मं. १/३३०/९)

The power of vedic hymn bears fruit independently even without the knowledge of sense, oh! Indra

The power of vedic hymn is fruitful, independent and is associated with action even when there is absence of knowledge. It, therefore, can be applied through karma yoga with all the symbols by concentration.

॥निष्कामवृत्तिकृतकर्मयोगेन जपयज्ञयोगसिद्धिः॥

The success of japayajna by acts performed without any desire

Through karma yoga earned by freedom of desire or attachment the vedic hymns recited in japa will bear fruits when applied. That vedic hymn may also be powerful enough to generate knowledge and is independent in bearing the fruit on this earth.

॥नित्यकर्मात्मकं ब्रह्मकर्म॥

स्यात् प्रत्यवायो विहितः सबाधः॥
तद्ब्रह्मकर्माचरणे प्रबोधः

The Brahma karma is in the daily routine

Therefore, the fault in the non-performance of the prescribed daily routine occurs and the remedy prescribed for it is very troublesome. One should be alert in the performance of Brahmakarma to avoid the absence of fruits or result.

॥तन्नित्यकर्माद्युपासने गायत्रीमन्त्रावलम्बनम्॥

Therefore, the Gayathri mantra has to be resorted to in the performance of daily routine.

The whole hearted dependence through the worship of japa by a good knowledge of the sense of the Gayathri hymn, will always help the deity to shine with lustre in the heart with pleasure by repeating the letters of hymn in cycles.

॥प्रत्यक्ष ब्रह्मपरः गायत्रीमन्त्रः॥

The Gayathri hymn actually reveals the Brahman

The excellent vedic hymn in the form of Gayathri is in reality very sacred as it reveals the Brahman. It is fit to be recited in all sacrifices performed through the yoga of intellect and is independent in helping the realization of the supreme Brahman.

गायत्रिमन्त्राध्युपदेशयोगात्
स्वान्तश्चितोपासनधीप्रयोगात्॥
साऽऽध्यानतो धारणया समाधिः

By the yoga of the superior instruction of the Gayathri hymn and by the experiment of the intellectual worship by internal construction, the statue of Samadhi will be obtained by deep meditation and firmness of the mind and by the yoga of self-restraint will be an accomplished fact.

That is seen in vedic hymns and Upanishads and is taught by great sages through Brahman. All that has a philosophical interpretation and rests on the analysis of truth and experience.

ब्रह्मात्मनो ज्ञानपरे स्वयज्ञे

In his own sacrifice of knowledge pertaining to Brahman and self, he is an expert in the rasa of that Brahman and Gayathri. He is also capable of understanding the feeling of the supreme Brahman, the symbol of which is mental tranquility with power.

॥इति द्वाविंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

By the knowledge of Brahman obtained through the Gayathri which is the soul of the Brahman, by that self-bliss which has arisen out of the feeling of that supreme Brahman and by a whole hearted yoga of the realization of that Brahman, the state of complete concentration in it will always be obtained.

Thus ends the twenty second chapter.

The great philosophical interpretation of the great statements like "I am Brahman" and "that is you" is latent within one's own self. May that be experienced in the beautiful hymn which protects those who sing it through the intellectual yoga sung by Maharshi Daivarata.

The twenty third chapter

The accessories for the practice of the yoga of intellect. The three senses relating to the supreme spirit.

The self which is in the interior of all is the prompter of all intellects; it is the seer, the performer and its witness of the thinking principle. Knowledge, desire, action are its forces and are turned inwards with the sole function of revealing the supreme spirit.

॥त्रिशक्तिपराणि सर्वान्तराणि तानि त्रीणि करणानि॥

Those three sense which are in the interior of all and which are full of the three powers.

Only three sense which are situated in the interior here are full of the vitality of the intellectual sense. They enable us to achieve all the things external and internal and are inclusive of the yoga of.

संवित्प्रदानेऽपि तु वागियं गतिः॥३॥707

This excellent word or speech in the self is primarily full of knowledge and in the interior of it concerns the supreme spirit. The superior intellect is trying to grasp the knowledge of the sound etc. and even in the grant of knowledge, this word alone is the.

वागत्र कर्मप्रमुखा तु वैखरी

The vaikhari speech, has the deed predominant in it and is here expressed according to the words used therein. The vital air helps in the attainment of the power of action and the mind is entirely full of the internal desire for the good feeling or thoughts.

॥अन्नमयं हि सौम्य मनः, आपोमयः प्राणः, तेजोमयी वाक्॥ छा.उ.६॥

The speech full of lustre is the form of the knowledge of the supreme spirit, the vital air full of water and the mind has the vitality of food. The presiding deities are the sun, Indra and fire respectively and are in heaven, sky and earth.

The vitality of speech has principle of the mystic hymn underlying it and that is bhur, bhuvah, suvah which represents the three worlds. It is obtained by three luster, has the sense of the presiding deity. It is full of possibilities and represents the three senses.

॥त्रयी योगेन त्रिकरणप्रपत्तिः॥

That which has to be recited as a hymn is in the form of three Vedas and the symbol is RK, Yajur and Sama. That is full of the Vedas and has the sense of the three senses. By that hymn I take refuge under speech which is RK, under the mind which is Yajur and under the vital air which is Sama.

That which is full of speech, mind, vital air is like a family having many children with father and mother. The speech itself is mother here, and the mind is the father and the vital airs are the children. These are three senses.

The principle of the form of the three senses. That which is known, which has to be known and not known.

That which is known in the self is in the form of speech that which has to be known is they call the form of the mind. Probably that which is unknown here is the secret of the vital airs.

स वाङ्मयः प्राणमयो मनोमयः॥१०॥714

This soul is full of speech, life and mind

The soul by itself is merely full of vitality or animation and has spread three fold because of the order of the three senses. Being full of knowledge, action, feeling, glory and goodness it is pervaded by speech, life and the mind.

॥करणत्रयेण वाक्प्राणमनोरूपेण सह श्रोत्रनेत्राभ्यां योगेन पञ्चधीन्द्रिययोगः॥

योगार्थकं धीन्द्रियपञ्चकाप्तम्॥११॥715

The yoga of the five senses of intellect by the association of the ear and eye together with the three senses in the form of speech, life and mind.

By the yoga in principle of name and form and by the association of three senses for the success of the yoga of intellect, the ear and the eye are together employed and the yoga of the five senses of intellect is obtained.

श्रोत्रं हि दिग् व्योमगुणात्मकं परं
नेत्रं च तेजोगुणशक्तिकोत्तरम्॥
सर्वत्र तस्मादुभयोः समासतः
तज्ज्ञानभावदिकमाप्यते सतः॥१२॥716

The ear has the excellent attributes of the quarters and the sky and the eye of the fire and energy; by the union of these two, therefore, knowledge, feeling etc. of all existing things are obtained everywhere.

॥सर्वस्यापि जगतः नामरूपात्मकत्वम्॥
यन्नामरूपात्मकमेवसर्वं

वागात्मसच्छक्तिकवस्तुसत्त्वं
वागर्थकं वाचक-वाच्यतत्त्वम्॥१३॥717

The name and the form of the entire universe

Because everything in this world has a name and a form the attributes of sound, sense and form are prerequisites. The principle underlying the expressed and expressible is the sense of the speech, the vitality of the existing objects.

तस्मात् समस्तार्थरसानुभूतये
तत्संविदा योगमुखादुपाप्तये॥
अन्तर्बहिस्तच्छ्रवणे च दर्शने

Therefore, in order to experience the rasa of all senses and in order to obtain the knowledge through yoga, the ear and the eye are two means which help hearing and seeing internally and externally.

आन्तर्यपञ्चेन्द्रिययोगकल्पके
प्राणो मनो वाक्छ्रुतिरक्षिचेति तत्॥
सदैकलक्ष्यात्मनि तत्सुसंयमात्
योगो धियां शान्ति-सुशक्तिसङ्गमात्॥१५॥719

In the concept of internal yoga of the five senses viz. vital air, mind, speech, ear and the eye by the one target the soul through proper control, the yoga of intellects will take place by the union of peace and power.

ऋचं वाचं प्रपद्ये मनो यजुः प्रपद्ये साम प्राणं प्रपद्ये चक्षुः श्रोत्रं प्रपद्ये॥ (तै. यजु.)

The authority of the hymn of the yajurveda in this context

Fire is in my speech, speech in the heart, heart in me. I am in immortality and immortality is in Brahman.

Wind is in my vital air, vital air in the heart.
Sun is in my eye, eye in the heart.
Moon is in my mind, mind in the heart.
Quarters are in my ear, ear in the heart etc.

I attain the hymn which is speech, the mind which is yajus, the vital air which is sama, the eye and the ear.

अग्निर्ममायं निजवाचि संश्रितः
सा वागियं मे हृदये प्रतिश्रिता॥
मयि श्रितं तद्धृदयं श्रितोऽप्यहं
तत्रामृते ब्रह्मणि तत्परेऽमृतम्॥१६॥720

This fire has occupied by speech and that speech has occupied by heart. That heart is in me and I have occupied immortality and that immortality has occupied the supreme Brahman.

By the harmonious coordination of the five intellects the manner of the practice of their yoga

By the harmonious coordination of the five senses of the intellect of the internal thinking principle, which are absorbed in the performance of external and good deeds and in sensual matters, the inner yoga of para and apara will take place.

वाक्प्राणचित्तश्रुतिनेत्रसञ्ज्ञिताः

In the interior of all things five intellects called speech, vital air, mind, ear and eye are manifested. Those men who have studied the branches of learning, Vedas and Upanishads will be able to understand the yoga of realization.

The treatment of achieving it

Its expression hearing, seeing, vitalizing, thinking and criticism all these are well done with the coordination of that one real thing and by the yoga of the five senses of intellect come into play.

॥विद्वद्यज्ञे वागादीनां पञ्चानां ऋत्विजां योगः॥

In this sacrifice of the learned the yoga of the five priests' speech and others

In the good sacrifice of the learned, which can be only understood by the veda, which is supreme and heavenly and which is called the sacrifice of the gods, the speech etc. are the five priests who are absorbed in the yoga of the soul which is sacrifice.

तस्यैवं विदुषो यज्ञस्यात्मा यजमानः श्रद्धा पत्नी शरीरमिध्ममुरो वेदिर्लोमानि बर्हिः वेदः शिखा हृदयं यूपः काम आज्यं मन्युः पशुस्तपोऽग्निर्दमः शमयिता दक्षिणा वाग्घोता प्राण उद्गाता चक्षुरध्वर्युर्मनो ब्रह्मा श्रोत्रमग्नीद्यावद्ध्रियते सा दीक्षा ०
इत्यादि - (तै. महा.)

The soul of that sacrifice of the learned is the yajamana the devotion is the wife, the body is the fuel, the chest is the altar, the hairs are the kushagras, veda is the tuft, the heart is the sacrificial post, the desire is the ghee, the anger is the animal, penance is fire, self-restraint is the tranquilizer, the is speech, the rigvedic priest is the vital air, the samavedic priest is the eye, the yajurvedic priest is the mind, Brahma is the ear while this is born it is Daksha – etc. (taittiriya mahanarayana Upanishad)

आत्मा स्वयं सन् यजमान इष्टः
सर्वात्मसाक्षात्कृतियोगशिष्टः॥
योगे परस्मिन्त्सहकारिणीष्टा
श्रद्धैव पत्नी यजने विशिष्टा॥२१॥725

The soul itself is the yajamana or performer of sacrifice in the yoga of realization for all. In this supreme yoga the dear companion is devotion itself which is the wife especially in sacrifice.

तज्ज्ञानयज्ञे हृदयं हि वेदिः
योगेन धीसंयमने तपोऽग्निः॥
कामस्तदाज्यं तु पशुश्च मन्युः
शामित्रनामाऽत्र शमो दमस्यात्॥२२॥726

In that sacrifice of knowledge the heart indeed the altar in the control of intellect by yoga the penance is the fire the desire is ghee and anger is the animal to be sacrificed and here the tranquilizer called samitra is the self-restraint.

॥हौत्रादयः पञ्च प्रधानाः ऋत्विजः॥

चक्षुर्मयोऽध्वर्युरयं यजुर्भिः
श्रोत्रं तदाग्नीध्र इहाध्वरेष्टः॥२३॥727

The five chief priests are hota and others

The speech itself is the hota on the side of the fire by hymns the vital air has the attributes of an udgata by sama and the adhvaryu with the yajurvedic hymns is full of eyes and the ear here is the holder or bearer of fire very dear to the sacrifice.

ब्रह्मात्रयीवित् स च यज्ञसाक्षी
सोऽन्तर्निरीक्षेण मनः सुसत्त्वा॥
पञ्चर्त्विजां योगपरा समृद्धिः
बाह्यान्तरीयाऽखिल यज्ञसिद्धिः॥२४॥728

Brahma, the knower of the Vedas is the witness to the sacrifice. He is, by internal vision, the vitality of the mind. The prosperity of the five priests is full of yoga and all success of the sacrifice is external as well as internal.

The special philosophical principles of the five senses commencing from speech, as expounded in Upanishads

Whatever one said let us hear that. He the sage Sailini told me as follows after conquest speech is Brahman. His temple, in the heart; the sky is the support. This is knowledge and it has to be worshipped.

वाग् वै ब्रह्म॥
जित्वा मुनिः शैलिनिरब्रवीत् पुरा
ब्रह्मेति वाग् वै निजचेतनापरा॥
प्रज्ञेत्युपास्याऽखिलसंविदुत्तरा
प्रज्ञानदा साऽऽत्मनि संविदान्तरा॥२५॥729

Speech is Brahman

The sage Sailini, told long ago after the conquest, that the speech which is the supreme animator is Brahman. It has to be worshipped as the best form of all knowledge and it gives the self-wisdom internally.

प्राणो वै ब्रह्म॥
शौल्बायनः सोऽभ्युदगादुदङ्कः
प्राणः परो ब्रह्म तदित्युवाच॥
शरीरसन्धारणकृत्समर्थः
प्रेमास्पदं तत् प्रियमित्युपास्यः॥२६॥730

Vital air is Brahman

According to the view of Udanka, or Sailayana, the vital air is Brahman as it is capable of attaining the physical body and it has to be worshipped as a receptacle of love.

चक्षुर्वै ब्रह्म॥
वर्कुः स वार्ष्णो मुनिरब्रवीत् परं
ब्रह्मेति चक्षुः प्रतिदर्शनास्करम्॥
प्रत्यक्षतो रूपयुतैरुपास्यतां

The eye is Brahman

The sage by name Varku or Varshna has said that the eye which is capable of showing is supreme Brahman. May the form which is beyond the purview of the eye be worshipped and may it be understood that, that is truth in the interior.

श्रोत्रं वै ब्रह्म॥

The ear is Brahman

The sage by name Vipitha, the son of Bharadwaja said that the ear, the principle of the quarters is Brahman. That, spreading sounds of endless power is being worshipped as the praiseworthy and the endless.

मनो वै ब्रह्म॥
जाबालनामा भुवि सत्यकामः
ब्रह्मेति तद् वेद मनोऽनुकामम्॥
सर्वान्तरेऽन्तः करणं समानं

The mind is Brahman

The sage Satyakama, the son of Jabali, knew that mind is Brahman – in this earth. It is common in the interior of all and is worship worthy as it is the spot bliss.

॥ऐतेषां पञ्चधीन्द्रियाणां सामस्त्येन सहैव आत्मोपासनोपदेशः॥

आत्मेत्येवोपासीत स कृत्स्नः (बृ.उ)

The instruction of soul worship, along with the five senses of intellect, taken collectively.

That is the soul entirely, living or breathing it becomes the vital air, speaking it becomes, speech, thinking it becomes the mind, hearing it becomes the ear and seeing it becomes the eye. He who worships each individually does not know he is not full; but he worships as soul is full. (Brihadaranyaka Upanishad)

आत्मा स्वयं केवल चित्प्रलीनः
सर्वेन्द्रियैस्तद्विषयैर्विहीनः॥
प्राणान् स्वरन्नैव निजावधानः
प्राणोपनामा निजचित्प्रधानः॥३०॥734

The soul by itself is merged in the supreme spirit, free from all the senses and their operation. Breathing with the accent it is also called by the second name prana or the vital air and is the main thing in its own conscience and with its own concentration.

वदन् हि वागित्यपि चोच्यतेऽयं
मन्वान एवात्र मनोऽभिधानः॥
श्रोत्रं च शृण्वन् सुनिरीक्षमाणः
नेत्रं भवेत् सत्यमुपासमानः॥३१॥735

Speaking it is also called speech and thinking it is called the mind; hearing it is the ear and seeing it is the eye worshipping truth.

एतेषां मध्ये एकैकस्यैवोपासने अपूर्णतापदेशः॥
सामस्त्येन आत्मोपासने पूर्णता॥

आत्मेत्युपासीत परोऽभ्युदीर्णः
प्रज्ञानयोगात् प्रभवेत् स पूर्णः॥३२॥736
इति त्रयो विंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

He who worships each separately, he does not understand the philosophy underlying this and he is incomplete. But he worships all these collectively as atman or the soul by the yoga of great wisdom he will be considered as complete and full.

Thus ends the twenty third chapter.

May the individual be united with the supreme Brahman by harmonious coordinates of the five senses of the intellect commencing from speech and by expression etc. May his thoughts always be with the name and form of that thing which is known only by the Vedas and may he tune well from the yoga sung by the words of Shri Daivarata.

The twenty fourth chapter

The practice of yoga by contrast of the five senses of the intellect

From the yoga of the five senses, by contrast, which is full, supreme, manifest and from the yoga of the vitality of realization completely and by identity, an individual will attain fullness.

अस्मिन्नर्थे औपनिषदं तत्त्वम्॥
केनेषितं पतति प्रेषितं मनः केन प्राणः प्रथमः प्रैति युक्तः॥
केनेषितां वाचमिमां वदन्ति चक्षुः श्रोत्रं क उ देवो युनक्ति॥ (केनोपनिषत्. १/१/१)

The upanishadic principles in this context

By whom decreed, by whom appointed does the mind speed to its work? By whom ordained does the first vital air proceed? By whom decreed is the word pronounced? Which god assigns their function to the eye and the ear? (Kathopanishad 1-1-1)

केनेषितं प्रेषितमन्तरात्मनः
स्वीयेऽखिलेऽर्थे पततीह तन्मनः॥
प्राणाश्च केन प्रथमः प्रयोजितः
प्रैति प्रजानां तनुभृत् समूर्जितः॥२॥738

By whom decreed does the mind attend to all internal transaction of itself. By whom is the first vital air directed to occupy the physical form of the people.

केनेषितां वाचमिमां विवेकिनः
जना वदन्ति प्रकृतानुवादिनः॥
श्रोत्रं च नेत्रं प्रति नामरूपयोः
कोऽन्तर्युनक्ति श्रवणे च दर्शने॥३॥739

By whom ordained do wise people who argue on the nature of things speak this word. Who unites internally the ear and the eye in the act of hearing and seeing the names and forms of things.

इमानि सर्वाण्यपि धीन्द्रियाणि
स्वान्तर्हितान्यात्मनि सम्प्रियाणि॥
इन्द्रात्मनः केवलचेतनस्य
लिङ्गानि तद्बोधकृते परस्य॥४॥740

All these senses of intellect are placed internally in the soul and are dear to it. These are the symbols of the supreme Brahman, who is the soul of the Indra, who is merely in the form of that spirit or life, in order to understand it.

श्रोत्रस्य श्रोत्रं मनसो मनो वाचो ह वाचं सउप्राणस्य प्राणः। चक्षुषश्चक्षुरतिमुच्य धीराः प्रेत्यास्माल्लोकादमृता भवन्ति॥२॥

He is indeed the ear of ear, mind of mind, word of word, the lip of life and the eye of eye. The wise, who have abandoned those individual existence, become immortal after leaving this world.

श्रोत्रस्य च श्रोत्रमिति श्रुतः स नः
वाचश्च वाचो मनसोऽपि सन् मनः॥
प्राणस्य च प्राण इति प्रतीर्यते
स चक्षुषश्चक्षुरिति प्रदर्श्यते॥५॥741

He has been heard by us as the ear of the ear, the speech of speech, the mind of the mind and is explained as the life of life and shown as the eye of eye.

न तत्रचक्षुर्गच्छति न वाग् गच्छति नो मनो न विद्मो न विजानीमं यथैतदनुशिष्यात्।
अन्यदेव तद् विदितादथो अविदितादधि। इति शुश्रुम धीराणां ये नस्तद्
व्याचचक्षिरे॥३॥

The eye does not go there where the supreme Brahman is, nor speech, nor mind. We do not know Brahman as capable of being seen; therefore we do not know how teach him to a discipline. It is even different from what is known the manifested universe. It is not even the non-manifested universe – it is beyond that. We heard thus from the wise man who explained it to us.

न तत्र चक्षुः प्रति गच्छति स्वयं
द्रष्टुं न तत् पारयति स्वमाश्रयम्॥
न वाङ्मनः प्राण इतः प्रयन्ति तं
प्राप्तुं परं नैव हि शक्नुवन्ति तम्॥६॥742

The eye does not go there of its own accord. It will not help us to see it as perceptible. Even so, neither speech, nor mind, nor life approach him from here. They are not capable of reaching the supreme Brahman.

प्रत्यक्षतोऽस्माद् विदितात् समस्मात्
परोक्षतश्चाविदितात् परस्मात्॥
प्रत्यक् सदन्यं परवस्तु नित्यं
पूर्णं श्रुतं तत्परमार्थसत्यम्॥७॥743

From all this which is known actually and from all that which is not known it is different and is immortal, supreme, full and the absolute truth.

॥यद् वाचाऽनभ्युदितं येनवागभ्युद्यते तदेव ब्रह्म त्वं विद्धि नेदं यदिदमुपासते॥४॥
॥यत् प्राणेन न प्राणिति येन प्राणः प्रणीयते॥ तदेव ब्रह्म त्वं विद्धि॥

You know that, only which is not manifested by speech and by which speech is manifested, as Brahman and not this which is worshipped. Know that only which does not breathe by breath and by which breath is breathed as Brahman and not this which is worshipped.

वाचा स्वतोऽनभ्युदितं यदादितः
साऽभ्युद्यते येन हि वागनादितः॥
प्राणेन न प्राणिति यत् परात्परं

That which is not manifested by speech of its own accord from the commencement and by which that speech is manifested from time immemorial; that supreme Brahman which does not breathe by breath and by which even breath is brought, that is the best among the best.

यन्मनसा न मनुते येनाहुर्मनोमतम्॥ तदेव ब्रह्म त्वं विद्धि॥
यच्छ्रोत्रेण न शृणोति येनश्रोत्रमिदं श्रुतम्॥ तदेव ब्रह्मत्वं विद्धि॥

Know that which does not think by the mind but by which they say the mind is thought, as Brahman. Know that only, which does not hear by the ear but by which this ear is heard as Brahman.

यद् वै परं तन्मनसा न मन्वते
येनाहुरेतन्मन एव तन्मतम्॥
श्रोत्रेण यद्वै न शृणोति सन्ततं
श्रोत्रं हि येनाप्तमिदं प्रति श्रुतम्॥९॥745

That is supreme Brahman which does not think by the mind and by which they say the mind alone is the thought. That is that which always does not hear by the ear is heard and obtained.

यच्चक्षुषा न पश्यति येन चक्षूंषि पश्यति
तदेव ब्रह्म त्वं विद्धि नेदं यदिदमुपासते॥

Know that only, which does not see by the eye and by which the eyes see the Brahman and not this which is worshipped.

नेत्रं हि येनेह समीक्षतेऽक्षयम्॥
तदेव हि ब्रह्म परं सुविद्यतां

That alone which by itself does not see by the eye but which the eye sees the eternal, is the supreme Brahman and not all this which is worshipped.

Realization will be the result through the yoga practiced on the principles of supreme Brahman and self through excellent yoga based on the purpose of the five senses, through the feeling of the identity of the supreme Brahman and self and through the glory of the nectar.

The manner of meditating on the supreme Brahman by the five senses.

Speech

It is unthinkable as to how the eternal, full true and excellent supreme Brahman could be easily expressed internally in human speech which is full of truth and falsehood by external means.

श्रोत्रम्॥
श्रोत्रेण सत्यानृतशब्दवृत्त्या
सर्वार्थशब्दश्रवणप्रवृत्त्या॥
श्रद्धेयमन्तस्तदशब्दसत्त्वं

The ear

It has to be investigated as to how that supreme Brahman which has to be realized only by faith and whose vitality cannot be understood or described by words, could be heard internally by the ear which hears true and false words and meaning of all words.

नेत्रम्॥
नेत्रेण तद्बाह्यसरूपदृष्ट्या
रूपैकसत्त्वप्रकृतिप्रकृष्ट्या॥
नीरूपमात्मन्यहमोऽपरोक्षं
द्रष्टुं कथं कीदृगिवेत्युपेक्ष्यम्॥१४॥750

The eye

It has to be seen how that supreme Brahman which is formless and invisible could be seen within oneself by the eye through the external vision which is capable of seeing things with a definite physical form.

प्राणः॥
प्राणेन च प्रत्यगुपाहितेन
प्राग्वृत्तिसत्त्वेन चिदीरितेन॥
प्राज्ञात्मकं प्राणयितुं कथं स्यात्
प्रश्वासतः कीदृगिवानुशंस्यात्॥१५॥751

The breath or vital air

How can life be introduced into that supreme Brahman which is the soul of wise by the breath which has been placed inwards, which is by nature essential and which is prompted by the supreme spirit and in what manner can it be explained by inhale or exhale of the vital air.

मनः॥
मर्यादितेनान्तरसङ्गतेन
निजान्तरङ्गे मनसाऽऽहितेन॥
भावाद्यतीतं मनसाऽप्यमेयं
कथं हि मन्तव्यमिति प्रमेयम्॥१६॥752

The mind

How can that supreme Brahmna which is beyond all thought and which cannot be measured by the mind, which is after all limited and which is internally associated within one's own self with deep concentration, be thought of or measured.

धीभ्यः परं चाखिलधीप्रचोदकं
धीनामधिष्ठानपरं विधारकम्॥
ध्यानाद्यनर्हं प्रति धीन्द्रियान्तरं
धीभिः कथं ध्येयमितीरणापरम्॥१७॥753

How can that supreme Brahman, which is superior to all the intellects, which prompts all intellects, which is the residing place for all intellects and holds them, and which is beyond all meditation and the difference between the intellect and senses, could be meditated upon with description?

तेनेह सर्वत्र हि योगसाधने
साध्येऽपि तत्तत्परवस्तुभावने॥
अशक्यसम्पादमुखात् कथन्तया
विद्यादसम्भावनयाऽप्यनन्तया॥१८॥754

Therefore, in this world everywhere, in the act of achieving yoga, even though it is possible by the thought of the supreme being in various ways, there should be somehow an attempt to attain that which is impossible to be attained.

॥ताटस्थयोगात् मौनस्थितिः॥
ताटस्थ्ययोगेन विमर्शनेन
मौनेन निश्चिन्तनचेतनेन॥
यथा कथञ्चित् परिशीलनेन
सर्वं सुसाध्यं समतालयेन॥१९॥755

The state of silence by the yoga of neutrality

Everything can be easily attained somehow by the yoga of neutrality, by critical analysis, by silence, by thinking without the botheration of other thoughts and by a clear analysis and the absence of equality.

तस्मिन् परे वस्तुनि माऽस्त्वनास्थता
तद्वस्तुसत्ताविषयेऽप्यसत्यता॥
स्वतः सुसिद्धैव सदा तदस्तिता
तत्प्राप्तियोगेऽप्यनुभावसत्यता॥२०॥756

Let there not be disbelief in that supreme Brahman and in the non-existence of all material things. It is self-evident that it always exists and the true experience in its attainment is the only means thereof.

॥वागादीन्द्रियेभ्यो व्यतिरेकतः प्रकारान्तरेण तद्योगाभ्यासप्रक्रिया॥
न वाचं विजिज्ञासीत वक्तारं विद्यात्॥ (कौ. ब्रा. उ.)

The procedure of the practice of yoga in a different manner, which is in the reverse order from the senses, speech and others.

One should not desire to know but the speaker.

जिज्ञास्यतां नैव हि वाक् समेष्टा
ज्ञातुः पराग्वृत्तिगुणाऽनुशिष्टा॥
वक्तैव जिज्ञास्य इति प्रदिष्टः
ज्ञाता स्वयं वाग् विरतोऽवशिष्टः॥२१॥757

Speech

The speech which is dear to all and which uttered in accordance with the profession and quality of the knower should never be desired to be known. It has been laid down that only the speaker should be desired to be known and he by himself remains after the speech is uttered.

मनॉ न विजिज्ञासीत मन्तारं विद्यात्॥
मनॉ न जिज्ञास्यमिहास्त्यमानं
नित्यं हि स्ङ्कल्पविकल्पमानम्॥
मन्तैव जिज्ञास्य इहान्तरात्मा
सॉऽयं मनॉऽध्यक्ष इति प्रमाता॥२२॥758

Mind

The mind should not be desired to be known, the thinker should be known.

The measureless mind should not be desired to be known, as it is always full of changing decisions. The thinker only is fit to be known here. He is the inner conscience and the measurer as well as the controller of the mind.

प्राणः॥
प्राणॉ न जिज्ञास्य इह प्रवृत्तः
प्रायॅण सॉऽयं हि पराक् प्रसक्तः॥
जिज्ञास्यतां प्राणयिता परात्मा
प्रज्ञात्मकः प्राज्ञ इति प्रमाता॥२३॥759

The breath or the vital air

The breath is not desired to be known here. Probably he is absorbed in things situated beyond. May the Supreme Being who is the giver of breath be desired to be known as he is the embodiment of wisdom and is the wise measurer.

श्रोत्रम्॥
श्रोत्रं न जिज्ञासीत श्रोतारं विद्यात्
श्रोत्रं न जिज्ञास्यमिह प्रशस्तं
तद् बाह्यशब्दश्रवणे प्रसक्तम्॥
श्रोतैव जिज्ञास्य इहानुशिष्टः
सर्वार्थविज्ञानगुणैर्विशिष्टः॥२४॥760

The ear

One should not desire to know the ear but the hearer

The famous ear should not be desired to be known here as it is absorbed in hearing the external words. The hearer above properly disciplines, is fit be desired to be known as he is specially endowed with the qualities of knowing the meaning of all words.

चक्षुः - चक्षुर्न जिज्ञासीत द्रष्टारं विद्यात्॥
चक्षुर्न जिज्ञास्यमिहास्ति दृष्टं
दृश्यार्थसन्दर्शनवृत्तिशिष्टम्॥
द्रष्टैव जिज्ञास्य इहास्य साक्षी
सन्दृश्यतामात्मनि विश्वचक्षुः॥२५॥761

The eye

One should not desire to know the eye but the seer

The eye, which is capable of seeing the visible things, should not be desired to be known here. The seer alone should be desired to be known here. May the eye of all things in the world who is the witness of this be seen within one’s self.

एवं समस्ताद् व्यतिरेकवृत्तेः
विश्वाद्यधिष्ठानपदे निवृत्तेः॥
सत्यात्मनिस्यात् परमा प्रतिष्ठा
साक्षात्कृतेः सा परमात्मनिष्ठा॥२६॥762

Thus, from all this procedure which is in the reverse order supreme establishment will be there in the true self which is the seat of the universe and others. That is the realization of the Supreme Being.

सोऽयं परमात्मा सर्वेन्द्रियैर्विरहितः केवलं चिदात्मा॥
अपाणिपादो जवनो ग्रहीता पश्यत्यचक्षुः सशृणोत्यकर्णः॥
स वेत्ति विश्वं न च तस्यास्ति वेदता

That Supreme Being is merely a spirit without senses. Without hands and feet he speeds and takes, he sees without eyes, hears without ears and knows the world but none known him.

तत्त्वेन वाक्प्राणमनोऽक्षिकर्ण-
सञ्ज्ञैः समस्तैः करणैर्विहीनः॥
वक्ता तथा प्राणयिता च मन्ता
श्रोता स्वयं दर्शनकृत् प्रमाता॥२७॥763

He is really without all senses, called speech, breath, mind, eye and ear but still himself is the speaker, the giver of breath, the thinker, the hearer, the seer and measurer.

सर्वेन्द्रियविषयेभ्योविनिवृत्तेः शब्दार्थादिचिन्तनस्यापि निषेधात्

तमेवधीरो विज्ञाय प्रज्ञां कुर्वीत ब्राह्मणः॥
नानुध्यायाद् बहूञ्छब्दान् वाचो विग्लापनं हि तत्॥ (बृ.उ.)

The instruction for the soul stage by neutrality – preventing even the thought of sound etc. in order to help renunciation from all sensual pleasures.

A brahmana, after having known him, should be wise. He should not think of many words for that will weaken the vitality of the speech. (Brihadaranyaka Upanishad)

तमेव विज्ञाय तपः सुधीरः
प्रज्ञां समासाद्य परे सुवीर्यः॥
स ब्रह्मवेत्ता स्वयमेव पूर्णः

A holds man, therefore, having known him, by penance and attaining wisdom with vitality in Supreme Being, is by himself full and the knower of the Brahman and therefore is called Brahma of the great glory.

नानुस्मरेत् तत्र बहून् स शब्दान्
बाह्यांश्च सर्वान् विषयान्त्सरूपान्॥
विग्लापनं तत् खलु वाच एव

There he may not remember many words and all external things with forms. That will only result in the withering of words and any attempt will be futile job.

विश्वतो व्यतिरेकेण निर्वेदयोगोपदेशः॥
परीक्ष्य लोकान् कर्मचितान् ब्राह्मणो निर्वेदमायान् नास्त्यकृतः कृतेन॥ (कठोपनिषत्)

The instruction for the yoga of complete indifference to worldly objects by the reverse order from all sources.

A Brahmana, after examining worlds full of karma becomes indifferent to all worldly objects. There is inactivity by what is done.

निरीक्ष्य सर्वानपि बाह्यलोकान्
परीक्ष्य तान् कृत्रिमभावयुक्तान्॥
निर्वेदमायादिह बाह्यवृत्तेः
तूष्णीं ततो निर्वृतिमेत्य तिष्ठेत्॥३०॥766

Seeing all the external worlds and realizing, after examination that they are full of artificial associations, an individual becomes indifferent to all external transactions, and then attains peace through silence.

ज्ञानयोगिनां मौनयोगतो बालभावात्मनिष्ठोपदेशः॥
तस्माद् ब्राह्मणः पाण्डित्यं निर्विद्य मौनेन तिष्ठासेत्।
तस्माद् ब्राह्मणः पाण्डित्यं च मौनं च निर्विद्य बाल्येन तिष्ठासेत्॥ (छा.उ)

The instruction for self-discipline through the state of boyhood – by the yoga of silence to those sages of wisdom.

Therefore a Brahmana should desire to stand in silence with indifference to scholarships – therefore a Brahmana should desire to stand like a boy with indifference to scholarship and silence.

तत्रापि मौनेन च बालभावात्
सिद्धः सबाह्यान्तरवृत्तिसाम्यात्॥
सत्यात्मतत्त्वैकपरायणः स्यात्
साक्षात्कृतेर्योगपरात्मनिष्ठः॥३१॥767

Even there having attained success through silence and the state if boyhood, the individual, will establish himself firmly in the yoga of realization through the identity of external and internal transactions and by absorbing himself in the search of true knowledge.

तस्मात् समस्ताद् व्यतिरेकतोऽन्वयात्
स्वस्मात् परस्मात् समभावसन्मयात्॥
योगाद् वियोगादुदिताऽऽत्मयोगात्
साक्षात्कृतिर्योगसुधाप्रयोगात्॥३२॥768

Therefore, realization will arise, from the application of the nectar of yoga, from all this, either in the regular or reverse order, from the good feeling of the identity between one's own and others and from the yoga of self-arising out of yoga and viyoga. (union and separation)

॥इति चतुर्विंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

Thus ends the twenty fourth chapter.

वाक्प्रमुख्य पञ्चधीन्द्रियात् ततोऽतिरिच्यतां

Let the speech or the word which is predominant, then excel the sense of intellect and let even that be renounced by application – let that which has to be known only through the Vedas be not be thought of even through the silence – let it be well thought over through the feeling of boyhood – described in an appealing manner by the great sage – Maharshi Daivarata.

The twenty fifth chapter

Couples or pairs of senses useful in the yoga of intellect – which are contained in the three fold five senses.

The pairs of three senses (thought, word and deed) and couples of the five senses internally in one's own self are well constructed in the yogas etc. of the spiritual type and are useful in one's own practice of yoga.

॥प्रथमं वाङ्मनसयोर्मिथुनम्॥

First is the pair of speech and mind.

My speech is in accordance with my mind and my mind accords with my speech. (aitareya Upanishad)

The supreme speech of mine is embedded in my mind and the mind is well established in my natural speech. That pair is indeed the most excellent by mutual concord of the best type within one's self.

॥मनोता वाङ्मनोमिथुनात्मिका॥
त्वं ह्यग्ने प्रथमो मनोताऽस्या धियो अभवोदस्म होता ॥ (ऋक्. मं. ६/१/१)
That which is woven in the mind – is the pair of speech and mind

Oh! Fire you are indeed the first to woven in the mind, and you have been the priest of this intellect of ours.

तस्यां पुनर्वाचि मनस्तदोतं मनस्यपि प्रत्युत वाक्समोता॥
प्रत्येकशस्तद्द्वितयं मनोता साऽग्निं च सोमं च मिथः समेता॥३॥771

Again that mind is woven in that speech and the speech is also woven in the mind. That pair is separately called Manotha which unites in private with agni and soma.

The instruction for the united control of speech and mind.

The wise man should give the speech and mind and he should give that in self-knowledge. (Kathopanishad)

I am the supreme sky of the speech. (Rg. Mantra 1-164-34)
The supreme sky of speech is Brahma. (Rg. Mantra 1-164-35)
The supreme sky of speech is indeed Brahmana. (taittiriya yajur

The wise man should control speech and mind in the power or vitality of his knowledge, if he should desire the pair. The supreme place of speech he should ask and he should thus approach the full and supreme Brahman.

तेजोमयी वाग् अयमान्तरोऽग्निः सोमो मनश्चान्नमयं हृदय्यम्॥५॥773

The celestial pair of speech and mind consisting of fire and moon is full of light and rasa

That pair of speech and mind which is heavenly, which consists of fire and moon and which is got by light and rasa is the foremost in this world. The speech is full of light and inside it is fire; the mind is the moon and full of food in the heart.

वाग् ज्योतिषा साऽतति वैद्युतेन सैन्द्री च रौद्री प्रथिताऽग्निशक्तिः॥
सौम्यं मनस्तन्मनसः पतिः स्यात् सोमोरसात्मा जनकोऽखिलानाम्॥६॥774

That speech obtains by the light of the lightning and that is famous as the power of the fire of Indra and Rudra. That calm mind and the moon, who is full of rasa and the origin of all things will be the Lord of the mind.

ऋतं च सत्यं चाभीद्धात्तपसोऽध्यजायत॥ (ऋ.मं. १०/१९०/१)

From penance severe was both truth and the cosmic order. (Rg. Mantra 10/190/1)

ऋतं च सत्यं च तदादियुग्मकं प्रत्यङ्‌ मनोवाक्चितमात्मसत्त्वकम्॥
ब्रह्मात्मनो ज्ञानचिता प्रदीपिता विश्वादिसृष्टौ तपसोऽध्यजायत॥७॥775

Both truth and divine laws are the beginning and internally it is the mind and speech full of the soul force. They both were born at the commencement of the creation of the universe by the penance of supreme Brahman and kindled by the fire of knowledge.

ऋतंपरं मानसिकं तु सत्यं सत्यं स्वयं वाचिकमेव नित्यम्॥
वाङ्मानसे सत्यऋतस्वरूपे योगेन मातापितृसत्त्वरूपे॥८॥776

The supreme divine order is the mental truth and truth is always connected with the speech. The speech and the mind are the forms of truth and divine order and by their union they are like father and mother.

॥यज्ञस्य वै वाक् च मनश्च वर्तनी॥ (ऐ.ब्रा. ५/५१)
॥यज्ञस्य वै मनश्च वाक् च वर्तन्यौ॥ (छां.उ.)

The two paths of sacrifice are speech and mind. (aitareya Brahmana 5/51)

The two phases of sacrifice are mind and speech. (Chandogya Upanishad)

लोकेऽपि सर्वव्यवहारचालके चक्रे एवैवात्मनि पादरूपके॥
सर्वत्रयुक्ते पुरुषार्थसाधने वाङ्मानसे ते भुवि यज्ञवर्तनी॥९॥777

Even in this world which moves all transactions as in a wheel, so also in this soul, the two things speech and mind are like the feet and are the appropriate means of achieving the aims in life and are the paths of sacrifice on this earth.

तस्मात्तयोरेकतरेण वञ्चितः सद्यः पतेदेव रथश्च पूरुषः॥
यथैकपादेन पुमान् व्रजन्त्सदा तथैकचक्रेण च चालितो रथः॥१०॥778

Therefore, if a man is deceived by either of the two he will immediately fall like a chariot. Just as a man who is moving with one foot, he will be like a chariot with one wheel.

यज्ञेऽपि योगे च समानरूपता सहैव सर्वत्र तयोः समार्हता॥
ऋत्विक्स्वरूपात्मकयोः समानयोर्बहिस्तथाऽन्तः सहभावकर्मणोः॥११॥779

They have a common form both in sacrifice and yoga. They will be together at all places deserving equal respects. Outwardly they will be in the form of the priest and the soul and inwardly in the form of thought and deed.

ब्रह्मा मनो यज्ञकृतेर्निरीक्षणाद् वाक्संयमात् कर्मणि तत्समीरणात्॥
वाक्सत्त्वका वाचिककर्मचारिणो हौत्रादयः सन्ति हि यज्ञकारिणः॥१२॥780

Brahman is the mind by looking at the sacrifices and by the speech control and by its utterance is deed. The priests like hotru and others who are the performers of sacrifices are full of the vitality of the speech as they are experts in the act of speaking.

ब्रह्मात्मना सन्मनसा समीरितो होता ऋचा वाङ्मुखतो वषट्कृतेः॥
ध्यायन् हृदाऽन्तर्यजनीयदेवतां स्वेष्टं हविः प्रापयति प्रतिस्तुतेः॥१३॥781

The priest hota, prompted well by a mind full of the thought of Brahman, uttering a vedic hymn through his face and meditating internally by his heart the deity of the sacrifice, sees that the offering reaches the object of worship.

ब्रह्मा मनोऽध्यक्ष इहाधियज्ञे दर्शादिके तत्प्रकृतौ तदिष्टौ॥
मनोऽत्र मैत्रावरुणः स इष्टः सोमादिके तद्विकृतौ विशिष्टः॥१४॥782

Brahma is the mind and the presiding deity in a superior sacrifice of the type of the Darsa and this is natural and desirable. If the mind is here then that is the specialty of the sacrifice called soma and others.

॥द्वितीयं वाक्प्राणयोर्मिथुनत्वम्॥
वाक्प्राणयोस्तन्मिथुनं द्वितीयं संवित्क्रिया शक्तिकमद्वितीयम्॥
चिदात्मनो वागिह संविदीर्णा प्रकाशते प्राणकृतेरुदीर्णा॥१५॥783

The second pair of speech and vital air

The second pair is that of speech and breath and is second to none in as much as it is full of the power of knowledge and action. It is stated the speech of the Supreme Being is knowledge and when uttered shines for the sake of breath or vital air.

॥वाङ्माता गायत्री, प्राणः पुत्रो गायकः॥
प्राणा वै गयाः, तद्यद् गयांस्तत्रे तस्माद् गायत्री॥ (बृ.उ.)
गायत्रिसञ्ज्ञामुदितां स्ववाचं प्राणः प्रगायत्यनुसुस्वरान्ताम्॥
सन्त्रायते तं प्रतिगायकं स्वं गयं हि गन्धर्वमनुस्वरन्तम्॥१६॥784

The speech is mother Gayathri and the breath is the son who sings

The vital airs are the singers and that which can be sung is therefore Gayathri. (Brihadaranyaka Upanishad)

The breath of vital air will sing its own speech with a sweet accent, called Gayathri, which in turn protects him who sings with a musical accent.

मैत्रावरुणं चक्षुर्मनः सत्त्वमिदं श्लोकचतुष्टये उपश्लोकानन्तरं गृहीतुंयुक्तम्॥
ज्योतिर्मयी वाक् विदिता सवित्री व्योम्न्यन्तरन्तर्हितचित्सवित्री॥
मित्रात्मिका वागिह विश्वमित्रा छन्दस्वती मन्त्रमयी पवित्रा॥१७॥785

The principle underlying the speech and the breath is connected with the sun and varuna

The speech full of light is known to be born out of the sun god inside the sky with the conscience hidden in it. Thus the speech with the solar energy is the friend of all here. It is sacred when recited as a hymn with proper metre.

आपोमयो दिव्यरसात्मसत्त्वः प्राणः परो वारुणदिव्यतत्त्वः॥
योगेन मैत्रावरुणं विशिष्टं युग्मं द्विदैवत्यगुणैकशिष्टम्॥१८॥786

The breath, full of water, has the power of celestial rasa and is the supreme principle of varuna. By the union of these two, the special qualities of sun and varuna are begot and the couple therefore possesses the qualities of both the deities.

मित्रः क्रतुर्ज्ञानमयश्चिदात्मा स ब्रह्मतेजाः परवाक्सुसत्त्वा॥
प्राणः स दक्षो वरुणः क्रियात्मा स क्षात्रशक्तिर्बलकृत् सुवीर्यः॥१९॥787

The sun is the sacrifice full of knowledge and is the supreme spirit and therefore he who has the power of supreme speech has the effulgence of Brahman. The breath is the capable varuna full of action and it is the strength and vitality in man full of fighting spirit.

तावेव मित्रावरुणौ श्रुतौ क्रतू दक्षौ द्विदैवत्यततौ सहास्थितौ॥
वाक्प्राणसत्त्वानुगतौ सहोषसा रात्र्या च सक्तौ चरतो मिथस्ततौ॥२०॥788

These two, speech and breath alone are said to be sun and varuna and are essential in sacrifice with traits of both deities. They are associated with dawn and night and always move about in private together.

॥तृतीयं वाक् श्रोत्रयोर्मिथुनत्वम्॥
॥भद्रं कर्णेभिः श्रुणुयाम देवाः॥

भद्रं पश्येमाक्षभिर्यजत्राः॥ (ऋक्. मं. १/८९/८)

श्रोत्रं च दिग्व्योमपरं तदान्तरं वाक्छ्रूयते श्रोत्रमुखात् समोत्तरम्॥२१॥789

The third pair of speech and ear.

Oh! Gods, let us listen to what is auspicious with our ear.

The speech full of accents and letters, endowed with the quality of sound, the principle of sky spreads through all quarters through the medium of the wind. The ear is the sky and the quarters and even speech is then heard through the medium of era.

॥वाक्चक्षुषोर्मिथुनत्वम्॥
भद्रं पश्येमाक्षभिर्यजत्राः॥ (ऋ. मं. १/८९/८)
वाग् ज्योतिरन्तर्हितमम्बरेऽन्तः सन्नामरूपात्मकमासमन्तात्॥
तद्दर्शने चक्षुरिदं सुमानं प्रत्यक्षमेतन्मिथुनं समानम्॥२२॥790

The fourth pair of the speech and the eye

Oh! You are worthy of worship! Let us with our eye see what is auspicious.

The speech is tight which is hidden inside the sky and has all around a name and a form. The eyes is the proper standard to see it actually. This pair is well balanced.

॥चक्षुः श्रोत्रयोर्मिथुनत्वम्॥
॥अथ यदतः परो दिवोज्योतिर्दीप्यते विश्वतः पृष्ठेषु सर्वतःपृष्ठेषु अनुत्तमेषु उत्तमेषु लोकेषु तद्यदिदं वाव अन्तः पुरुषे ज्योतिः तदेतदृष्टं च श्रुतं चेत्युपासीत, चक्षुष्यः श्रोत्रो भवति॥
तद्यत् कर्णौ पिधाय निनदमिवनदथुरिव अग्नेरिव ज्वलतः उपश्रुणोति॥ (छा. उ)

The fifth pair of the eye and the ear

Because, hence forward, the light from heaven shines on all things in this universe, both good and bad, and because it illuminates the interior of man, it has to be worshipped as one that has been seen and heard. That which is seen becomes heard; and shutting the ears listens to it as the roaring of a bull or that of a burning flame. (Chandogya Upanishad)

यत् संश्रुतं नाम सरूपसत्त्वं तद्दर्शनीयं परवस्तु तत्त्वम्॥
साक्षात्कृतं स्वानुभवेन सत्यं दृष्टं श्रुतं चेति सतामुपास्यम्॥२३॥791

That which is heard is having a form of power and is beautiful to look at as the supreme spirit. That is realized from one's own experience as truth. It is fit to be worshipped by the good as seen and heard.

॥षष्ठं मनः प्राणयोर्मिथुनत्वम्॥
इच्छाक्रियाशक्तिमयं सुयुग्मं सिद्धं मनः प्राणमयं सुसूक्ष्मम्॥
तद् भावकर्मप्रमुखानुशिष्टं तन्त्रेण तत्कामसमक्रियेष्टम्॥२४॥792

The sixth pair of the mind and breath

This good pair of mind and breath which is very delicate and subtle is full of the power of desire and action. It is directed by thought and action and in effect is full of desire and action in equal measures.

आत्मन एष प्राणो जायते मनोऽधिकृतेनायात्यास्मिञ्छरीरे॥ (प्रश्नो)
चिदात्मनो ज्ञानमयान्निजान्तरे प्राणः क्रियात्मा सहसा प्रजायते॥
मनोऽनुयोगाधिकृतेन हेतुना सोऽस्मिन्त्समायाति तनौ गुहान्तरे॥२५॥793

From the soul is born the breath. By the action of the mind it enters into the body. (Prasnopanishad 3-3)

Life full of action suddenly comes out of the supreme spirit which is full of knowledge in between. By the action of the mind that enters this body.

॥सप्तमं चक्षुर्मनसोर्मिथुनत्वम्॥
चक्षुश्च मनश्च मैत्रावरुणः॥ (ऐ.ब्रा.)
चक्षुर्मनः सन्मिथुनं शरण्यं दिव्यं हि मैत्रावरुणं वरेण्यम्॥
तेजोरसैकात्मकलानुगुण्यं तद् भोक्तृभोग्यात्मसमाधिगुण्यः॥२६॥794

The seventh pair of the eye and the mind

The eye and the mind are sun and varuna.

The good pair of the eye and the mind is the best, with the power of the sun and varuna, heavenly and shelter for all people. It is a harmonious union of light and water with the qualities of the enjoyer and enjoyment

चक्षुर्जगच्चक्षुरसौ तु मित्रो दिव्यः सखेवोर्जति विश्वमित्रम्॥
मनोरसाप्तं वरुणैकसत्त्वं भावैर्निजैः स्वं वृणुते स विश्वम्॥२७॥795

The eye is the sun who is the eye of the world and like a celestial friend prospers as the universe; whereas the mind is obtained from the rasa has solely the vitality of varuna and he chooses the world with his own feelings.

॥अष्टमं श्रौत्रात्मनोर्मिथुनत्वम्॥
श्रौत्रं चात्मा चाश्विनः॥ (ऐ. ब्रा.)
श्रौत्रं तथाऽऽत्मा च मिथोऽनुषक्तं दिव्यं तदाध्यात्मकमश्विनं स्यात्॥
नित्यं स्वभावादिह सामरस्याज्ज्योतीरसैकात्मकमादिसिद्धम्॥२८॥796

The eighth is the pair of ear and the soul

The ear is the soul of Ashwin. (Aitareya Brahmana)

The ear and the soul are together united with each other in private and that will be the celestial Ashwin concerned with the soul. By nature and harmony it is always full of light and rasa from the very commencement.

उत नो ब्रह्मन्नविष इति शंसति श्रौत्रं वै ब्रह्म श्रौत्रेण हि ब्रह्म शृणोति॥ (ऐ.ब्रा.)
Oh! Brahman! Enter us. Thus it says. Verily the ear is Brahman. By the ear he hears the Brahman. (ait. Brahmana.)

श्रौत्रं हि दिग्व्योममयं सुदिव्यं व्याप्तश्चिदात्मा दिवि विश्वतोऽयम्॥
श्रौत्रेण हि ब्रह्म शृणोति वाच्यं सर्वान्तरे वाचि हितोऽनु सत्यम्॥२९॥797

The ear is indeed is enveloped by the quarters and the sky and is celestial. In heaven, this supreme spirit has spread on all sides. By the ear the Brahman hears the expressed speech and in the midst of all truth is placed in speech.

॥नवमं वागात्मनोर्मिथुनत्वम्॥
अयं वाचा दिशति ब्रह्म ब्रह्मणाऽयं वाचं देवीं ब्रह्मणे दिशति॥
संविदाऽऽत्मानमात्मने दिशतीमयं जायां पतिरश्नोति वाचम्॥
(छन्दोदर्शनम् ५/१/५)

The ninth is the pair of speech and soul

The individual soul will show Brahman by speech which is in the form of hymns and show the goddess of speech to Brahman. This soul, with all knowledge offers the mantra to the supreme soul, (chhando darshana 5/1/5). Brahman accepts that mantra as his own as a husband accepts his wife.

वागेव जायाऽत्र चिदात्मनः परा साऽहश्चिता सद्रससंविदुत्तरा॥
वाचः पतिः सोऽत्र बृहन्त्स्वरार्चिषः सेन्द्रः परात्मा परमः स पूरुषः॥३०॥798

The speech itself is here the wife of the supreme spirit. It is excellent, with spiritual knowledge and rasa. The husband of the speech is that big, supreme being.

तौ दम्पती स्तः समनामरूपौ ब्रह्मात्मसत्याक्षरचित्स्वरूपौ॥
विश्वस्य तौ मातृपितृत्वशिष्टौ तौ विश्वसृष्टिस्थितिसंहृतीष्टौ॥३१॥799

That couple, equal in name and form, are in the form of Brahman and speech or truth and knowledge. They are in the place of parents of the universe and are responsible for the orientation, preservation and are destruction of it.

वाग् आत्मनोर्वाचकचित्स्वराऽऽदिमा
वाच्यार्थरूपः स च पूरुषोत्तमः॥
वाग् वेदमाता परमाऽत्र सत्या
वेद्यात्मकः पूरुष एव सत्यः॥३२॥800
॥इति पञ्चविंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

Of the two, the speech and the soul, the first is the expressed one with proper accent. Lord is in the form of the expressed sense. The speech is here the most excellent mother of the Vedas and truth and the supreme Brahman who is person to be known is real.

Thus ends the twenty fifth chapter.

योगसाधनार्थकेषु धीन्द्रियेषु युग्मकं
यौगिकं मिथः समन्वितं द्विदैवतात्मकम्॥
दैवताग्निसोममुख्ययुग्मदेवतार्थकं
दैवरातवागुदीर्णयोगसत्सुधार्थकम्॥२५॥

In all the senses of the intellect, which are the means for achieving yoga, the pairs with a secret union have two presiding deities. The nectar of the yoga of realization written by Brahmarshi Daivarata deals with such pairs of deities of which fire and moon are prominent.

****

॥अथ षड्विंशी कला॥

॥मुख्यप्राणस्य वैदिकं औपनिषदं च ॥

॥तत्त्विकं वास्तविकं स्वरूपम्॥
प्राणोऽस्मि प्रज्ञात्मा तं मामायुरमृतमित्युपास्व॥ (कौ. ब्रा.उ.)

The twenty sixth chapter

The vedic, upanishadic, philosophical and actual form of the primary breath (vital air)

I am breath, the soul of knowledge. Worship that as if it is longevity and immortal. (Kausitaki Brhmana Upanishad)

प्रज्ञात्मनः प्रतिचितं पुरुषस्य मुख्यं
प्रज्ञानमात्मरसदं परवाक्प्रमुख्यम्॥
प्रज्ञात्मकः स पुरुषो हृदि सोऽमृतात्मा
प्राणः परायुषचिता प्रभवेत् स इन्द्रः॥१॥801

For an individual who is full of knowledge the most important thought is his wisdom which gives him the rasa of self-knowledge and in which the supreme speech plays a predominant part. He is full of wisdom and in his heart immortal. The life with excellent longevity becomes Indra.

॥इन्द्रस्य तस्य प्रज्ञात्मकस्य वागेव परमा तनूः॥
वाचमष्टापदीमहं नवस्रक्तिमृतस्पृशम्॥
इन्द्रात्परि तन्वं ममे॥ (कुरुसुतुः काण्वः, ऋक्. मं. ८/७६/१२)

Of that Indra, who is full of wisdom, speech alone is the excellent body.

I measure the eight footed, nine lined speech touching on truth, as the body of Indra. (Kinesuti Kanva Rg. Man. 8-76-12)

इन्द्रात्सतः सकल धीन्द्रियमूलसत्त्वात्
प्राणात् प्रणेतुरिह चेतनतो हृदय्यात्॥
ऐन्द्रात् परः स पुरुषोऽप्यहमाऽऽत्मचित्तेः
ऐन्द्रीं स्ववाचममृतां स्वतनूं मिमीते॥२॥802

That individual supreme, I measure his own immortal speech which is the body of Indra from the existing Indra who is the root power of all senses of intellect, who is the breath, and who leads from the internal consciousness situated in the heart.

मुखं निरभिद्यत मुखाद् वाग् वाचोऽग्निः॥ (ऐ.उ.)
मुखादिन्द्रश्चाग्निश्च प्राणाद् वायुरजायत॥ (ऋक्.मं. १०/९०/ १३)

The face broke out, from the face the speech from speech. (aitareya Upanishad)

From the face, Indra and Agni find from the breath was born the wind. (Rg. Man. 10/90/13)

प्राक् सृष्टितःस्वरणवाङ्मुखतश्चितेन्द्रः
प्राणः स ऐन्द्र उदितः परवाक्प्रमुख्यः॥
सोऽग्निश्च तत्सहकृतेरपि वाच आस्यात्
तेजोमयीह परवागुदिताऽग्निमुख्या॥३॥803

Even before the orientation the speech with the accent came out from the face, India from the mind breath arose from India, which is important in supreme speech. From speech fire arose and from the face the brilliant supreme speech with fire at the face arose.

सप्राणवाक्स्वरमुखं रसचित्प्रमुख्यं
सैन्द्राग्निसत्वकमिहात्मचितं हृदय्यम्॥
वाक्प्राणयोः सममितं सहभावमुख्यं
वाच्यार्थवस्तुनियतं प्रतिमासमाख्यम्॥४॥804

The self-knowledge which comes from the heart, which is full of breath, speech and accent and in which the thought of rasa is important is here full of the power of Indra and Agni. It is equally measured by speech and breath with coordinating thoughts, bounded by expressed sense and called equal to the image.

वागात्मचित्प्रमुदितेन रसेन मुख्य-
प्राणस्य हृत्समुदितं सहयोगसख्यम्॥
सैन्द्रात्मवागुदितवेदवचोरहस्यं
स्वाध्यात्ममान्तरतमं मनसाऽध्युपास्यम्॥५॥805

The heart of the primary breath is well born by the rasa coming out of the self-knowledge of speech and has the friendship of the cooperative yoga. It is full of the secrets of the vedic words born out of the speech of the soul of India. It has to be worshipped from the heart as it is the best type of thought pertaining to the self.

अयास्यः आङ्गिरसो मुख्यप्राणः॥
सर्वाङ्गसारसरसाङ्गिरसः समाख्यः

प्रज्ञानसत्त्ववचनो हृदि सौमनस्यः
प्राणः स वाक् स्वरमुखात्सुधियाऽध्युपास्यः॥६॥806

The primary breath called Angirasa is Ayasya (that which comes out of the mouth).

Ayasya is also called sama, is full of the essence of all limbs and rasas, and has come out of one’s own mouth from supreme consciousness. That breath full of words with the vitality of wisdom and well balanced in the heart will have to be worshipped by a wise man though speech with proper accent.

॥मुख्यप्राणः ब्रह्मणस्पतिः बृहस्पतिरिति च संस्तुतः॥

The primary breath is worshipped as the Lord of the hymns and as Brihaspathi.

That Lord of hymns is without a beginning and endless vitality; even Brihaspathi is full of the knowledge of the Vedas and is the best. The breath is full of Indra’s excellent life and the speech which is huge and full of the knowledge of the Brahman and the power of Indra predominantly comes out with proper accent.

May that supreme spirit, which is one's own heart inwards, which is in the center of a spul full of wisdom and which has pervaded all the senses, be attained by breath with a proper mind and with the words of hymns with a devotion to the worship of the knowledge of one's own act.

The self will be able to achieve in the best manner by good conduct, deed, thought and by a good knowledge. The individual then sport in bliss after completely surrendering that self in the Supreme Being who is full of power and who is the embodiment of truth.

A special principle involved in the act of that achievement

The self by itself, having known by intellect all the expressed senses known to it by the use of proper words, will then direct the mind for understanding and expressing it and will remove the fire in the stomach and the knower.

Even that fire will prompt the breath internally for the awakening by a life for the purpose of the following. The breath by moving itself in the heart, will generate a deep voice, which gives a ripe knowledge and which is dense with its own rasa.

That voice spoken from the neck upwards in the head and from there it descends to the face. Then it speaks internally the word consisting of all letters which is actually full of vitality measured by the four feet.

This is the power or vitality of breath in the self in which the primary role is played by the word or speech and this is actually well known by all. That breath which comes out from the nose is not as important as it is devoid of words with wisdom even though it is called breath and wind.

By virtue of the good union of those two pulses, the Sushuman, comes out happily by the weight of the well balanced sattva guna. In the soul of this one breath which is in the heart the primary greatness is stressed in the face of the accord of speech.

May the Lord Shiva, who is the Lord of the three worlds, who has these eyes, who has odd eyes and body, whose body is full of the three Vedas, who can be attained by all three senses who is the supreme Lord of veda and Vedanta and who is the supreme spirit be approached for shelter, with an even vision.

That Lord Shiva, through with three odd eyes, becomes in his even vision by virtue of his association with the voice of wise like Sushumna, and attains the top most part of his hair in the interior of his head in a temperate manner after having become subtle by the sound of the anahata chakra (which is in the heart).

Closing the two ears with a vision fixed in his head and listening internally to the beautiful sound of the anahatachakra and seeing the supreme light in the head full of the sound of the rasa of speech, the individual will experience the highest bliss resulting out of it in the realization of the supreme Brahman.

The spiritual course of the breath will have to be traced gently and will have to be properly seen internally with a powerful mind. Coming out of a wise man it should not be employed and being returned it should not be checked by force.

The breath full of wind moves externally and it is latent inwardly with the conscience inside the heart. The primary one spreads by the nose with the accent and speech expressly comes out of the face with the quality of the main accent.

That wind here from the face moves with the accent inwardly and does not feel tired, though moving always. That goddess is by self-feeling does not at all set, because of spiritual movement with accent, internally and externally.

The soul of the gods is the womb of the universe and this god moves independently. The sounds of this god are heard but the form is not seen. To that wind god we offer the sacrificial offerings. (rg. Man. 10/-)

The internal soul of the gods is the womb of the universe. He having been born from Bharga moves as he likes. The subtle sound of his movements is heard but his form is not seen. Oh! Wind god, a bow to you.

Thus ends the twenty sixth chapter.

That breath is immortal. Let it be properly understood by one's own knowledge. Let it be worshipped as longevity as it is accompanied by wisdom and soul. Let that which has been taught by Indra the well-known to enable the individual to attain salvation to free himself from this existence. Let that nectar of yoga of realization as expounded by Brahmarshi Daivarata be well grasped and assimilated.

The twenty seventh chapter

The principle of longevity and immortality of the breath, the soul of which is wisdom.

Of that breath which comes here from the heart and of that breath which comes out of the nostrils and by exhaling and inhaling and by the constant practice inwardly of suspending breath according to the rule prescribed, the state of self will arise by the control of breath.

वक्त्रान्नसो बहिरिहोच्छ्वसनात् प्रवृत्त्या

ववक्त्रान्तरे हृदि पुनः श्वसनान्निवृत्त्या
दक्षायनं ह्यसित पक्ष उदेति रात्रिः॥२॥834

By breathing out from the mouth or the nose actively here there will be the bright fortnight or the day or the uttarayana (January 14th to July 16th); by breathing in passively in the interior of the mouth or the heart the dark fortnight or the night or the dakshinayana (July 16th to January 14th) arises. (Cf. B.G ch VIII V.V. 24 and 25)

प्राणस्य तद्गति पदे प्रति सन्मुहूर्ते
प्रायस्तदेतदखिलं प्रकृतेः प्रक्लृप्तम्॥
कल्पोऽयमन्तररहितोऽखिलकल्पकः स्याद्
अध्यात्ममान्तरतमः सकलेषु सिद्धः॥३॥835

Probably all this ordained by nature at a good moment in respect of the movement of the vital breath. This is the endless procedure which has been prescribed for all. The best inward philosophical inclination is well established in all.

सृष्टिस्तथेयमुपसंहृतिरत्र भाव्या
बाह्या प्रवृत्तिरपि चान्तरिता निवृत्तिः॥
सिद्धे च जन्ममरणेऽखिलजन्तुजीवे
बाह्योऽन्तरीय उदयास्तमये च भाव्ये॥४॥836

In the same manner has to be considered this creation and the conclusion here; also external attachment and internal detachment. When birth and death are well established in the whole world of living beings, the external and internal rising and setting will have to be taken into consideration.

विश्वादिसृष्ट्युदितमाप्रलयं च साकं
जन्तोर्जनेः सततमामरणं समैकम्॥
प्राणात्मयोगत उदेति स हंसलोकं
प्राणन्त्सदा स्वरसतोऽप्यहमाऽऽत्मनाकम्॥५॥837

Everything that is born from the creation of the universe right up to its destruction and from the birth of a living being to its death is the same. By the union of breath and sound arises the world of yogins and breathing always from one's own rasa, one attains his so long as the wind moves in this body, so long there is life (longevity) (Brihadaranyaka Upanishad)

यावदस्मिच्छरीरे वायुस्तावदायुः॥ (बृ.उ.)
तं मामायुरमृतमित्युपास्व॥ (कौ.ब्रा.उ.)

You worship that me if it is immortal life (Kaushitaki Brahman Upanishad)

प्राणः स्वभावगतिभाक् प्रभवेन्महार्घः
स द्वादशाङ्गुलिमितो वहतीह दीर्घः॥
स्वान्तः शनैर्नियमितो मनसा प्रशान्त्या
संवर्धते स्वबलतः स्वचिताऽऽत्मकान्त्या॥६॥838

Breath, by attaining natural movement, is likely to become very valuable. It flows here along with a measurement of twelve inches. Being slowly controlled internally with a tranquility of the mind it grows by self-lustre, and its own strength and spirit.

प्राणो गतेर्नियमनादभिवर्धतेऽयं
पूर्णायुषा वितनुते प्रकृतेः सुकायम्॥
प्राणं तमायुरमृतं समुपास्व सत्यं
पूर्णामृतत्वमुपपद्य रमस्व नित्यम्॥७॥839

This breath grows by the control of its movement and stretches the natural body to the full length of a human life. Therefore worship always that breath, which is immortal longevity and enjoy permanently after obtaining the full immortality.

प्राणस्य चिद्गतिमुखेन तदायुरिष्टं
न्यूनाधिके क्षयविवृद्धिगुणादिशिष्टम्॥
नो केवलेन गतकालगतिक्रमेण
रात्रन्दिनैः परिमितेन च वत्सरेण॥८॥840

Through the spiritual movement of the breath the desired longevity is measured more or less by qualities of loss and gain, not merely by the efflux of time gradually but also by days and nights and years, it is computed.

न्यूने व्यये सुनियतेऽसुगतेः प्रमाणे
प्राणस्य चिद्बलविवृद्धिरिहायुषः स्यात्॥
प्रश्वासतोऽसुगतिवृद्धिमुखेन भूयः
प्राणायुषोः क्षयमुपैति हि तेन मर्त्यः॥९॥841

When th measurement of the movement of the breath is exactly controlled in loss or deficiency, the increase in longevity will occur. Again through the increase or gain in the movement of the breath, the man will attain a decrease in longevity.

व्यर्थे श्रमेऽप्यधिकभाषणतः सुषुप्तौ
स्त्रीसङ्गमेऽप्यसुगतेरधिकः क्षयः स्यात्॥
आरोग्यमायुरमृतं च बलं यदीच्छेत्
प्राणस्य तामतिगतिं क्रमशो नियच्छेत्॥१०॥842

A great loss will occur in movement of breath in futile endeavors, by talking too much, in deep sleep and in association with women. If an individual desires health, longevity and immortality and strength he has to gradually keep control the extra or excess movements of the breath.

श्रमादन्यत्र परिवर्तमानः तिष्ठन् आसीनो यदि वा स्वपन्नपि अहोरात्राभ्यां पुरुषः

शतं शतनि पुरुषः समेन अष्टौ शता यन्मितं तद्वदन्ति॥
अहोरात्राभ्यां पुरुषः समेन तावत्कृत्वः प्राणिति चापचाणिति॥

Turning round elsewhere by exhaustion or strain, standing, sitting or sleeping, how many times does a man breathe by day and night equally. (Satapatha Brahman)

आदौ शतेन च शताङ्कगुणादुपात्तं
पश्चात्तथाऽष्टशतकैरपि तत्सुयुक्तम्॥
योगान्मितंदशसहस्रशताष्टकात्तं
तावन्मितादहनि चासुगतेः पदात्तम्॥११॥843

First, the number is obtained by multiplying hundred by hundred and then adding on eight hundred to the product. Thus during the day the movement of the breath by yoga is obtained as equal to the ten thousand eight hundred.

द्वाभ्यां समेन दिनरात्रिसमन्विताभ्यां
ताभ्यां गुणेन समुदीर्णमुपोत्तराभ्याम्॥
बाह्यान्तरादसुगतिप्रमितात् समार्धं
स्यादेकविंशतिसहस्रक- षट्शतोर्ध्वम्॥१२॥844

By those two together including that by day and night and from the measurement of the external and internal movement of the breath, there will be thus twenty one thousand six hundred movements in a day.

प्राणः श्रमाद्रहितनित्यगतेः स्वभावात्

तावन्मिताङ्कगतितः प्रचरेदसूर्यः

Probably, the breath, by the nature of its perpetual movement free from exhaustion will be peaceful in accordance with its self-yoga. That will move in so many times as this sun god moves in the sky by his own movement.

सूर्यो महान् दिवि चिताऽभ्युदितो महस्वान्

सौम्येन हार्दिकरसेन युतो मनस्वान्

The great lustrous sun god rises in the sky by the supreme spirit; and the lightning full of the rasa of breath rises with Indra. Together with hearty and peace rasa the Lord of the day moves with the gait of a swan or yogi.

प्राणः समस्तहृदये च दिवीह सूर्यः

सोमो मनोऽधिपतिरर्हति तस्य सख्ये

The breath in hearts of all beings is here the sun god in heaven and he is from rudra and he who rises with the spirit of lightning is from Indra. The supreme Lord of the mind is moon. He is fit to be in his friendship and resides in the main residence of the heart with a soul full of vitality or power.

Therefore, an individual, with a concentrated vision always should sit with an unwinking gaze by nature, after fully controlling his sense in his heart by being alert and by slaying or dispelling darkness of the night by his own wakefulness.

सञ्जागृवांसमखिलान्तरसाक्षिसत्त्वं
सञ्ज्ञानतोऽप्यनिमिषन्तमधीन्धमिन्द्रम्॥
सञ्जागृवान् निजसमानसभावरूपं

An alert individual without winking will, by his good knowledge, be able to think or worship the supreme Lord who is also alert and not winking, who is also the powerful inner witness of all and whose form is equal to his own and is visible to his own vision.

अज्ञो यथा स्वयमुपैति हि संविदर्थं
प्राज्ञं वरेण्यमृतदं परमं समर्थम्॥
सुज्ञस्तथा जगति जागृति संविदर्थं

Just as an ignorant person approaches a wise man who is the best, very capable and the giver of truth, for the sake of knowledge, so a wise man being alert takes shelter under his own interpretation in this world in order to understand the true knowledge.

सद्भावनंसुकरणं भुवि सर्वयोगे
स्वज्ञानमेव शरणं हृदि बुद्धियोगे॥
सज्ञानभावनकृतिप्रकृतिप्रयोगे
स्याज्जागृतेरनुसृतिः परमात्मयोगे॥१९॥851

In the practice of all yoga in this world, good thoughts can be easily performed; and in the yoga of intellect in the heart, one’s own knowledge is shelter. In the yoga of supreme Brahman the following of the wakefulness is important in the natural practice of meditation with the knowledge.

ज्ञानाद् धियां जगति जागृतिरप्रमादः
नित्यानिमेषपरताऽऽत्मनि सम्प्रसादः॥
सत्यात्मवस्तुनि परे परमा प्रतिष्ठा
श्रद्धा चिदात्मनि रतिः परशान्तिनिष्ठा॥२०॥852

In this world, the alertness of the intellects is freer from mistakes, than knowledge. There is feeling of great relief in the soul by subjecting to one's self to a perpetual process of non-winking. There is then a firm establishment in the real Supreme Being, faith in the supreme spirit and enjoyment in the highest type of tranquility.

Being averse to causing harm, speaking falsehood, and such other sinful qualities, having an impartial outlook on matters connected with dualism and considering all living beings and men on the same footing as oneself – this is the most admirable quality of men who have mastered their souls.

अज्ञानमस्मरणमात्मनि सप्रमादः
विज्ञानतोऽधिकमहङ्कृतिरात्मवादः॥
निद्रा भयं व्यसनवृत्तिरसत्प्रवृत्तिः

Ignorance, forgetfulness, self-error, feeling of great knowledge, arrogance, self-argument, sleep, fear, worry, dishonesty, absence of peace due to avidity, falsehood and discontent.

हिंसादिपातकसुदुष्कृतिदुष्टदृष्टिः
भोगे धनादिसुखभक्तिरदूरदृष्टिः॥
मोहान्मदान्धपरता विषयोपभुक्तिः
नानाविधाऽधममतिर्भुवि दैत्यवृत्तिः॥२३॥855

Performance of sinful deeds like hurting others, wicked vision for evil deeds, indulgence in sensual pleasures and wealth, narrow vision, blindness due to infatuation arising out of illusion, enjoyment of material pleasures. This is the nature of demands in this world which constitutes a low mind in various forms.

अज्ञानमोहजडताप्रभृतेर्निर्वृत्यै
सज्ञानभावनकृते प्रकृतेः प्रशान्त्यै॥
अध्यात्मसत्त्वपरिपूर्णरसानुभूत्यै
धीयोग एव शरणं भुवि दिव्यभूत्यै॥२४॥856

In this world the yoga of intellect alone is the shelter to enable people to cast off ignorance illusion, lethargy and all such for the pacification of natural instincts to the moulding of the good thoughts, for the experience of the rasa full of spiritual vitality and for the realization of heavenly glory.

सर्वेन्द्रियेष्टविषयाच्च धियां निवृत्त्या

प्राणोऽन्तरात्मनि तु निर्विषयस्वभावात्

By being free intellectually from the pleasant effects of all senses and by contemplating on the spiritual sides of self and breath, the life or vital air, does not at all attain contamination from sensual associations as in the inwards self, there is the nature or quality of being free from such contacts.

The yoga of faith and self

The yoga of faith and self with a good is desirable and has been sanctioned by the Vedas for attaining success in all matters. This is also helpful for attaining devotion, enjoyment of the supreme bliss and one's own capability and ultimate liberation through realization by the best type of yoga.

यं स्मा पृच्छन्ति कुह सेति घोर-

He is that excellent masters, whom, in this world, people ask whether he exists or not or if he exists where he is etc. and who controls all people and in whom they believe – he is indeed that Indra. (Rg. Man. 2/92/5)

सोऽर्यः प्रभुर्नियमयत्यखिलाः प्रजास्ताः

He is that supreme being in this universe, whom people ask whether is or not or if he is where he is etc. and who is the most respectable person – called Indra who controls all and in whom people have the greatest faith.

The faith, chaste and respectable is the wife of that Supreme Being – helps, in this world, to attain the real and deliverable thing. That can be obtained by a heart full of curiosity, by self-knowledge and by a firm discipline.

श्रद्धां देवा यजमाना वायुगोपा उपासते॥

Sacrificing gods protected by wind worship faith, with a heart of curiosity and by faith they got wealth. (Rg. Man. 10/151/4)

Truth is attained by faith. (Sukla Yajus Samhita)

श्रद्धां समेऽत्र पुरुषा दिवि सर्वदेवाः
प्राणप्रियां सुनिरताः समुपासते ते॥
सच्छ्रद्धयैव सकलं समवाप्यतेऽन्तः
ब्रह्मैव सत्यममृतं समभूतिपूर्णम्॥२९॥861

All men here and all gods in heaven worship faith the beloved of breath, with deep devotion. Everything is well attained only by a good faith. The supreme Brahman alone is real immortal and full of even glory.

श्रद्धाऽऽत्मनः प्रियतमाऽखिलयज्ञपत्नी

Faith is the best beloved of self, and the wife of all sacrifices, the soul of sacrifices, collected in self, it has a capacity equal to that of self, it deserves in all deeds first preference (like the wife) which is very ancient, appropriate and conjugal.

सच्छ्रद्धयैव पुरुषैः सकलोऽपि यज्ञः

श्रद्धामयः स पुरुषः समतासमृद्धः

All sacrifices, with the symbol of yoga of the sense of intellects, is commenced by men with faith only. That man who is full of faith and equality will be able to attain all success here.

॥इति सप्तविंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

That supreme faith alone which is the guardian of the good will help scholars to attain immortality and is the best in the rising of knowledge and best kind of prosperity and in the experience of the nectar of the best yoga of the realization.

Thus ends the twenty seventh chapter.

The twenty eighth chapter

The vedic and real secret of the vital breath

An individual should reach through wisdom that Indra who is the soul of the wisdom, who is the most beneficial Purusha and that vital breath which comes out of Indra and which is in the interior of all, which is dense with the strength of the supreme spirit and which is the Lord of all senses and which the measuring standard..प्राणं स्वसत्त्वमनसेन्दुकलासुधार्द्रं

Worship well that breath which is wet with the nectar of moon’s lustre with a mind full of its own vitality, which is moving upwards by the radiance of speech and accent in which wisdom predominates, which is full of knowledge, life giving activity and the rasa of the glory of the Indra, and is real and spiritually turned inwards.

भावप्रधानमनसेन्दुरसप्रपूर्णः॥
कर्मप्रधानसहसा रविरश्मिकीर्णः
प्राणो धियाऽन्तरहमेन्द्रचिदभ्युदीर्णः॥३॥867

The breath is described as consisting of speech and accent with fire in which the glory of knowledge is predominant, as full of lunar rasa, in which the mind full of thought, is predominant, as full of solar rays with action predominant and as with intellect which inwardly turned towards the thought of Indra, spiritually.

प्राणोऽखिलेन्द्रियशरीरविधारणार्थः
स प्राणनैकविषयोऽखिलभृत् समार्थः॥४॥868

Here all topics are separately dealt with one by one and they are all in all senses with the power of deities and breath will sustain all the senses and the body and is mainly responsible for life and bears all equally well.

प्राणोऽत्र निर्वहति चेतनसत्क्रियाप्तं

The breath carries on here all external and internal existence and natural movements by an unusual inherent capacity with a proper course like the sun and the bears within itself the entire universe in the form of this human body.

सूर्यो ह्यचेतन सचेतनसत्त्वकानाम्
आत्मा समस्तजगतां विततः प्रजानाम्॥
प्राणः स बाह्य उदितः स्वचिताऽनुगृण्हन्

The sun is indeed the soul of all worlds animate and inanimate and is said to be the external breath of all people and always gives birth to life from his own eye, blessing them with his spiritual glory.

तन्मासपक्षदिवसर्त्वयनाङ्गयोगात्
सोऽहर्निशं चलति चालयतीह विश्वम्॥७॥871

The sun being himself the divider of the time, rises as the Lord of the people, full of years which consists of months, fortnights, days, seasons and ayanas etc. In this manner he moves daily and make the entire universe move.

स्यात् षट्शतोत्तरयुतास्त्रिसहस्रसाङ्ख्यः

The breath in the heart here is the chief one, being surrounded by five feet in the form of figure of twelve sides and being bought to a state of success by 60 minutes with seconds which will total to 3600 by exhaling and inhaling.

तत्पञ्चपादगुणपञ्चनिमेषकैः स्यात्

साहर्निशात्मकलयाऽभ्युदितः समासात्
संवत्सरो भवति भूमगुणात् समस्तात्॥९॥873

In fact, 720 multiplied by twelve into five minutes will be duration of day. The year will be computed in taking all these and the day and the night together totally.

प्राणान्निमेषयुगलाच्छ्वसनं प्रक्लृप्तं

The internal breath is measured by two winks of the vital air; similarly the external is also measured. That twelve multiplied by two and a half winks with inhaling and exhaling will be obtained in between.

प्राणस्य सूर्यसमसत्वगतागताभ्यां
प्रश्वासतः श्वसनतश्च समान्विताभ्याम्॥
संवत्सरात्मदिनतः श्वसनं कलोके
षष्ट्युत्तरं त्रिशतमान्तरमप्यनीके॥११॥875

Three hundred and sixty days will be in a year by the exhaling and inhaling of the vital air which will be equal to the movements of the sun.

मासाङ्कसंहितदिनैः समनुक्रमेण

प्राणोऽनिशं चरति षट्शतकाधिकेष्टं
स्यादेकविंशतिसहस्रकसङ्ख्ययेष्टम्॥१२॥876

The vital air always moves gradually through all the thirty days of the month at the rate of twenty one thousand six hundred full rounds (this will be 86400 seconds at the rate of four winks per second) per day.

प्राणस्य तूच्छ्वसनमत्र चतुर्निमेषैः
तद्विंशतेरधिकसप्तशतं मुहूर्ते॥
अस्तोदयेष्टनियतेन दिनेन साकं
संवत्सरात्मकमिदं सवितुस्तदेकम्॥१३॥877

Thus the single breath of a vital air is constituted by four winks and in a muhurta there are 720 such. With a day consisting of sunrise and sunset, this will be the single round of the sun throughout the year.

तत्कालधामनिकलाः प्रथिता मुहूर्ते

प्राणस्य तु श्वसनमुच्छ्वसनं च क्लृप्तं
तद्विंशतिप्रमुखसप्तशतानि च स्युः॥१४॥878

In a single muhurta there are forty eight kalas. The exhaling and the inhaling of the vital air is 720 in it.

पक्षात्मिका इह कलाः पुनरष्टचत्वा-
रिंशन्मिताः सह मताः प्रतिसन्मुहूर्ते॥
श्वासास्तु पञ्चदशकैककलात्मकाले
तेऽप्यत्र पक्षनियते दिवसान्तराले॥१५॥879

Thus there are 48 kalas of 15 breaths each in every muhurta. The breaths in a day are also the same during the period of 15 kalas.

संवत्सरेऽन्तरुदिता दिनरात्रिमात्राः
प्राणे गताः प्रतिमुहूर्तकलाधिमात्राः॥
तत्प्राणिनां भुवि च हायनमाप्तमेकं
सूर्ये प्रदक्षिणपदं तु दिनं तदेकम्॥१६॥880

In a year, day and night arise; the kalas in every muhurta pass in the vital air. Therefore one year is obtained for living beings in the earth round in the sun constitutes a day.

त्रिंशन्मुहूर्तपरिधैकदिने समस्ताः

उच्छ्वासतः समुदितं द्विगुणं समस्तं
तत् षष्टिहायनमिहैकदिने समाप्तम्॥१७॥881

Thus all the years are full of these breaths in which every day consists of thirty muhurtas. Taking the exhaling and inhaling into consideration there are in a day sixty muhurtas, which is obtained by doubling the former.

कालक्रमादहनि सूर्यगताः कलाकाः
ते द्वादशैव खलु हायनगास्तु मासाः॥
रात्रावपीन्दुकलया दिवि तत्समानाः

Gradually in course of time, there are in a day kalas of the sun and twelve months in year. In the night there are equal number of moon kalas. The fortnights are three in number.

रात्रन्दिनप्रगतितो द्विगुणोऽष्टचत्वा-
रिंशच्च पक्षगतरात्रिदिनानि च स्युः॥
संवत्सरेण समसत्त्वमये मुहूर्ते
तावत्समाङ्कनियताश्च कला भवेयुः॥१९॥883

By the movement of the day and night, there will be in a fortnight twice forty eight. In a muhurta by a year there will be an equal number of kalas.

षष्ठ्युत्तराप्तशतकत्रयवासरैस्तैः
भूमेः प्रदक्षिणपदानि तु हायने स्युः॥
त्रिंशद्गुणैः परिमितैश्च गतागताभ्यां
प्राणस्य षष्टिगुणितं सवितुस्तदेकम्॥२०॥884

By three hundred and sixty days, there is one full round of the earth in a year. By thirty times the to and fro motion of the vital air and multiplied by sixty will be one of the suns.

संवत्सरैकपरिघान्तरदिव्यसत्त्वं
साहर्निशं सुविततं च कलादि रूपम्॥
भूमेस्तथा तनुभृतां प्रकृतिप्रकृष्टं
प्राणस्य देवसवितुश्च गतिप्रभेष्टम्॥२१॥885

Thus the year with day and night is the only yard stick which is used in measuring the vitality of celestial things, which is fairly wide. In the same manner the movements of the earth, of the vital air of the living beings and of the sun god also could be measured.

अध्यात्मके स्वनिलये हृदि सूर्यचन्द्रौ

The sun and the moon, full of vitality, and always alert will rest with mutual harmony in the harmony which is the scent of self and in the vitality air sustained by conscience like a couple seated cordially in a celestial center.

Moving from the east to west and through the nose full of life and suddenly sounding by the best mental state, the moon and the sun with a resplendence similar to that of the celestial twins are like the left and right multipliers appropriate to their names.

They are followed by the Ida Nadi and the Pingala in themselves and full of the vitality of the mind and the self as they are by the luster of vital life. They move internally and externally night and day by nature gradually in strides of thirty muhurtas.

On every muhurta there are naturally seven hundred and twenty breathings and also forty kalas and 2880 winks.

सोमार्कयोरपि च मध्यपदा सुषुम्णा

The sushumna nadi which is in between the sun and the moon is well protected and the excellent giver of happiness. It flourishes in the centre of the eye brows with the life breath and the best knowledge and vision in its soul.

At the union of those two spreading internally and externally, the experiment of a means of a realization is also well known just as in a vital muhurta, all the greatness of happiness and glory occurs between two people with a good mind and true self.

सोमे निशि प्रतिगते तु बहिः प्रशान्ते

When the sun is externally shining during the day, the moon rises internally in the left nose, when the moon comes out externally in the peaceful night, the sun will be seen in the breath of the right nose.

By the unbroken union of those two namely moon and the sun and by heir external and internal movement in it. A wise man will be able to organize the vital airs for a good turn of immortality and by its influence will be able to conquer time.

By the union of cold and heat, of water and fire, a state of harmony will arise by obtaining gradually the progress of excellent mind. By the sacrifice of all this a state of rest for all intellects is achieved so that there is good nature and equality all over.

By a proper observation of the vital air and its movement, there will be internal self-control in every second. By an even vision arising out of yoga, an individual is likely to experience delight at heart by a proper well planned meditation.

With a mind which it concentrated nowhere else than in the self, with an alertness, with great knowledge, with faultlessness, with self-knowledge he should not forget there even one breath and practice by worship, knowing and breathing the vital air.

Thus ends the twenty eighth chapter.

By the association with sun god and always by the proper movement of wheel of time, there will be union of conscience and the self in the movement of the vital air, without any difficulty. By a compulsory control of breath, the life increases. The good nectar of yoga, composed by shri Daivarata is offered to people.

The twenty ninth chapter

The yoga of the seven intellectual senses

When the five senses with the mind are firm and the intellect does not move, that they say is the excellent state.

This they call yoga which is the firm keeping down of the senses. The individual will be alert at that time. For yoga has both progress and retrogress. (Katho. 6-11)

योगेऽन्तरे धीन्द्रियसप्तकात्तं साहित्यमेषां प्रतिसाधनेष्टम्॥
नित्यं स्वकर्मण्यनुवर्तमानः समभ्यसेद् योगमिमं समानम्॥१॥897

The combination of the seven intellectual senses is the cherished means of their yoga. An individual can practice this yoga always even while performing his daily duties.

ज्ञानेन्द्रियं स्वात्मनि पञ्चवृत्तिकं बाह्यैश्च शब्दप्रमुखैः सवृत्तिकम्॥
ते पञ्चभूतप्रमुखाः समेगुणाः व्योमादिभूतानि गुणान्वितानि च॥२॥898

The sense of knowledge has five duties in one's own self along with the sound and other external entities. All those qualities are those of the five elements and the five elements themselves viz. the sky, earth, wind, water, fire are full of those qualities.

इच्छात्मकं भावगुणं मनः स्यात् ज्ञानप्रधानाऽऽत्मनि बुद्धिरिष्टा॥
श्रोत्रं तथा त्वङ्नयनं च जिह्वा घ्राणं मनोबुद्धिरितीह सप्त॥३॥899

The mind is full of Iccha shakti with the quality of thinking; the intellect in the sense is predominantly full of jnana shakti. Similarly the ear, the skin, the eye, the tongue, the nose and mind and the intellect are the seven senses.

The opening of the vessel downwards and its bottom is upwards. In it is kept the fame in Omni form. On its bank sat the seven sages and eighth was speech with the knowledge of Brahman. (Br. Up.)

The sages are the life. They say this as life.

The eighth is speech with Brahman – means it reveals the knowledge of Brahman.

प्राणास्त एवात्मनि सप्त सिद्धा यॊगॆ च यज्ञे हृदि ऋत्विजः स्युः॥
सप्तर्षयस्तॆ गतिदर्शनॊष्टाः समस्तदॆहॆन्द्रियधारणार्थाः॥४॥900

Those are the seven successful vital airs which are like the officiating priests in yoga or yaga. They are the seven sages who guide in movement and philosophy and are responsible for supporting all the senses in the body.

एकत्र सर्वॆन्द्रियवृत्तियॊगात् प्रत्यश्चि सन्धारणया प्रयॊगात्॥
शब्दादिभिस्तैर्विषयैर्वियॊगान्निष्ठा भवॆत्तत् परमात्मयॊगात्॥५॥901

By the concentration of all senses in one place and by an ordinary experiment in the knowledge of the supreme, and by an aversion to objects connected with hearing etc. an individual can establish for himself a communion with the Supreme Being.

श्रॊत्रादिसर्वॆन्द्रियमूलमाद्यं प्रज्ञानमान्तर्यमनिन्द्रियाप्यम्॥
ज्ञानेषु सर्वॆषु तदिन्द्रियॆषु भूतॆष्वनुस्यूतमनादिसिद्धम्॥६॥902

That supreme being is the very first and the rest of all senses commencing from the ear etc. is the best knowledge is internal and obtainable without the help of senses, is the connecting link in all living beings in knowledge and in the senses of intellect and is said to be without beginning.

॥वागष्टमी ब्रह्मणा संविदाना॥
सप्तेन्द्रियाणामपि मूलभूता सत्यात्मिका वागियमादिमाता॥
प्राणेष्वनुस्यूततया समाना वागष्टमी साऽऽत्मनि संविदाना॥७॥903

The eighth is the speech with knowledge of Brahman

The speech which is the root cause of even the seven senses, which is full of truth is indeed the first mother. It is the eighth revealing herself in the self and being in all and the vital airs is equal.

सप्तेन्द्रियैरात्मनि वाक् सुविद्यते ज्ञानं समं वाङ्मुखतो निवेद्यते॥
संवित्प्रकाशादिह वाक् परात्मिका सा संविदिच्छाकृतिचेतनात्मिका॥८॥904

The speech exists well in the self with the seven senses, the equal knowledge will be informed through the speech. Because it flashes knowledge it is full of Parabrahman and is responsible for the three fold existence of activity namely knowledge, desire and action.

अष्टमीं नानुषजति नेन्मे वाक् सह प्राणैः समानायतना सती अननुषक्ता असदिति॥
(ऐ.आ.)

The speech is the eighth – being equal to the vital airs it does not unit with them. (aitareya aranyaka)

प्राणैः समानायतना सती वाक् प्रत्यग्विविक्ताऽत्र चिदात्मयुक्ता॥
प्राणैः समस्तैरपि नानुषक्ता सत्यात्मिका साऽत्मनि संविदुक्ता॥९॥905

The speech having an equal position with the vital airs is here inwardly with the supreme spirit. Being not united with all the vital airs, it is said that it is full of truth and is the knowledge in the self.

प्रतीचीने मा मह्नीष्वाः पूर्णमिवादधुः॥
प्रतीचीं जग्रभा वाचमश्वं रशनया यथा॥ (ऋ.मं. १०/१८/१४)

They hold those internal speeches like a leaf.

They tie the internal speech as if they tie a horse by a belt. (Rg. M. 10-18-14)

वाचं प्रतीचीं प्रतिसंगृहीतुं मन्त्रोपदेशः स्थितिमात्मनाऽऽप्तुम्॥१०॥906

By controlling that speech will be the control of all senses commencing from the vital airs, in order to collect the inward speech and to obtain a state in which the individual will be in position to receive initiation of the hymns.

सप्तद्वाराऽवकीर्णां च न वाचममृतां वदेत्॥ (मनुस्मृ.)

One should not speak untruth which is spread out from seven openings. (Manu Smriti)

श्रोत्रादिसप्तेन्द्रियसन्मुखेन बहिश्च्यवन्तीमिह वाङ्मुखेन॥
सर्वेन्द्रियार्थेषु वदेत् सुसत्यां नैवानृतां वाचमिहात्मशून्याम्॥११॥907

The individual should always speak the true work which is coming out through seven senses coming more from the ear, in the transaction connected with all the senses, and never speak a untruth which is bereft of self.

सर्वेन्द्रियार्थेषु समन्वयाप्त्या योगो महांस्तत्र हि सत्यवाचा॥
मौनेन वाग्वृत्तिनिवर्तनेष्टः सत्यात्मयोगो व्यतिरेकदृष्टः॥१२॥908

By a true speech a great yoga will indeed occur by obtaining a harmonious coordination in all the transactions of the senses. The union of truth and self-seen excellently is by the restraint of speech.

Poets, by their internal intellect found Indra pronouncing the true speech that Indra, who is the soul, truth, and Lord who is a royal swan for the mind and who is different from the vital life.

The anustup speech

That anustup speech which described the inward soul is again worshipped. It is speech alone which describes the truth, which is the supreme Brahman full of philosophical knowledge and mental consciousness.

वाच॑म॒ष्टाप॑दीम॒हं नव॑स्रक्तिमृ॒तस्पृश॑म्॥
इन्द्रा॒त् परि॑ त॒न्वं॑ मम॑॥ (ऋक्. मं. ८/७६/१२)

I bow to that speech which has eight feet, and nine lines, which touches truth and which is above Indra. (R M 8-76-12)

वागष्टपात् प्राणगुणात्परात्मा ब्रह्मात्मिका साऽऽत्मनि चेतमाना॥
इन्द्रात्मनः सा परमा तनूः स्याद् ब्रह्मैव सत्याऽऽत्मसतीह साक्षात्॥१५॥911

The eighth speech which is superior to the vital air, which is the soul of Brahman and which is manifest in the soul and is none other than the supreme Brahman in reality and will be the excellent body of the soul of Indra.

स्वार्थेषु शब्दादिगुणेषु सत्सु श्रोत्रादिकानां नियता प्रवृत्तिः॥
ज्ञानेन तद्वस्तुषु सत्स्वभावात् सर्वेन्द्रियाणामिह साऽन्वयात् स्यात्॥१६॥912

When one’s own ends with the attribution of sound etc. are there, the indulgence or ears etc. is well under control. By the knowledge in those objects from nature, that will be the order in the case of all the senses.

बाह्यार्थदोषाद्यनुदर्शनेन तस्मात्समस्तादसतो निवृत्तिः॥
अज्ञानदोषादिगणैर्वियोगात् स्वज्ञानसाहित्यगुणानुयोगः॥१७॥913

By the sight of external defects there is a withdrawal from that which is non-existing or evil. By the separation of ignorance and other faults, there is an association of one’s own knowledge and literature.

अनिष्टदे सत्यपदेऽप्यसत्ये प्राप्ते समक्षे विषमे समस्ते॥
मोहान्न चेच्छेदिह सम्प्रवृत्तिं नो द्वेषदृष्ट्याऽपि ततो निवृत्तिम्॥१८॥914

Even when there is untruth, or untruth gives undesirable things, or when everything is uneven and really troublesome one should not desire good association out of illusion, nor disassociation out of hatred.

ज्ञानेन तत्त्वादुभयोः समानः शिक्षार्थमात्मन्यधृताभिमानः॥
विश्वस्य रक्षादिहितैकदृष्ट्या तिष्ठेदुदासीनतटस्थवृत्त्या॥१९॥915

Being equal in his outlook towards both knowledge and absolute reality and not having any pride in the self for a purpose of training, an individual should stand with a non-detached attitude, with a view to see that the world is benefited.

निरन्तरं जागृतिहृत्समाक्षो ज्ञानेन तत्तद्विषयेषु दक्षः॥
नित्यं निरीक्षेत समैकदृष्ट्या सत्यात्मनः संयमयोगनिष्ठः॥२०॥916

Being always alert at heart and impartial, being efficient by way of knowledge in those respective things and being absorbed in the art of control and yoga the soul of truth, the individual should forever have an impartial outlook.

सर्वेन्द्रियाणामपि मूलभूता प्रज्ञानसत्त्वाऽन्तरितात्वहन्धीः॥
प्रत्यङ्ग्यहम्प्रत्ययसाक्षिकोऽयं स प्रत्यगात्माऽप्यपरोक्षसिद्धः॥२१॥917

The intellect of aham is at the root of all senses, is full of the vitality of great wisdom and is invisible. The inward self which could be realized in the aparoksha state has the further support of the belief in aham in the inward state.

॥सेयं धीः सप्तशीर्षण्यप्राणसत्त्वा॥
सप्त वै शीषण्याः प्राणाः॥ (तै.आ.)
इमां धियं सप्तशीर्ष्णीं पिता न ऋतप्रजातां बृहतीमविन्दत्॥
तुरीयं स्विज्जनयद्विश्वजन्योऽयास्य उक्थमिन्द्राय शंसन्॥ (ऋक्. मं. १०/६७/१)

This intellect is full of seven best vital airs.

These are seven best vital airs. (tait. Aran.)

The father obtained this intellect which was huge and born out of the cosmic order and which has seven heads. The generator of the universe gave birth to the fourth, uttering the praise to the Indra. (Rg. Mn. 10-60-1)

इमां धियं स्वात्मनि सप्तशीर्षां शीर्षण्यचित्प्राणससप्तकार्षाम्॥
ऋतात्मचित्सत्त्वकहृत्प्रजातां बृहस्पतिस्तां बृहतीमविन्दत्॥२२॥918

Brihaspati obtained this huge intellect in himself which was born out of the heart of that cosmic order which was full of the vitality of the supreme spirit, which has seven heads and which is together with the seven saintly and excellent vital airs.

बृहस्पतेर्बृहतीं वाचमावत्॥ (ऋ.मं. १०/१३०/४)
छन्दस्वती वाग् बृहती विशिष्टा छन्दःस्वरा प्राणबृहस्पतीष्टा॥
सैवान्तरात्मान्तरिताऽष्टमीष्टा ब्रह्मात्मना चेतनसंविदीष्टा॥२३॥919

He protects the huge speech of Brihaspati (Rg. Man. 10/130/4). That big speech was metrical, special and with accents, and dear to Brihaspati. She is merged in the inners self, is the eighth and is the soul of Brahman and philosophical knowledge.

प्राणेषु सा सप्तसुधीः प्रविष्टा प्रत्यञ्चिसर्वेन्द्रियचित्प्रदिष्टा॥
प्राज्ञात्मवाक् संविदुपावशिष्टा प्राची प्रतीची परमोपदिष्टा॥२४॥920

That intellect has entered all the seven vital airs and is shown inwardly in the spirit of all the senses. The speech of the wise with the knowledge is well instructed inwardly and outwardly.

प्राणैः समानायतना सुषक्ता प्रत्यञ्चि सा धीरिह न प्रसक्ता॥
प्रतीयतेऽन्तर्हृदि साऽत्मसक्ता प्रत्यायते वाक् परमाऽऽत्मनाऽऽप्ता॥२५॥921

That intellect of ours which is on par with the vital airs is well merged inwardly. The excellent speech merged in the soul and obtained by its flashes in the interior of the heart.

तुरीयं स्विज्जनयद् विश्वजन्योऽयास्य उक्थमिन्द्राय शंसन्॥
योऽयास्य एवाङ्गिरसः समुख्यः प्राणश्चिदात्मावगतिप्रमुख्यः॥
सर्वाङ्गचित्साररसेन्द्रमुख्यः सेन्द्राग्निचिद्वाग्रसहृद्यसख्यः॥२६॥922

The generator of all, gave birth to the fourth uttering the praise of Indra.

That vital air which is very important in the movement of the spiritual soul, is of primary importance as it is the essence of all. It is also the foremost of the essence of all limbs and consciousness and the beautiful blending of the essence of Indra. Agni and Vak (spiritual speech)

सोऽयास्य आत्माऽयमृषिर्मनस्वान् सन्मन्त्रदृक् स्वात्मचिता महस्वान्॥
ब्रह्मात्मसाक्षात्कृतियोगविद्वान् ब्रह्मर्षिरास्तेऽत्र महांस्तपस्वान्॥२७॥923

Therefore he is the self-willed sage who is its soul, who is the good seer of hymns and who is great by his own consciousness. He knows the yoga of realization of the supreme Brahman and exists as Brahmarshi and a great performance of penance.

सॆन्द्रात्मनॆ स्तॊत्रमृचा सुशंसन् स विश्वजन्यॊ जनतान्तरः सन्॥
ब्रह्मात्मकं पूर्णपदं तुरीयं प्रकाशयामास निजान्तरीयम्॥२८॥924

He, praising by a hymn, him whose soul is Indra and being the generator of all, has shown the fourth spiritual stage which is within him and the soul of which is Brahman.

प्राणं तमॆवाङ्गिरसं प्रमुख्यं प्रत्यञ्चि सर्वॆन्द्रियरस्यमुख्यम्॥
प्राज्ञाः समॆऽन्तः समुपासमाना मृत्यॊर्विमॊकादमृताः समानाः॥२९॥925

All wise men meditating inwardly on him who is the vital air, who is foremost in the inward quest and who is the essence of all senses, conquer death and become immortal.

एकादश प्राणाः रुद्रात्मचित्त्युदीर्णाः॥
दशॆ मॆ पुरुषॆ प्राणाः आत्मैकादशः॥ (तै.आ.)
यॆ दॆवासॊ दिव्यॆकादशस्थ पृथिव्या मध्यॆकादश स्थ॥
अप्सुक्षितौ मह्निनैकादशस्थ तॆ दॆवासॊ यज्ञमिमं जुषध्वम्॥ (ऋक्.मं. १/१३९/९३)

Eleven vital airs – which are expressed in the consciousness of the soul of rudra.

These ten vital airs are seen to exist in every individual and the soul is the eleventh. (taith. Arany.). Oh! Gods, you, who are eleven in heaven, eleven on earth, eleven in water, perform this sacrifice. (Rg. Veda 1/139/93)

एवं तदेकादशभिश्च धीन्द्रियैः प्राणैश्च योगो भवतीह सम्प्रियैः॥
तज्ज्ञानकर्मेन्द्रियपञ्चकद्वयं सर्वान्तरात्मा हृदि चेतनः स्वयम्॥३०॥926

In this manner yoga will occur by these eleven vital airs and senses of intellect. That is the five senses of action and five senses of knowledge. The life or consciousness is by itself in the heart of all.

तद्वद्दशप्राणयुतं प्रयुक्तं चतुष्टयान्तः करणेन युक्तम्॥
चतुर्दशाप्तैः करणैः समस्तैः श्रद्धात्मनोः पूर्णकुलानुयोगः॥३१॥927

Similarly the vital airs are united with the four interior senses. The full union of faith and soul is the result of all senses obtained by the fourteen.

पूर्णे परेऽप्यन्तहिते सुसत्ये प्रत्यञ्चिसिद्धे परमेऽपरोक्षे॥
नित्यं प्रतिष्ठा समसत्त्वयोगात् सिध्येत् स साक्षात्कृतिपूर्णयोगः॥३२॥928
॥इति एकोनत्रिंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

When this truth is extremely beneficial and full when self-introspection takes place in the not invisible state, there will be an establishment always of the union of the equal energies and that is the yoga of realization.

Thus ends the twenty ninth chapter.

श्रौत्रमुख्यसंविदिन्द्रियैश्च सप्तभिः समैः
श्राव्यवेद्यसत्यवस्तुबोधसाधनोत्तमैः॥
योगसिद्धिरात्मनो धिया च सप्तशीर्षया
दैवरातनीतियोगसत्सुधाप्रहर्षया॥२९॥

The success in this yoga is the result of the seven senses commencing from the ear, which enable people to understand by good means the real thing by the intellect with seven heads through the joy of the nectar like yoga sung by Maharshi Daivarata.

The thirtieth chapter

The investigation of the support of the hymn of Gayathri without japa etc.

Then, in this act yoga the main thing is only the inspiration of the mind. Therefore the person who is not capable of observing the rigid rules, will have to depend on internal mental inspirations and accents.

आदित्यरश्मेश्च नदीजलादेः प्रवाहवत् स्वस्य च मूलभूतम्॥
वस्त्वन्तरं प्रापयितुं समर्थः स्वरो हृदन्तस्स्फुरितो यथार्थः॥२॥930

Like the flow of the light from the rays of the sun and the flow of water from the rivers etc. the individual is capable of reaching the different object, by the accent which flashes in the internal recess of his heart.

प्राणश्चिदात्माक्षरमक्षयं स्वरं वागात्मकं स्वान्तरनुस्वरत्ययम्॥
प्रत्यक् सहैवान्तरचित्स्वरान्वयं युक्तेन सोऽयं मनसा निरीक्ष्यताम्॥३॥931

The soul of the mind is the vital air, the accent which is free from loss or destruction is the soul of speech as it flashes internally. The yoga is in the form of internal consciousness and let it be observed by a proper mind.

यस्मादिहादौ जगतो विसृष्ट्या ब्रह्मात्मनोऽत्रान्तरनुप्रवेशः॥
प्राणात्मनोऽप्यत्र तथा प्रवेशः प्रत्यक्स्थिते गर्भगते शरीरे॥४॥932

Just as, at the commencement, there is the entry of Brahman, and soul here by the creation of the world, so also there is the entry of the vital air and the soul when the body is in the womb inwardly.

प्राणस्य तस्येह मुखेऽपि जन्तोः प्रायः समन्तात् प्रथमं प्रवेशः॥
पश्चात् ततो निर्गमनं त्वभीष्टं निरीक्षणादावपि तत्तथा स्यात्॥५॥933

Probably, the vital air enters first in the face of the animate creature. Then the exit occurs. Similar thing occurs even at the commencement of the observation.

प्राणो हकारेण बहिः प्रयाति वर्णेन कण्ठ्येन च कण्ठयोगात्॥
पुनः सकारेण विशत्यथाऽन्तर्दन्त्येव वर्णेन तु दन्तयोगात्॥६॥934

The vital air goes out with the letter. And by a guttural letter Ha in the neck. It again enters inside by the letter. Sa by the dental letter by its contact with the teeth.

स्वयं समष्ट्यात्मकबीजकः सन्त्सोऽस्माकमन्तर्हृदये प्रवेशात्॥
प्राणोऽत्र यस्मादविकारतः स्वं व्यष्टिस्वरूपं लभते स सद्यः॥७॥935

Being by itself the seed in the collective state, the vital air, at once obtains the individual form, without undergoing an alteration.

तस्मादिह व्यष्टिसमष्टिभेदाद् व्यष्टौ समष्टेर्गुणसम्प्रयोगात्॥
अन्तः प्रवेशे विहितो हकारस्ततो बहिर्निर्गमने सकारः॥८॥936

Therefore, by the difference of collectivity and individually and by the quality of collectivity being seen in the individual, hakara is placed in the entrance inwards and sakara in the getting out process.

योऽयं हृदन्तर्हमितिप्रविष्टो व्यष्टौ स एवात्रसमष्टिरिष्टः॥
तद्व्यापकाव्यापकतत्त्वपूर्णो विनिर्गतोऽयं हि स इत्युदीर्णः॥९॥937

That which enters inside the heart, individually as ham, is itself the collection. Being full of the pervasive or not pervasive phenomenon it comes out as sakara.

तस्मादिह प्राणगतेर्निरीक्षणे युक्तं नसाऽन्तर्मुखतः प्रवेशनम्॥
हकारवर्णस्वरयोजनं परे प्रवेश एवेति च केचिदूचिरे॥१०॥938

Therefore in the observation of the movement of the vital air, it is not proper to gain entrance from inside the face. Some others said that the union of hakara in the supreme is itself entry.

इति केषांचिद् कश्चिदेकः पक्षः। अथ ततोऽपि पूर्वः वैदिक प्रधान पक्षः॥
यस्मादिह प्रागपि सर्गतः सतः प्रज्ञानरूपात्तपसंश्चिदात्मतः॥
शब्दात्मनैव प्रथमं विनिर्गतं सर्वं तदुच्छ्वासमयं समाश्रुतम्॥११॥939

Because it came out first in the form of sound here from the commencement of the creation and from the penance in the form of great knowledge, everything is heard to be full of.

पिण्डेऽपिपूर्वं विशतीह मूर्धतः प्रत्यङ्मुखा जीवकला चिदात्मिका॥
प्राणस्ततस्तच्चितिशक्तियोगतो भवेत् परिस्पन्दनशीलसंयुतः॥१२॥940

At first it enters the body from the head, the flash of life full of consciousness is turned inwardly; the vital air then has the characteristics of an all-round spur by the union of the power of chit.

प्राणस्य तस्येह हृदि स्थितस्य प्रश्वास एव प्रथमोऽन्तरस्य॥
पश्चात् पुनर्व्यापकभावयोगात् श्वासोऽन्तरास्येऽम्बरसंस्थितस्य॥१३॥941

Of that vital air which is in the heart the first breath alone is in it. Then again the breath is in the mouth by the union of its pervading nature.

तस्येह कण्ठप्रभृतेश्च योगतो भवेयुरास्यात् स्वरवर्णशब्दकाः॥
स्वभावतोऽस्योष्मगुणेन संस्थितेर्गतिर्भवेदूष्मसवर्णयोगतः॥१४॥942

By its union with the neck etc. accents, letters and words spring from the mouth. By the nature when it is with its quality of heat, movement occurs by the union of heat of similar letters.

कण्ठाद् यदा निर्गमनं तदैव हकार ऊष्माऽपि स कण्ठ्य एव॥
दन्तस्य योगेन स दन्त्य एव सकार आस्थेऽन्तरनुप्रवेशे॥१५॥943

When it comes out of the neck, then itself the heat of hakara is called the guttural. By the union of the tooth it is dental only and is sakara in the mouth at the time of inward entry.

आभ्यन्तरो वै विवृतः प्रयत्नो बाह्यो महाप्राण इतीरितः सः॥
ऊष्माभिधः प्राणगुणश्च मुख्यः एते समाना हसकारयोः स्युः॥१६॥944

There is an internal effort. The external one is called Mahaprana or the great vital air. The quality of the vital air is called ushma and is very important. These are all on par with ha and sa.

ब्राह्यः प्रयत्नः खलु नादघोषसंवारसंज्ञः प्रथितोऽत्र शास्त्रे॥
स्थानं तु कण्ठस्त इमे विशेषा असंयुते वै विहिता हकारे॥१७॥945

The external effort is the sound and is technically here called samvara. The place is the neck. These are the special things for consideration in the hakara.

एवं सकारे तु मतो विशेषः स्थानं च दन्तः खलु शब्दशास्त्रे॥
श्वासोऽप्यघोषश्च विवार एते बाह्यः प्रयत्नोऽत्र सतामभीष्टः॥१८॥946

Similarly, even in sakara this specialty exists and in the book of words the place is the teeth. These are breath, absence of sound and expansion. External effort is desired by the good people.

यस्माद् बहिर्निर्गमनेन सर्वतो व्यष्ट्यात्मकाव्यापक भावहानतः॥
सद्यः समष्ट्यात्मनभोऽनिलान्तरे प्राणः स्वयं व्यापकतामुपैति हि॥१९॥947

The vital air by the external exit pervades on all sides individually and in between space and wind collectively.

तत्प्राणवृत्तेरुदिते परायाः वाचः स्वरे निर्गमने हकारः॥
क्लृप्तः स्वबीजं तु ततो विशिष्टं तद्वाच्यसद्व्योमपरं समिष्टम्॥२०॥948

Hakara is formed when the vital air arises and the supreme speech comes out. The seed of space is then specially expressed.

ततः पुनर्व्यापकभावतोऽन्तरव्यापके हृत्कुहरे प्रवेशात्॥
अपानवृत्त्यात्मकवायुतत्त्वे तच्छक्तिरूपे नियतः सकारः॥२१॥949

Then again, by entry into the cave of the heart which is non pervasive, sakara is defined in the form of that energy underlying the wind principle with apana wratha.

विलोमतः सोऽहमितीह हंसयोस्तत्त्वं तदैक्यस्य विबोधकं भवेत्॥
वृत्त्योस्तयोर्व्यष्टिसमष्टिसंस्थयोः प्राणे प्रसिद्धा गुणतस्तदेकता॥२२॥950

The reverse of hamkara and sakara is the soham and manifests that unity. In the vital air exists that well known unity of individuality and collectivity.

प्रश्वासतः श्वासत एव सर्वदा गत्यागती सम्भवतोऽस्य वस्तुतः॥
तेन क्रमेणैव हि हंसवर्णयोरालम्बनं युक्ततरं स्वतत्त्वतः॥२३॥951

In fact, by exhaling and inhaling always occur the movement and the non-movement of this vital air. By that gradually the support of the letters ham and sa occurs by its own principles.

तस्मात् प्रसिद्धो मनुरत्र हंसःसोऽहं च हंसोऽहमथापि हंसः॥
तत्त्वार्थबोधार्थक एव युक्तो नैवं समन्त्रोऽस्त्यजपोपयुक्तः॥२४॥952

Therefore manu is famous here as hamsa and soham and I am hamsa and hamsa etc. it is only proper that it manifests the philosophical interpretation. That hymn will not be of any use for a person who does not meditate.

एवं मुखान्निर्गमनॆ यथॊक्तः हंसः स्वरार्णादिसुरूपयुक्तः॥
उच्चारणॆ वै विहितः स वर्णः ध्यानॆ च गानॆ मननॆ स्वरार्णः॥२५॥953

In this manner the word hamsa, when it comes out of the face, is with a beautiful form consisting of accents etc. That letter occurs in the pronounciation and possesses the accent in the meditation singing and thinking.

प्राणस्तथैवाभ्यततीह नासिकाद्वाराऽपि नित्यं नियतः स्वभावतः॥
तदा तु हंसस्वरवर्णकल्पना नॊ वस्तुतः सार्थकतां प्रपद्यते॥२६॥954

In the same manner the vital air by nature comes always through the nostrils. Then really the idea of the accents and letters of hamsa does not attain any useful purpose.

यत् सर्वतॊ व्याप्ततमस्य मुख्यप्राणस्य तत्त्वॆन स हंसयॊगः॥
ततस्तु नासिक्य इहानुनॆयः स मुख्य एवासुरूपासनीयः॥२७॥955

Because the union of hamsa with the philosophy of the main vital air which has pervaded on all sides, the nostril movements will have to be followed and that main vital air will have to be worshipped.

यत्प्राणनापानगुणात्मवृत्त्योः प्रकल्पितौ हंस इति स्वरार्णौ॥
छन्दोऽन्वितो मन्त्रपरो न हंसः तन्मन्त्रभावेऽपि न तत्त्वयोगः॥२८॥956

The accent and letters hamsa have been formed with prana and apana. Therefore the hymn hamsa is not accompanied by meter or chandas and even in that state there is no uniting with the philosophy.

अच्छान्दसत्वादिह हंसमन्त्रः श्रुतौ स्मृतौ वा ऋषिभिर्न दृष्टः॥
तस्मान्न हंसो न मनुर्न जप्यः नोच्चारणीयो न च मन्त्रवर्णः॥२९॥957

The hymn hamsa is not as sacred as the Vedas and therefore it has not been seen by sages either in the Vedas or sutras. Therefore it is not hamsa nor manu nor fit to be repeated in meditation, nor fit to be pronounced and not even in the letter of the hymn.

प्राणात्मनः संस्फुरतः स्वरस्य हंसेति सुक्ष्मानुकृतेः स्वरूपम्॥
यथा ध्वनेश्चानुकृतौ प्रसिद्धः पटत्पटेत्यादि स शब्दवर्णः॥३०॥958

Hamsa is therefore, the subtle form of the accent which flashes and the soul of which is the vital air, just as the sound of the letter in trying to follow the sound.

तस्माद् वृथा हंस इति स्वरार्णौ बाह्यौ जपादौ न तु सम्प्रयोज्यौ॥
प्राणात्मवृत्योस्तु निरीक्षणादौ ध्येयौ तु हंसौ स्वरवर्णरूपौ॥३१॥959

Therefore the accent and the letter hamsa should not be used without purpose internally and at the commencement of the meditation. At the beginning of the observation of the vital air and soul the two letters ham and sa in the form of accent and letter should be meditated upon.

तत्केवलं प्राणगतेर्निरीक्षणं मुख्यं हि वाचा परया सहेक्षणम्॥
तत्रासमर्थस्य न हितं हि हंसयोरालम्बनं तत् स्वरतोऽथवाऽर्णतः॥३२॥960
इति त्रिंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

Therefore the mere observation of the movement of the vital air, is very important in this act of seeing along with the supreme speech. For a person who is incapable of this, the dependence on ham and sa is either through the accent or utterance is beneficial indeed.

Thus ends the thirtieth chapter,

प्राण एव हंस ऊर्जितो धिया स्ववाचया
मुख्य इत्युदीरितोऽत्र सेन्द्रया स्ववाच्यया॥
दैवतेन्द्रचित्पराग्निचेतनामुखात्तया
दैवरातवागुदीर्णयोगचित्सुधाप्तया॥३०॥

The vital air itself is explained here as very important by the intellect expressed by one’s own self with Indra as hamsa in prosperity by the nectar of yoga composed by Daivarata as coming from the face of consciousness of Indra, the Lord of gods and fire.

Thirty first chapter

Hamsa – sun god

Hamsa is called the sun god and by the nature of burning he is called Bhaskaran. He is the celestial bird with life and splendour. The sun is invoked by the hamsa hymn with the proper accent as the great God.

हंसः शुचिषद्वसुरन्तरिक्षसद्धोता वेदिषदतिथिर्दुरोणसत्॥
नृषद्वरसदृतसद्व्योमसदब्जा गोजा ऋतजा अद्रिजा ऋतं बृहत्॥ (तै.यजुः.)

The sun god is the purifier and shines in the sky. The priest of the Rg. Veda knows and the quest dispels. Men, boons, truth and the sky all exists. The truth of the highest order is born of water, word, cosmos, and the hills. (Rg. Man.4-40-5)

ज्योतिर्मयस्त्रिभुवनेऽपि च साधिदैवे
जीवात्मना सुनिहितो दिविजः स देवः॥
प्राणात्मना प्रतिचितो भुवि सर्वजीवे
प्रज्ञात्मना विजयते हृदि हंसदेवः॥२॥962

That god who is born in heaven is well placed in all the three worlds with deities and is full of life and light. The sun god exists on the earth in all living beings in the form of life and triumphs in the hearts of all in the form of wisdom.

बीभत्सूनां सयुजं हंसमाहुरपां दिव्यानां सख्ये चरन्तम्॥
अनुष्टुभमनु चर्चूर्यमाणमिन्द्रं निचिक्युः कवयो मनीषा॥ (ऋक्.मं. १०/११४/९)

Hamsa – god Indra

The poets with their creative intellect call Indra as hamsa who is associated with all terrific things and who is moving in the friendship of all celestial waters and who is being worshipped in the songs composed in the Anustup metre. (Rg. Man. 10-114-9)

दिव्यन्तरे परिचरन्तमपां सखित्वे
तासां पतिं सहयुजं परहंसमाहुः॥
स्वानुष्टुभं स्वहृदि वाचमनूच्चरन्तं
स्वान्तर्धियैव ददृशुः कवयस्तमिन्द्रम्॥३॥963

The poets have seen him as Indra by their inner vision only, as moving in the sky as the friendship and the Lord of waters and as one singing in the anushtup metre.

॥प्राणः हंससंज्ञः॥
प्राणः स हंस उदितः सकलान्तरस्थः
सर्वेन्द्रियाद्यधिपतिः स्वरितोऽयमैन्द्रः॥
प्रज्ञानसत्त्वपरहंससुवाक्सुरस्यः
प्रज्ञात्मकोऽत्र हृदि वाग्रससुस्वरास्यः॥४॥964

Life – called Hamsa

That life which is in the interior of all is called Hamsa and is identified as Indra the Lord of all senses. It is full of good speech filled with the vitality of wisdom and is filled with intelligence in the heart with relish of words with proper accent.

॥हंसात्मा सूर्यः गौः विश्वप्राणरूपः॥
आयं गौः पृश्निरक्रमीदसंदन् मातरं पुरः॥
पितरं च प्रयन्त्स्वः॥ (ऋक्. मं. १०/१८९/१)

The sun is the soul of Hamsa. He is the cow in the form of the life of all.

This dedicated cow has occupied by reaching the mother in front and the father. (Rg. Man. 10-189-1)

सूर्यः स एव दिवि गौरभिधीयते स्वः
सोऽभ्यक्रमीत् स्वरपदं परतेजसा स्वम्॥
सत्यं प्रयन् त्स्वपितरं परमास्पदं तं
स्वां मातरं स्वरसवाचममूं ससाद॥५॥965

The Sun God himself, is called the cow in heaven and he has occupied the accent and the word by his own excellent splendor by approaching truth which is his own father with a great opportunity and the speech with the accent and relish which is his own mother.

हंसात्मिका स्वरवती सरसा च सैन्द्री
सा हंसवाहनरताऽत्र सरस्वतीन्द्रा॥
मन्त्रात्मिका स्वरति हंसवती सुचन्द्रा
सर्वान्तरे सुमनसां कलया च चान्द्री॥६॥966

That speech with accent and relish has the Hamsa for its soul and here she is Saraswathi, the Goddess of speech with the Swan which carries her. With the Hamsa the luster of the moon in the midst of all Gods (with the good mind.).

अन्तश्चरति रोचनाऽस्य प्राणादपानती॥
व्यख्यन् महिषो दिवम्॥ (ऋ.मं. १०/१८९/२)
॥तौ प्राणापानौ॥
अपाङ् प्राङेति स्वधया गृभीतः
अमर्त्यो मर्त्येना सयोनिः॥
ता शश्वन्ता विषूचीना वियन्ता
न्य१ न्यं चिक्युर्न नि चिक्युरन्यम्॥

His luster moves in the interior from the vital air (prana) to apana rising towards heaven. (Rg. Man. 10-189-2)

The two airs – prana and apana

The immortal, being invoked by the mortal with the word Swadha as Apana and Prana became one with it. The two are mutually dependent and do not depend on others.

प्राक्प्रत्यगञ्चितचिता समनुस्वरन्ती
प्राणादपानगतितः सततं वहन्ती॥
साऽन्तश्चरत्युपचिता दिवि सूर्यसत्त्वा
चिद्रोचना सकलभास्वरदिव्यसत्त्वा॥७॥967

That intellectual luster, moves in the interior, being enhanced in the heaven by the solar energy and full of all shining celestial vitality, always moving from Prana to Apana, externally and internally.

सा हंसमन्त्रवचना स्वरचिद्रसार्णा
प्राज्ञात्मना स्वरति वाग्रससत्त्वपूर्णा॥
प्रज्ञात्मना सुमनसा च सहाभ्युदीर्णा
प्राणेन चेतनगुणेन समाऽवतीर्णा॥८॥968

That speech, full of the vitality of relish, with the hymn of the Sun God, is pronounced with wisdom. It comes down with the animation, being uttered with a good mind and wisdom.

त्रिंशद्धाम विराजति वाक् पतङ्गाय धीयते॥
प्रतिनस्तोरहद्युभिः॥ (ऋक्.मं. १०/१८९/३)

That speech shines with thirty spots of splendor and is held out to the sun god against counter objects. (Rg. Man. 10-179-3)

त्रिंशत्पदात्मपरधामसु राजतेऽसौ
सा वाक् पतङ्गपुरुषाय च धीयतेऽन्तः॥
सा प्रत्यहं चरति हंसगतिस्वरात्मा
स्वात्मन्यजस्रकलया रमते चिदात्मा॥९॥969

That speech with thirty spots shines in the best places of self and is internally held out to the sun god and moves daily with the movement of Hamsa and accent and the supreme spirit always sports in itself with splendour.

आत्मा स्वयं जपति हंसवतीं स्ववाचं
सोऽहं स्वरेण हृदि हंसवताऽसुरस्याम्॥
प्राणोऽहमाऽप्ययमनुस्वरतीह हंसं
प्राज्ञोऽन्तरे विरमते परमः स हंसः॥१०॥970

The soul by itself repeats its speech with hamsa by the accent of soham in the heart. In it even the vital air follows the accent in Hamsa. The wise man who experiences the bliss internally is the best among the saints.

॥प्राणापानयोः सहयोगसत्त्वेन अश्विनौ हंसात्मानौ प्रभवतः॥
अश्विनावेहगच्छतं नासत्या मा विवेनतम् हंसाविव पततमा सुतां उप
॥ (ऋक्.मं. ५/७८/१-३)

The twin celestial physicians are with the characteristics of Hamsa by the vitality of the union and coordination of prana and apana.

The twin celestial physicians move here and fall alike two Hamsa.

(Rg. Man. 5-78-1-3)

आगच्छतां सुमनसौ महसाऽसुहंसौ
तावश्विनौ रहसि मां भजतां पुमांसौ॥

May those two celestial physicians come here like two gods with splendour like two good Hamsas and reach me with equal vitality and fall in my heart after reaching like two white birds.

May those two celestial physicians with prana in heaven with the shining moon and in the heart like two swans in the manasa lake drink freely with equal feelings, the somarasa well prepared by a wise soul for their own satisfaction and for the satisfaction of speech.

प्राणोऽप्यपान उभयौ सहयोगसत्त्वौ

Those two celestial physicians with the glory of external and internal movement and with the vitality of the coordinated prana and apana, developed with the accent and letters of Hamsa fall on the mortals in the earth like two swans as they are like them in heaven.

अश्विना वायुना युवं सुदक्षा नियुद्भिश्च सजोषसा युवाना॥
नासत्या तिरो अह्न्यंजुषाणा सोमं पिबतमस्रिधा सुदानू॥
विश्वामित्रः(ऋक्.मं. ३/५८/७)

Oh! You twin celestial physicians you who are young and very capable, drink the soma juice to your heart’s content. (Rg. Man. 3-58-7)

तावश्विनौ दिविषदौ दिवि सूर्यचन्द्रौ

Those two celestial physicians are gods and are the sun and the moon in heaven. They are full of the vitality of fire and water. They are blown with the wind and are terrific to look at. They have time as their soul and are like nocturnal movements.

॥नासत्यौ हंसौ सत्यस्वरूपौ॥

The two celestial physicians – the two Hamsas – are the forms of truth

They two are real by virtue of their names forms and attributes. By the gravity of breath passing through the nose they two are full of the vitality of Hamsa. They are alert moving as they do from the face of vital air. By name they are dignified by the splendour of the moon and the sun.

तावश्विनौ समनसौ स्वरसेन हंसौ
साऽहश्चिताऽसुमनसौ सहसा वसन्तौ॥
सत्त्वान्मिथोऽनुचरतः सह संवसन्तौ

Those two celestial physicians are self-filled and are like two swans by their own relish. They live together and follow each other with a good mind and consciousness. They are great by the glory of truth and proper penance.

जीवेश्वरात्मकौ हंसौ सत्यात्मानौ सुपर्णौं॥

तयोरन्यः पिप्पलं स्वाद्वत्त्यनश्नन्न्यो अभिचाकशीति॥ (ऋक्.मं. १/१६४/२०)

They are like two birds with truth and life and Lordship

Two birds were friends and climbed a common tree. One of them eats the sweet fruit and the other sits without eating. (Rg. Man. 1-164-20)

जीवेश्वरौ सहचरौ सयुजौ सुपर्णौं

सोऽहं सहंसपरसत्त्वचिताऽभ्युदीर्णौं
सन्तौ प्रपञ्च-परमार्थविदा वितीर्णौं॥१७॥977

The two birds which are companion together like life and Lord full of activity and the attributes of an excellent hamsa. They are pronounced by the vitality of soham and hamsa and are good and are revealed by the knowledge of the excellent sense of the universe.

यज्ञं स्वयोगरचितं जुषतां सहाप्तौ
हंसाविवैव हृदि वाग्रससंविदात्तौ॥
यज्ञाय योगकृतयेऽर्पितसत्त्वचित्तौ
सोऽहञ्चितौ समरसेन समञ्चितौ तौ॥१८॥978

They together enjoy the sacrifice performed by their own yoga and like two Hamsas they are obtained by the knowledge of the relish of speech in their heart. Having offered their mind and vitality for the sacrifice to achieve yoga, they are decorated by soham and harmony in relish.

॥सोऽहम् - हंसतत्त्वम्॥
प्राणः स बाह्य उदितो दिवि तेजसेद्धः
प्राज्ञात्मकः स सवितेन्द्र इति प्रसिद्धः॥
प्राणं हि चाक्षुषमिमं महसाऽनुगृण्हन्
प्रत्यङ्मुखः स्वयमुदेति दृशाऽनुविन्दन्॥१९॥979

Soham – the vitality of Hamsa

The external vital air rises in heaven kindled by energy. It is well known as sun and Indra with wisdom. Taking this vital air in the eye rises of his own accord in the east obtaining through the vision.

सोऽहञ्चिताऽऽत्मकलया परया स्फुरन्ती
स्वात्मन्यहञ्चितिपराऽसुपरा स्वरन्ती॥
वागेव साऽत्रपरमाऽऽत्मचिता विदन्ती
वाच्याऽसुधीन्द्रियसुमूलपदोद्वदन्ती॥२०॥980

That is speech itself flashes with the most excellent effulgence of soham and is pronounced with the power of consciousness and vital air and is expressible with life, intellect and senses.

वेदोदितात् सकलवाङ्मयमूलवर्णाद्
आम्नायतोऽभ्युदितमेवदहम्पदार्णात्॥
आद्यन्तवर्णयुगलात् तदहेति रूपं
सत्पूर्णबिन्दुलसितं तदहंस्वरूपम्॥२१॥981

This is generated from the basic letter of the entire alphabet rising from the Vedas from the letters A and Ha, the first and the last. The form Aha becomes Aham with a full dot.

तस्मादिमे तनुभृतो भुविसर्वलोकाः
स्वस्मात्पदादहमिति प्रतियन्ति साकम्॥
देवाश्च तेन ऋषयं समुपात्तसख्याः
ब्रह्मात्मकेन्द्रपरहंसपदप्रमुख्याः॥२२॥982

Therefore all people in this world go from their own position towards Aham. By this gods and sages become their friends and help them to attain the position of a join which is the center of supreme Brahman or bliss.

तस्मादहम्पदमुखात् समुपार्जितेन
सत्प्रत्ययेन परमात्मचितोर्जितेन॥
सर्वत्र वाक्प्रमुखतः सकलार्थसिद्धिः
सर्वस्वतन्त्रगुणभूतिकलासमृद्धिः॥२३॥983

Therefore buy the good confidence earned from the face of the word aham and prospering by the consciousness of the supreme spirit, success in all attempts at all will be attained through speech and there will be prosperity of all independent attributes, glory and arts.

तामन्तरात्मनि परामहमा स्फुरन्तीं
यः प्रेरयेत् स्वयमजस्रमनुस्वरन्तीम्॥
तस्यात्मनः प्रतिपदा परमार्थसत्त्वा
साऽऽश्रीयतां कृतधियामनुभावसत्या॥२४॥984

He who always prompts voluntarily that speech which flashes in the inner conscience with the proper accent that is his supreme vitality in every step of his soul. May that be restored to by self-willed people as is the truth in all its glory.

अच्छिन्नसन्ततसमूलसमध्यसाग्रां
सच्छन्नगुप्तरसुसूक्ष्मसमैकधाराम्॥
वाचं परामतितरां परमां निजान्तां
सञ्चिन्तयन्नुपरमेत परामनन्ताम्॥२५॥985

Meditating upon that speech which is continuous without break with the root, middle and top which is incessant by dropping in a single line which is covered, secret, subtle and even, which is supreme and endless, the individual will reset.

मूले स्वनाभिसदनादुगमैकमूला
मूर्धान्तरूर्ध्वमुदिताऽऽत्मरसैकमाला॥
सा वाक् परा परमचिन्निनदप्रवाला
संश्रूयतां स्वयमनाहतचिद्रसाला॥२६॥986

May that excellent speech, which is at the bottom comes out from the navel region with the single self-flow which is full of the supreme sound of the consciousness, be heard of its own accord without any obstacle.

प्राणात् सदैव हृदयेऽन्तरनुस्वरन्तं
प्राणेन तेन समनुस्वरितं स्वमन्त्रम्॥
प्रत्यञ्चि संस्वरणतः शृणुयात् स्वतन्त्रं
प्रत्यक्षमेव तदनुश्रवणं पवित्रम्॥२७॥987

The individual should listen to the hymn which is always resounded in the heart from the vital air and which is sounding by that vital air in the interior and that sacred listening actually occurs in the very presence.

प्राणः समुच्छ्वसिति तत्र मुखात् स्ववाचा
प्रत्यङ् हृदय्यगुणसत्त्वमुखात् स मुख्यः॥
सोऽन्तर्बहिः प्रतिचरन् रसनाश्रयेण
वाचं समुच्चरति सद्रससंस्वरेण॥२८॥988

There the vital air breaths from the face by his own speech. It is very important from the point of view of vitality with the attributes of the internal heart. Moving internally and externally it utters the speech with the help of the tongue, with the proper accent.

प्राणः सदा चरति नासिकयाऽभ्युदीर्णः
प्रायोऽपिनद्धमुखतः समनुस्वरार्णः॥
तत्पूर्णबिन्दुपरवाक्स्वरभाक्ततोऽनु-
स्वारः श्रुतोऽयमसुनाऽसुनसाऽनुनास्यः॥२९॥989

The vital air always moves through the nose, probably with a closed face and nasal letters. Then this nasal sound with the full dot is heard through the nose.

स्वान्तः सुसूक्ष्मतरकर्णमुखेनशृण्वन्
त्स्वान्तर्दृशा तदनुरूपमपि प्रपश्यन्॥
संज्ञानतः स्वहृदयेऽखिलसाक्षिकः सन्
सञ्जागृवान् विरमतेऽत्र सदाऽधितिष्ठन्॥३०॥990

The individual, listening by the very sensitive ear internally and also seeing by the inner vision the appropriate form and witnessing in his own heart all these, always enjoys bliss being alert and standing.

सर्वजीवे संस्थितेऽस्मिन् बृहन्ते तस्मिन् 'हंसो' भ्राम्यते ब्रह्मचक्रे॥ (बृ.उ.)

Hamsa turns round in the wheel of the creator when all animate creatures stand round.

सूर्यात्मना स्वरवता प्रभवेत् स हंसः
सोऽहञ्चिता प्रतिचितः परहंससत्त्वः॥
प्राणोऽत्र हंसनुतिभाक् समनुस्वराप्तः
प्राज्ञात्मकः प्रतिनुतः सफलासुसत्त्वः॥३१॥991

That hamsa with the consciousness of soham and with the vitality of a supreme yogi is developed. The vital air here in praise of hamsa with the proper accent is praised as it is full of wisdom and vitality.

सद्ब्रह्मचक्रपररूपपुरे शरीरे
सद्ब्रह्मसत्त्वपरमः पुरुषोऽन्तरात्मा॥
जीवोऽहमाऽन्तरसुधारणतू(?पू)रहंसः
सम्राजते सकलभूतिचितेः सहंसः॥३२॥992
॥इति एकत्रिंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

In the human body which is like a city representing the wheel of the creator in the best form, the supreme being is the inner conscience. The jeeva is the hamsa, holding the vital air in the interior of aham, reigns supreme for all the prosperity of consciousness and that is hamsa.

Thus ends the thirty first chapter.

सूर्य एव हंस इत्युदीरितोऽत्र ऋङ्मुखात्
सोऽहमित्युपाचितः स्वसंविदाऽऽत्मचिन्मुखात्॥
इन्द्रमेव तं निचिक्युरात्मनि स्ववाङ्मुखात्
दैवरातवागुदीर्णयोगसत्सुधामुखात्॥३१॥

Thus from the rigvedic hymns the sun himself is called hamsa and is developed as soham by his own knowledge and consciousness. By the nectar of yoga described by Maharshi Daivarata, it is called decisively as Indra in self through his own speech.

****

॥अथ द्वात्रिंशी कला॥

पूर्णस्य परमात्मनः पूर्णसत्यमन्त्राक्षरतत्त्वविमर्शनम्॥
सत्यात्मना सूक्ष्मदृशा विमर्शने स हंसमन्त्रो न परात्मवाचकः॥
स्वं मन्त्रमात्मा यमनुस्वरत्ययं स्फूर्त्यात्मकः स स्वर एव केवलः॥१॥993

The thirty second chapter

The discussion of philosophy of truth, hymn and letters.

That hymn of hamsa does not express the supreme being in the discussion by the soul of truth and a subtle vision. But that is the accent itself which by inspiration the soul follows its own hymn in the sound.

सोऽयं स्वरोऽप्यत्र सदैकरूपः सोऽन्तर्बहिश्चापि समानरूपः॥
प्राणे तु हंसाक्षरयोः स मुख्यः कल्पो भवेदात्मनि सोऽत्र गौणः॥२॥994

That is the accent here which has always a single form and has a common form both internally and externally. That is very important in the vital air between the letters hamsa, but in the soul here it is of secondary importance.

यत् केवलं प्राणगतेर्निरीक्षणं गौणं चिदात्मस्वरशून्यमाश्रितम्॥
चिदात्मवृत्तौ तु विदास्फुरत् परं वाक्तत्त्वसाहित्यमपि प्रतिश्रुतम्॥३॥995

That which is merely the observation of the movement of the vital air, is secondary as it is stated to be without the supreme spirit and the accent. In the movement of the supreme spirit, the literature of the philosophy of speech which flashes supreme is also assured.

यं वै चिदात्मा तपसा निरन्तरं स्वं वाचकं मन्त्रमनुस्वरत्यलम्॥
सोऽन्वेषणीयः स्वर एव केवलः सहैव वाक्प्राणमनश्चिताऽऽन्तरः॥४॥996

is enough if the supreme spirit continues by following the sound of the hymn which expresses itself. That accent alone has to be searched after along with the consciousness of speech, vital air and the in between.

लोकेऽत्र मुद्रास्वरशब्दसंज्ञा मात्राक्षरादीननुसृत्य बाह्यान्॥
जानाति चान्योऽन्यतरे निगूढं स्वाभीष्टमर्थं हृदि मौनिनोढम्॥५॥997

In the world hare following symbols of mudra, accent and sound, letters and syllables etc. externally and individual know what is hidden either and his own desire in his heart which is carried by a saint.

तस्मादनुज्ञाक्षरमित्यभीष्टं तदेव मुद्रादिषु मूलभूतम्॥
तत्राप्यनुज्ञादिनिदानभूतं यत्किञ्चिदिष्टं हृदि वस्तुरूपम्॥६॥998

Therefore the desired thing is the letter of the command and that itself is at the bottom in mudra and others. Even there, whatever is desired in the heart is the form of the thing which is the case for command etc.

प्रज्ञानशक्तेः श्वसितः पराख्यो वाक्तत्त्वरूपः परमः सुसूक्ष्मः॥
ज्ञातार्थकस्यानुमतेरनुज्ञा मुद्रादिके युक्ततरोऽनुकूलः॥७॥999

The breath of the power of wisdom called supreme in the form of the philosophy of speech is extremely subtle. The command of the permission of that whose meaning is known is proper and convenient in Mudra and others.

प्रश्नस्य यच्चोत्तरतः प्रयोज्यः स्वरात्मकः स्फूर्तिविशेषरूपः॥
शब्दाच्च बाह्यानुकृतेः प्रसिद्धः स्वरः स एवायममित्यभीष्टः॥८॥1000

That which has to be used as an answer to the question is full of accent and in the form of special inspiration. And from the sound following externally that is the famous accent known as ‘Am’ as per desire.

अमित्यनुस्वारमयोह्यनुज्ञया प्रश्नात् परस्मै प्रतिबोधितस्य च॥
चिदात्मनोऽन्तर्विदितस्य वस्तुनः सद्भावलक्ष्यस्य निदर्शकः स्वरः॥९॥1001

The accent of the nasal ‘Am’ shows by the command that which is awakened from the enquiry to the supreme, which is the object of the supreme spirit which is known internally and which is perceptible by good thoughts.

यद्वा अनुस्वार इति प्रसिद्धं बिन्द्वर्धमात्रास्वरवर्णरूपम्॥
पूर्णं पदं तत् प्रणवे तुरीयं "अमित्यनुज्ञाक्षरमान्तरीयम्"॥१०॥1002

Alternatively, the dot which is famous as the nasal in the form of half syllable accent and letter is the entire position in 'Om' as the fourth and is known intimately with the letters of command.

छन्दोगवेदोपनिषत्प्रगीतं योगादनुज्ञाक्षरतः प्रणीतम्॥
ओमित्यनुज्ञादिषु सुप्रसिद्धं व्योमात्मकं ब्रह्म गुणाभिवृद्धम्॥११॥1003

It is the most famous 'Om' sung in metrical Vedas and Upanishads, used in yoga from the letters of command, full of the sky element which is developed with the attributes of supreme Brahman.

ब्रह्मात्मनो वाचकनाममन्त्रं यं मन्त्रयन्ते प्रणवाक्षराख्यम्॥
"ओमि"त्यनुज्ञार्थकमित्युदीर्णं तस्येदमेवानुकृतेः सुगीर्णम्॥१२॥1004

This alone is the form of following that hymn which nominally expresses Brahman and the soul, which is called the Omkara and which is thought of and pronounced with the sense of command.

ज्योतिस्त्रयीव्याहृतिसारभूतमात्रात्रयेणोद्ग्रथितं प्रभूतम्॥
सद्वाचकं चाक्षरमोमितीष्टं व्योमात्मकं ब्रह्म हि तस्य वाच्यम्॥१३॥1005

The much desired letter ‘Om’ is a good expression full of radiant light and is composed by the three syllables which are the essence of the hymns of the three vedas and is Brahman with the sky limit which is fit to be expressed for the benefit.

॥प्रणवाक्षरेण लक्षार्थब्रह्मवस्तुवेद्योपासनाप्ता॥
प्रणवो धनुः शरोह्यात्मा ब्रह्म तल्लक्ष्यमुच्यते॥
अप्रमत्तेन वेद्धव्यं शरवत्तन्मयो भवेत्॥(कठ.उप)

The omkara is the bow, the soul is the arrowed, the target is Brahma has to be with alertness and he will be full of that like an arrow. (Kathopanishad)

ओमित्युदीर्णं प्रणवाक्षरं धनुः शरोऽन्तरात्मा चितिशक्तिवाक्तनुः॥
लक्ष्यं परं ब्रह्म तदप्रमादतो वेद्धव्यमात्मान्तरधीप्रबोधतः॥१४॥1006

The pronounced letter om is the. The inner soul whose body is the speech full of the power of consciousness. The target is the supreme Brahman. Therefore that has to be shot at carefully with an interior intellectual awareness.

तज्जागृतिस्वप्नसुषुप्तिसंस्थाऽवस्थात्रयेऽप्यात्मचितिप्रतिष्ठः॥
प्रज्ञाप्रतिष्ठात्मपदैकसंस्थः शान्तः समास्ते परमात्मनिष्ठः॥१५॥1007

Then the individual will stay on completely absorbed in the supreme Brahman in a peaceful manner, in a state of wisdom and prestige in self-consciousness in the three stage of wakefulness, sleep and deep sleep.

पूर्णामृतानन्दरसादवस्थाचतुष्टयातीतपरा प्रतिष्ठा॥
पूर्णात्मसाक्षात्कृतितोऽत्र सोऽहं हंसानुभावात् परमात्मनिष्ठा॥१६॥1008

The thought of the supreme Brahman here by the glory of soham and hamsa will be by the act of fill self-realization in a state which is beyond the four stages by the relish of the full nectar like bliss.

॥गुप्तप्रणवाक्षरविमर्शः॥
ऋगादिमन्त्रेषु तदेतदक्षरं ब्रह्मात्मनो वाचकमीमिति श्रुतम्॥
सोऽयं हि गुप्तः प्रणवः श्रुतीरितः स गुप्त एवात्र सदैव संस्थितः॥१७॥1009

The discussion of the secret om kara letters

In all the hymns of rigveda and others this letter which is expressive of Brahman and self is called eem. Therefore this which is used in the Vedas is called secret om kara and it is always here as hidden.

प्रत्यक्षगं विश्वमिदं ह्यचेतनं पूर्णं परोक्षं परवस्तु चेतनम्॥
जीवोऽपरोक्षः सतनूः सचेतनः समासतस्त्वीमिति तन्निदर्शनम्॥१८॥1010

This world which we actually see before us is lifeless; but the full invisible supreme Brahman is full of life. Jeeva which is not invisible is full of consciousness or life with all its limits. On the whole it is illustrated as eem.

॥प्रत्यक्षस्य विश्वस्य ईं इति निर्देशः॥
य ईं चकार न सो अस्य वेद य ईं ददर्श हिरुगिन्नु तस्मात्॥
स मातुर्योना परिवीतो अन्तर्बहुप्रजा निर्ऋतिमाविवेश॥ (ऋक्.मं. १/१६४/३२)

Eem is pointed at the real world.

He who did this eem does not know of this; he who saw this eem probably he is near from that eem. He is surrounded by his mother's uterus and with many progeny he entered nivruthi. (Rg. Man. 1/164/-)

यो वै चकारेदमनन्तविश्वं न वेद सोऽपीह जगत् समग्रम्॥
स किं पुनर्वेत्ति हि यो ददर्श सन्दर्शयामास तदीमितीष्टम्॥१९॥1011

Even he who made this endless universe does not know it entirely. Does he, at least; who saw it know this or who showed this desirable eem.

॥परोक्षसिद्धस्य सत्यवस्तुनः ईं इति निर्देशः॥
तिस्रो मातृस्त्रीन् पितॄन् बिभ्रदेक ऊर्ध्वस्तस्थौ नेमवग्लापयन्ति॥

मन्त्रयन्ते दिवो अमुष्य पृष्ठे विश्वविदो वाचमविश्वविन्नाम्॥ (अथर्व.सं. ९/९/१०)

Eem is the indication of that real thing which is attained in the invisible state.

All alone and bearing three mothers and three fathers he stood upwards without fading. In heaven they think among themselves this universe which is on his back and the speech not known. (rg. Man. 1/164/10)

Those who know everything discuss among themselves in heaven the speech not known. (atharva sam. 9-9-10)

तिस्रोऽपि मातॄश्च तथा पितॄंस्त्रींस्तस्थौ य ऊर्ध्वः खलु बिभ्रदेकः॥
नग्लापयन्तीति तमीमितीष्टं सर्वेश्वरं दीर्घतमा ददर्श॥२०॥1012

He who stood bearing all alone three mothers and three fathers called Dirghatama saw the Lord of all saying that eem does not fade and is desirable.

विश्वस्य वेत्रीमपि वेदयित्रीं विश्वैरमेयां परमामविन्नाम्॥
ईमित्यमूं तां दिवि मन्त्रयन्ते वाचं परां विश्वविदंश्च देवाः॥२१॥1013

The gods in heaven discuss the excellent speech called eem as they know everything, which knows the universe and which reveals it, which is unable to be measured by all and which is not known and also the best.

अपरोक्षस्य अन्तरात्मनः ईं इति निर्देशः॥
य ईं चि॒केत॒ गुहा॒ भव॑न्त॒मा यः स॒साद॒ धारा॑मृ॒तस्य॥ (ऋक्.मं. १/६७/७)

Eem is the indication of the not invisible inner self

He who utters eem which is in the interior and he who reaches the nectar's flow. (Rg. Man. 1/67/7)

पराशरो वै निखिलान्तरं तं वैश्वानरात्मानमिमं प्रपश्यन्॥
य ईं चिकेतेति गुहाभवन्तमित्यात्मवस्त्वीमिति निर्दिदेश॥२२॥1014

Parasara seeing him who is in the interior of all and who is full of fire and definitely pointed out by saying he who utters om which is in the interior sees the supreme spirit.

यः स्वान्तरेऽस्यैव ऋतस्य धारां वाचं विजानाति चिदात्मसत्त्वाम्॥
वैश्वानरात्मेमितिवाक्सुमन्त्रः विश्वान्तरोऽयं भवति स्वतन्त्रः॥२३॥1015

He who within himself knows the flow of this truth and the speech which is full of the vitality of the supreme spirit is absolutely independent by the virtue of his being in the interior of all and pronouncing the hymn eem and being full of fire.

ईङ्काराय स्वाहा। ईङ्कृताय स्वाहा॥ (तै.यजु:शुक्ल.)
अश्वस्य नादानुकृतेरुदीर्णं सद्वस्तुतत्त्वार्थतया वितीर्णम्॥
यजुस्तदीङ्कारसरूपकाय स्वाहाऽग्निजिह्वात्मकमीङ्कृताय॥२४॥1016

Offering to eemkara offering to eemkrata

That sound which resembles the neighing of the horse and which is spread out with the sense of philosophy of a good object and which is full of the tongue of fire is offered by yajurveda to eemkara and eemkrata.

चन्द्रां प्रभासां यशसा ज्वलन्तीं श्रियं लोके देवजुष्टामुदाराम्॥
तां पद्मिनीमीं शरणमहं प्रपद्येऽलक्ष्मीर्मे नश्यतां त्वां वृणे॥
(श्रीसूक्ते. मं. ५) (ऋ. अ. ४/४/३४)

I take shelter under goddess Lakshmi who is shining like the moon, who is shining by fame, who is worshipped by gods, who is generous and who is eem with lotuses. I choose her so that all evil things may perish. (Shrisukta – 5 mandala) Rg. 4/4/34

विष्णोः सतीं केवलसत्त्वमूर्तिं लक्ष्मीं श्रियं पूर्णकलां ज्वलन्तीम्॥
तां पद्मिनीमीमिति मन्त्रवर्णां सर्वेश्वरीं वेदविदो गृणन्ति॥२५॥1017

Those who know the Vedas above the goddess Lakshmi who is the wife of Vishnu, who is vitality incarnate, who is full of glorious, who is shining, who is full of lotuses, whose hymn is eem and who is the Lord of all.

आयातु वरदा देवी अक्षरं ब्रह्मसम्मितम्॥
गायत्रीं छन्दसां माता इदं ब्रह्म जुषस्व मे॥(ना.उ.)

May the goddess who is the giver of boons come! Supreme Brahman is non decaying oh! Gayathri! You who are identified with eem and the mother of all metrical compositions – please initiate me into the knowledge of this Brahman.

आयातु देवी वरदेति मन्त्रे ब्रह्मेति यद् ब्रह्मसुसम्मितम् हि॥
या छन्दसां वै जननी परा वाग् गायत्रिनाम्न्यक्षरमीमितीदम्॥२६॥1018

In the hymn may the goddess who is the giver of boons the use of the word Brahman is quite in accordance with it. She is the mother of metrical compositions that supreme speech is in the name of Gaythri and the letter is called eem.

मूर्धन्यमान्तर्यमनाहतात्मकं स्वोर्ध्वं सुनादं रससोमसत्त्वकम्॥
नादानुसन्धानपरं सुसाधनं मौनाद् भवेद् ईमिति सद्रसायनम्॥२७॥1019

The goose essence called eem which is the best is in the interior, is free from all impediments is upwards, has a good sound and is full of the essence of soma, helps the meditation on the sound and is a good means for realization which is the outcome of silence.

पूर्णात्मनो वाचकमन्त्रबीजमेकाक्षरं ब्रह्म परं सुगुप्तम्॥
ईमित्यदो ब्रह्मचितं स्वमानं पूर्णं परात्मप्रतिमासमानम्॥२८॥1020

The supreme Brahman which has a single letter and which is the basis of the hymn expressive of full self is well protected. Therefore this eem is the spirit of Brahman, is its own measurer full and is equal to the future of supreme spirit.

ब्रह्मात्मनो ज्ञानचितेरुदीर्णं सत्संविदिच्छाकृतिचित्तिपूर्णम्॥
वाग्वाचकात्माक्षरशक्तिरूपं शब्दस्वराद्याकृतिरीमितीदम्॥२९॥1021

This eem which has the form of the sound and accent, which is expressed through the consciousness of the knowledge of Brahman and atma, which is full of the form of knowledge accent and desire is in the form of the power of speech expressed through letters.

ओङ्काररूपप्रणवाक्षरादिवद् ध्यानादिधीयौगिकसाधनादिवत्॥
ईङ्कारवाक्सुस्वरसावलम्बनं स्वानन्दसंवित्परचित्कलाञ्जनम्॥३०॥1022

Dependence on the good accent of eem kara grants to the individual the knowledge of bliss and is like the collyrium to the art of the supreme spirits like the letter in the form of om kara and like the means of yoga of meditation and intellect.

॥अस्मिन् सर्वस्मिन् अर्थे छान्दसो मन्त्रवर्णः॥
ब्रह्मणस्पतेर्यः समिदं गृणाति
श्रदस्मै दधानोऽमृतं नाम गुह्यम्॥
तस्येदु विश्वमिदं भवाति भद्रं
ब्रह्म तदीञ्ज्योतिर्विश्वस्य दर्शयत्॥ (छन्दोदर्शनम्. अनु. ३/१/८)

For him only who believes in him and praises him with the secret and eternal name of Brahmanaspathi, the mystic symbolic word eem, this universe is rendered wholly auspicious. That Brahma in the form of eem is the resplendent light which illuminates all in the universe. (Chhando darshana anu 3/1/8)

यद् ब्रह्मणः संविदितस्य सत्यं वाचस्पतेर्यत् खलु नाम गुह्यम्॥
ईं श्रद्धया यश्च गृणाति नित्यं तस्यैव विश्वं भवतीह भद्रम्॥३१॥1023

He who always sings eem with faith, and the truth of that which is in the knowledge of Brahman and that which, is the secret of the Lord of speech to him alone the entire universe here will be auspicious.

ब्रह्मात्मनो ज्ञानमयस्य वाक्पतेर्गुह्याक्षरं नामपरं बृहस्पतेः॥
चित्सत्त्वकं ब्रह्म तदीमिति स्वयं ज्योतिर्हि विश्वस्य परस्य दर्शयत्॥३२॥1024
इति द्वात्रिंशी कला सम्पूर्णा॥

The excellent name of Brihaspathi with secret letters of the Lord of speech full of the knowledge of self and Brahman is full of the power of consciousness and that mystic symbol eem is the supreme Brahman itself. Being self-illuminant it shows the supreme universe.

Thus ends the thirty second chapter.

ब्रह्मणः परं तदोमिति प्रसिद्धमक्षरं
ब्रह्मवाचकं प्रणोति वस्तुबोधकं स्वरम्॥
ब्रह्मणस्पतेस्तदीमितीह गुह्यनामकं
दैवरातगीतयोगसत्सुधासुमानकम्॥३२॥
॥इतीयं साक्षात्कार योगसुधा सम्पूर्णा॥

The famous letter om is the supreme Brahman, expresses it and accent it manifests all the things. The recent name of the Brahmanaspathi is the mystic symbol eem. The good name of this is the nectar of the yoga of realization sung by Maharshi Daivarata.
